Cover Story . . . CONSTRUCTION AGAIN. It could be anywhere, but in this case it's the long-dreamed multi-million-dollar gymnasium complex rising out of the baseball field. Scheduled for completion in 1972, the gym will offer three playing floors, a collegiate-size swim pool, a 1500-seat central floor with up to 4000 seats possible for concerts and convocations, and classrooms.

INSTALLATION CEREMONY

Professor of Physical Education; Dr. Theodore R. Schwalm, President of the Board of Directors; Dr. Eugene H. Miller, Professor of Political Science.

From the President

Greetings to the Alumni.

As a new president in a new year and in a new century in the life of the College, I feel a concurrence of events that produces a delightful aura of a fresh start. This is psychological armor because the feeling of a fresh start is denied most of us most of the time. But I shall not be carried away in euphoria, for when one does sit behind the big desk he soon learns that much is routine and incident to the day-by-day smooth operation of the affairs of office, and that a pitifully small residue of time is left for dreaming and planning. But today's success stems from the dreaming and planning of yesterday and the way in which history will view the college of the 70's will depend on how imaginatively we use that pitifully small residue of our time.

At the risk of inviting an unanswerable avalanche of correspondence, I shall welcome suggestions from alumni and friends concerning the direction you feel that the College should take. It would be helpful to know your notion of the practical ideal for Ursinus to achieve by the end of the next decade, and while you define that ideal please don't overlook the adjective "practical" for although getting there is said to be half the fun, realities are ever with us. So be sure that with each suggested destination you describe the ways and means of going from here to there.

Out of your accumulated wisdom should come much of value to us in planning.

Mrs. Pettit and the whole of the Ursinus family join me in wishing the best for you and for the College during 1971.

Most cordially,

Dr. John J. Heilemann teaches physics. But as Professor of the College, he also teaches a section in history and takes part in various interdisciplinary activities on the campus. With his broad interest in ideas, Dr. Heilemann often speculates on and talks about questions that lie well beyond the scope of his scientific discipline. The accompanying article on the identity of Christ exemplifies this. It is based on a talk Dr. Heilemann gave to the Senior Symposium, an interdisciplinary course for seniors. Dr. Heilemann received his Ph.D at the University of Pennsylvania and has taught at Ursinus since 1941.

THE ANONYMIAN HERESY

by JOHN J. HEILEMANN

The turn of the eras is relatively rich in archeological and literary historical materials. But the most important figure of the time—of all time, for that matter—is mentioned only indirectly by the Roman historians (Pliny, Tacitus, and Suetonius) who wrote during the second century of our era. While the Christians and their “dangerously subversive” behavior are described, only the Jewish historian Josephus mentions Jesus by name, in a reference which is regarded by many scholars as a later pious interpolation.

In my opinion we Christians have been less than honest with ourselves in failing to face this embarrassing situation squarely. Usually, it seems to me, this issue has become the text of loud rather than thoughtful sermons in which much importance is attached to the factual existence of a young carpenter from a Galilean Brooklyn. By facing the question squarely and hypothesizing the historical non-existence of Jesus of Nazareth, I have arrived at—what is to me—a most satisfying and esthetically complete interpretation of Christianity.

The wide acceptance by mankind of an ethical religion based upon abstract principles I consider a sudden quantum-like jump in man’s cultural if not biological evolution. These religions are based upon the inspiration—and usually labelled by the name of—a single personality. The personalities which come immediately to mind are of course Jesus, Buddha, Confucius and Mohammed. All but Jesus left enough concrete evidence of their actual existence to entitle them to acceptance as valid historical personages. Jesus on the other hand left not one written word; not a single contemporary mention has ever been found. This becomes all the more baffling as the realization grows that 2000 years is in fact a short time and that we have become increasingly familiar with the historical materials available from the Rome of the beginnings of Christianity.

No advantage in “proofs”

My proposal is simply to accept the historical anonymity of Jesus as an important indicator of the nature of the Christian interpretation of the relationship between the individual and the rest of mankind. The most important element in the human complex is the humble man of the masses, and Christianity has always made much of humility as a virtue and of the humble origin of its most important figure. What I suggest is the possibility that the personality of Jesus has more Christian reality if his entire career, including its tragic end, is thought of as going completely unnoticed. In fact there is no advantage to be gained from finding “proofs” of the actual existence of Jesus of Nazareth.

The more one thinks about it the more one is inclined to regard this anonymity as a characteristic that sets Christianity apart from the other religions, and that gives it an appeal that is hard to resist. Salvation from the futility and the tragedy of life is in the hands of the "sons of men;" the way to the Father is through me, the everyman who is born, lives his life, and passes silently away. When Jesus asserted that the Way to the Father was through him, he hardly meant that only those who were certified by him could enter Heaven. But if one interprets the "I" of "I am the Light and the Way, and no man cometh unto the Father except through Me," as representing the mystical body of which every man is a member, then Jesus becomes the Christ-man who truly represents us all. Mankind, insofar as it strives toward the perfection of the Christ-figure, approaches salvation. All of us moreover, the blameless, anonymous carpenters of Nazareth, suffer for and from the sins of men.

Rather than to attempt to find archeological evidence of the kind which gives historical reality to, say, Vespasian, I should say that it increases the impact of Christianity if one admits the Christ to be a figure Who has achieved reality as the result of a process as mysterious as the process of cultural and biological evolution. The Christ-figure, Who certainly has reality in the minds of men, has been as it were projected backwards into time, into the time when men were more concerned than now about the enigmatic relationship between man and the Nature of which he seems to be a part, but from which he sees himself as set apart. Between us and that time generations of often intellectually disadvantaged leaders have simply misunderstood the delicate nuances of early Graeco-Roman Christianity and clouded them with clumsy, noisy argument when quiet discussion was in order.

A useful interpretation

Since every heresy needs a name, I should like to propose "Anonymianism" for this one, if it hasn't been used already. As a matter of fact, I find it hard to imagine that this very misbelief has not appeared and been stamped out more than once. But if this view has validity, I think of myself as one of the legion of anonymous contributors to the evolution of a useful religious interpretation of man's existence. It would be presumptuous, even ludicrous for me personally to expect public recognition as an innovator, if for no other reason than that "[no] good can come out of Nazareth." When a sufficient number of my contemporaries express the same idea, a recognized authority at some Princeton may be nudged to announce the new approach, thinking no doubt honestly that it was his idea. As a committed anonymian I glean satisfaction, even a kind of salvation from recognizing what seems to be my own idea as it may appear, clothed in the dignity of the words of a "leader" whose function it is to announce to mankind what mankind is telling him.

Ursinus Produces Quality Educators

BY CAROLYN MANNING

David W. Kirkpatrick, President of the Pennsylvania State Education Association has said that "Quality education, like the far side of the moon, is often discussed but seldom seen." At Ursinus College, the Education Department, under the guidance of Dr. Herman Wessel, has a program which will produce properly certified teachers to make quality education seem a little bit closer than the far side of the moon.

Ursinus provides the professional courses required for certification of secondary school teachers in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, and Maryland. Dr. Wessel said that "Ursinus aims to increase the prospective teachers' awareness of the function of the school in modern society, understand forces which cause change in society, and formulate appropriate philosophies of education for establishing schools in that society."

The Education Department of the College provides opportunities for future teachers to become acquainted with acceptable practices in the schools and develops the skills necessary for beginning teachers. In reality, the preparation of teachers is not a function of an isolated department; it is a function of the college as a whole. Hence, future teachers also have an increased understanding of the nature of growth and development of individuals and are acquainted with modern theories of teaching individual students.

A vital part in the curriculum of a prospective teacher is the one-semester student teaching program in the fall semester of the senior year. This "professional semester" is designed to give potential teachers a more realistic introduction to teaching. The semester consists of three phases which utilize large, uninterrupted blocks of time. First is a period of three weeks at the beginning of the semester, as the students complete an intensive introductory course. The second phase is the actual student teaching experience. Students spend full days on their assignments during the approximately eight weeks of student teaching. They take over the work of the co-operating teacher in subjects ranging from the basics—math, English, history—to more complicated subjects such as physics and psychology. Following the Christmas recess, the third phase is another period of intensive study. Since the fall semester of 1965, records show that over 300 Ursinus men and women have done student teaching in 15 area school districts.

Over one-quarter of the Ursinus student population plan to enter the field of education. Approximately 24 per cent of this year's 250 seniors intend to teach after graduation. Several of these student teachers have been interviewed and observed to find out the quality education their future students may expect to receive. They are: Mrs. Judy Gelnett (Glen Moore, Pa.), English, Methacton Junior High School; Gary Keyes (Nichols, N.Y.), Social Studies, Spring Ford High School; Zane Maguire (Millville, N. J.), Psychology, North Penn High School; Miss Carol Nixon (Williamsport, Pa.), Mathematics, Spring Ford High School; and Miss Ellyn

Gary Keyes at Spring-Ford High

“We want the young person to be prepared for a world of rapid change and unforeseeable demands throughout his adult life.”

Soefer (Newport News, Va.), Health & Physical Education, Perkiomen Valley Junior High and Elementary.

Mrs. Gelnett is teaching English to ninth grade students at Methacton Junior High School (Fairview Village). In addition to the traditional grammar course, her classes are tasting a bit of creativity. Three of her four classes are writing character sketches while her last class is forming its own newspaper which will contain all the features of a regular newspaper. The class wanted to name it “The Gelnett Gazette” as a tribute to a very fine teacher; but, after she requested that it be changed, it was shortened to simply “The Newspaper.”

Rapport with students

Gary Keyes is teaching Social Studies to members of the sophomore class at Spring Ford High School (Royersford). His co-operating teacher, Mr. Rod Aluise—also an Ursinus graduate, said that “Although some student teachers ‘lose’ sometimes more than a week trying to build up a rapport with the students, Gary did this almost immediately. He is, perhaps, a little stricter with the students academically than I would be; but I think the students appreciate this. Almost all student comment about him has been very good. But there are bound to be some people who will not be satisfied.”

A new course for high schools, psychology, is being taught in North Penn High School (Lansdale) by Zane Maguire. He holds the record as receiving the first student-teacher love letter this year after being on the job for only two weeks. Mr. Maguire is able to hold the attention of all his students because he not only gives a basis of psychology; but, by experiments in Learning Theory, the students are learning better ways to study for other classes.

Spring Ford High School sophomores probably don't appreciate her now, but someday they will remember Carol Nixon as a teacher who could make them understand Geometry. Miss Nixon has had a good background in mathematics and seemingly has the ability to make the class interesting.

Physical Education now demands a place of priority even in elementary schools. At the Perkiomen Valley Junior High and elementary schools, Ellyn Soefer was somewhat surprised to learn that, although her junior high school students were very good, the elementary students—because they started at an earlier age—are progressing at a much faster rate.

In keeping with Ursinus' goals for her prospective teachers, preparation is made for them to help every child acquire the greatest possible understanding of himself and an appreciation of his worthiness as a member of society and to acquire understanding and appreciation of persons belonging to social, cultural, and ethnic groups different from his own.

Dr. Wessel said, “We teach our students to help children advance to the fullest extent possible in the mastery of the basic skills in the use of words and numbers, to give these children a positive attitude toward the learning process, and to give them the opportunity and encouragement to be creative in one or more fields of endeavor.

“We want the young person to be prepared for a world of rapid change and unforeseeable demands in which continuing education throughout his adult life should be a normal expectation, to understand the opportunities open to him for preparing himself for a productive life, to enable him to take full advantage of these opportunities, and to understand and appreciate as much as he can of human achievement in the natural sciences, the social sciences, the humanities, and the arts.”

According to Dr. Wessel, another goal for quality educators is to help children acquire habits and attitudes associated with responsible citizenship, good health habits, and an understanding of the conditions necessary for the maintaining of physical and emotional well-being.

ALUMNI DAY

Saturday, June 5, 1971

Mrs. Gilbert M. (Marion Bright) Bayne '44, brings talent and grace to the chairmanship of Alumni Weekend events, June 4-5, 1971.

Already, several planning meetings have been conducted in which Mrs. Bayne has invested her special 'Bright thoughts' into innovative programming.

The Music Festival will return with a pre-dinner Song Fest in Wismer Hall.

Other programs will utilize the new facilities of the Myrin Library and the Life Sciences buildings.

The noon luncheon will be less a heavy banquet, allowing lower cost and fewer calories for those attending evening Reunion Class Banquets.

A Child Care Center will allow greater participation of young families. Mrs. Bayne is the wife of Dr. Gilbert M. Bayne '43, and the family includes Stephen, Linda (Mrs. Daniel Sundquist), Christopher, and Andrew.

The Alumni Day Chairman has taught in both North Wales and Abington high schools, been a volunteer director of Church School and a trustee at the Germantown Unitarian Church.

Currently, Mrs. Bayne is president of the Board of Trustees of the 'Unitarian-Universalist House'—a home for the aging.

Reserve your weekend of June 4-6 for alumni reunions and the College Baccalaureate and Commencement programs.

ALUMNI LIBERAL ARTS COMMITTEE

Saturday Seminar April 24, 1971

Alumni are invited to an on-campus discussion with professors and students on The Future of Freedom

Derk Visser

E. H. Miller

DR. Eugene H. Miller, '33, Professor of Political Science, and Dr. Derk Visser, Associate Professor of History, will be featured speakers at a Saturday Seminar on April 24, 1971, sponsored by the Alumni Association Liberal Arts Committee, H. Jay Ely, '52, Chairman.

General topic of the day's talks and group discussions will be THE FUTURE OF FREEDOM IN AMERICA AND IN THE DEVELOPING SOCIETIES. Following presentations by Dr. Miller and Dr. Visser, those attending will participate in informal discussions with groups of Ursinus faculty members and present-day students.

Dr. Miller will address himself in the morning to the question of cultivating freedom in the developing societies (The Third World). His remarks will be built on a widely respected book, The Springtime of Freedom: The Evolution of Developing Societies, by William McCord. McCord maintains that developing societies should adopt a pluralistic instead of an authoritarian policy in order to gain both "bread and freedom." Excerpts from the book will be made available in advance to all those who enroll in the Saturday Seminar.

Dr. Visser, after lunch in Wismer Hall, will discuss the cultural revolution in America being carried forward by the younger generation. He will base his observations on the controversial best-seller, The Greening of America, by Charles Reich. Reich holds that a radical change in personal outlook must occur before America escapes from what he sees as the cruelty and inhumanity of our corporate-technological society. He believes that the younger generation already has developed the required outlook. An abridgement of Reich's book also will be sent to participants.

Dr. Miller received his Ph.D. at Clark University after graduating from Ursinus College in 1933. He is head of the Political Science Department and has been on the faculty at Ursinus since 1935.

Dr. Visser joined the Ursinus History Department in 1968. A native of Holland, he received his Ph.D. from Bryn Mawr College.

Other Ursinus faculty members who will take part in informal discussions with alumni and students attending the Saturday Seminar include the following:

"The Liberal Arts Committee is offering this program", said Chairman Jay Ely, "for those alumni looking for some fresh insights into the pressing questions that leap out from each day's front page — What's going on in America? What's happening in the rest of the world?"

"A one-day program obviously can't pretend to give satisfactory answers," Ely said. "But in an informal setting in one of the newest academic buildings on the campus, we think a group of Ursinus people can help each other gain a new perspective — at least rephrase some of the important questions. With Dr. Miller and Dr. Visser as our key speakers, I know the tone will be free-and-easy, intellectually challenging, and good-humored."

The following persons are serving with Mr. Ely on the Liberal Arts Committee: Walter W. Tropp, '34; Donald R. Brown, '52; William E. Lukens, '53; Marie E. Devine, '64; Janet C. Floyd, '71.

To enroll, return the post card bound into this issue of the Ursinus Magazine. The fee for the entire day is $7.00 per person, $12.00 per couple, covering cost of materials and lunch in Wismer Hall.

SATURDAY SEMINAR SCHEDULE

- 9:30 AM —Registration.

URSINUS COLLEGE
LOYALTY FUND

ROBERT R. GEIST, '46

Loyalty Fund Chairman is Looking for Gifts by the Thousands

Under the chairmanship of Robert R. Geist, '46, the Alumni Loyalty Fund is in QUEST of alumni support for faculty salaries, student aid, educational operations.

And the support it has brought forth so far during 1970-71 is solid. By the middle of the campaign year, December 31, 1971, more than 1,000 alumni had given more than $65,000. Gifts continued to roll in during the early weeks of 1971.

One hundred and ninety-eight alumni joined the CENTURY CLUB by giving at least $100.

PRESIDENT'S CLUB members totaled 12 at mid-year. They gave at least $1,000.

Mr. Geist made a special plea to the graduates of the last ten years. "You are the largest classes, and we need your gifts to build our percentage of participation. Your gifts will show the less recent classes that the whole alumni group is solidly behind our alma mater.

"I thank all those who have given their 1970-71 Loyalty Fund gift. If you have not yet given, please send your gift and help make this year a great success for Ursinus."

The persons described on these pages are candidates for alumni offices in the spring election. During April, active members of the Alumni Association will receive ballots for voting. The candidate elected to the College Board of Directors will serve for five years; all others will serve for two-year terms. Voting members are those who have paid Alumni Association dues for the 1970-71 year. If you are not eligible to vote this year, be sure to send your $2.00 dues when notified ($1.00 for graduates of 1966-70) so that you will be able to vote next year.

President

WALTER W. TROPP

'34; Haddonfield, New Jersey. Completing his first term as President of the Alumni Association. A lawyer and member of the American, New Jersey, and Camden County Bar Associations.

Past president of the South Jersey Alumni Club, he belongs to Alpha Phi Epsilon and Phi Delta Phi. He was captain of the Ursinus Football and Track teams in 1934 and was the recipient of the Best All-Around Athlete award. Father of two daughters and one son.

Mr. Tropp is a Judge in the borough of Merchantville, has been a council member and director of public safety in that borough, and teaches law at Rutgers University. For the past 17 years, he has been associated with David Schantz in his law practice.

Progress on Buildings

Building improvements continue to be made on campus. The Myrin Library and Life Science Building are completed and in operation. The physical education building is under construction. Contract has been awarded for the relocation of athletic playing fields and the installation of an all-weather track around the football field. Architects are working on the renovation plans for the old library, which will become a student center, and for Pfahler Hall of Science. Architects also are working on the restoration of Bomberger Hall. Watch for more information about these projects in forthcoming issues.

Music for the Many

The Meistersingers, directed by Dr. William F. Philip, move into their thirty-fourth season this spring. As in previous years, the group will conduct recitals at local churches and on tour.

In the campus area, the Meistersingers will be at St. John Hungarian UCC Church, Phoenixville, on March 28; and at the Lower Providence Presbyterian Church in Rowland on March 31.

The weekend of April 17-19, the Meistersingers will be on tour in Connecticut. The group will sing at the First Congregational Church in Darien—where the Rev. Samuel W. Fogal

'59 is pastor—on April 17. The Westfield UCC Church in Danielson, Connecticut hosts the group on April 18, and the Meistersingers complete their tour at the Church of the Assumption in Woodbridge on April 19.

Dr. F. Donald Zucker of the Political Science faculty has extended his knowledge and love of music into the formation of "I Madrigalisti" and "I Concertisti" groups on campus. The singers and ensemble have been accepting bookings at area churches and schools during the spring season.

It's Dr. Takats Now

Martha Takats, Instructor in Physics, received a Ph.D. in Physics at the University of Pennsylvania, December, 1970. Her research was done in the field of elementary particle physics.

Mrs. Takats has been an instructor at Ursinus since September, 1969. She received a B.A. from Wellesley (Mass.) and an M.S. from the University of Wisconsin.

Campus Ministries

Campus Ministry is the latest nomenclature attached to the role of college chaplaincy programs, and at Ursinus such spiritual involvement is on the rise.

Sunday Seminar is a weekly worship-and-discussion program conducted in conjunction with the Sunday evening dinner. A growing number of 'cell clusters' meet for Bible discussion, prayer, Holy Communion on campus and in faculty homes. And voluntary chapel services are returning—all in evidence of an interest among numerous students for such opportunities.

When Bomberger Hall is renovated—largely with funds from congregations of the Pennsylvania Southeast Conference of the United Church of Christ—a private Meditation Chapel will be added, designed to meet the worship requirements of all faiths.

The strong YW-YMCA organization continues to sponsor many spiritual activities, including an exceptional volunteer program of services to area institutions and communities and charitable programs.

Campus Ministries at Ursinus are providing opportunities for students to give expression to faith both in and beyond the traditional forms of worship and service.

HOCKEY SPOKEN HERE

CASH REGISTERS, WOOD WINS . . .

The Varsity Women's Hockey Team came through with a perfect season in the fall of 1970. So what's new?

Dismayed at having allowed 1 enemy goal to occur, the kilt-klad kuties scored 35 goals of their own, 18 of these produced by last year's All-American Robin Cash.

When the smoke cleared, the ladies had logged more laurels for Miss Eleanor Frost Snell, pushing her lifetime coaching record in Ursinus Hockey to 208 wins, 61 losses, 21 ties. The past nine seasons the Bruinettes have lost just two varsity matches. Miss Adele Boyd's junior varsity showed the stuff victors are made of, suffering just one loss (1-0) against the tough West Chester squad.

One hundred and ten ladies earned places in qualification trials for the All-Philadelphia Hockey Squad in late November; of these, 21 were Ursinus varsity and alumnae players. Eight Ursinus varsity ladies were named to the All-Philadelphia squad and moved on to Lancaster, Pa. for the national individual playoffs. When that national round was completed, Robin Cash had earned her berth a second time on the United States 1970 Squad, and was joined by teammate Sandy Wood. The U. S. Reserve Team picked up Beth Anders and Trudy Schwenkler. In addition, Ursinus alumnae Vonnie Gros, Sue Honeysett, and Joan Moser made United States 1970 Squad so that five of the first 11 in All-American status are Ursinus people! All are eligible for the United States Squad's exhibition tour to New Zealand this coming summer.

For Ursinus Women, winning is a way of life, and without doubt "Happiness Is Hockey"!

BY TED TAYLOR

Most people think of Fay Wray when they hear the name King Kong, but not so at Ursinus. While sophomore fullback Harry Adrian isn't nearly as hairy as his movie counterpart, the name has been hung on him by a multitude of sportswriters and apparently, for better or worse, has stuck.

Adrian has been making headlines for Ursinus since Head Coach Dick Whatley, as much in desperation as anything else, shifted the big guy from second string offensive end (behind little All-American Mike Mangan) to first string offensive fullback just before the third game of the 1969 season.

What happened from that point is history. Paced by Adrian's running, the Bears came from behind to beat Johns Hopkins and went on to win a share of the M.A.C. Southern Division championship, the first title the College has had in football since 1931!

During the 1969 season Adrian set the college's single game rushing mark with 173 yards against Haverford on November 15, 1969. He gained a total of 472 yards in the six games he played at fullback for an average of 3.8 yards-per-carry and scored five touchdowns.

Sometime during the 1969 season Bob Livingston '64, who did play-by-play of the Ursinus games over Philadelphia radio station WIFI, christened Adrian "King Kong." No one is quite sure when he did it, but the fact that he came up with the name is certain.

It wasn't until 1970, however, that Adrian's new name began appearing in the mass media and an October 15 headline in the Allentown Morning Call on an article by-lined by Coull Aubrey warned "Ursinus is Bringing King Kong . . . Against the Mules."

Adrian lived up to his press notices during the 1970 season by rushing for 673 yards (a new Ursinus record) and taking his personal two-year total to 1145. (It is suspected that the two-year total also represents an Ursinus career record since no other figures are available.)

The Boyertown express scored seven touchdowns during the season and snagged eight passes along the way good for an additional 99 yards.

In December of 1970 he was voted to the first team offensive unit of the All-M.A.C. Southern Division squad. A remarkable fete for a soph, considering the fact that the balloting is done by rival conference coaches. As a runner, Harry finished third in the conference behind PMC's Richie Weaver and Moravian's Jack Iannantuone.

Bob Riegner, sports editor of the Reading (Pa.) Eagle, saluted Adrian in a recent column. "They call Harry Adrian 'King Kong' at Ursinus College . . . and the name likely was chosen to indicate the gigantic part Adrian played in the college's past football season.

HARRY ADRIAN . . .

KING KONG OF THE GRIDIRON

"For those who watched Adrian help Boyertown to a Ches-Mont Championship in 1968, his Ursinus figures indicate great improvement in his running.

"During his days under coach Nick Noel, Harry had a brief fling as a running back . . . he was not spectacular. . . . He was big and strong but not spectacular . . . And most everyone agreed his greatest contributions to the team came through his work as an offensive end and a defensive tackle . . . Those chores he did very well . . . His new tasks at Ursinus have been met with the same vim.

"Adrian holds the one-game rushing mark at Ursinus and if anyone breaks it during the next two years, it will be Harry, himself," Riegner concluded.

The all-conference award wasn't the only honor to come King Kong's way in 1970. He also won the Homecoming game award—The Walker Trophy—as the outstanding player in the Ursinus 9-7 win over ancient rival Swarthmore. In addition, Adrian made honorable mention on the ECAC's weekly all-East team five times.

There are many sportswriters and fans who believe that Adrian may be the next Ursinus player to make Little All-America honors and feel that only a complete breakdown in his running abilities will prevent him from gaining the honor at the end of his junior year. Whatever happens, though, Adrian has provided a multitude of thrills to Ursinus grid followers during his first two campaigns and holds the promise of many more autumn afternoons of excitement to follow.

CLASS NOTES

VICE-PRESIDENT
C. Stewart Hebden, '45

2d LIEUTENANT
Joseph A. Orosz, III, '69

1923

Mrs. Henry Beck
Carlton Avenue
Wyncote, Pa. 19095

The REV. HERBERT HOWELLS writes that "life at Cornwall Manor is lovely . . ." and that he has preached every Sunday except six in the past year. He continues to sing for women's clubs, etc. and is enjoying good health.

This seems to be the situation of most of the class; although most are retired, they are active volunteers in Church work, community service, civic organizations and health and welfare work.

LINDA HOYER UPDIKE'S long awaited book, "Enchantment" is to be published by Houghton Mifflin in February. Four parts of it have appeared in The New Yorker, and two parts in the January and February issues of McCall's magazine. John, son of Linda and Wesley Updike represented the United States in Seoul, Korea, last July, at the International Congress of Poets, Essayists and Novelists.

DR. KARL and CAROLYN (MC BLAIN) HOUCK attended a program in Morgantown with the Updikes. Dr. Houck is still in active practice.

HELEN A. SNYDER was able to enjoy the Ursinus Centennial tour of Japan '70, so vividly described in the Fall 1970 issue of the Ursinus magazine.

REV. ARTHUR LEEMING helps with the "Under Shepherd Visitation" of the Glenside, Pa. UCC, keeping in close contact with twelve member families.

DR. WALTER BEATTIE and his wife, Peg, have moved into a beautiful new parsonage. Dr. Beattie is still in active ministry.

IRENE JONES has retired and gone to Florida to live. Her address: 829-51st Ave., South, St. Petersburg, Florida, 33705 which must be very near MARY GROSS, 1013-55th Terrace, So., St. Petersburg, 33705. Mary is a volunteer in library work, and continues to attend writers' conferences. She still writes and has had some of her poems published.

REBA MUSCHLITZ GRIFFIN and her husband, also retired, live in Clearwater, Florida.

SIEGFRIED BADEN has taken unto himself a wife, Myrtle. We congratulate him and wish both great happiness.

CLAIRE LAVELLE writes that as of December 31, 1970, she joined the rest of us in retirement.

ESTHER FOX PRIZER, with her husband Russell, flew in late summer to Portugal, Spain and Morocco.

DANIEL B. KULP writes that he is planning to be present at our 50th reunion. This year, he says, has been a good year for him after having had successful operations on his eyes. He and his wife were able to plan a summer of travelling in 1970. During the early summer they visited Los Angeles, later on they visited and went sight-seeing throughout Pa. He is still enjoying substitute teaching. He also directed the daily Vacation Church School this summer as well as substituted for the minister. He invites any of our class to stop and visit at their home where he enjoys working on the lawn.

STANLEY REIFSNYDER has been very ill but is now improving. He has retired.

MICHAEL BILLET writes that he has nothing startling to report, but is keeping well and thinking about what we could plan for our 50th reunion. We hope our class will get some bright ideas for a lasting memorial to Ursinus.

REV. JOHN EARL DOBBS is still not at all well. We congratulate him for the courage and indomitable spirit he shows. We pray that God will give him Light, and greater strength and comfort.

DR. DOBBS EHLMAN is enjoying retirement, visits his boyhood home from time to time, always stopping to see and comfort Earl Dobbs.

SARA DEITZ POST, since her husband's death has been exceedingly busy in volunteer work in the Retirement Home where she lives in Sylvania, Ohio. This past summer she enjoyed a five week North Cape cruise to Iceland and on the Fjords and around the mountains of Norway, and then on to Leningrad where she spent 40 hours, but could talk about Russia now for 48 hours.

ERMA BOYD BECK and husband, Henry, joined an N.R.T.A. group of 42 people for a tour of four Hawaiian Islands in October 1970 via one of those huge 747 jet planes from Los Angeles. Returning to the mainland after fifteen days they visited for a week in California with Henry's brother and sister and Erma's nephew H. Boyd Schellhase '52, and his wife and two small boys. On the way back east they stopped in Phoenix for a trip to the mountains 100 miles north of Phoenix.

DAVID STEVENSON recently retired after 30 years of service with Internal Revenue Service. At a banquet in his honor, he received praise from officials from the Treasury Department, Washington, D.C., from the Philadelphia and Scranton district offices.

1933

Mrs. Richard Anderson
16 Atkinson Circle

Dr. WILLIAM F. LAWRENCE is serving as acting president of the State University of New York College at Plattsburgh during the 1970-71 academic year. Dr. Lawrence is also serving in his permanent role of vice president for academic affairs.

Dr. Lawrence received both the master's degree and the doctor of education degree from New York University.

1934

DR. and MRS. DALE L. CARLBERG spent the month of September 1970 in Honduras, Central America, contributing to the "Care-Medico" education effort. In 1967 Dr. Carlberg spent two months abroad in the American Medical Association's "Voluntary Physicians Vietnam" program.

1940

ROBERT J. WEIDENHAMMER has been selected by the National Registry of Microbiologists of the American Academy of Microbiology to be certified as a specialist in public health and medical laboratory microbiology.

Mr. Weidenhammer has been a member of the laboratory staff of the Community General Hospital for the past 21 years, and is a member of the American Society for Microbiology.

Candidates for this certificate are limited to individuals who have postgraduate degrees and at least five years experience in medical laboratories. At present, less than 125 certificates have been issued in the United States.

While at Ursinus, he was a laboratory instructor in Zoology and botany, and while at the Univ. of Penna, he assisted in a state sponsored animal and plant-stream survey, conducted by the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Science. Mr. Weidenhammer has written several scientific papers, and has devised an improved technique for detecting certain intestinal parasites in children.

During World War II he served in a medical detachment of the 26th Division in the European theater, and later received a commission in the Chemical Corps Reserve.

PAUL L. MORRIS was appointed Director of Pastoral Services for Christian Broadcasting Network, Inc., located in Portsmouth, Va.

Three TV stations and nine radio stations comprise the present equipment of the station. His current duties include writing books and literature for listeners on various phases of Christian growth. His work is being translated into Spanish

Hustling Harriers

Despite injuries and illness to key men throughout the season (Dave Trishman, an outstanding junior, was unable to compete) the Bears experienced another great season winning eleven, losing two and placing third in the cross-country championship.

In the five years since the revival of cross-country, the harriers won 56 and lost 6 for a winning percentage of .933. During that time the Bears had two undefeated seasons, went thirty straight meets without defeat, won the Middle Atlantic Championships in 1968 and 1969, were second in 1969 and third in 1970.

Bruce Albert, captain in 1969 and 1970 in four years won forty-two out of forty-six meets, enjoyed a period of thirty-two consecutive meets without defeat, was Middle Atlantic Champion in 1968 and 1969 and holds the championship course 5 mile record of 27:14.8.

for the Costa Rica radio. He is also producing a TV show of his own on a half hour teaching on "Obedience to Christ."

Mrs. Frank Wood
118 Webster Ave.,
Wyncote, Pa. 19095

ROBERT L. COOKE, JR., has been named manager of the casualty department, California Union Insurance Company. California Union is a subsidiary of Insurance Company of North America specializing in excess and surplus lines coverage.

Mr. Cooke joined INA in 1953 in the company's world headquarters in Philadelphia as an underwriter. In 1955, he moved to the company's San Jose Service Office as an underwriter, becoming assistant manager-Casualty in 1960 and underwriting manager in 1966. He transferred to the INA's Los Angeles Service Office in 1967 as underwriting manager, a position retained until his appointment with California Union.

Mr. Cooke and his wife, VIRGINIA ERNEST, have two children.

Mrs. Richard Ridings

While returning from summer vacation to Canada, Michigan, Illinois, Missouri and Kentucky, PAUL and ELINOR SCHMALSTICK (PAETZOLD '45) and children visited for two days at the home of Ursinus classmates, DR. and MRS. CHARLES ANGSTADT, (Betty Jayne Miller), in Pittsburgh.

ARTHUR L. SCHNEEBERG, M.D. has been elected to a one-year term as an officer of the Medical Staff at the Northern Division of Philadelphia's Albert Einstein Medical Center.

ROBERT E. ARMSTRONG has been promoted to National Sales Manager for Material Handling Systems — Remington Rand Division of Sperry Rand. The Armstrong family has moved from Connecticut to 23 Mustang Acres, Parkersburg, W. Va.

MR. C. STEWART HEBDEN has been elected vice president of Rohm and Haas Company and also a member of the Executive Committee by the board of directors of the company. As vice president, he will continue as treasurer and a director of the company.

Mr. Hebden joined the Treasurer's Department of Rohm and Haas Company in 1946 following active duty in the U.S. Navy. In 1948, he was appointed credit manager and six years later was elected assistant treasurer. He was promoted to treasurer in 1963. Mr. Hebden was elected a director of the company at the annual meeting of stockholders, April 27, 1970. In addition to his corporate post, Mr. Hebden is also a director of the company's subsidiary firms: Whitmoyer Laboratories, Inc., Myerstown, Pa.; Sauquoit Fibers Company, Scranton, Pa.; and Warren-Teed Pharmaceuticals Inc., Columbus, Ohio. Mrs. Hebden is the former EVELYN DEVORE, '44. He holds a Master's degree in Business Administration from Harvard Business School.

Plans are underway for the 25th anniversary reunion to be held on Alumni Day, June 5. We hope that all class members will make every effort to attend. We also invite to our reunion dinner the many who started with our class in 1942 but who did not finish with us. If you are one of these, please send your name to the reunion chairman, Grant E. Harrity, 36 S. 6th Street, Allentown, Pa., and a special invitation will be sent to you.

LOUIS D. STEFAN, Esq., Montgomery County's newest Judge, will take his place as one of the county's nine judges.

Gov. Raymond P. Shafer appointed Mr. Stefan to fill a vacancy left by the resignation of Judge WILLIAM DITTER '39. Judge Ditter, after seven years on the County bench, was named a Federal judge in Pennsylvania's Eastern District.

The new judge was the Senior member of the law firm of Stefan, Timoney, Knox and Avrigan.

ROBERT A. REICHLEY, holder of many awards for excellence in writing, photography and magazine editing, has been named to the newly-created post of associate vice president for university relations at Brown University.

Mr. Reichley assumed his new post in February after two-and a-half years as editor of the Brown Alumni Monthly, during which time the magazine won particular distinction as the nation's No. 1 university publication.

He became the editor of the Brown Alumni Monthly in July 1968 and within a year gave Brown its first Robert Sibley Award, the American Alumni Council's highest award for publishing. The magazine was especially cited for its broad coverage in such specific areas as alumni, students, interpretation of Brown University, and continuing education.

MARION G. SPANGLER

"When she had passed, it seemed like the ceasing of exquisite music."

Longfellow

Miss Marion G. Spangler died on New Year's Day, 1971. And, with her passing, came the end of a long and glorious chapter in Ursinus history.

Ursinus founder, Dr. John H. A. Bomberger, was her grandfather. Ursinus president, Dr. Henry T. Spangler, was her father. Hundreds of Ursinus students were her pupils in voice and piano.

A 1903 graduate of the College, Miss Spangler was director of music and choir master at Washington Memorial Chapel, Valley Forge Park; organizer of the Madrigal Singers in Norristown; former president of Norristown's Octave Club; a member of St. Luke's United Church of Christ in Trappe where her father and grandfather had been pastors.

The Alumni Association of the College presented Miss Spangler with the Alumni Award for Meritorious Service in 1968. On Founder's Day 1969, the College presented Miss Spangler an honorary doctorate degree.

Known and loved by many friends, the gracious lady suffered the ailments of her increasing years and, at age 88, Miss Spangler departed her beloved Studio Cottage.

"where light and shade repose, where music dwells lingering and wandering on as loth to die."

Wordsworth

YOUR BEQUEST TO URSINUS COLLEGE

Many of our alumni and other friends have made provisions for Ursinus College in their wills—perhaps for a scholarship fund, for library acquisitions, for a room or building, for a series of special lectures on campus, or for some other particular purpose. Some have amounted to tens of thousands of dollars, others to a few hundred dollars. Ursinus is grateful for all of them, regardless of their size.

The time-honored method of giving funds to Ursinus College after death is through a bequest. In its simplest form, your will specifies that Ursinus College will receive a specified sum of money, or a specified piece of property, or a stated percentage of your estate. You can direct that the bequest be made as a lasting memorial to yourself or a loved one—permanent testimony of your generosity and your concern with Ursinus's future.

For your guidance and the guidance of your attorney, we suggest the following:

FORMS FOR BEQUEST

"I give and bequeath to Ursinus College, a corporation duly existing under the laws of the state of Pennsylvania and located in Collegeville in said State Dollars"

(1) (UNRESTRICTED)

"to be used for the benefit of Ursinus College in such manner as the Directors thereof determine";

or

(2) (PERMANENT FUND INCOME UNRESTRICTED)

"to constitute a trust to be known as the Fund, such fund to be kept invested by the Directors of Ursinus College and the annual income thereof used for the benefit of the College in such manner as the Directors thereof may determine";

or

(3) (SPECIFIC PURPOSES)

"in trust, to be used for the following purposes:"

(Here specify in detail the purposes.)
