Apologies

Due to a combination of circumstances not entirely within our control, this issue makes its appearance much later than it ordinarily should. We regret this delay, but hope that it contains a sufficiency of interesting reading matter to make the waiting worth while.

This is the Time of the Year

When the various regional alumni associations begin to make plans for their annual get-togethers. These are always most enjoyable occasions, marred only by the fact that frequently the number in attendance is but a fraction of the whole number of Ursinus people in the particular territory. Whether this is due to lack of proper notice, to an unfortunate choice of time or place, or just plain inertia, we do not know. In behalf of the officers of the several local associations, we are hereby extending to each and every graduate of the College residing in their respective areas a hearty invitation to attend this year’s gathering. And if you do not get a notice, or are not sure whether there is a local association in your vicinity, turn to the back cover of this issue and write to the secretary of the group to which you feel that you belong.

We Are Pleased To Report

That the response to the Loyalty Fund, an account of which appears on another page, has been most encouraging to date. The experience of hundreds of other colleges shows that this is a popular and effective way of ensuring sound and consistent progress, and there is no reason to believe that Ursinus cannot do what others have done in this respect. This is a great cooperative movement whose possibilities for good are limited only by the extent to which we, as loyal alumni, reflect our justifiable pride in our Alma Mater by our participation. If you have not as yet responded, please do so now.

About the Alumni Register

An announcement concerning this publication was made in our last number. Since then, the course of events has prevented those originally charged with the responsibility of preparing the material from carrying out their duties. The project has not been abandoned, and it is hoped that the initial effort will be made in the very near future. We again request your complete cooperation, and ask that when the request for the necessary information reaches you, you will respond at once.

From Time to Time

People write or ask us why they have not received their Alumni Journal. In nearly every case, investigation shows that they have changed their addresses without giving us notice. So we are again asking any and all of you who may move to drop us a line notifying us of your new address.

And remember—our readers are our surest and best source of news items. Please don’t hesitate to send us any news concerning yourself and your friends which you would like to see in the Journal. Thank you, all.
THE PRESIDENT’S PAGE

In these difficult times Ursinus College, like all independent colleges, has no easy part to play. Two duties are of especial importance but not of equal importance.

First, a college must be alert to note the demands of the practical world. This requirement applies both to its business management and to the education of the students. A college must enable a student to earn a livelihood. Its work must serve a social need. In recent years some seventy per cent of the graduates of Ursinus College have gone at once into teaching or the public service or have entered schools of medicine, law, or theology. We are constantly trying not only to improve the quality of our academic work, our counseling program, and our placement service, but also to adapt our work, within proper limits, to the changing needs of society.

But there is a second duty more important than this, a higher purpose which the college must not fail to see. The primary duty of the college is the trusteeship of humane learning, the guardianship of the central culture of mankind. Its task is to inspire its members with the love of truth, which includes the love of beauty, to inspire its members with that spirit of disinterested inquiry which is one heritage of free men.

A college may be rich and famous, and yet fail in this high and serious purpose.

The primary concern of a college is less to instruct than to enable students to educate themselves, "to seek for themselves and to seek with an exacting conscience." The college must provide the means and the inspiration and the guidance and the discipline for this search—and let it be remembered that it is a search which merely begins during the college years, and which requires a man’s best efforts during all the years that follow.

There is a perpetual temptation before institutions, as before individuals, to put the material above the spiritual, the temporal above the eternal, to choose the easy path of showy, worldly success. But if a college is to play its proper part in shaping the future, it must make the right choice. A college cannot be too practical in the right sense, for its students must learn to be useful citizens in the workaday world. But first and foremost the college must help to make these students citizens in the full sense, citizens of the United States, citizens of the world, citizens of the immortal kingdom of the mind and the spirit.
Dr. F. T. Krusen '09,
Alumni Director, Dies
Francis T. Krusen, M.D., '09, prominent Norristown physician and a member of the Board of Directors of the College, died in Riverview Hospital, Norristown, on Sept. 30. He had been seriously ill with a heart condition for several months. Dr. Krusen was born in Collegeville Aug. 19, 1889, the son of the late Dr. Edward A. Krusen, who was for a quarter of a century one of the most active and useful members of the Ursinus Board. He was graduated from Harvard University Medical School in 1913 and from Hahnemann Medical College in 1914. After interning in Hahnemann Hospital, Norristown, and serving on the staff of Metropolitan Hospital, New York City, he returned to Norristown, where he built up an extensive practice. He was a member of all local, state and national medical societies and of a large number of civic and professional organizations. A charter member of the Norristown Rotary Club, he served as president of that body in 1934 and 1935, and he was a trustee of the Riverview Hospital, which had been founded by his father. Dr. Krusen was first elected to the Ursinus Board as an alumni representative in 1935 and took a deep and active interest in the affairs of the College. He had been reelected in the Alumni Association balloting last Spring by an overwhelming vote. Dr. Krusen was married on June 30, 1915 to Mabel A. Knauer ex '09, who, with three children, Mrs. N. R. Cressman (Elizabeth Krusen '36), Mrs. Charles A. Barnes (Dorothy F. Krusen ex '41) and David E. Krusen '44, survive.

Speakers
Persons addressing the various campus organizations this fall include the following:

Anders Pre-medical Society: Dr. Lawrence B. Rentschler, of Philadelphia, associate of Dr. George E. Pfahler H'30, "Radiology"; Dr. Irwin S. Leinbach '29, Reading, Pa., "Infantile Paralysis and Its Effect on the Skeletal System."

Beardwood Chemical Society: Dr. J. Howard Graham, Temple University School of Pharmacy, "Soporifies."

Brotherhood of St. Paul: Rev. Edwin N. Faye, Jr., '24, pastor of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church, Norristown, Pa. Mr. Faye also conducted a series of lecture-discussions under the auspices of the Christian Associations on religious problems of college students.

Vesper Services: Rev. Fred D. Wentzel, Board of Christian Education of the Evangelical and Reformed Church; Clara A. Myers, former dean of women, Kutztown State Teachers College; Naji Cohen, native of Iraq; Rev. James Carter, pastor, Lower Providence Baptist Church, Eagleville, Pa.; Albert G. Robinson '37, senior in the Theological Seminary, Lancaster, Pa.; Rev. Nevin C. Harner, professor in the Lancaster Theological Seminary.

Senators Address Student Sponsored Political Rallies
Members of the United States Senate were the principal speakers at political rallies held in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium during the recent campaign. Senator Allen J. Ellender, of Louisiana, addressed a Democratic gathering on Oct. 22, while Hon. James J. Davis, senior senator from Pennsylvania, spoke at the Republican rally on Oct. 29.

The meetings were arranged by the recently-formed Haines Political Society, in cooperation with the Ursinus College Forum and the Democratic and Republican County Committees.

The Haines Society has been or-organized to afford a medium for student discussion of and participation in current political affairs, and is a non-partisan group. It has been named in honor of Dr. Charles Grove Haines '03, professor of Political Science in the University of California at Los Angeles and one of the nation's outstanding students and writers in the field of government.

Highland Hall Remodelled; Tennis Courts Rebuilt
Extensive alterations and repairs are being made to Highland Hall, the property located over the borough line in Trappe, which is again being used as a men's dormitory.

The front porch and a portion of the side porch have been removed and are being replaced with a flagstone terrace, and a cornice erected around two sides of the building at the second floor-level, harmonizing with the third-story mansard effect. The one-story frame addition at the rear of the building has been removed and appropriate architectural treatments of both front and rear entrances are being provided.

The interior was completely renovated during the summer, all the old wallpaper being removed, walls and ceilings covered with a light enamel paint, and the woodwork and floors repaired and repainted. Highland is now one of the most attractive of the men's dorms.

Two tennis courts were rebuilt during the past summer, a sub-base of cinder and an amiesite top surface being laid on the existing courts. The work was done largely by the College's own labor. The materials were donated by the Alumni Athletic Club.

Weather conditions in recent years have been such that the clay courts were seldom in playing condition while College was in session. The construction of these two hard-surface courts, which can be used in any weather, meets in part a pressing need.
ENROLLMENT RECORD BROKEN

With a total enrollment of 582 students, an increase of 17 over last year, we are once again able to report the largest student body in the history of the College. Of this number, 467 are resident students, a figure about equal to the whole number enrolled ten years ago. As can be imagined, dormitory, dining-room and classroom facilities are taxed to capacity.

The number of men increased this year by ten from 313 to 322, while 260 women are enrolled as against 253 last year, a ratio of 55 to 45.

189 freshmen were admitted, 112 men and 77 women, the largest freshman class ever to enter Ursinus, and a gain of 33 over last year. Sixteen students were granted advanced standing, making a total of 205 entering Ursinus for the first time and a net increase of 35. Of the freshmen, 157, or 88.5%, stood in the upper two-fifths of their secondary school classes and were thus admitted upon certificate, eight per cent better than last year. Of this number, 96 stood in the first fifth of their respective classes and 17 received graduation honors. Seventy-four applicants were rejected for failure to meet the entrance requirements. Twenty-two secondary schools from whom we have drawn no students previously are represented this year.

Three refugee students, one from Austria and two from Germany, are included in the entering class. These students are members of protestant families who have resided in the United States for several years.

The Chemistry-Biology (137 students), History—Social Science (125), Business Administration (101), and English (87) Groups still attract the greatest number of students. A noteworthy gain was also shown this year by the Physical Education Group.

Pennsylvania still contributes the greatest number of students, with 433. New Jersey, with 107, and New York, with 33, follow, with two each from the District of Columbia and Massachusetts, and one each from Delaware, Florida, Indiana, Maryland, and Puerto Rico.

The ten largest Pennsylvania County representations are Montgomery (167), Philadelphia (56), Delaware (55), Chester (21), York (21), Berks (20), Northampton (14), Bucks (12), Lehigh (11), and Schuylkill (10). The five leading Jersey Counties are Camden (36), Gloucester (10), Atlantic (9), and Bergen and Cape May (8 each).

Five students are grandchildren of Ursinus graduates, twenty-nine are sons and daughters of alumni, and thirty-eight are following in the footsteps of their older brothers and sisters.

The grandchildren are Julia H. Hogg '42 and Mary H. Hogg '44, Broomall, Pa.; Virginia H. Ashenfelter '43, Mansfield, Pa.; Jeanne W. Mathieu '44, Trappe, Pa., and John E. Dahlman '44, West Valley, N. Y. The Hogg sisters are great-grand-daughters of the founder and first president of the College, Rev. J. H. A. Bomberger, LL.D., grand-daughters of the late A. W. Bomberger, Esq., '82, and nieces of Rev. J. H. A. Bomberger II '17. Miss Ashenfelter is the grand-daughter of Rev. S. L. Messinger, D.D., '85; the daughter of the late William B. Prof. Mauchly Gives Lecture at Conference of Physicists

Dr. John W. Mauchly, associate professor of Physics in the College, was one of the principal speakers on the program for the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Conference of College Physics Teachers, held at State College, last Friday and Saturday, Oct. 25 and 26.

"The Construction and Use of the Simple Harmonic Analyses" was his topic. Professor Mauchly has constructed his own harmonic analyser, which is in the physics laboratory in the Science Building.

J. S. Heiges '98 Heads Library

Dr. Jesse S. Heiges '98 was recently elected president of the Friends of the Ursinus Library, according to a report released by the secretary of the organization, Charles H. Miller, '24. Dr. Donald G. Baker was elected vice-president for a two year term.

Special recognition was given in the report to the following members who have contributed more than the minimum requirement of one book per year. This list includes: Prof. and Mrs. F. I. Sheeder—34; Dr. Baker—31; Dr. N. E. McClure—26; Mr. Stanley Omwake—25; Dr. G. W. Hartzell—15; Phi Alpha Psi Sorority—15; Dr. E. B. White—11; Prof. M. O. Bone—12; Miss Margaret Yost '24—10; Dr. J. W. Mauchly—9; Dr. J. L. Barnard—6; and Dr. W. W. Bancroft—5. A number of others have contributed two or three books.

The number of books received by the Library Staff, through the generosity of The Friends, amounts to 624 to date. In the period from October of 1936 to April of 1939, the total number of books donated was 369, including purchases through cash gifts. From the latter date to the present, 255 additional books have been donated.

Ursinus Day Observed by Bath Church

"Ursinus Day" was observed in Christ Evangelical and Reformed Church, Bath, Pa., by a special vesper service, held on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 17. Special recognition was given the ten alumni affiliated with the church and the five members of the congregation who are at present students in the College.

President McClure spoke to the large congregation on "The Work of the Christian College." Dr. McClure was introduced by Dr. Irene F. Laub ex'20 of Easton, Pa., a member of the Board of Directors of the College and of Christ Church. An attractive illustrated booklet, descriptive of the College and its connection with Christ Church, was prepared for the occasion, which it is intended to make an annual affair.

This congregation has resolved to make a special effort to increase the scholarship given to the College over twenty years ago in memory of Rev. William Ursinus Helfrich, D.D., '93, pastor of the Church for 37 years. $150 was raised for this purpose this year. Christ Church has taken this action in recognition of the fact that over the past seventy years, its members have received scholarships and other financial assistance from Ursinus totalling in excess of $6,000.

The program was conceived and carried out by the pastor, Rev. Reginald H. Helfrich '28, who succeeded his father in the pastorate upon the latter's death in 1933. Among the other alumni who are or have been affiliated with Christ Church are Rev. J. E. Smith, D.D., '11, Nora Shuler Helfrich '93, Lamont G. Beers '19, R. G. Helfrich '29, and Carl F. Sensenbach '37.
THE LOYALTY FUND

Presenting to the Alumni, Alumnae and Friends of Ursinus the Urgent Need for an Increased Annual Income to Meet the Requirements of the Future.

Year after year at hundreds of American colleges a substantial percentage of alumni contribute to loyalty funds. These annual giving plans have proved one of the fundamental bases of adequate college finance. The spontaneous response reduces substantially the cost of a campaign and supplies the College with unrestricted funds for use where most needed.

This type of giving first started at various colleges when a catastrophe such as the burning of a building or some other immediate, urgent need for funds caught the imagination of the alumni. Since then, the idea has spread, and today, many of the nation’s leading institutions of higher learning have come to rely on their loyalty funds, made up of the gifts of innumerable alumni and friends, for the money to meet pressing needs which cannot be supplied by the income from endowments and student fees.

As a graduate of Ursinus stops to evaluate his college and himself as its product, as he reviews the growth and achievements of both, observes the excellence of their present condition, compares both with other colleges and their products, a feeling of satisfaction arises. Ursinus men and women take rightful pride in their college and in themselves.

Ursinus College deserves no less from its graduates than any other college or university. Nor does it need any less than any other college or university their loyal support and spontaneous contributions.

Ursinus is gearing its program to its income. It will continue to live within its means. Its financial house is being set in order.

Up to now, its funds have enabled it to advance, to gather a faculty of ability and distinction, to draw a desirable student body while maintaining high entrance requirements, to build up its library, and to mold its students into superior citizens.

But consider the situation of a college with an income just sufficient to supply its immediate needs. The old order is changing, perhaps more drastically than in many decades. Faced with the necessity of meeting these changes, Ursinus has just enough income to make ends meet. The present endowment can only be considered a limitation so long as interest on invested funds continues to decrease steadily.

A college, like a business, in order to improve the quality of its product, must increase its appeal. It must secure development funds. These funds should come from sources familiar with the merit of the institution, from sources confident of the institution’s future, those who are aware of its history and its place in the world of tomorrow.

Ursinus must meet the challenge of the future in the same manner in which it won its past achievement. It is most important that money be secured to this end.

A fair test of the progress of a college is found in the attitude of its alumni group. Most students graduate with the idea that the college has bestowed upon them greater strength of mind and soul, and they are grateful. The first hard struggle to earn a living often removes the keenness of this sensation. However, the alumni of Ursinus College have given it invaluable support by sending it students, by interpreting its work to the public, and by explaining its accomplishments in a way of living.

The alumni attitude is the test that generous people of the general public apply in selecting colleges for their benefactions. A responsive alumni group now can help to develop favorable interest in friends outside the family.

Patterson, Harrison, Brodbeck, Curtis, Housekeeper, Anders and Beardwood provided endowments and buildings for a great small college. None of these great benefactors thought of doing the job of developing Ursinus alone. These men had faith then, as does your college now, in its alumni and other friends.

Ursinus needs your support now. When you receive the challenge to give to the Loyalty Fund, do not delay. Send your contribution by return mail.

Do not fail to send something, whatever the size of the gift. It will be measured only by the speed of its arrival.

Founder’s Daughter Gives Bushes for Bomberger Site

Two handsome boxwood bushes, which were recently planted near the main entrance to Bomberger Hall, have been presented to the College by Mrs. Francis C. Yost, of Philadelphia, as a memorial to the Class of 1876, of which her husband, the late Rev. Francis C. Yost, D.D., was a member. Mrs. Yost is the only living child of the founder and first president of Ursinus, Rev. J. H. A. Bomberger, D.D., LL.D.

1876 was the fourth class to be graduated from Ursinus and consisted of nine men. Six became ministers, two were teachers, and one, the late F. G. Hobson, Esq., became a prominent lawyer and banker and served as treasurer of the College. Rev. A. B. Markley, Ph.D., retired Lutheran minister, of Collegeville, is the only surviving member of this class and is also the oldest living graduate of the College in point of graduation.
Varsity Football

The 1940 season, with one victory, one tie and six losses, was about on a par with the three preceding as far as results go. Statistically, the picture was a little better, as the Bears scored more points and their opponents considerably less than in the past several seasons.

Although extremely hard hit by ineligibility, the team was still potentially strong but failed to find itself. If it had managed to play the kind of football displayed against Lafayette, Delaware, and F. & M. throughout the whole season, the results would have been much different. In the majority of games, however, just a few moments of sloppy, brainless football completely nullified many moments of really good play and turned a hard-earned victory into disappointment and defeat.

Lafayette, one of the nation’s few unbeaten teams, won the opening game 21 to 0 as the result of three long runs, two in the first five minutes of play. The Bears rebounded from this initial set-back to repeatedly carry the ball deep into enemy territory, but each time the Leopards braced to prevent a score. This game was very much closer than the score indicates.

The irresistible force met the immoveable object as Dickinson and Ursinus matched two strong defenses and the game very properly ended in a scoreless tie. High spot of this game was the determined defense made by the Grizzly second-stringers in turning back Dickinson’s big scoring threat in the final period.

Playing a listless, brainless brand of football, the Bears bowed to Bucknell 33 to 7 in the one really decisive defeat of the season. The individual play of Tkacz was the one redeeming feature of the game. The first Ursinus score of the season came in the last two minutes of this game when Augustine passed to Worthing in the end zone and Biscotte converted the point.

FALL SPORTS

Putting on an aerial blitzkrieg in a snowstorm, Ursinus downed Delaware in a game which showed what the Grizzlies could really do when they clicked. Everything worked that day to produce the first four-touchdown margin of victory since 1931. The Grizzlies opened up with a bang, Tkacz scoring as the result of two successive pass plays before the game was three minutes old. In the beginning of the third quarter, Tkacz ran the second score across after McConnell had been downed on the one-yard line. Later in the same period, Augustine passed to Biscotte in the one-yard line for number three. The final touchdown was made in the fourth period when Bruce MacKenzie caught Berman’s pass and ran 50 yards through the whole Delaware team to score.

The Bears had Muhlenberg licked in the first half, Joe Irvin scoring from the seven-yard line early in the game, but the Mules came back strong in the second with a razzle-dazzle attack that netted them fifteen points and the ball game.

The Gettysburg game looked like a victory, too, until the final period. Ingham had scored on a blocked kick to put Ursinus ahead 6 to 3, when things began to go in reverse. A long run from a triple pass play and an intercepted Grizzly forward were enough to put the game on ice for G-burg.

The pattern was repeated next week against Drexel. Tkacz passed to MacKenzie, who ran half the length of the field for a touchdown. Drexel came to life in the third period and aided by some poor kicking and worse thinking on the part of the Grizzlies, scored twice in quick succession to take the game.

The F. & M. game, last of the season, was a 12-6 loss on the books but a moral victory for Ursinus. Conquerors of Dartmouth and boasting their best team in many seasons, the Diplomats were figured to once more run up a six- or seven-touchdown score. But the Grizzlies put out their best football of the year, played their favored opponents to a standstill, dominated the second half, and with a little luck, could have won or tied. The Ursinus touchdown was made on a pass to MacKenzie in the end zone, in the final moments of play.

Finest individual performance of the season was given by Al Tkacz, watch-charm tailback, who put up a consistently superior game throughout, and who made the all-opponent selections of practically every team against whom he played. Only four men will be lost by graduation, there were some very promising sophomores who gained much-needed experience, and with a schedule lightened by the dropping of Lafayette and Bucknell, 1941 may tell a different story.

Hockey

The girls came through again, winning four games against two losses and two ties. Although graduation left some big gaps in the line-up, Miss Snell again welded together a team that respectably maintained the Ursinus tradition.

Natalie Hogeland won scoring honors with a total of twelve goals for the season, followed closely by Jeanne Mathieu with ten. On the defense, Captain-elect Alice Daughterty, Nancy Landis and Helen Caulfield played consistently well, while the brilliant play of goalie Mary Robbins was one of the main reasons for the season’s success.

The Junior Varsity, although it was not able to come through with a win, had two ties and two losses to its credit and played an important part in the development of the varsity.

J. V. Football

The Junior Varsity, made up almost entirely of freshmen, enjoyed a very successful season, winning all of the three games played and scoring 53 points to their opponents’ 12. Considerable promise was shown by quite a few of the yearlings, and if they can remain eligible, Kellett may smile next year.

Soccer

Lacking a scoring punch, the soccermen were unable to capitalize on their really strong defense to win more than three games. Six contests were lost and one tied. No less than four games were lost by a one-point margin, and Temple alone was able to defeat Baker’s booters decisively.

The Junior Varsity defeated Perkiomen School 2-1 but lost to Haverford Seconds and Hamilton High School, of Trenton, N. J., the latter coached by a former Grizzly booter, Herb Griffiths ’37.

Brandaur Returns From Turkish Danger Zone

Robert L. Brandaur '36, recently returned to his home in Mahanoy City, Pa., after a year spent as an instructor in Robert College, Istanbul, Turkey. The following account of his homeward journey under war conditions, which originally appeared in the Mahanoy City Record-American, will doubtless be of considerable interest to readers of The Journal.
"With a coat of tan as brown as a chestnut, or a color just a little bit lighter than a Turkish gentleman, Robert L. Brandaur stepped from the American Export liner Excalibur which docked in the harbor at New York and Jersey City on Thursday noon after a voyage that started in Istanbul, Turkey, the beginning of June and continued until he arrived safely at the American Export wharf in Jersey City. N. J. With the purchase of a transport ticket in Turkey and trip to Italy only to be told that the ship Rex, on which he was to sail, had been cancelled on June 10 on account of Italy entering the war, and the delay in having the ticket purchased in Turkey changed to a ticket for an American ship, caused much delay before Bob got started on his homeward trip. The difference in money values in Turkey and Italy caused no little trouble in having the ticket exchanged, and the wait in Italy of about two weeks for an American ship to arrive in those waters, caused another delay, because President Roosevelt ruled that no American ships were to enter the danger zone about that time. The Excalibur, an American Export liner, was finally allowed to enter the waters of Naples and pick up all Americans that wished to come home. The Excalibur is a passenger boat equipped to carry about 150 people besides the crew, but there were more than 250 on board ship by the time it got to Lisbon, Portugal, after passing through the straits of Gibraltar, one of the danger zones on the trip. Another delay at Lisbon, was experienced before the Excalibur finally got on its way to America. The conditions on the boat, considering the large number of passengers, were good, and all on board made the trip as enjoyable as possible. Many small children were among the passengers and they caused no little trouble for their parents and the others on the ship on account of the long voyage, which took about two weeks on the water.

"While in Italy Bob and his companions paid a visit to Rome where they saw many of the interesting places in that historic city. While in Italy he bought quite a few trinkets as souvenirs to bring home. Some of the pieces are very old, such as hand-hammered copper plates, etc. No gold articles are sold at all in Italy because of the scarcity of gold in those countries."

"In regards to Turkey it is hard to tell just what will happen in that country. Mr. Brandaur and many of the other instructors at Robert College thought it best to come home after they were notified about the uncertainty of conditions in all the Mediterranean countries."
