THE LOYALTY FUND

We made a previous error in our last issue—but one we are happy to correct and would like to correct again, if possible. It seems that the total gifts to the Funds during the past six years totaled $174,800 (we said $70,000).

Gifts made during the year ending June 30, 1942 amounted to $53,100 (we said $45,000). We are glad to restate these figures to our readers and would like to make several comments generally.

In the last issue there was published a list of contributors to the Loyalty Fund by classes. To them we express appreciation. A large part of this fund came from those who are not alumni.

The need for the coming year is just as great. The Executive Committee of the Alumni Association, at a special meeting held October 31, 1942, expressed approval of the continuation of the Loyalty Fund and commended it to the alumni body as worthy of wholehearted support. We need all the assistance we can get in order to increase last year’s mark.

HOW TO GIVE—INEXPENSIVELY

Since 1917, the Revenue Act has set its blessing on benevolent impulses of individuals through providing for deduction from taxable income of contributions up to 15% of their net income. The Federal Government encourages private philanthropy by absorbing 18.4% to 88% of the cost of their gifts.

Study this chart for twenty seconds:

Note that the figures reflect the cost of charitable contributions equaling 5% of your net income (the charitable contributions of the average man or woman ranges from nothing to 10%).

We do not mean that if you give $5 or $50 or $500 to the College that you do not actually give the institution that amount. Your saving is effected because your gift would otherwise be a part of your total taxable income and taxable as such, if the contribution had not been made. Under the present law, you may give—cheaply.

Take an example: Your net income subject to taxation is $2,000. You may give your College $100 at a cost to you of $81.60 (the Government will absorb the other $18.40). Suppose you wish to give $50. Your cost would be only $40.80.

Why not include Ursinus College—your College—in your list of charities this year? The gift must be made by December 31, 1942. Next year’s Revenue Law may be different. You must act now.
THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

It is probable that the Army and the Navy will soon announce a plan that for the duration of the war will define very clearly the contribution that the colleges and universities must make to the war effort. The Enlisted Reserve Corps has already been established in approved colleges and universities, and a great many students now in Ursinus College have enlisted in the Corps. But the new plan now being considered by the Army and the Navy will probably utilize much more extensively the facilities of the colleges and universities as centers for training highly qualified young men as prospective specialists and officers in the armed forces.

Whatever the details of the new plan, the emphasis almost certainly will be upon studies that will be of immediate utility in the prosecution of the war. In the colleges and universities, the humanities, for the duration of the war, must to some extent give way to the applied sciences.

This temporary and partial eclipse of the humanities is unfortunate but, in the present situation, inevitable. We are engaged in a technological war, in which our opponents have the immense advantage of long preparation. If we are to survive, we must oppose them with their own weapons. But as we oppose them, we must remember that it was not too much—not too little—vital training in the humanities that was responsible for the stupidities and selfishness that in so large measure brought us and the whole world to the present unhappy state.

When peace is restored, the American liberal arts college must see to it that the humanities—all that teaches man to keep his spiritual, moral, esthetic, and intellectual being in control of his instincts and technologies—occupy their rightful place not only in the schools and colleges, but in American life as well. Religion, ethics, literature, art of all kinds, history in its broadest sense—these are the studies that must provide the controls in the years ahead. That these studies can make a more vital contribution to American life than they have made in the past is not to be denied.

The colleges and their alumni will do their utmost to aid in our struggle to survive as a free people. It is the peculiar responsibility of the colleges and their alumni to see to it that we survive as a civilized people—a people able and willing to lead in the building of that better world which will not emerge spontaneously, but which must be built out of the present chaos. Great as has been the contribution of the colleges to American life, that contribution can and should be much greater after the war. So long as the war lasts, the colleges must do all that they can do to aid the war effort, and at the same time they must prepare for the still more important contribution that they can make and must make toward the building of a new world.

OPENING OF 73rd ACADEMIC YEAR

Student Enrollment Above Last Year’s Figures

Ursinus is one of a relatively small number of colleges able to report capacity enrollments this year. The 1942-43 enrollment totals 535 as compared with 531 last year. There are 275 men and 250 women. Of this number 214 are new students, the largest number in this classification in the history of the college. 110 of these are men and 104 are women. 17 transfer students are included among this group, as are 8 students who returned to Ursinus after the lapse of a year or more. 194 of the entering group are freshmen. Last year the freshmen numbered 154. All the residence halls are filled to capacity. Highland Hall, previously used as a men’s dormitory, is now a residence hall for women. There are slightly fewer day students this year because of curtailed transportation facilities.

Twenty-three of the men students and one of the women are employed in full-time work in defense industries in Pottstown and Oaks. For the most part, these students reside in college buildings, take their meals in the college dining room, and carry a reduced schedule of college work. This work-study plan has enabled some young people to attend college who would otherwise find it impossible to do so.

Because of the accelerated program, it is now possible for students to enter Ursinus in February, in June, and in September of each year. It is also now possible for students to be graduated at the end of any term. It is expected that approximately 50 students will complete the requirements for graduation in January, 1943. In order to keep the college filled to capacity, it will be necessary to have an entering group in February of at least this number. Alumni are urged to cooperate with the Registrar in submitting names of prospective students who are eligible to enter college in February, June, and September, 1943.

Pfahler Hall Dedicated at Annual Founders’ Day

The annual Founders’ Day Convocation held in Bomberger Hall on October 13 was of special interest and importance. At the exercises Dr. Harry E. Paisley, President of the Board of Directors officially named the Science Building for Dr. George E. Pfahler of Philadelphia, world famous radiologist and a member of the Board of Directors of Ursinus College since 1935.

In honor of the occasion, William David Coolidge, vice-president and director of research for General Electric, delivered an address on “The Role of Science Institutions in Our Civilization” to a capacity audience of faculty members, students, and scientists from all parts of the East who attended the convocation.

Dr. Coolidge emphasized the influence of the science institution and its teachers and traditions.

“It is to the university that industry should look to train men for its laboratories.” Dr. Coolidge stressed, “and if this work is to be well done, fundamental research must be carried on by members of the teaching staff of the university; financial support must, of course, be provided, and should come either in the form of a government subsidy or as a contribution from industry to be in turn liquidated by the public.”

The naming of the Pfahler Hall of Science came as a climax to the entire program and the world renowned radiologist, one of the pioneers in the field of radium and X-ray, who has contributed perhaps more than any other man in the world to the medical applications of radiology, spoke a few modest words in response.

After the dedication, honorary degrees were granted to George Morris Dorrance, famous Philadelphia surgeon, Sc.D.; Harvey Clayton Rentschler, director of research for Westinghouse, LL.D.; William David Coolidge of General Electric, LL.D.; Ray Stowers Clements, D.D., and George Edward Pfahler, LL.D.

A portrait of Dr. Pfahler was unveiled and presented to the College by his wife, Mrs. George E. Pfahler, at the conclusion of the program. Dr. Paisley made the formal acceptance of the portrait.

Visiting scientists and doctors were entertained at a reception in the foyer of the Pfahler Hall of Science by Dr. and Mrs. Pfahler immediately after the exercises.

The arrangements for the day were made by a committee consisting of Dr. Ralph H. Spangler ’97 Chairman, Dr. Charles A. Behney ’12, and Dr. J. H. Brownback ’21.

Ursinus Women’s Club

At the fall meeting of the Board of Directors of the Ursinus Women’s Club held in October, the annual December luncheon in Philadelphia, and the card party on the campus in the spring, were discussed. It was decided that we request twenty people in various communities to contact five fellow members in their areas, asking if they would be interested in attending the luncheon. As a result of this preliminary questionnaire, plans are being made to hold the reunion Saturday, December 5th, at the Arcadia, on Chestnut Street near Broad. May we hope for an encouraging attendance? Invite non-members to join you in this reunion.

We are trying to arouse interest in our organization among the girls on the campus by offering them, for their dormitory funds, half the profits of a proposition to raise money. Unfortunately, few students know what our club has done until they are about to graduate. We hope to report in more detail at the December luncheon.

Present plans are to hold the card party at Ursinus in the late spring. The support given last year was so encouraging that we feel our members will make an effort to return to the campus that afternoon.

Mrs. Wm. U. Helffferich, South Hall, Collegeville, will be glad to secure a new subscription or renew an old one to any magazine. She has generously offered to give to the Club the commission she receives as agent. Help our organization by sending your subscriptions to her.

The Club, at the May meeting, voted to offer a $3000 open scholarship to a freshman girl this year. To meet that obligation we need your support. Will you send your annual dues promptly to Mrs. J. Harold Brownback, Trappe, Pa.?

Our Secretary's Letter

Dear Fellow-Alumni:

On another page of the Journal will be found a summary of the proposed changes in the constitution of the Alumni Association. A need for revision has been felt for a number of years, and a Drafting Committee was appointed.

The committee contemplates publishing the proposed new constitution in the Spring 1943 issue of the Journal. Alumni will thus have an opportunity to familiarize themselves with it before the Annual Meeting in May 1943. After adoption, the new constitution will be printed, and a copy distributed to each alumnus. The committee has developed a constitution which is flexible, and more simple, and which, it is believed, will better serve the changing needs of the Association.

I should like to call your attention to the record, on another page of the Journal, of the women and men of Ursinus who are in the service, and to ask any alumnus who knows of additional names, or of later or more accurate addresses of anyone listed, to send them in to me. It is a difficult task to discover all of the alumni who are in the armed forces, and still more difficult to keep addresses up to date. We on the campus, and your college and class mates will be glad to hear where you are, and what you are doing, and the Journal will keep them posted if you will send us news about yourselves.

I am grateful for the response which the several members of the Journal Committee have gotten lately, to requests for news. The more news that each of you sends us, the better Journal we can prepare for you. And these are days when news is being made rapidly; not a day passes without some news coming into my office about a marriage, or a new service man, or a change of rank or address.

Charles H. Miller,
Secretary.

HENDRICKS AND KEPLER PASS AWAY—LOYAL URSINUS ALUMNI

Abraham Hunsicker Hendricks, Esq. died on Sept. 9, 1942. He was born Dec. 21, 1866 and was graduated from Ursinus College in 1888, with the Bachelor of Science degree. He was admitted to the Montgomery County Bar in 1890.

After a successful law career, Mr. Hendricks was elected District Attorney of Montgomery County for two successive terms, and at the time of his death, was serving his fourth term as First Assistant District Attorney. At various times he was Solicitor of the Borough of Pottstown; from 1909–1934 he served as Solicitor of the Borough of Collegeville and from 1908–1913 he was Solicitor to the Sheriff of Montgomery County.

In addition to the honors that came to him in his chosen profession of Law, Mr. Hendricks served his community in other capacities. In 1914 he was elected a member of the Board of Directors of Ursinus College and he was at the time of his death, Chairman of its Executive Committee. He received an honorary LL.D. from Ursinus on Founders' Day, 1939. He was a Director of the Schuylkill Valley Bus Line from the time of its organization.

One of the highest honors that came to Mr. Hendricks, or that can come to any Mason, was conferred upon him on September 28 when he received the Thirty-Third Degree of that order at a meeting of the Supreme Council held in Columbus, Ohio. This honor came in recognition of Mr. Hendricks' life long service in Masonry.

Mr. Hendrick's grandfather was the founder of Freeland Seminary, and a co-founder of Pennsylvania Female College.

Mr. Hendricks is survived by his widow, Ella Miller Hendricks, and a daughter, Miriam Hendricks.

Dr. Asher Raymond Kepler, died Aug. 9, 1942. For the past forty years he served the Chinese people as a missionary from the Presbyterian Church. He was the executive secretary of the General Assembly of the Church of Christ in China. Mr. Kepler's work took him the length and breadth of China. He was as familiar with the people and conditions of the interior of that great country as he was with the people and conditions along its seaboard. He was an intimate friend of many of China's present leaders, and a frequent visitor at the home of General Chiang Kai-Shek. Two years ago he was cited by the Chinese Government for his work in organizing the Christian Service Council for Wounded Soldiers of China.

Dr. Kepler was born Oct. 17, 1879, was graduated from Easton Academy, and spent one year at Lafayette College. He transferred to Ursinus College in 1895, and was graduated with the B.A. degree in the class of 1898. He took a course at the Ursinus Theological Seminary and then entered Hartford Theological Seminary, Hartford, Connecticut, and was graduated in 1901.

Ursinus College conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity upon Dr. Kepler on Founders' Day, February 14, 1929. He revisited his alma mater on Alumni Day last year, and delivered an inspiring address at the alumni banquet on the future of the new China.

He is survived by his wife and five children, all of whom were missionaries to China.

Alumni President’s Letter

To be called upon to write a column in the Alumni Journal, after being away from the College for more than a quarter of a century, one finds himself flooded with ideas that have passed through his mind from time to time.

The Alumni Association is the connecting link between Ursinus and the graduate. It is always a pleasure to me, and I feel sure it is the same to the large body of alumni, to return to the “old campus” and mingle with former classmates and acquaintances. Surely, many of the former faces are not to be seen, but there is enough of the old Ursinus spirit present to make one feel at home.

In this day of gas rationing, tire rationing, and even train rationing, it is quite a problem to plan a week-end trip of pleasure, and, accidentally or intentionally, land in Collegeville. Nevertheless, most of us can find a substitute, at least once a year. Why not make an inventory of your community? Gather all the Ursinus folks together for a meeting. There may not be an organization already formed, but a few members are enough to start one on its way. Alumni organizations are like the proverbial “snowball,” the more we roll them, the larger they become.

Ursinus College can feel justly proud of its record. The Board of Directors, Faculty and Students need our support to maintain this splendid record.

As president of the Alumni Association, I congratulate those who are members; and those graduates who are not, may I make an earnest plea to renew your membership? We are all working for a greater Ursinus!

Guy A. Koons, ’17.
