United States Senate,

COMMITTEE ON RULES.

March 4, 1920.

My dear Mr. Wilson:

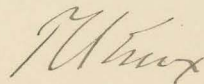

I am glad to receive your note and to assure you that I am feeling fairly well now that Mrs. Knox is improving, although I feel the strain of her long illness.

Crane's name has not yet been sent to the Senate and at a meeting of the committee yesterday we discussed Bainbridge Colby for a little while and put it over until Friday, with the hope of having a larger number of senators present.

We are having some slight indications here of spring. I walked part of the way up this morning and coming through the Botanical Gardens I was rejoiced to see a Kentucky cardinal.

With kindest regards, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Huntington Wilson,
2 Dickinson street,
Princeton, N. J.
