Reading and Berks County Alumni Take Notice

The annual dinner-meeting of the Ursinus Alumni Association of Reading and vicinity will be held on Monday evening, May 5, at the Thomas Jefferson Tea Room, 554 Franklin Street, Reading. All Ursinus people residing in Berks County, and any others from near-by points who may so desire, are cordially invited and strongly urged to attend. In case you do not receive a notice, get in touch with the president of the Association, Dr. John H. Bising '25, at the Berks County Sanatorium.

There Ought to Be a Thousand Alumni

On the Campus on Alumni Day, which falls on Saturday, June 7, for there are a third of this number who are members of classes whose reunions fall on this day, and who should be on hand this time, now or never. Many more than a thousand live no more than three hours easy driving distance of the Campus. As the name implies, this is distinctly our day—all of us sons and daughters of Ursinus. No invitation should be needed. Make your plans now to come back and see your old friends on the Campus on June 7.

Those Who Are Able Should Stay Over

On Sunday and Monday for an all-Ursinus Commencement in the full sense of the phrase. The Baccalaureate Sermon on Sunday morning will be preached by Rev. Charles F. Deininger, D.D., '13, a former president of the Alumni Association, father of one of the graduating class, whom many of you know. Dr. Charles G. Haines ’03 will deliver the Commencement Address on Monday morning. A man who has risen very high in his field, who stands in the first rank of the nation’s political scientists, and one of the College’s most distinguished sons, his address should be well worth hearing.

The Loyalty Fund

Is growing day by day as the result of a splendid response to the appeal in its behalf on the part of the graduates and friends of the College. Both in the total amount received and in the number of individual givers, the Fund has in this, its first year, compared favorably with similar movements of many more years’ standing in other institutions.

There is no limit to this sort of movement, however, either as to the number of givers or the total amount given, and the books are still open to record the gifts of those who for one reason or another have not yet joined in. This is possibly the most worth-while fund-raising effort to be undertaken in the history of the College. It is not for the payment of dead horses. It is not a whirlwind effort concentrated on a specific project. It does not contemplate securing large sums in pledges which may never be paid. It is a living, growing, spontaneous effort, based on the solid foundation of cash paid now, and gaining in momentum with each passing year.

The faster this fund grows greater, the faster Ursinus shall grow greater.

To the Men in the Service

We are very anxious to publish in our next number as complete a list as possible of the Ursinus men who have entered the Federal Service, whether by enlistment, operation of the Selective Service Act, or through call to active duty of the Reserve Corps or National Guard.

We therefore request all of our readers who are in the service now, or who may be called up in the future, to drop us a card giving their names, addresses, outfits, rank, and date of entering the service. And if you will keep us informed of your changes in address, the Journal, with all the news of your friends, will reach you that much sooner. Gentlemen, we thank you.

One question that alumni naturally ask in these days is, How can Ursinus College best aid in the national defense? The answer, I think, is obvious. Ursinus College can best serve, for the present at least, by continuing to function as a college of the liberal arts. Our principal concern, as a college and as individuals, should be to do our work better than we have ever before done it—to do it more thoroughly, more patiently, more hopefully.

A second question that alumni naturally ask is, How will selective service affect Ursinus College? I cannot answer this question. I can merely offer an incomplete answer by stating the available facts.

In 1918 the government established the Students Army Training Corps. The purpose was not to train soldiers but to keep college students in college. The plan, despite its defects, kept college students on the campus and kept them at that work which ultimately was to be of more value to the nation than military service off the campus could have been.

In the present emergency the government has established no organization similar to the Students Army Training Corps, and has defined much less clearly than in 1918 the contribution that college and university students should make. Last August President Roosevelt pointed out that it is a mistake to suppose that "it is more patriotic to work in a shipyard or to enlist in the Army or Navy than it is to attend college." The selective service law, however, permits no deferment of college students as a group. After July 1, 1941, the authority and responsibility for selecting college and university students for military service or for deferring the time of their service will rest with the local boards. A local board may grant deferment to a college student if the board believes that the student is in training or preparation for work "essential to the national health, safety, or interest" (I quote the regulations), and if the board believes that the student is "a necessary man." These are vague words. What work is "essential to the national health, safety, or interest?" What is "a necessary man?"

The National Director of Selective Service instructs local boards to give "due consideration to such factors as the length of time which the student has been pursuing the course in question, his relative progress and standing in such course, and his relative chances of employment or placement in the activity for which he is preparing."

It is to be noted that the National Director emphasizes the importance of the work for which the student is preparing, the amount of time that the student has spent in that preparation, and the quality of work that the student has done. If the American college is to prove its worth in this emergency and make its proper contribution to the national defense, it must give no encouragement to the idler or to the incompetent.

I cannot predict the effect of the present emergency upon the enrollment and the financial security of Ursinus. At present the number of students who have registered for admission in September is larger than at this date one year ago. The danger of rising prices is serious to a college like Ursinus. The coming year will not be an easy year, but we are planning as carefully as one can plan in these times, and I do not doubt that Ursinus will continue its work without serious interference and will at the same time make its proper contribution to the national defense.
Founders’ Day Celebration Transferred to Autumn

By action of the Board of Directors, Founders’ Day, heretofore observed in mid-winter, will be celebrated during the autumn season at a time still to be selected, probably in October.

First inaugurated some thirty years ago, Founders’ Day was observed in mid-February except on a few occasions where special circumstances caused its postponement to the following month. In recent years, unfavorable weather conditions imposed a severe handicap and frequently interfered with the plans for the occasion. The Board accordingly decided henceforth to hold the event in early autumn at a time when a program more worthy of the occasion can be carried out and which will be convenient for more people to attend.

Haines ’03 and Deininger ’15 Take Leading Parts in Commencement Program

Two well-known graduates of Ursinus will take the leading parts in the program for the Seventy-first Annual Commencement of the College, which will be held June 6 to 9 inclusive, according to plans recently completed by President McClure.

Dr. Charles Grove Haines ’03, professor of Political Science in the University of California at Los Angeles and one of the nation’s leading authorities in the field of government, will deliver the Commencement address on Monday morning, June 9.

The Baccalaureate Sermon, on Sunday, June 8, will be delivered by Rev. Charles F. Deininger, D.D., ’15, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, Glen Olden, Pa., and father of Dorothea D. Deininger, a member of the graduating class.

Dr. Haines, one of Ursinus’ most distinguished sons, was born in Line­ boro, Md., Sept. 20, 1879, and received his Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy degrees from Columbia University. Upon the completion of his graduate work in 1906, he returned to Ursinus as professor of History and Political Science, resigning in 1910 to accept a similar position in Whitman College, Walla Walla, Washington, where he also served as executive secretary of the League of Pacific Northwest Municipalities.

In 1914, he became professor of Government in the University of Texas, acting as chairman of the department for three years, and was made professor of Law in the same institution in 1922, resigning in 1925 to accept his present post. He also served as visiting professor of Political Science in the University of Chicago in 1917-18 and visiting professor of Government at Harvard during 1936-37.

He is a trustee of the John Randolph and Dora Haynes Foundation, a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, former president of the American Political Science Association, vice-president of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, and a member of the Southwestern Political and Social Science Association, the Pacific Southwest Academy, the Institut Litteraire et Artistique de France, the Institut Internationale de Philosophie du Droit et de Sociologie juridique de Paris, Phi Beta Kappa, and Pi Sigma Alpha. In 1939, he was appointed Commissioner of the Department of Water and Power of the City of Los Angeles.

Dr. Haines is the author of a number of important books, including The Conflict over Judicial Powers in the U. S. (1909), The American Doctrine of Judicial Supremacy (1914, rev. 1932), The Movement for the Reorganization of State Administration (1920), Principles and Problems of Government (with Bertha M. Haines ’02) (1921, 3rd ed., 1934), and The Revival of Natural Law Concepts (1930). He has also contributed widely to magazines and periodicals.

Dr. Haines was married in 1906 to Bertha Moser ’02, daughter of the late E. S. Moser, well-known Collegeville journalist. Mrs. Haines has collaborated with her husband in many of his researches and writings, and besides being co-author with him of the standard work, Principles and Problems of Government, is the author of a study of the Constitution of the United States, published in 1928.

Dr. Deininger received his theological training in Princeton Theological Seminary, from which he was graduated with the degrees of Bachelor of Theology in 1918 and Master of Theology in 1919. He also took graduate work in Princeton University, receiving his Master of Arts degree in 1920. Ursinus conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity upon him in 1937. Dr. Deininger served as assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Germantown, Philadelphia, in 1918-19, and was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Mays Landing, N. J., from 1920 to 1922, when he assumed his present pastorate. He has at various times taught in Tennent College of Christian Education and in Princeton Theological Seminary, and has served as moderator of Chester Presbytery, secretary of the Princeton Theological Seminary Alumni, and president of the Alumni Association of Ursinus College.
ALUMNI ASSOCIATION NOMINATES OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR

On April 10 ballots for the annual election of officers and instructions for voting were mailed to all the active and life members of the Alumni Association. The election period continues until May 15, when all ballots received before or postmarked as of that date are turned over to the election committee, which opens and counts them.

The officers nominated and elected at each annual election are: president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, and alumni director. The term of office is one year for each of these posts with the exception of the alumni director, who serves for five years.

The following persons have been nominated for the several offices of the Association for the year 1941-42 by the nominating committee in accordance with the constitutional provisions. For the benefit of the voters, brief sketches of the candidates for each office are given below.

“The Messiah”

The third annual rendition of Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," was presented in Bomberger Hall on Dec. 12 before an enthusiastic audience which filled the Chapel to capacity. The high standard set in previous years was fully maintained by the guest soloists, chorus and orchestra.

Madame Martha Atwood Baker, professor of Music in the College and former Metropolitan soprano, Joanne de Nault, Canadian contralto, Steele Jamison, N. B. C. tenor, and Ralph Magelssen, well-known New York basso, ably interpreted the solo parts, and were accorded unusually fine support by the College chorus and orchestra under the direction of Dr. William F. Philip, assistant professor of Music.

Ursinus Woman's Club Holds Successful Card Party

The Ursinus Woman's Club held a very successful card party in Freeland Hall on Saturday, Jan. 18. The attendance, in spite of unfavorable weather, exceeded the expectations of the committee in charge. Sponsoring the Club's Ways and Means Committee, under the chairmanship of Lyndell Reber '36, the affair netted about $150.00 for the furtherance of the Club's objectives.

"Hands Across Panama" Theme for All-Ursinus Conference

Pan-Americanism and the need for developing closer relations with and understanding of our Latin-American neighbors, summarized in the title "Hands Across Panama," constituted the dominant theme of the third annual All-Ursinus Conference held on the Campus April 4-6 inclusive. Features of the conference were guest speakers, a Mexican mardi gras, a debate with Upsala College on the question of hemisphere union, a motion picture on South America, and an exhibit of Mexican wares.

Guest speakers on the program, which was sponsored by the Christian Associations of the College, were Dr. Arthur P. Whitaker, professor of Latin-American History in the University of Pennsylvania, Lieut. G. C. Morand, U. S. N., and Rev. Eugene Austin, pastor, Tioga Baptist Church, Philadelphia.
Girls’ Basketball

“Snell’s Belles” continued their winning ways to enjoy their traditional successful season, with eight victories, one tie and three defeats. The girls scored a total of 427 points, holding their opponents to 284.

An Alumnae team paced by the well-known Harshaw-von Kleek duo, administered the season’s one real licking to the tune of 47-19. The varsity, however, set a new Ursinus single game record in trouncing Albright 69-9. Other victories were scored over St. John’s of Reading, Swarthmore, Drexel, Penn, Bryn Mawr, Rhode Island, and Chestnut Hill. Rosemont was tied, while the Temple and Beaver games spoiled the season.

Natalie Hogeland, Alice Dougherty, and Doris Harrington were the leading scorers, while Blanche Schultz, Marion Bright and Jeanne Mathieu, the latter two freshmen, ably guarded the home basket.

Summary:

| 40 St. John’s (Reading) | O 9 |
| 69 Albright | 9 |

427

Won 8, tied 1, lost 3.

The girls’ Jay-Vee team outdid their big sisters by sailing through an eight-game season with only one defeat. After a wobbly 14-13 start against Swarthmore, the team took over Drexel, Penn, Temple, Rosemont, Chestnut Hill, and Beaver, mostly by decisive scores, bowing only to Rhode Island.

| 36 Drexel | 24 |
| 31 Pennsylvania | 6 |
| 27 Temple | 24 |
| 20 Rhode Island | 22 |

Won 7, lost 1.

Freshmen Basketball

The Yearlings displayed fight, form and teamwork to enjoy a successful season, winning nine games to five lost, and scoring 519 points to 442 for their opponents. The team play was unusually smooth for a freshman club, and a good deal of potential talent was displayed. Barab, Kuhn, Heckman, Ziegler and the Rorer Twins should give Hashagen something to work with next year.

The scores:

| 41 Lebanon Valley | 34 |
| 44 Girard College | 15 |
| 35 Muhlenberg | 48 |

| 47 Swarthmore | 46 |
| 42 Drexel | 50 |

605

Won 5, lost 12.

Little more was expected by close followers of the Bears, as the whole 1940 starting five was lost by graduation, leaving Coach Ken Hashagen with last year’s second-stringers, a handful of sophomores and a stiff schedule. Nevertheless, the Bears played a hard, fighting game and deserved better than they got.

The season started off with two close wins over Lebanon Valley and Gettysburg, and an extra-period loss to Muhlenberg. The loss of the two best substitutes, one by ineligibility, and one by doctor’s orders, weakened the squad considerably, several players succumbed to the grippe, and from then on, the pace of competition increasingly took its toll. High spots of the latter half of the season were the first victory over Muhlenberg on the latter’s home floor in many years and a surprise conquest of Swarthmore.

Al Hutchinson and Howard MacMahon, junior sharpshooters, who finished among the ten highest scorers in the Phila. district, were the outstanding performers, while seniors Nat Johnson, Dave Jacobs and Don Fetterman also gave good account of themselves.
Wrestling

The grapplers won one dual meet but dropped the remaining five, and finished fifth in the Middle Atlantic Tournament in an undistinguished season. As usual, there was a wealth of material at some weights and an almost total lack at others. The team was also handicapped by illness and inadequate practice facilities.

The freshman team lost a close match to Norristown Y. M. C. A. and was decisively defeated by Mercersburg Academy’s preparatory school championship team.

The season’s summary:

U 3 Haverford 25 Muhlenberg
10 Rutgers 5 Gettysburg
8 Haverford

Middle Atlantic States Tournament—Fifth place.

Wrestled one, lost five.

YOUR SPECIAL FUNDS

We plan to publish in the next number of the Alumni Journal a list of the contributors to the George Leslie Omwake Memorial Scholarship Fund. There are doubtless some alumni who intend to contribute to this fund but have thus far neglected to do so. We invite you to send your contribution before this list goes to press. The amount of your contribution will not be made public.

The Omwake Scholarship Fund will help to provide an education for many needy and deserving boys and girls of the future and will forever honor the memory of an illustrious alumnus of Ursinus.

Remember ALUMNI DAY
June 7

In the same number of the Alumni Journal there will appear a report covering the Ursinus College Loyalty Fund for 1940-41. You may designate your contribution to this fund as a gift for the Omwake Memorial Fund. If you will send the check you have been intending to send all these months, the list of contributors will contain over a thousand names.

Every contribution, regardless of its size, offers eloquent testimony to the interest and loyalty of the giver.

The aim this year is to have a large number of persons contributing cash now rather than pledges of large sums to be paid in the future.

The response to the Loyalty Fund so far has been very encouraging but it does not yet reflect the ability to give of the Ursinus alumni body.

There is still room on the bandwagon. Climb on now.

Six years later the congregation relocated in the southern section of the city and erected a $140,000 church which is still one of York's outstanding church plants. The debt on this building was paid off in ten years. During the term of Dr. McKee's pastorate, the membership was increased to more than 900 and pastor and people assumed a position of prominence and leadership in the religious life of the city.

Dr. McKee served as president of Potomac Synod in 1934-1935, and held numerous other positions in local and denominational activities. American Magazine Features Virginia Meyer '34

The April number of the American Magazine carries a full-page picture and write-up of Virginia A. Meyer '34, under her professional name, Virginia Lynn. The story appears on page 91, under the magazine’s feature section, Interesting People on the American Scene, with the heading "Eye-minded" and runs as follows:

"This smiling young lady has one of the newest jobs in America—director of television programs for a large broadcasting station. She is Virginia Lynn, of Norristown, Pa., and she is said to be the only woman director in this budding industry. By way of preparation she studied dramatic production and lighting at Yale University, then went to New York as a script writer. In her new job, this 5-foot, 90-pounder perches atop a lofty stool in front of the television stage and whispers directions over her chest telephone to the actors, sound recorders, and cameramen.

Before each program she rehearses each scene as carefully as if it were a Broadway production. Only mishap on the air occurred when the powerful lights needed for television broadcasting melted an actor's mustache and it dropped neatly into his sweetheart's lap. Most of all she enjoys directing special ad lib programs in which the actors make up their lines, as they go along, to fit a given plot. Makes for spontaneity and spark, she thinks. Her only superstition is that she never allows peacock feathers on a set, because she thinks they bring bad luck. Crazy about clothes, she never bought a dress in her life. Her mother makes them all.
