The Grizzly, September 29, 1978

Jack Hauler
Ursinus College

Donna L. Phillips
Ursinus College

Ranelle Petrucelli
Ursinus College

Robert Pfeiffer
Ursinus College

Lawrence Mroz
Ursinus College

See next page for additional authors

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/grizzlynews

Part of the Cultural History Commons, Higher Education Commons, Liberal Studies Commons, Social History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Click here to let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation
Hauler, Jack; Phillips, Donna L.; Petrucelli, Ranelle; Pfeiffer, Robert; Mroz, Lawrence; Bassett, Jennifer; Reilly, Thomas A.; Barlow, Brian; Ludwig, Kevin; Woodland, Mark; Emmons, Wesley; and O’Neill, John, "The Grizzly, September 29, 1978" (1978). Ursinus College Grizzly Newspaper. 2. https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/grizzlynews/2

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Newspapers at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. It has been accepted for inclusion in Ursinus College Grizzly Newspaper by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. For more information, please contact aprock@ursinus.edu.
Social Changes
Open Fall Term

by Donna L. Phillips
Director of Student Activities, was named the new Dean of Students.
One of the main alterations in student life is a new visitation schedule. Visitations in the dormitories during weekdays (Sunday through Thursday) is 12 a.m.-12 p.m., and the weekend times (Friday and Saturday) remain 12 a.m.-2 a.m.

Also, use of alcoholic beverages by students of legal age is now permitted in dormitories, and approval was given to have parties (with or without alcoholic beverages) as long as the following procedures are completed:

1. Register the party with the Director of Activities and place a bond of $100 to cover possible damage charges.

2. There must be people to keep order at the party and clean up.

President Richter stated in a campus memo that many students and parents commented that they welcome the change because it will help with "adult decision-making." Learning to deal with the new freedom is an important responsibility.

Drinking is only permitted in student's own and in non-residence hallways. Individual students should not drink outside or in non-residence buildings.

Student Deans Reorganized

by Ranelle Petruelli
Ursinus has experienced some major organizational changes this year as a result of the Task Force on the Quality of Student Life. The most outstanding change is the establishment of the Office of the Dean of Students with Dean Harris in charge and Dean Whatley, March and Rebuck as associates. Ursinus is trying to improve student life with a more efficient, cohesive and involved staff.

Each office has a variety of responsibilities, many of which are shared by all, such as student conduct and the Judiciary Board. For example, Dean Harris advises, schedules and coordinates committees for student

by Robert F. Pfeiffer
Along with the decision to change the new system of a Dean of Students Office has come the addition of a new Associate Dean. David L. Rebuck comes to Ursinus from the University of Vermont, where he received his Master's Degree in Education. As one of the three Associate Deans, Rebuck will work closely with the other Associate Deans (March and Whatley) and the Dean of Students, Ruth Harris. Each associate dean, while working together to create student awareness, is responsible for certain aspects of student life. Dean Rebuck's duties include being advisor to the USGA, Resident Assistants and the Interfraternity Council. He is also attempting to strengthen the
Ursinus Middle Class

The American middle class is one of the largest groups in the United States. A significant number of students at Ursinus might consider themselves to be middle class Americans, but it is strange to see the academic middle class that has grown at our college. This is not really a letter to the editor. It is really a letter to the student body. YOU ARE BEING RIDICUP. And you, the students, are the ones who are doing it.

Have you taken a look at your tuition bill? Somewhere under the room and board charge and above the traffic violations charge there is the unknown the charge for damages in each suite. That is where the student is told that he is signed anonymously.

If the repairs are done, the maintenance man gives his opinion on whether it was needed because of vandalism. In the case of vandalism, the bill is sent to the student who has been evaluated again. If it is found to be vandalism then it is placed on the bill of the student. If the student is found to be vandalism then it is placed on the bill of the student. If the student is found to be vandalism then it is placed on the bill of the student. If the student is found to be vandalism then it is placed on the bill of the student

Since this is not a letter to the editor, it is not really a fee back to the original. Believe it or not, you get what is left back. The letter was submitted to the Task Force on Campus Policies. The letter was also submitted to the Task Force on Campus Policies. The letter was also submitted to the Task Force on Campus Policies. The letter was also submitted to the Task Force on Campus Policies

Life On These American Campuses

Studying diligently as any freshman Classical Language major would, I was propositioned. A sexual discrimination was my downfall. I could use some guidance. As I wishfully stared into her big blue eyes I questioned stupidly. “What is on a farm, the only interesting thing that happened was our last game. No doubt, they all lived. We definitely thought some juicy lies were in store for the professor would only be half asleep by the second paragraph. We were so eager to get the paper in the time to watch the Late Late Movie Sunday night. I knew I would need a whole box of No-Dust to keep me awake Monday.

Before I left the library, she asked me if I would like to stop by her room for a nightcap. She must have thought she deserved privacy for her services rendered. “This is too good to be true,” I thought, but answered in the affirmative. She looked satisfied and turned to me in the early morning. Next time? It’s not going to be too bad, I’m glad to know that everyone is in college for education, not for the parties. Maybe next time.

USGA

(Continued from Page 4) being lived by the borough police department, it was quickly learned that all athletic activity be curtailed until 122. If you find there is a need for this material, we encourage you to come to USGA and SPARC meetings to express your opinions.

Meetings are held every Thursday night at 8:30 in the Union conference room.
FrI.day, SEpTember 29, 1978

THE GRIZZLY

Events
September
29 Film: Slaughterhouse Five — Wismer Aud., 6:00 p.m.
October
1 Coffeehouse — Union
4 Record Breaker — Wismer Lawn
4 Forum: Medical Ethics — Wismer Aud., 10:00 p.m.
6 Bridge and Pinocchio Tournament — Union, 8:00 p.m.
7 Parent’s Day Camp-Out — Parent’s Dance
Film: Dr. Zhivago

Keith Moon: The Life and Death of The Who?

by Brian Barlow

While soaking up the rays and listening to New York's WNEW-FM one afternoon this summer on the central Jersey Shore, I was startled by the preview of a new album. The DJ interrupted the daily failifuls of Bruce Springsteen tracks with two songs from a forthcoming Who album.

For Who fans like myself, this news was well received because it showed that the band, whose last album was released in 1975, had weathered all rumors of breakup that had been headlined since the debut of Quadrophonia.

The big news of the summer had been the state of Pete Townshend's hearing. Doctors predicted if he maintained his present pace, he'd be deaf in five years. The new album brought back the hope that I might still get the chance to see them in concert. For their last appearance at Madison Square Garden, tickets were sold by a mail-order random drawing, and the turn of the cards was not with me.

But my dream will never become a reality. One evening while I was listening to "Won't Get Fooled Again" under a banner headline of high volume level, someone walked into my room bearing an unwelcome message: "Keith Moon died yesterday." Moon was one of the most colorful personalities in rock history. His off-stage antics proved The Who were more mortal. Known for his on and off-stage outbursts, and his spotty track record of personal problems, Pete Townshend told me once filled a set of clear plastic cards. As that played by Egdon Heath is always in demand (top 40), and there is a surprisingly large number of people on campus who have seen this group perform and have been overwhelmed. The Greaseband gives an exciting and colorful stage show and has its audience asking for more. Their last performance was a sellout, and their popularity is growing with every performance. They also appear around the Philadelphia area during the school year.

Despite his childish attitude, Moon was no fool. He always got his point across, often by blowing up his keyboard tracks and well-timed lyrical attacks. For their last appearance, they had been预留的 Who's Next into infamy, one of the more refreshing releases of the year. The Rolling Stones proved that even supergroups can be called" dumb" with age but Townsend has yet to allow time to take its toll. This album captures some of the same spirit that vaulted Who's Next into infamy, only with a bit of modernization. The nine tracks on the current disc make up another Pete Townsend's biggest disappointment. After the turmoil in the wake of Quadrophonia and The Who by Numbers, Pete appears to be trying even harder to push the conceptual envelope. The title cut, with Daltry's powerful vocals, is in the same tradition of "Won't Get Fooled Again." The emphasis on synthesizer throughout the record adds a new dimension to their multi-faceted sound. While many recording acts are ruined by repetition, Pete Townshend is always willing to invoke change.

With the revitalization of interest among fans for the achievement of the new album, Moon's untimely death is all the more tragic. As an Englishman renowned in "Hail Hail" on Who Are You: "Life is for the living." If this is true, Keith Moon's spirit will be alive forever.

K.F. Picnic: Let's Do It Again

by Jennifer Basset

Fifteen kegs of Pabst Blue Ribbon, multitudes of standard picnic vittles and taped tunes highlighted the initial Inter-Fraternity Council Picnic for the 1979 year on September 9.

Previously, I.F. picnics, which are held at the beginning and end of each school year, had been exclusively off-campus affairs. Ursinus' reformed alcohol policy made a much more organized all-campus mixer on the practice field possible.

Worthwhile musical appeals to the majority of students. Good bands are available and also a fifties and early sixties Greaseband. Both of these groups are hard to find, but are appearing around the Philadelphia area during the school year. Dave Evans and Richard P. Richter looking presidential at the picnic.

Inasmuch as it is still early in the school year, the Union, the USGA and other student organizations are probably still planning activities that would appeal to the majority of students. Worthwhile musical groups are hard to find, but are very well received when they perform at Ursinus.

Two such groups are a top forty band called Egdon Heath, and also a fifties and early sixties Greaseband. Both of these groups are hard to find, but are appearing around the Philadelphia area during the school year.

Several mediocre groups who are usually not very well received by the student body.

Needless to say, music such as that played by Egdon Heath is always in demand (top 40). With regard to the Greaseband, this type of music is being revived (American Graffiti, Grease, Animal House, American Hot Wax), and there is a surprisingly large number of people on campus who have seen this group perform and have been overwhelmed. The Greaseband gives an exciting and colorful stage show and has its audience asking for more. Their last performance was a sellout, and their popularity is growing with every performance. They also appear around the Philadelphia area during the school year.

Despite his childish attitude, Moon was no fool. He always got his point across, often by blowing up his keyboard tracks and well-timed lyrical attacks. For their last appearance, they had been预留的 Who's Next into infamy, one of the more refreshing releases of the year. The Rolling Stones proved that even supergroups can be called" dumb" with age but Townsend has yet to allow time to take its toll. This album captures some of the same spirit that vaulted Who's Next into infamy, only with a bit of modernization. The nine tracks on the current disc make up another Pete Townsend's biggest disappointment. After the turmoil in the wake of Quadrophonia and The Who by Numbers, Pete appears to be trying even harder to push the conceptual envelope. The title cut, with Daltry's powerful vocals, is in the same tradition of "Won't Get Fooled Again." The emphasis on synthesizer throughout the record adds a new dimension to their multi-faceted sound. While many recording acts are ruined by repetition, Pete Townshend is always willing to invoke change.

With the revitalization of interest among fans for the achievement of the new album, Moon's untimely death is all the more tragic. As an Englishman renowned in "Hail Hail" on Who Are You: "Life is for the living." If this is true, Keith Moon's spirit will be alive forever.
On Work and Good Times

Richter Welcomes Frosh

In a talk to freshmen at the opening convocation of the College in Bomberger Hall on September 7, 1978, President Richard P. Richter urged the students to resist the apparent conflict between having a good time and being a student.

Some of his remarks follow:

"You are to be congratulated, not condemned, because you chose to become a student at a demanding, competitive college. It is not an easy ride at Ursinus, but it can be a stimulating and satisfying role. In a recent report on the attitudes of student values at a number of colleges, the researchers found that the social scene—have fun with peers—was felt by students to be in deep conflict with the need to study. 'Good times vs. Hard Work,' as the authors put it, 'We need to make sure that the pursuit of happiness and hard work are not mutually exclusive.'

USGA Reports

Special To The GRIZZLY

by Kevin Ludwig

Corresponding Secretary for USGA

We are entering a year of transition concerning the rules and regulations that govern our student life. The upperclassmen have been quick to appreciate the new freedoms found on campus. It is also hoped that the freshmen will also realize the impact that these changes have had on our social life.

The faculty, administration, USGA and task forces have worked long and hard on these changes and they will continue to work throughout this year. It is the responsibility of the Ursinus student body to see that a successful transition will take place. It is important that all students follow the policies set for visitation, alcohol use and the planning of parties.

One of the changes that has had little explanation is the set of safety procedures designed for the use of campus firearms described in USGA # 422. Because of the danger encountered in crossing the highways, the upperclassmen, the student council, the college administration and USGA came to a number of solutions and agreements. Crosswalks are wider and more clearly marked. Penndot is creating a no-passing zone from Fifth Avenue to the borough line. Students at the crosswalks are to stop, look, and then proceed. All students are to be fully aware of this traffic law and are not to pass this sign.

David Reubuck

(Continued from Page 1)

The philosophy that Reubuck shares with the Dean of Students office is one where the individual is as important as the group. There is a deep concern for the individual's growth and development through a period of social, mental and academic transition. The goal of this office is to permit the students to undertake those responsibilities necessary in order to gain needed maturity. The success of this goal is better understood by the student and by the office.

In the case of School crossing signs are also to be erected. A sign in the pedestrian crosswalk, the students are asked not to jaywalk. Therefore, please use the crosswalks as much as possible or face the possibility of a university fine.

William J. Gaten

Danforth Fellowships Offered

Inquiries about the Danforth Graduate Fellowships, to be awarded by the Danforth Foundation at St. Louis, Missouri in April 1979, are invited, according to the local campus representative, Dr. Peter Petrik. Application materials can be reached at his office in the Myrin Library, extension 256.

Approximately 60-65 Fellowships will be open to all qualified persons who have serious interest in careers of teaching in college and university, and who plan to study for a Ph.D. in any field of study common to the under-graduate liberal arts curriculum in the United States.

The award, which is $15,000, includes a one-year leave of absence from work and a financial supplement for the individuals' dependents, is to be awarded to 15 of the nation's leading research universities to help finance the research of promising young scholars.

The Danforth Graduate Fellowships are offered to college students in a field of study common to the liberal arts, but is normally renewable until completion of the advanced degree. The Fellowship stipends are based on individual need, but they will not exceed $25,000 for single Fellows, and $30,000 for married Fellows. Children of Fellows will also be eligible for a Fellowship if they are a head of household, with one child, receive up to $3,500. There are no dependency allowances for all other children. The Fellowship also covers tuition and fees up to $14,000 annually.

Ursinus News in Brief

Nine Faculty Appointed

The appointment of nine new faculty members at Ursinus College has been announced by President Richard P. Richter.

Dr. Nancy L. Hagelgans, of Newtown Square, as assistant professor of mathematics.

Dr. Frank J. Proctor, of Kansas City, as assistant professor of history.

Dr. John L. Ronning, of Horsham, as lecturer in physics.

Dr. Colette Hall, of Phoenixville, as lecturer in Romance Languages.

Dr. Anna Dillman, of Collegeville, as instructor in mathematics.

Dr. A.A. Fulton, of Wayne, as lecturer in economics.

Dr. John E. Martin, of Doylestown, as lecturer in business administration.

Dr. E. Blair Kelley, of Wayne, as lecturer in economics.

Dr. Edward H. Martin, of Doylestown, as lecturer in economics.

David Reubuck

Music Director Honored

William J. Gaten, Ursinus College music director, was named Fellow of the American Guild of Organists, one of only five candidates nationally to successfully complete the Fellowship requirements this year.

The Guild is a national organization chartered in 1866 by the New York Musical Board of Directors, dedicated to the high standards of church music in America.

The Fellowship is the Guild's top ranking certification and the highest honor the Guild can bestow upon its members, according to Chairman Dr. Harry Wilkinson.

New Alumni Secretary Named

Mary Ellen DeWane, 1961 graduate of Ursinus College, has been appointed the college's alumni secretary, it was announced by President Richard P. Richter.
By now most students in all majors have heard of the popular grape drink "Staigerade," but how many students know the man responsible for this Ursinus wonder? Dr. Roger Powell Staiger is the man responsible and contributes much more to society than just this tasty grape beverage.

Dr. Staiger graduated from Ursinus College in 1943 with a B.S. in Chemistry. He continued his studies at the University of Pennsylvania from which he received his Masters Degree in Chemistry in 1948 and his Ph.D. in Organic Chemistry in 1953.

In his college days he dated Margaret Klauder Brown, also of the class of (1943), and in 1944 they decided to become another statistic in the Guinness Book of World Records. They had one son, Roger Powell Staiger Jr., who attended Bucknell University. Rumor has it that he did not want to suffer through the rough freshman chemistry course here at Ursinus.

Besides General Chemistry for majors, Dr. Staiger teaches the experimental part of Identification of Organic Compounds and Chemical Calculations. He has also taught courses in Qualitative Analysis, Inorganic Chemistry, Organic Chemistry, Advanced Organic Chemistry and is also a research advisor. Besides these courses here at Ursinus he teaches a graduate course, Changing Perspectives in the Natural Sciences, at Temple University and has taught summer school courses at Albright College. He has been a member of the Collegeville Hospital School of Nursing and at Alexandria Hospital on Nevis during the summers in the West Indies.

The Staigers love to travel and have visited and worked in some colleges in Beirut and Saudi Arabia. They enjoy vacationing at their home in Newcastle, N.J., in the West Indies, where they spend Christmas Holidays and often much of the summer months. He is regularly chided by his colleagues about the fact that his general chemistry course has never seems to stop. Dr. Staiger is regularly chided by his colleagues about the fact that his general chemistry course has never seems to stop.

Naturally chemistry is his largest interest and Mrs. Staiger remembers well the large amount of tests her husband did with his artificial flavoring. "It's an aroma that permeates the air and gets into everything. Imagine living in a powered drink mix and you can relate to Mrs. Staiger's feelings.

Staiger has always been very interested in the student body. He enjoys the personal aspect of teaching as well as the classroom atmosphere. His office on the second floor of Fahler is always open and usually full of students asking questions, seeking advice or just shooting the breeze. He is known throughout the student body as a light-hearted man. He always has a kind word of advice, a few jokes and certainly much wisdom to impart at a moment's notice.

Such teaching practices and personality is merit for considered recognition and honor. In 1962, Dr. Staiger received the Lindbach Award for Distinguished Teaching. In 1970 and 1971, he was recognized as an Outstanding Educator in America. He has also been written up in the Who's Who in the East, Who's Who in Education and listed as one of American Men of Science.

It is very hard to cover in a few short paragraphs an entire lifetime, especially when the person you are writing about never seems to stop. Dr. Staiger is one of these people. He has contributed so much already that the real achievement is that he continues to give.

September 16 it did go as planned for the Bear harriers. After last year's double shutout over Haverton and Delaware Valley, many expected this meet to be a nice opener for their long season ahead. Instead, it was Haverton who almost got the double shutout, beating Ursinus 18-4, and Del. Val. 15-9. The Bears also shutout Del. Val. 4-0.

While at first it may seem like the Bears choked, a few things should be made clear. First, the 'Fords are not the pushovers this year that they were last year. Second, many of the Bears are hurt. Sophomore speedster Dave Garner, injured earlier in the season, is still feeling the effects of two missed weeks. Larry Dochelli also missed a lot of training when he became ill during pre-season training camp. Freshman Bill Hutchinson did not run the race at all because of an injury. Freshman John Siergiej is experiencing colon problems (X-rays revealed nothing). Taken together, Haverton's strength and Ursinus' injuries enabled the 'Fords to capture seven of the race's top ten places.

Let's see how the Bears did. Pat Walker was fourth, covering the 6.3 mile course in 26:02. Joe Percutito was sixth, Joe Figuerrido was tenth, Ron Shaiko was eleventh and Keith Kempter was twelfth. Coach Shoults felt that the team was better than this performance indicated, and indeed it is. He points out that many of the runners did not work the last part of the race. He said that much of the team was not mentally prepared for this race. He thinks that the Bears could have won "if everyone did their job."

Many of the runners agree. Confident that the Bears are a quicker team than the 'Fords, Garner said, "We'll beat them in the MAC's." An interesting team quote is "Show me a good loser and I'll show you a loser." This hard-working, hard-playing team has a goal set on being number one or two in the MAC championships.

FOOTBALL

Tough Start

by John O'Neill

The Bears dropped their first game of the season to Western Maryland, 29-7, in what proved to be a display of W.M.'s running game. W.M. rushed for a total of 280 yards and two touchdowns, and allowed us only four yards total on the ground. Ursinus QB. Craig Walck passed for fifty yards, completing four of eleven tries to account for the rest of our fifty-four total yards. Offensive coordinator Tom Beddow scored Ursinus' only touchdown for the day.

Such teaching practices and personality is merit for considered recognition and honor. In 1962, Dr. Staiger received the Lindbach Award for Distinguished Teaching. In 1970 and 1971, he was recognized as an Outstanding Educator in America. He has also been written up in the Who's Who in the East, Who's Who in Education and listed as one of American Men of Science.

It is very hard to cover in a few short paragraphs an entire lifetime, especially when the person you are writing about never seems to stop. Dr. Staiger is one of these people. He has contributed so much already that the real achievement is that he continues to give.

It's over when the parties end, the trouble begins. People from schools who do anything more active than going from class to class are typical speeders and weenies.

Before anyone of your friends drop by from your past, make sure they aren't drunk. Don't be fooled because they seem to have some extra "oomph." Beer and wine can be just as intoxicating as mixed drinks.

And don't kid yourself because they may have had a few drinks. Black coffee can't sober them up enough to drive. Call a cab or offer to let him sleep in your car.

Maybe your friend won't be feeling so good on the morning after, but you've got to feel terrible.

VISTA is coming alive again.

FRIENDS DON'T LET FRIENDS DRIVE DRUNK.
Sports Profile: Dave Kennedy

Cross Country Looks Strong

by Wesley Emmons

Although the members of the cross country team arrived on campus two weeks before the start of school for their pre-season camp, they were in excellent shape long before the camp even began. With summer training runs carrying them through 14 miles some days, coach Shoudt was confident that they would be ready for the big season ahead.

The team is led by tri-captains Pat Walker, Jeff Kemper, Chris DuVally and Joe Figurelli. Upperclassmen include Tom Isban, LeRoy Kent and Steve Wallace. They are Dave Garner, Ron Shaiko and Harry Dochelli. Sophomore Mark Kessler, a soccer player last year, is on the team.

The team has many former and current high school runners who reported that many of these freshmen were very strong and the team looked good in this respect. He added, however, that the team seemed to lack the depth it would need to compete with the best. The quickest freshmen appear to be Pat Walker and John Perrotto.

Football A Pre-Season Peek

Field Hockey

The Field Hockey Team started their season this year on Labor Day Weekend. In Maine, they played two games against two strong teams that they won both games. They played against the Harvard and the University of Maine and won both games with ease.

Cross Country

The Cross Country team arrived on campus two weeks before the start of school for their pre-season camp. They were in excellent shape long before the camp even began. With summer training runs carrying them through 14 miles some days, coach Shoudt was confident that they would be ready for the big season ahead.

The team is led by tri-captains Pat Walker, Jeff Kemper, Chris DuVally and Joe Figurelli. Upperclassmen include Tom Isban, LeRoy Kent and Steve Wallace. They are Dave Garner, Ron Shaiko and Harry Dochelli. Sophomore Mark Kessler, a soccer player last year, is on the team.

The team has many former and current high school runners who reported that many of these freshmen were very strong and the team looked good in this respect. He added, however, that the team seemed to lack the depth it would need to compete with the best. The quickest freshmen appear to be Pat Walker and John Perrotto.

Football A Pre-Season Peek

by John O'Neill

Last year's Bruin squad, plagued by injuries, had luck and inexperience in their favor. The team is very strong this season with wins against Lebanon Valley and Johns Hopkins. Wil is ready for the season to repeat last year's failure. Head Coach Karra's doesn't think so. And from the looks of this year's 8-4-1 season, he has reason to be optimistic.

Thirteen of last year's starting players return, and not only on offense and five on defense. Competition for positions is heavy, but they are also very talented. Sophomore and freshmen have the most depth of the team, and they will be the key to their ability to win their region.

One of Kennedy's most striking qualities is his persistent drive. His teammates relies on cockiness to fuel their drives, Kennedy seems to take his abilities in stride.

Another returning letterman on offense are senior center Tom Ossey, senior tight end Jeff Carlow, who led the team in receptions last year, and senior guard and co-captain Dan Paulcicoli, junior tackle John Osopekho, and senior backfielders Mark DeAngelis, sophomore guard Rich Barker, sophomore tackle Bill White, and sophomore wide receiver John Bluebaugh. As a note of interest, Bluebaugh was an outstate kicking touch in high school in Waynesboro, PA. This should be the heart of the team's offensive lineup going into the season against Western Maryland.

Offensive contender are sophomore tackle Tom Dunn, freshman tight end Steve Kline, sophomore split end and back up quarterback Drew Shoudt, freshman wide receivers Chuck Groce and Tom Delaney, sophomore tackle John Hale, sophomore backfielder Jon Zanger, and senior backfielder Jason Podlaski.

This year's defensive unit will be led by senior tackle and co-captain Clay Elding. Manning will look to perfect their last set a new meet record for age 20-year-olds. The Ursinus coach Walter Manning. During the winter and spring he works out seven nights a week in musical interests. Center mostly involves playing in three summer Outlaws and the Doobie Brothers. For those Tasty Treats Birthday Cakes Delivered to Students Upon Request - $31.15

Field Hockey

The Field Hockey Team started their season this year on Labor Day Weekend. In Maine, they played two games against two strong teams that they won both games comfortably. The last game they played was with North Central, a top team, and they won the National Tournament for college teams last year. Ursinus, being the only team to beat in the region, captured the tournament.

Next came St. Louis University who are ranked second in the nation. Ursinus, their first game of the season, and it proved to be a rough game for the Maroons. Ursinus tallied the first goal and Halg soon added another. The final score of the entire tournament showcased Ursinus vs. Penn State. Both teams holding identical 3-0-2 records in the tournament. Ursinus defeated Penn State 1, Ursinus winning the game with a scoreless match to end the first day's competition.

The first day was initiated with a return to the winners column for Ursinus defeating William and Mary. Mike Blackman, oldest Ursinus since 1975. The offensive line coach, Ken Donahue, is new to the team along with his defensive backfield coach, Paul Tomko. Norm Reinich has been the offensive line coach at Ursinus since 1966. He had sixteen years of experience before coming here. The line coach is Jim Greger, who has a scout for the team last year. Ursinus also has the rare distinction of having a head woman head trainer. Pam Chab will be responsible for keeping the guys in shape to play.

The team is led by tri-captains Pat Walker, Jeff Kemper, Chris DuVally and Joe Figurelli. Upperclassmen include Tom Isban, LeRoy Kent and Steve Wallace. They are Dave Garner, Ron Shaiko and Harry Dochelli. Sophomore Mark Kessler, a soccer player last year, is on the team.

The team has many former and current high school runners who reported that many of these freshmen were very strong and the team looked good in this respect. He added, however, that the team seemed to lack the depth it would need to compete with the best. The quickest freshmen appear to be Pat Walker and John Perrotto.