Man of the Year

SUMMER 1938
Current Comment

On the Front Cover

Of this issue appears the one man whom practically every graduate of Ursinus knows. Dean Kline this year completed forty-five years of continuous service on the Faculty, a tenure greater by a decade than any other in the history of the College, and for this reason was he chosen primarily as Ursinus' Man of the Year. But we really need give no reasons for the choice. We all know the Dean. An old-time scholar, steeped in the Classics, who long ago discarded his Latin grammar because he knew it by heart. A scientist, whose spare-time researches in the botany and ornithology of Eastern Pennsylvania resulted in definite contributions to the knowledge of these fields. No one can preach a better sermon when the spirit moves him, or give a better talk to the incoming freshmen or the outgoing seniors. No one can add more to the dignity or impressiveness of a high academic occasion. Learned in the laws and precedents of hundreds of faculty meetings, he can always find an appropriate solution to a specific problem. A common-sense administrator, while temperamentally conservative, he can be the embodiment of progress once he is convinced of the essential soundness of an academic innovation. Then there are the personal interests that not all of us know. He has a farm in Adams County which he watches closely, and the County has no greater booster. He gets a new Chevrolet every year and drives it well, although he was nearly seventy when he learned to drive. He has a sharp financial sense and drives a hard bargain. He is up-to-the-minute in politics and current events. He is fond of good cheese, a connoisseur of oysters, and no one likes a fast horse better. And we could say a lot more, but need not. The distinction that we pay the Dean in this issue of the Journal is small enough in the light of his deserts, but it is our greatest and we are glad to accord it to him.

About Alumni Associations

Those from the College who attended the meetings of the various local alumni groups report that the attendance this year was generally somewhat less than last year. Whether the times and places were ill-chosen, the promotional work less effective, or general interest less, we do not know. We hope it was not the latter. We do feel, however, that to get the best results, the officers of the several associations should get on the job early. The date should be that most convenient to all and the place one that is accessible to the greatest number. The committee should be chosen with a view to the work that must be done, and definite plans laid well in advance. Then the committee, not just one or two people, should see to it that all the alumni in the area are notified—in person so far as is possible. A live committee can accomplish a great deal without too much burden on individual members, and the results are well worth the trouble. We respectfully suggest that the local groups begin to lay their plans earlier this year than has been the general practice in the past.

The meeting of the General Association this year was better attended and a good, constructive spirit shown throughout. What this organization needs now is more members who will take an active part in its work and not just pay their dollar a year. Frankly, the Association must expand or die. If its framework is no longer adapted to present conditions, let it be rebuilt. A real interest in its work on the part of more of the graduates will go far to make it the living, growing body it should be.

That Woman’s Dorm Again

In another column appears the statement that over a score of desirable young women who wanted to attend Ursinus were turned away because there was no room for them in the dormitories, and at least as many more made no formal application because of this situation. The need for a group of residence buildings for women, embodying the most modern principles of design, is more imperative than ever. A committee of the Board of Directors has been studying the matter, and there is a good possibility that sufficient funds to erect at least one unit of the proposed group will be available soon. If there is anyone of your acquaintance to whom such a project might be an attractive benefaction, we urge you to get in touch with the officers of the College, so that no stone may be unturned to accomplish this end.

It is natural for an alumnus, when he thinks of his college, to recall the college of his student days—ten, twenty, or thirty years ago. If he is aware of changes, it is the physical changes that impress him most, the erection of a new building or the development of a new part of the campus. Other changes, less obvious but no less important, he may fail to observe. I take this opportunity to call to the attention of the alumni three changes that are noteworthy.

First, more and more of our alumni are entering graduate and professional schools. During the past five years nearly five hundred students have been graduated from Ursinus College. During the same period at least one hundred sixty-two—our records are probably incomplete—have taken advanced degrees. Of this number thirty-eight received M.D., thirteen Ph.D., three Ed.D., thirty-six M.A., ten M.S., thirty B.D., and fourteen LL.B. degrees. This impressive total, which I believe very few colleges can equal, together with the fact that many of our younger alumni have made and are making conspicuously good records in graduate and professional schools, will be a source of satisfaction and pride to all our alumni.

Secondly, the size of our student body has been steadily growing. In 1935 the enrollment was 459, which was the average enrollment for the period from 1927 to 1935. In 1936 the number rose to 505. Last September the enrollment was 525, and in September, 1938, the number will be about 550. This healthy growth, I cannot too emphatically remind you, has resulted in no lowering of standards.

Thirdly, during the past few years the students admitted to Ursinus have been exceptionally well prepared. The results of the tests developed by the American Counsel on Education show that for the last five years each Freshman Class at Ursinus has been better prepared for college than its predecessor. The students admitted to Ursinus in September, 1936, stood well within the highest ten per cent of the many thousand freshmen who took the same tests in several hundred American colleges and universities, and those who were admitted to Ursinus in September, 1937, were in the highest five per cent of the same group.

These, then, are three changes that may not be known to all alumni, but they are important changes, for they are not the least of the causes of our growing reputation: more and more alumni are not only earning advanced degrees but are distinguishing themselves in graduate and professional schools, the enrollment is steadily growing, and the Ursinus Freshmen grow better every year.

But we need more of the very best. As I have pointed out elsewhere, we shall find it increasingly difficult to maintain this standard so long as the other good colleges—and many of the poorer ones—can and do make scholarship grants larger than we can make. We were able to make adequate scholarship grants to only a few of the two hundred students who this year took the examinations that we require of all applicants for scholarships. Many a superior student who wished to enter Ursinus, and who needed scholarship aid, was compelled to forego a college education or to accept at another college a scholarship larger than Ursinus could give. During the past two years the gifts of friends and alumni have increased our permanent scholarship funds from $105,000 to about $140,000. We should raise this total to $200,000 if we are to maintain our present standards and continue to admit our full share of superior students who need help—students who are superior in ability, character, and energy. Every alumnus can help by making a contribution and pledge to the George Leslie Omwake Scholarship Fund.
68th ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

Marred only by a series of showers which kept some persons away and drove the remainder indoors, the 68th Commencement passed smoothly and quietly into the recorded past. The several events were well attended, considering the weather, and an encouraging spirit of interest and optimism was manifested by those present.

Class Day
The Seniors started the ball rolling with their traditional Class Day exercises on Friday afternoon, June 3. A rollicking program entitled "The Marsh of Time," an alleged broadcast from the Eger Gateway presenting an inaccurate, distorted and unfounded picture of four years of college life, featuring one of the best mock faculty meetings put on in years, kept the large audience amused for an hour. The class then became serious long enough for President Justus Bodley to deliver the mantle oration and for Paul Craigie to formally present the class tree.

Woman's Club Progresses
The Ursinus Woman's Club held a dinner-meeting in the upper dining-room at 5:30, Friday evening, which from all reports was one of the best in years, considerable progress along many lines having been reported. The Club voted to provide a $300 open scholarship for girls for another year, and to continue the effort to raise the balance due on the cost of "612," the girls' dormitory acquired two years ago. Announcement was made of the formation of a Junior Woman's Club, to which all women students are eligible. Considerable interest has been manifested in this new organization by the girls, and the Club gave its hearty approval. The membership committee reported a net gain of 115 new members during the past year, with excellent prospects for more to come. Trinna F. Moser '10, Florence O. Benjamin '30, and Lois H. Brownback '20 were reelected president, vice-president, and treasurer, respectively, and Elmina R. Brant '31 was elected secretary, succeeding Helen Wismer '30.

“The Mikado”
Gilbert and Sullivan's undying and ever-popular light opera proved a source of pleasure and delight to the many who went out to the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium on Friday and Saturday nights to see and hear the presentation of "The Mikado," by the Musical Organizations of the College under Dr. Philip's expert direction. The all-student cast, which had worked hard for months, presented a performance which competent critics placed in the top rank of amateur productions. Special acclaim was given Robert Gross '39 for his superb interpretation of Pooh-Bah and Roy Snyder '41 who proved an especially adroit Ko-Ko.

Directors Meet
The annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the College was held in the Faculty Room of the Library on Saturday morning, June 4, at ten o'clock. President Harry E. Paisley, LL.D., presided.

The various reports of the officers, the President, the Dean, and the Treasurer were received with satisfaction by the Board.

Two new members were elected. Ralph F. Wismer, Esq., '05, was nominated by the Alumni Association, succeeding Rhea Duryea Johnson '08, who was not eligible for further service as an alumni director, and Irene F. Laub, M.D., Sc.D., ex '21, was chosen at large. Mrs. Johnson was elected to another term by the Board, and Ralph E. Miller '05, whose term expired, was reelected. All will serve five-year terms. No change was made in the officers of the Board. Certain changes in the Faculty and administrative staff, which are noted in another column of the Journal, were approved.

The committee appointed to consider ways and means of furthering the projected plans for a unified group of women's residence halls reported through its chairman, Dr. Niblo, definite progress, and submitted a report of what it had done up to the present.

After a lengthy discussion of considerable interest on this subject, the Board accepted the plans presented by the committee in general form, and authorized the committee to provide photostatic copies of the plans which could be used to interest prospective donors.

At the close of the meeting, the Board proceeded in a body to the cemetery of Trinity Reformed Church, where floral tributes were laid on the graves of former Presidents Henry T. Spangler, D.D., LL.D., and George L. Onwake, Ped.D., LL.D., then to St. Luke's cemetery, Trappe, where a tribute was laid on the grave of former President Henry W. Super, LL.D. President Paisley made a few appropriate remarks at each grave.

Alumni Athletic Club
This body held its annual business luncheon in the Recreation Hall of the Library at noon on Saturday, with about seventy members present. President Malcolm M. Derk '26 was in the chair. The committee appointed a year ago to select a name for the recently-purchased athletic field recommended that the field be named for Dr. John B. Price '05. The recommendation was unanimously adopted. One hundred dollars was appropriated to the newly-established Varsity Club Loan Fund, and the executive committee was authorized to study certain proposed alterations in the balcony of the Gym, and to proceed with the work if found feasible. "Jing" Johnson summarized the year in sports, and Dr. J. W. Clawson reported for the Athletic Council. The Club set Saturday, November 12, the day of the Gettysburg game, as the date for the next Old Timers' Day.

Officers elected were: president—Malcolm M. Derk '26; vice-president—J. Harold Brownback '21; secretary—John C. Markley '24; treasurer—Stanley Omwake '31; representatives to Athletic Council—Harry W. Snyder '08 and R. D. Evans '18; executive committee—R. C. Johnson '16, Clarence W. Scheuren '17, Wayne A. Brown '17, Rev. Louis W. Mitchell '34.

Alumni Association
The regular annual meeting of the Alumni Association of Ursinus College was held in the College Auditorium, Bomberger, at 2 p.m., on Saturday, June 4, presided over by Wesley R. Gerges '11, president. About 75 members were present.

Most of the meeting was occupied by routine business and the hearing of reports. The results of the annual election of officers of the Alumni Association were announced. For the year 1938-39, they are as follows: president—Harvey B. Danehower '08; vice-president—Flora Rahn Lentz '89; secretary-treasurer—Calvin D. Yost, Jr., '30; alumni director—Ralph F. Wismer, Esq., '05; executive committee—Calvin D. Yost '91, Ralph L. Johnson '97, Amy E. Fermier '10, Ernest C. Wagner '10, Robert D. Evans '18, Wallace C. Savage '19, J. Harold Brownback '21, John G. Tomlinson '38. Tomlinson was elected by the graduating class.

The action of the several committees which initiated and fostered the Alumni Journal during the past year was heartily approved, and the Association voted unanimously to appropriate $450 toward the cost of the publication for the coming year. This action makes it possible to increase the size of the publication by four more pages.

President's Reception
From 4 to 5 o'clock, President and Mrs. McClure held an informal and largely attended reception for the faculty, alumni, students and guests in the Alumni Memorial Library.

Alumni Banquet
The entire upper dining-room of Freeland Hall was filled on Saturday evening when the alumni banquet in their annual dinner with the graduates seated according to their classes. The ninety-three graduating Seniors were guests at the banquet. 1913 held their reunion on the campus earlier in the day, 1928 sprang something new with a dinner-dance at the Spring Mountain House the evening before, and the other five-year classes reunited informally.

The two oldest alumni present, Rev. A. B. Markley '76, of Collegeville, and Ephraim F. Slough, Esq., '77, Norristown, Pa., were introduced and responded briefly, and a letter of greeting from S. L. Herzog '78, Tuscaloosa, Alabama, the only surviving member of the sixty-year class, was read.

Baccalaureate Service
Stressing confidence and offering re-assurance to the graduating Seniors, Rev. John Ernest Mertz, D.D., '14, addressed the graduating class at the Baccalaureate Service, Sunday morning, June 5. The Chapel was filled to capacity.

Dr. Mertz, who is pastor of the Brainerd Presbyterian Church, Easton, Pa., and a member of the Lafayette College Faculty, pointed out the desirability of formulating a program of life, and presented three religious principles upon which to build one's life. The chief of these was the pursuit of the will of God, which included the proper esteem of oneself, humanity and God.

Kenneth Seagrave '39 played an organ prelude to the service, and before and after the sermon the College Choir rendered several selections.

Sacred Concert
The College Choir, under the direction of Dr. William F. Philip, presented a program of sacred music on Sunday evening, June 5, in Bomberger Chapel.

The program was composed of Bach chorals, oratorio selections, and negro spirituals. Two numbers were sung by the girls' trio, Dorothea McCorkle '39, Elizabeth Trout '40, and Elizabeth Usinger '40.

The Commencement
The formal exercises of Commencement were held in the Chapel on Monday morning, June 6, with a capacity crowd of alumni, students and visitors in attendance.

The customary Commencement Day organ recital was rendered by William Sylvano Thunder, of Philadelphia, as a prelude to the exercises. The invocation was offered by the Rev. John Lentz, D.D., College pastor.

The Commencement address was delivered by Dr. Charles E. Beury, president of Temple University, Philadelphia.

Stating that Americans possess the gift of a free citizenship, Dr. Beury declared that we owe a debt of obligation to our country. He regretted the low esteem in which public service is held, for the citizen's first duty should be to serve his country.

Dr. Beury then said that the struggle to maintain democratic government is a problem of our educational institutions. "Unless education," said he, "is a part of our culture . . . we shall not be able to improve that culture in any direction."

The speaker saw only an uncertain future for America. He hoped, however, that modern difficulties might bring back the fortitude and the ideals of our nation.

The problem of government today, then, is the challenge that Dr. Beury gave to the Class of 1938.

Following the address, President Norman E. McClure and Dean Whorton A. Kline awarded diplomas to ninety-three graduates, of whom sixty-two received the Bachelor of Arts degree and thirty-one that of Bachelor of Science.

The honorary degree of Doctor of Letters was conferred upon Conyers Read, Ph.D., professor of American History in the University of Pennsylvania, and secretary of the American Historical Association. Rev. Oliver Kirk Maurer, for ten years the very successful pastor of St. John's Reformed Church, Red Lion, Pa., received the degree of Doctor of Divinity.

Following a custom of several years, Dean Kline delivered the farewell address to the graduating class. The Dean's remarks were short and to the point, well-packed with common sense and encouragement. At the conclusion of the address, President McClure awarded the various prizes, Dr. Lentz pronounced the benediction, and the 68th Commencement was brought formally to a close.

SEVEN CHANGES IN FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF ANNOUNCED

Seven changes in the faculty and administrative personnel of the College were approved by the Board of Directors at its annual meeting on June 4.

Dr. Elizabeth B. White, professor of History and dean of women since 1924, requested the Board to be relieved of her administrative duties in order to devote her entire time to teaching. In the fourteen years of her tenure, the number of women students more than doubled, with a corresponding increase in responsibility and work, and Dr. White accordingly sought relief from the dual burden. She will continue as head of the Department of History.

Camilla B. Stahr, A.B., has been appointed acting dean of women, and will take up her new duties in September. Miss Stahr, who is a sister of Dr. Henry I. Stahr HON'35, president of Hood College, is a graduate of Wilson College. For the past five years she has acted as preceptress of Glenwood, in which position she has amply demonstrated her ability to work successfully with girls.

Foster L. Dennis, Ph.D., '31, has been added to the faculty as instructor in Mathematics. Following his graduation from Ursinus, Dr. Dennis took graduate work at Cornell, where he received his master's degree, and later taught in the Milton (Pa.) High School. During the year 1934-35, he filled a temporary appointment on the Ursinus faculty while Dr. Frank L. Manning was absent on leave. Since that time he has been studying and teaching in the University of Illinois, from which he recently received his doctorate.

Joseph R. Reichard, A.M., has been appointed instructor in German for the coming year. Mr. Reichard was graduated from Lafayette College as valedictorian of the Class of 1934 and spent the following year as an exchange student at the University of Frankfurt-am-Main under the Institute of International Education. He then became a graduate student in German in the University of Wisconsin, where he received his M.A. and completed the work for his doctorate. During the past year he was an instructor in German in Oberlin College.

The Board accepted the resignations of Philip B. Willauer, Ph.D., '30, assistant professor of Political Science, and a member of the faculty since 1931, and Charles J. Schaffer, B.S., '36, assistant in Physical Education. Dr. Willauer, who passed the Pennsylvania Bar examinations last year, will enter his profession in the office of Duane, Morris and Hecksher, Philadelphia, while Mr. Schaffer intends to take up another position.

Charles H. Miller, A.B., B.S. in L.S., '24, will become assistant librarian, succeeding Gladys Barnes Grosser '30, who resigned after eight years of service. After his graduation from Ursinus, Mr. Miller spent several years in business and later entered government service in Washington. He was graduated from the Library School of George Washington University in 1932, served as a librarian in the Federal Government, and has been librarian of the Scottish Rite Temple in Washington since 1937.

Muriel E. Brandt, A.B., '38, has been appointed preceptress of "944," the new girls' dormitory beyond Fircroft opened last year, succeeding Dorothea S. Wiedand, A.B., '36, who resigned to take up graduate work. Miss Brandt was the very able president of the Woman's Student Government Association during the past year.

A Correction

Alexander R. Clawson '36 is connected with the Barrett Company, Philadelphia, and not with the Superior Tube Company, as was erroneously stated in the last issue.
SPRING SPORTS

Baseball

Jing Johnson's baseball nine racked up its most impressive record since 1931 by winning seven out of eleven games played. Back in '31, the lads took eight out of twelve, but Jing says that the schedule was a little easier. With very competent pitching from Captain Diz Zoll and Fred Swift, better-than-usual support in the field, and the development of unexpected hitting strength, the Bears finished second in the seven-team Eastern Pennsylvania League, losing only one league game and that to Juniata, champions of the loop. Three games were rained out, two of which figured as likely wins. Zoll is the only man lost by graduation, and Captain-elect Bill Power, who played a vastly improved game at second, is the only junior, the rest of the team being composed of sophomores.

Cricket

The great English game, which a half century ago was also one of the leading intercollegiate sports in this country, was introduced to the Ursinus campus this spring by Dr. Donald G. Baker, who teaches Greek and Latin, coaches soccer, and who had played the game at Haverford. Not too difficult to learn, the game attracted a good deal of attention and aroused enough interest to more than justify Baker's efforts. The presence of two or three students who had played cricket here or abroad provided a strong nucleus around which to build.

While no schedule had been arranged, the Doctor took his boys over to Haverford, ancient stronghold of cricket, and had the satisfaction of beating his alma mater by the unusually close score of 65 to 50 (cricket scores generally run into the hundreds). Since Haverford is the only other college in the United States to have a cricket team, so far as is known, the Bears have probably won their first intercollegiate championship.

The sport promises to take hold, and in a season or two, if results warrant, an international challenge match with a team from one of the Canadian universities is not an improbability.

Girls' Tennis

The girls really went to town on the court to go through a six-meet schedule without a loss and thus climax one of the most successful years in women's sports in Ursinus history. Paced by Bunny Harshaw, one of the most prominent younger players in the East, the team, composed of Captain Libby Ware, Ruth von Kleck, Dorothy Hutt, Ruth Shoemaker, Jane Roberts and Mary Robbins, took over Bryn Mawr, Beaver, Swarthmore, Drexel, Mt. St. Joseph's, and Pennsylvania. Captain Ware is the only one to graduate.

Men's Tennis

Riddled by graduation, the male courtmen had a disastrous season, dropping five matches to Haverford, F. & M., Drexel, Albright and Muhlenberg. Captain Bodley was the only man with any varsity experience, Captain-elect Dietz and Gushard not having completed their first two years, while Wood and Karpinski, the two freshmen members, although likely prospects for next year, were too young and inexperienced for college competition.

Intramurals

Champions in football and wrestling, Brodbeck won the all-around intramural championship for the second straight year. The champs also took seconds in boxing, basketball and softball to total 41 points. Curtis, Stine, Freeland, Derr, Day Study, and Highland finished in the order named. Stine took the boxing crown, the day students won out in basketball, and Freeland nosed out Brodbeck in a play-off to become king of the softballers.
SEVEN YEAR RECORD SHOWS
MISS SNELL BEST URISNUS COACH

Eighty-seven victories and 11 ties out of a total of 138 intercollegiate contests played in three sports over seven seasons is the very respectable record made by the Ursinus teams which Miss Eleanor Snell has coached since coming to the College in the fall of 1931.

So respectable is it that no other person who coached any sport at Ursinus for any number of seasons has done as well.

This may surprise a lot of people, who are inclined to take women's sports somewhat for granted (it surprised us, too), but the figures show that if a steady stream of victories, year in and year out, is any criterion, Eleanor Snell is the most successful coach Ursinus has yet had. That she has had to develop nearly all of her material and coached three sports while carrying a heavy teaching schedule clinches the matter.

Statistically expressed, the Grizzly lassies have won or tied 71% of all their games, losing only 29%. And the teams that they have beaten read like a roll-call of Eastern colleges—Bryn Mawr, Swarthmore, N. Y. U., Drexel, Cedar Crest, Columbia, Lebanon Valley, Mt. St. Joseph's, Rhode Island State, Pennsylvania, Moravian, Beaver, Rosemont, Glassboro Teachers, none of them set-ups.

The hockey and basketball teams have been the most consistent winners during the Snell régime, hockey having a record of 33 wins, 14 losses and seven ties, for a .611 average, against 37 wins, 16 losses, four ties and a .649 average for basketball. While tennis has the second-best won-and-lost average—.629, its record has been helped by two successive undefeated teams in 1937 and 1938. 1936-37, when 81.8% of all contests were won, and 1937-38, whose percentage was 79.1, were the two best years. 1932-33 was the worst, only 35.7% of the games played being won.

Miss Snell, who is officially assistant professor of Physical Education and who teaches a full schedule in addition to her coaching, is a native of Lincoln, Nebraska, and was graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1923. She taught for two years in the Fort Madison (Iowa) High School and in East High School, Denver, Colorado, and then entered the graduate school of Columbia University, where she received her M.A. in 1929. In 1929-30, she taught in the Marquette (Michigan) State Teachers College and the next year was an instructor and critic teacher in the State Teachers Colleges at Shippenburg and California, Pa. Quiet, unassuming, extremely capable, she is both an accomplished horsewoman and one of the best drivers on the faculty.

Vice-President States Case For
Omwake Memorial Scholarship Fund

Previous numbers of the Journal have carried accounts of the movement now under way to raise a scholarship fund of $100,000 as a memorial to Dr. George L. Omwake. The major project of the College, the worthiness of which is apparent, the work is being carried on by a voluntary organization, of which D. L. Helfferich, vice-president of the College, is the active head, without resort to the high-pressure methods so often associated with such efforts. We are very glad to present the following statement of the case prepared by Mr. Helfferich.

The Ursinus College of today in comparison with that of 1900 is an Ursinus of more buildings, larger campus, more students, and larger faculty. It has kept pace with the American trend to grow, yet proudly held to the high ideals of its founders. The Ursinus of today is a school of larger opportunities in all respects but one. It has not provided funds adequate to meet the demands of the many deserving boys and girls who under any economic conditions need scholarship aid to complete their education.

The present-day Ursinus alumni family is well punctuated with members who owe their degree to scholarship aid. Many of these can be counted some of its most loyal and helpful sons and daughters. The number and virility of the alumni of the future are dependent upon the continuation of the proper proportion of scholarship-aided graduates.

Many of the sons and daughters of alumni need and deserve scholarships. Many of the best students recommended to Ursinus by her alumni need and deserve financial assistance. To meet these needs, Ursinus must have more ample scholarship funds than are now available.

The elements of character necessary in students to make them good alumni and good citizens have no relation to their state of financial solvency. Some of those with an adequate supply of cash to meet all college bills have the requirements. Some with the requirements have no cash.

So long as it is the high duty of Ursinus College to aid in providing the world with superior leaders, and so long as potential leaders continue to be born in homes having no bank accounts as well as in homes with large ones, it is imperative that Ursinus have adequate scholarship funds available.

Dr. Omwake recognized the inadequacy of scholarship funds at Ursinus, despite the fact that during his administration more than fifty individual scholarships were established. He hoped to see sufficient amounts made available so that no deserving boy or girl should fail of a college education for lack of funds. Dr. Omwake lived to see most of his dreams realized. This one remains.

The alumni are challenged to complete this dream. A contribution to the George L. Omwake Scholarship Fund will aid in establishing a lasting memorial to a great man and will be of inestimable assistance to future generations of students.

If you want to insure a proper nation for your grandchildren, assure them of proper leadership. Help to complete this fund.

If you want Ursinus estopped from pleading inability to help that member of your church, your school, your community, your family, then help to complete this fund.

If you cannot see your way clear to give your quota, do what many other alumni have done—get some of your wealthier friends to contribute. A dozen strangers, people who have never seen Ursinus College, have already contributed amounts ranging from $10 to $200. If these people believe in the purpose of the fund, what excuse can a graduate plead for not doing his or her part?

Conditions for raising money for this Scholarship Fund during the past six months have been far from ideal. Yet the two zones that had energetic, enthusiastic captains and solicitors are within a few dollars of their goals. They did this through concerted, cooperative effort. That kind of effort will bring us to our goal without burdening anyone, and that is the kind of effort we would like to see everyone put forth. The only way we can fail of success is because the alumni as a whole are not in sympathy with this movement, and that we cannot believe.

To date, 284 alumni have pledged $16,382.05. If the remainder of the 1,700 alumni respond as generously, the goal is assured. Of course, most of us cannot give the amount we would like at one time. Therefore, it has been designed that gifts shall be made payable over a three-year period, at times and in amounts convenient to the contributor.

When challenged by a solicitor, as you eventually will be, remember Dr. Omwake, Ursinus College, and the needy students of the future. And if asked to serve on a committee for solicitation, remember that this service is as valuable as your gift.
About Ourselves

Deaths

Theodore Meier, instructor in Music in the College from 1899 to 1900, died of a heart attack on March 2. He was a graduate of the Mission House College, Wisconsin, and of the Royal Conservatory, Stuttgart, Germany, and had been a widely known teacher of music in St. Paul, Minnesota, for many years.

Sue Moser Roth, wife of J. Leroy Roth, M.D., '03, and a former student at Ursinus, died in a Philadelphia hospital on April 25. She had undergone a serious operation about two weeks before, from which she failed to rally. Possessed of considerable ability, Mrs. Roth was an active member of the Riverview Hospital Auxiliary, the Montgomery County Medical Society Auxiliary, the Woman’s Club of Conshohocken, and the Society of Friends at Plymouth Meeting, and for over a year after the death of her father, the late E. S. Moser, was executive head of the Conshohocken Independent. Besides her husband, who is a prominent physician in Conshohocken, Pa., she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Paul Roberts, also of Conshohocken, and two sisters, Mrs. E. W. Hocker, of Germantown, and Mrs. Charles Grove Haines '02, of Los Angeles.

Rev. John Levi Guth ex’12 died at his home in Siegerville, Pa., on June 22, following a heart attack. After his graduation from Central Theological Seminary, he became pastor of the Reformed Church at Jefferson, Pa., later serving at Schoen­erville and Rittersville, Pa. For the past fifteen years he had a very successful pastorate in the Jordan Charge, near Allentown, Pa., in which he followed his father, the late Rev. Frank A. Guth ’82. He was a member of various clerical bodies and was prominent in Masonic circles. His daughter, Margaret L. Guth ex’39, and a brother, Dr. Henry Guth ex’12, survive.

Local Alumni Groups Hold Annual Get-togethers

Dr. Ralph W. Schlosser '11, president of Elizabethtown College, was the principal speaker at the annual dinner of the alumni of the Lancaster area, which was held at the Hotel Weber, in Lancaster, Pa., on April 22. Rev. A. M. Billman, Harrisburg, Pa., who acted as toastmaster, will head the Association for the coming year.

The Ursinus alumni of Berks County held their annual dinner on April 23 at the Reading Country Club. Dr. and Mrs. McClure and Dean Kline were the guests of honor, with the Dean delivering the address of the evening. Dr. Carl M. High '24 was elected president of the Association, and Mrs. Charles O. Metcalf (Gertrude Rothenberger '28), secretary.

Ronald C. Kichline '16 was elected president of the Philadelphia group at a dinner-meeting held at the University Club, Philadelphia, on Friday, May 13 (boy, what a date!). Dr. Charles A. Behney '12 spoke on "Ursinus in Medicine," and President McClure and Vice-President Helfferich made brief remarks.

Forty-five alumni attended the dinner of the New York Association, held at the New York Times Restaurant on April 7. Registrar Franklin I. Sheeder was the principal speaker at the dinner, which was also attended by Dr. McClure and Vice-President Helfferich. Rev. A. Randal Zendt '22 was elected president.

The Lehigh Valley alumni dined at the Lehigh Valley Country Club, near Allentown, on Friday, May 27. A new feature for this gathering was an open forum on the subject of Ursinus, the discussion being led by President McClure, Vice-President Helfferich, and Dr. J. Lynn Barnard. Calvin S. Frankenfield '26 will head the Association for the coming year.

Lentz, Sando, Head Reformed Synods

Rev. John Lentz, D.D., '02, college pastor, was elected president of the Eastern Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church at the annual meeting of that body held in St. Paul's Church, Lancaster, Pa. (Rev. T. A. Alspach, D.D., '07, pastor), May 17-20. Dr. Lentz was graduated from the School of Theology in 1906, and served at Pleasantville, Pa., and Milton, Pa., before becoming pastor of Trinity Church, Collegeville, in 1928. He is a member of the Board of Visitors of the Theological Seminary at Lancaster, Pa., and of the General Council of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

At the annual meeting of the Potomac Synod, held at Frederick, Md., June 13-17, Rev. Edwin M. Sando, D.D., '04, was elected its president for the ensuing year. Since his graduation from the School of Theology in 1907, he has held but two parishes, the Kreutz Creek Charge, at Hallam, Pa., from 1907 to 1920, and the Manheim Charge, Hanover, Pa., since 1920. Dr. Sando has been the stated clerk of Gettysburg Classis since 1921.

It is an interesting coincidence that both of the new dignitaries are fathers of members of the Class of 1931—John B. Lentz, pastor in the Collingdale (Pa.) H. S., and Rev. John H. Sando, of Millerton, Pa.

The Eastern Synod covers all of Pennsylvania east of the Susquehanna River. Potomac Synod is greater in extent, comprising that part of Pennsylvania south of the Susquehanna and east of the Alleghenies, part of West Virginia, and all of Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina.

Meminger Retires as Secretary of Ministerial Relief Board

Rev. J. W. Meminger, D.D., '84, retired as secretary of the Board of Ministerial Relief of the Reformed Church on April 1. After being graduated from the School of Theology in 1886, Dr. Meminger served as pastor of the Brownback's Charge in Chester County, Pa., for one year. He then went to St. Paul's Reformed Church in Lancaster, Pa., which he built up from a weak mission to one of the largest and strongest parishes in the denomination. In 1905, he became a member of the Board of Ministerial Relief and was elected its secretary-treasurer in 1913, carrying on the work in connection with his pastorate. In 1920, upon the reorganization of the Board, he resigned his church to become the full-time secretary of the Board, in which his untiring energy and marked promotional and administrative talents were instrumental in building up the Board's assets and in making it unquestionably the strongest and most soundly administered of the agencies of the Church. The Board took official notice of Dr. Mem-

New Athletic Field Named in Honor of “Whitney” Price

By action of the Alumni Athletic Club, taken at its annual meeting on June 4, the new athletic field purchased two years ago will henceforth be known as Price Field, in honor of Dr. John B. Price '05. The action was based on the recommendation of a special committee which had been appointed to study the question after the Club had been given the privilege of naming the field in recognition of its substantial contribution toward the purchase price.

Best known to the alumni by his old college nickname of “Whitney,” Dr. Price is easily one of the outstanding figures in Ursinus athletic history. He commenced his playing career as a student in the old Academy, on the very field which now bears his name and which was then leased by the College, and played quarterback in football and catcher in baseball with distinction up until his graduation in 1905. Then followed a period of coaching at Slippery Rock State Normal School, which ended in 1908, when he was called back to Ursinus as director of athletics and coach of everything to put the Grizzlies (or whatever they called them in those days), which hadn’t done so well in the interim, back on their feet. This he did with outstanding success. When “Whitney” departed to become head coach at Trinity in 1914, Ursinus was respected and feared in gridiron circles, and no longer stood unknown. From Trinity “Whitney” jumped to Muhlenberg, and from there to F. & M. None of these schools have had the athletic success since that they enjoyed under the Price régime.

Somewhow during his coaching he found time to study medicine, was graduated from the Medical-Chirurgical College in 1914, and mixed coaching with his practice until 1923, when he resigned at F. & M. and came to Norristown, where he has devoted his full time to his profession. He has been the College physician since 1924, taught for a while in the Graduate School of Medicine of the University of Pennsylvania, holds a number of hospital appointments, and has achieved a reputation as an oto-rhino-laryngologist. In recent years he has devoted much time to research in certain aspects of neurology, the results of which have been published by the American Medical Association.
