2-28-1974

The Ursinus Weekly, February 28, 1974

John T. Fidler
Ursinus College

George Geist
Ursinus College

Judith James
Ursinus College

Kitt Turner
Ursinus College

Wendy Barnes
Ursinus College

See next page for additional authors

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly

Part of the Cultural History Commons, Higher Education Commons, Liberal Studies Commons, Social History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Click here to let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation

Fidler, John T.; Geist, George; James, Judith; Turner, Kitt; Barnes, Wendy; Detterline, Milton E.; Whaley, Richard; Von Kummer, Ruth; Martin, Bruce; Kraus, John; Hunt, Jacqueline; Morgan, Eva; Ludwig, Helen; Snyder, Elaine; and Harsch, Marilyn, "The Ursinus Weekly, February 28, 1974" (1974). Ursinus Weekly Newspaper. 12.
https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly/12

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Newspapers at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. It has been accepted for inclusion in Ursinus Weekly Newspaper by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. For more information, please contact aprock@ursinus.edu.
Authors
John T. Fidler, George Geist, Judith James, Kitt Turner, Wendy Barnes, Milton E. Detterline, Richard Whaley, Ruth Von Kummer, Bruce Martin, John Kraus, Jacqueline Hunt, Eva Morgan, Helen Ludwig, Elaine Snyder, and Marilyn Harsch
Dean Of Men's Office Ransacked, Washing Machines Destroyed As Vandalism Continues

U. S. G. A. Proposes Community Action To Eliminate Problem

By GEORGE GEIST

During the beginning of the second semester, including the past week, there has been an increase in senseless vandalism which has occurred at Ursinus College. As a result, a special meeting was held last week to discuss the policy which, if carried through with the cooperation of the student community, would provide a strong preventative in the future.

At 4:30 P.M. on Thursday, three washers located in the basement of the New Mesh, where they had been left by the students, and the contents of the coin boxes were also taken. The total is believed to be around $300.00. The estimated replacement of the three washers would also be around $300.00. Nothing happened last Wednesday afternoon or Thursday.

On February 17, the outer door of the sophomore dorm, 61A, was kicked in and the door was broken. Nothing happened last Friday or Saturday.

A proposal for a policy which, if carried through with the cooperation of the student community, would provide a strong preventative for the future, is as follows:

1. The community should be divided into at least four sections. This would allow for the distribution of the work amongst the student body.
2. Each section would be responsible for the entire campus.
3. A board of directors would be elected from each section to act as a liaison with the administration.
4. Posters and signs should be displayed around the campus to enforce the rules.
5. A reward system should be implemented to encourage participation.

The board of directors would meet with the administration to discuss the progress of the policy and to make any necessary adjustments. The administration would have the authority to enforce the rules and to take any necessary actions.

By JUDITH JAMES

Among the Greek letter societies, the Christian Fellowship is a unique organization. It is dedicated to the work of providing a religious experience for students at Ursinus College, under the guidance of Jesus Christ by word and action.

The Fellowship, consisting of between forty and sixty persons, meets faithfully every Wednesday at 11:30 A.M. in McDaniel Hall for singing and to explore God's plan for mankind as recorded in the Bible. The meetings are informal and the singing is exuberant, but the discussion is serious. Many students who are not members have found a new family.
Alumni Corner
Leidy Lacks Leisure

By MILTON E. BETTERLINE

One of the purposes of the Alumni Corner series is to salute graduates who have interesting vocations. Another is to introduce these people to students who themselves will be launching careers 24 years hence. In a way, this is over. In the case of Alexander M. Leidy III, '35, our information source provided four pages of fine print on his latest role not only in a garnet storm that was visiting the Manheim (Pa.) industrialist who is recovering from a heart attack but the case reminds one of things that would find us needing our strength failing just to contemplate this man Leidy's record.

Leidy begins by a tribute to the guidance and instruction of the late professor Maurice O. Bone, whose wife, Lucille, has for years held together the work of the Alumni Department as secretary. Dr. Bone's enthusiasm for economics, coupled with Leidy's membership in the Zeta Chi fraternity, were the joy of his campus years.

He joined the Hershey Machine and Foundry Company in Manheim, after graduation, as a member of the Cost Accounting Department. In 1949 he married Elizabeth Gremse of a town by the same name in North Carolina; and then came the war years, and Alex joined the Army Corps of Engineers and wound up in the Pacific Theatre. He returned to Hershey after his discharge in 1946 and set to work developing a standard cost system for the 30,000 different parts on the founder's inventories. By 1960, Leidy had helped organize a merger and became General Manager of the Manheim division of the Fuller Company, a position he held until his retirement in 1972, ten years after introducing computerization to his plant.

The busyness of Leidy's life is not likely to diminish his involvements with the Alumni and his membership. They include a Building & Loan Association, a National Bank, the Lancaster Area Manufacturers' Association, Lancaster Industrial Club, a community charitable campaign foundation, the Presbyterian Church in Lancaster, and the Junior Achievement Board of Lancaster County. In 1967 he was elected to the Lancaster County Club and the Hamilton Club. In 1971 he was active participant in the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite (Masons) of Lancaster and Manheim together with its Shrine organization.

He's ailing right now, but Alex Leidy has plans to get back into the community that's been his whole life.

The timeless art of pantomime transcends language and age barriers. In this art our ordinary features or miniries are colorfully polished and condensed. The artist uses his body in this silent art. Another is to introduce these people to students who themselves will be launching careers 24 years hence. In a way, this is over. In the case of Alexander M. Leidy III, '35, our information source provided four pages of fine print on his latest role not only in a garnet storm that was visiting the Manheim (Pa.) industrialist who is recovering from a heart attack but the case reminds one of things that would find us needing our strength failing just to contemplate this man Leidy's record.

Leidy begins by a tribute to the guidance and instruction of the late professor Maurice O. Bone, whose wife, Lucille, has for years held together the work of the Alumni Department as secretary. Dr. Bone's enthusiasm for economics, coupled with Leidy's membership in the Zeta Chi fraternity, were the joy of his campus years.

He joined the Hershey Machine and Foundry Company in Manheim, after graduation, as a member of the Cost Accounting Department. In 1949 he married Elizabeth Gremse of a town by the same name in North Carolina; and then came the war years, and Alex joined the Army Corps of Engineers and wound up in the Pacific Theatre. He returned to Hershey after his discharge in 1946 and set to work developing a standard cost system for the 30,000 different parts on the founder's inventories. By 1960, Leidy had helped organize a merger and became General Manager of the Manheim division of the Fuller Company, a position he held until his retirement in 1972, ten years after introducing computerization to his plant.

The busyness of Leidy's life is not likely to diminish his involvements with the Alumni and his membership. They include a Building & Loan Association, a National Bank, the Lancaster Area Manufacturers' Association, Lancaster Industrial Club, a community charitable campaign foundation, the Presbyterian Church in Lancaster, and the Junior Achievement Board of Lancaster County. In 1967 he was elected to the Lancaster County Club and the Hamilton Club. In 1971 he was active participant in the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite (Masons) of Lancaster and Manheim together with its Shrine organization.

He's ailing right now, but Alex Leidy has plans to get back into the community that's been his whole life.

The timeless art of pantomime transcends language and age barriers. In this art our ordinary features or miniries are colorfully polished and condensed. The artist uses his body in this silent art.
DRAMA REVIEW

"This Is the Rill Speaking" and "The Interview"

By RUTH VON KUMMER

Two plays were presented by ProTheatre on February 22 and 23 to begin the Festival of Arts activities for the week of February 22 - March 1. One might have remarked that the curtain was a bit late, if not for the fact that there was no curtain. Little scenery was used in either of the one-act productions, which seemed to enhance the abstract mood presented.

The first play "This Is the Rill Speaking," written by Laurel Wilson, was a repeat performance. However, perhaps we should remember it as it was. Having seen it both times, I noticed that the lines seemed to come easier to the players last time. Several times in the play, more voice projection would have been desirable. Some of the characters seemed to retain the ease with which they moved from one person to another; then, there were some who needed to deliver more clearly for the audience to have recognized who they were at each point. Despite these shortcomings, those viewing it, especially people who had not seen it before, seemed to enjoy it.

Following a short intermission, we saw "The Interview" from America. Hurrah! written by Jean Claude van Itallie. This play proved to be very well acted and enjoyable throughout its duration. Several unexpected newcomers into the dramatic scene lent a freshness to the group, and the older and more well-known actors and actresses generated much interest from the viewers. The few noticeable flaws were several fleeting breaks in expression on the part of the actors, which hindered their characterization a little, but did not last long enough to be really disturbing. More importantly, some of the lines may not have been given enough of a serious tone, which detracts from the depth of the theme. I feel that if this occurred, it was the fault of both the actors and the viewers who interpreted it. A deep meaning should have been conveyed and it remains up to the individual person, as well as the acting ability of the group, to decide if it was portrayed well from the reaction they experienced.

All in all, any bad points seemed to be outweighed by the good ones. The play moved quickly, and the intermission was short but sweet. This allowed the audience to be entertained without becoming a bit too restless to try and understand the circular plots and the complex web of people presented. The productions, even though their presentation was brief, provided a fitting tip-off for one of the most cultural times we have at Ursinus.

I. F. Winter Party
Scheduled March 8

By BRUCE MARTIN

On Friday, March 8, the all Collegiate Winter Party will take a new approach with the help of other student organizations. This year the Student Union, with backing from the USGA and the Junior Class, will feature the Stampeding Sue Greasers, a big oldies band, for the Party. The Greasers are a six-piece band from New York. Tickets will go on sale the week before the dance and can be purchased from individual fraternity members or outside the lounge of Wismer for $4.00 per couple. The big event will be held at Westover Country Club from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m.

WOODSTOCK ABDICATION

By MICHAEL MITTELRUN

Editor's Note: Michael Mittlerun was a student at Ursinus. He is now working.

And there will be no children's convictions
At the forest's heart,
No maypole dance
In the face of the clock,
The brass rings hang tarnished in depreciation
From the shot-out streetlamps
Of an unregenerate suburbia
By the weeded-out taproots of debtless sentiment.
By EVA MORGAN, HELEN LUDWIG, ELAINE SNYDER.

The 1973 season has indeed been rewarding for the Bearettes but it has proved one thing—if you want it bad enough, you can do it. After falling to Immaculata and the University of Delaware earlier in the week, the Victory Bearhoopers came back and put Lock Haven State down 55-47 at home.

Immaculata was a tough team for the Bears; indeed Immaculata has been a tough out for us all year. For the past two years we have demonstrated that our two National College titles this year the Bears got away with a 4-24-18 victory at Drexel and a 42-24 slide over Chestnut Hill. The one loss last week was at Villanova, 49-31. Maybe it was due to something Bill Smith, the captain of the meal before the game. After this loss, the team agreed it was time to stop giving away others to others and start putting their talent into the game. Chestnut Hill was the next two victors and was literally blown out of the court by the Bearhoopers.

Fourth team has an impressive 4-0 record for the season. None of their opponents have been too close to them, and they simply lay down and started hitting from the outside. Kathy was high scorer with 15 points, but the team scored 57.

The final score was 48 to 50.

Thursday night the University Bearettes beat Lock Haven 55 to 47. They kept up the pace of the second half of the Delaware game and put up their finest offensive effort of the season. Many of the Bearettes' members in the season the Bearettes could optimize on their defense by their rebounding, both offensively and defensively. Kathy Jameson scored 17 points for the Bears, and Ania Denney dropped in 12 as well. The Bearettes managed to close the game for the win of the season and would hope to put the Bearhoopers back on the bench.

The Junior Victory had a successful week against the Bearettes and Lock Haven and losing to the University of Delaware by 2. The Junior Victory had a successful week in the tradition of trapping Immaculata and this year, too, they took the win. On the day the Victory hoopers fell to the Big Three, it was extremely rewarding for the Baby Bears to win the game for the season.

The University of Delaware was a close game for the Baby Bears. The JV matched U. D. basket for basket in the first quarter but lost on fouls. Melissa Wagner, as usual, made the most of the game in fast breaks. Melissa and Karen Hansen are the ball handlers for the team. Karen Hansen is a blur of habits and white collars, rosaries and crosses and the few times the Bears did get the ball out they easily out-paced the Mascot, unfortunately, they just didn't do it often enough.

Don't let anyone tell you Catholic girls play nice, the game was rough and hard. Immaculata bruised the Bears 48-27. Ursinus is the only team this season to hold the Bears to less than 50 points.

Friday night the Delaware Bearettes played University of Delaware at home. The Bears were down as much as 18 points in the 3rd quarter but came back with a tremendous defensive effort rallying to a two-point margin at the close of the game. The fourth quarter was marked by a lack of defense. Kathy Jameson, the Bearettes' star, out played and started hitting from the outside. Kathy was high scorer with 15 points, but the team scored 57.

The final score was 48 to 50.

Thursday night the University Bearettes beat Lock Haven 55 to 47. They kept up the pace of the second half of the Delaware game and put up their finest offensive effort of the season. Many of the Bearettes' members in the season the Bearettes could optimize on their defense by their rebounding, both offensively and defensively. Kathy Jameson scored 17 points for the Bears, and Ania Denney dropped in 12 as well. The Bearettes managed to close the game for the win of the season and would hope to put the Bearhoopers back on the bench.

The Junior Victory had a successful week against the Bearettes and Lock Haven and losing to the University of Delaware by 2. The Junior Victory had a successful week in the tradition of trapping Immaculata and this year, too, they took the win. On the day the Victory hoopers fell to the Big Three, it was extremely rewarding for the Baby Bears to win the game for the season.