SPRING 1943
News of the Alumni

It is always of great interest to all of us. We have an unusually large number of items in this issue, because many of you have responded to requests for news, or sent it in voluntarily. We appreciate your co-operation. A number of articles in this issue should be of interest to every alumni, in these days when Ursinus, as well as each of us, must make readjustments due to the war. We invite your special attention to The President's Page, The War and The College Program, The Report on the Loyalty Fund, and the Secretary's Letter.

Commencement and Alumni Activities

Are again scheduled for mid-May, 14th to 17th, because of the College's accelerated program. Many alumni return to the campus every spring for these events; it is a good habit for alumni to acquire, for a visit to the campus at this time is sure to bring you into contact with some former college mates, and at the same time, you keep up to date with the changes.

Now that you know the dates, we hope many of you will make plans to be on hand, in spite of the difficulties of transportation, etc., especially those whose class reunions occur this year: '38, '28, '18, '08, '98, '88, '33, '23, '13, '03, and '93. The Alumni Secretary will be glad to send a list of addresses of members of each of these classes, to any member of each class who contacts him, and is willing to circulate members of his own class, and make reunion plans. Let him hear from you.

Biographies of Alumni Candidates

For the offices of the association, and for membership on the Board of Directors of the College, appear in this issue, and should receive some study before you send in your ballot. The officers you elect are important, because this year we hope to work out a definite program for which we want the Alumni to be responsible. The Board candidates for whom you vote are important, also, for they are your representatives on the governing body of the College. Many alumni do not receive ballots (and are ineligible to vote) because they have not paid their dues. Statements are sent to the entire alumni body. If you send in your dues for 1943-44 before May 1, a ballot will be sent to you. All ballots must be returned by May 1, to be counted.

Now That Your Income Tax is Paid

You will be in a better position to send in your contribution to the Loyalty Fund. You know, of course, that this gift is tax exempt. The report of the Fund, found on another page, reveals that a larger number of alumni have contributed a larger amount than last year, but at that, only a little more than nine per cent have made any contribution. Surely Ursinus alumni want a better record than that! The Journal Committee urges every alumni to send in a gift; the size is not the important consideration; the fact that you have given a bit of your substance toward the maintenance of your college, is the important thing. Your Executive Committee wrote into its minutes, at the last meeting, an endorsement of this plan, now in use in so many colleges. A contribution to this fund, payment of alumni dues, and interesting young people in the college (or sending names of prospects to the Registrar), are tangible ways of doing your bit as an alumnus. Will you come through?

The Proposed Revised Constitution

Is included in this issue, and it will be voted on, section by section, at the Annual Meeting. Please read the provisions carefully, and bring it along with you, for reference, to the meeting. Changing times demand a constitution which is simple, and flexible, and the emphasis has been laid on these points in drawing up the present instrument.

Men and Women in the Armed Forces

Will receive THE JOURNAL, THE WEEKLY, and college bulletins regularly if you will advise us each time you change your address. Tell us your rank, and some news about yourself. Your classmates will be glad to have your address. Please keep us posted.
THE PRESIDENT’S PAGE

The following paragraphs are a general report to the alumni as to our present situation and our plans for the immediate future.

During the fifteen months that have elapsed since the United States entered the war, Ursinus College has sought to adjust itself to a series of new difficulties and new responsibilities. The members of the Faculty have carried heavy burdens in a most praiseworthy manner. The students have conducted themselves well. Most of them have worked with a new seriousness. A few students have been drafted; a few have volunteered for immediate service; more than one hundred have enlisted in the Enlisted Reserve Corps.

After a most successful summer session of twelve weeks, the College opened last September with the same enrollment as the preceding year—535. Thirty-nine were graduated in January, and many of those in the Enlisted Reserve Corps have been called to active duty. The enrollment today is about fifteen per cent below the enrollment in September, 1941, and in September, 1942. This decrease is small as compared with that in many colleges and universities.

Our present plans include a twelve-week summer session beginning May 31. The first semester will begin September 7 and will end December 18. We plan to admit in September about 250 women (the usual number) and about 100 men (one-third of the usual number). With an enrollment of 350 the College will be able to carry on its normal work without serious difficulty, and will be able also to provide all facilities for the instruction and housing of such Navy units as may be assigned to us.

The Joint Committee for the Selection of Non-Federal Institutions has named Ursinus College and ten other Pennsylvania colleges and universities for inspection and possible contract by the Navy Department for basic training on the Navy College Program. The same committee has named Ursinus and four other Pennsylvania colleges for inspection by the Navy Department for Pre-Medical Training. I hope that our facilities will be acceptable to the Navy. This is important work; I believe that Ursinus can do it well.

The financial condition of the College is considered in detail in the printed Reports of Officers recently sent to all alumni. The Report of the Treasurer should be encouraging to all alumni. During the months since the period covered by the report, substantial gifts have come from many sources. For the first time in the history of the College the General Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church has made an appropriation to Ursinus, “The Education Emergency Campaign,” now being conducted by the Evangelical and Reformed Church in the thirteen synods east of Ohio, will bring Ursinus a large sum. Alumni and others are contributing generously to the Loyalty Fund.

The next few years will be very busy and important years at Ursinus College. They will be years in which the help of the alumni will mean much. If we alumni do our utmost to help our College now, Ursinus will be able, both during the war and in the years that follow, to serve well and generously. It seems to me that those of us who are not in the armed forces have a special obligation in this matter.

THE WAR AND THE COLLEGE PROGRAM

As this article is being written, the College has nearly 100 less men students enrolled than it had at the beginning of the fall term. Forty-two of the 58 Ursinus men in the Army Enlisted Reserve Corps have already been called to active duty, 32 having left in a body for Fort Meade, Maryland, on February 18. All of the Ursinus men in the Army Air Force Enlisted Reserve Corps were likewise called to active duty during the month of February. The only Army Reservists who remain on the campus are those who are listed as pre-medical students, or who are majoring in the fields of science or mathematics. Thus far none of the students enlisted in the Navy V-1 or V-7 programs have been called, and according to latest reports the 46 Ursinus men in these two programs will be permitted to continue their college work until July 1, 1943.

Because of the decreased enrollment of men students, Curtis Hall was vacated on March 1 and the men who were still residing in this dormitory were assigned to vacancies in other halls. Workmen are now engaged in renovating Curtis Hall in preparation for the reception of Navy enlistees who are expected to arrive on the campus about July 1 under the new V-12 program which has recently been announced to the public. By mid-summer it is anticipated that approximately 350 Navy men will be in attendance at the College.

Students who are to be trained under the Navy’s new program will ordinarily receive four terms of college work of sixteen weeks duration each. Courses for the first two terms will be similar for all students, except pre-medical and pre-dental, and will emphasize fundamental college work in mathematics, science, English, history, engineering drawing and physical training. Pre-medical and pre-dental students will substitute chemistry and foreign language for English and history. All students inducted into the V-12 program will receive instruction in naval organization and general naval orientation.

In addition to the Navy enlistees who will be in residence at the College, it is expected that there will be a small group of civilian men in deferred groups, or who because of age limitation will not be eligible for enlistment in any of the services. These men will probably be housed in separate buildings, since the enlisted men will be subject to regular military discipline. It is further expected that the usual number of women students will be in attendance at the college next year. The Navy training program is of such a nature that the regular work of the college can be conducted without interruption for those who are not following the prescribed Navy courses.

Twenty-nine new students were admitted to the College at the beginning of the second semester, which this year was advanced to January 27. Twenty-three of these were men, and 6 were women. This was the largest group of students ever admitted to Ursinus at mid-year. Six of the group came from the Abington high school, and 3 were transfers from other colleges. Seven were from New Jersey, one came from New York state, and the remainder were from Pennsylvania. Eight were admitted with only three and one-half years of high school work, under a special arrangement occasioned by the present emergency that had been worked out by the Pennsylvania State Department of Public Instruction.

Present plans call for the beginning of the summer session on May 31. It is scheduled to continue for twelve weeks, with seventy-minute class periods and a six-day week prevailing as last year. The fall term is announced to begin on September 7, and unless changes are necessary to conform with the program for Navy enlistees, it will close on December 18. This arrangement will make it possible for the College to close during the month of January, as some colleges have found it expedient to do because of the fuel shortage, or it will be possible to begin the winter term at the opening of the New Year if this should seem to be desirable.

In view of the anticipated man-power shortage in defense industries, Ursinus has made arrangements with the Superior Tube Company, Collegeville, to employ young women students on a part-time basis. The plan will be of special interest to young women who are anxious to obtain a college education but who must have considerable financial assistance to realize this aim. The plan is a modification of the work-study program for Ursinus men which has been in operation in conjunction with the Jacobs Aircraft Corporation, Pottstown, since last summer. Details of the plan may be obtained from the Office of the Registrar.

While the war has changed somewhat the program of Ursinus College, and may continue to change its program still further, the alumni may rest assured that the College will continue to function for the duration and thereafter. The College will continue to offer its regular liberal arts program for women students, as well as for men students who are physically not qualified for military service, for men students below the age for selective service, and for men students who are eligible for deferment under selective service because they are preparing for recognized critical occupations or professions. The College authorities invite the co-operation of all alumni in the task of keeping a steady stream of promising young people coming to the institution in May, in September, and in January. Information and literature are available to alumni and their friends upon request to the Registrar.

Notable Speakers Address College Organizations

Speaking under the sponsorship of the Ursinus Forum, Louis Adamic, noted author, traveler, and lecturer, addressed one of the largest audiences in forum history on the subject “The Crisis is an Opportunity.” Other forum programs in recent months included a discussion of “Political Issues of the War” by Professors Harvey L. Carter and Maurice O. Bone, of the College faculty, “France and Her Role in the Post-War Era,” by the Reverend Marcel J. Brun, executive officer of the France Forever movement, and a consideration of “The Far East in Post-War Settlement,” by Professor Wilson Leon Godshall, Ph.D., of Lehigh University.

Early in November the Christian Associations held their annual inter-denominational conference, which was built around the theme “Unity in Diversity.” Dr. John Nelson, director of the department of student relations, Presbyterian Board of Christian Education, delivered the keynote address. Assisting in the conference were Dr. Frederick B. Igler, Baptist student pastor at the University of Pennsylvania, Rev. Fred D. Wentzel, director of youth work in the Evangelical and Reformed Church, Professor James Pritchard of the Crozier Theological Seminary, Chester, Pa., Rev. George Baldwin, and Dr. Robert Gearhart, Episcopal and Lutheran student pastors at the University of Pennsylvania.

Other leaders brought to the campus by the Christian Associations during the winter months were Miss Kung Pu-Sheng, national student secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in China; the Reverend Lee Gabel, of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association; James Farmer, young negro leader who is serving as one of the field secretaries of the Fellowship of Reconciliation; Roy McCorkel, manager of the Swarthmore Cooperative Association; and Miss Marta Wankowicz, writer, student, and former Polish Red Cross nurse.

The James M. Anders Pre-Medical Society presented Dean William Pear-son of the Hahmemann Medical College, who discussed the status of pre-medical students in the present emergency; Dr. Otterbein Dressler, of the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy, who spoke on “Tropical Diseases”; Dr. Vaughn C. Garner, noted Philadelphia dermatologist; Dr. Robert Hunter, associate in obstetrics at Hahmemann Medical College; Dr. William A. Perkins, dean and professor of Preventive Medicine in the Jefferson Medical College; and Dr. Gerald Timmons, dean of the Temple University Dental School.

Under the sponsorship of the Beardwood Chemical Society, the following speakers addressed Ursinus audiences: Dr. Henry Williams, of the Knox Gela­tin Company, on “The Tanning of Leather”; Frank Fader, sales manager of the Jefferies Manufacturing Company, and Harry L. Morgan, chief chemist of James Lees’ Sons, on “Science Goes to Town”; and from the College faculty, Professor William S. Pettit, who spoke on “Chemical Warfare,” and Professor Paul R. Wagner, who discussed developments in the field of color photography.

The Perkiomen Branch of the American Association of University Women presented Ensign May Hermann, who discussed the various opportunities available to college women in the U. S. Navy Reserves, while the Collegeville Community Club offered a Town Meeting program on the question “How can we best achieve a durable peace?” featuring as leaders Mrs. Edwin H. Coggeshall, of Collegeville, Attorney Raymond Pearlstine, of Norristown, and Dr. Elizabeth B. White, of the College faculty.

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES IN WAR TIME

Although the war has curtailed many campus activities, especially those that have been traditionally intercollegiate in character, the winter calendar otherwise has been quite full. The Fathers’ Day banquet following the Drexel football game in November featured addresses by H. D. Steward, ’07, and Congressman J. William Ditter, honorary Doctor of Laws from Ursinus, both fathers of Ursinus men.

“Ring Around Elizabeth,” a three-act comedy by Charles Armstrong, was offered as the dramatic production of the Curtain Club in connection with the Senior Week-end in December; and a revival of the successful mystery drama, “Cat and Canary,” was one of the features of the Junior Week-end in March. Both productions were under the direction of Vice-President and Mrs. D. L. Helfferich.

The women’s hockey team finished the season with an undefeated record to give Ursinus its first unblemished sports record in five years. The team turned in five victories and two ties. The most impressive victories were over Swarthmore, Temple, Drexel, and Penn.

The Christmas season was appropriately celebrated with the traditional communion service in charge of the college pastor, Rev. John Lentz, D.D., and Dean W. A. Kline. Practically the entire student body was in attendance. In addition, President and Mrs. N. E. McClure entertained the women students in their home, and similar parties were held for the men students at various points on the campus. The Christmas banquet in the dining room and the Christmas show staged in the gymnasium completed the pre-holiday campus celebration.

The effects of the war upon the life of the college have been evidenced in many ways, notably in the loss of the popular college nurse, Miss Helen M. Moll, who early last year was inducted into the army as a Red Cross nurse and is now stationed in North Africa. Another great loss suffered by the college was the induction of thirty-two Army reservists in mid-February.
Girls’ Hockey

The girls’ varsity hockey team handed Coach Eleanor Snell her first undefeated hockey season in the first perfect sports record at Ursinus since Doc Baker’s coeds were unbeaten in 1936 and 1937, when they triumphed over Penn.

Jeanne Mathieu, the 4-goal scoring of Jeanne Bricker and the 9-0 triumph in their opener on Friday, October 23, the girls came back’ from Chestnut Hill with a lopsided 9-0 triumph in their opener on Friday, October 23.

In their first meeting for the past five years, the Ursinus and Bryn Mawr hockey squads battled to a 2-2 deadlock at Bryn Mawr on October 28. The college coeds had to come from behind in the second half to erase a 2-1 Bryn Mawr lead but were unable to register the winning tally after knotting the tie on November 12.

In their opening contest with Haverford at Haverford on February 19, the Ursinus all-stars, paced by letterman Dave Ziegler and sophomore George Moore, piled up a 56-41 victory and completely throttled highly-touted George Montgomery who tallied 31 points in a single game the week before.

Moving into Convention Hall for their second game on February 27, the two seniors, one sophomore and two freshmen suffered a 77-35 setback at the hands of St. Joseph’s outstanding basketball quintet. Captain George Senesky added 28 points to his total of 446 to break every modern and all-time State scoring record in addition to setting a new foul conversion mark of .72 for Convention Hall, while his teammates set new team and field goal records for the auditorium.

Ursinus took fourth place in Middle Atlantic College Wrestling Association Championships. Dick Shellhase won the championship title in the 136 lb. class. Maykut in the 128 lb. class and Reimer in the 165 lb. class reached the semi-final rounds.

Basketball

At the close of a 30-game intramural basketball program, Pete Stevens picked a squad of all-stars from the ten teams and formed a varsity quintet to play a schedule of seven games with outside colleges.

In their opening contest with Haverford at Haverford on February 19, the Ursinus all-stars, paced by letterman Dave Ziegler and sophomore George Moore, piled up a 56-41 victory and completely throttled highly-touted George Montgomery who tallied 31 points in a single game the week before.

Moving into Convention Hall for their second game on February 27, the two seniors, one sophomore and two freshmen suffered a 77-35 setback at the hands of St. Joseph’s outstanding basketball quintet. Captain George Senesky added 28 points to his total of 446 to break every modern and all-time State scoring record in addition to setting a new foul conversion mark of .72 for Convention Hall, while his teammates set new team and field goal records for the auditorium.

Temple and Swarthmore both outscored the Ursinus squad in the next two games. The intercollegiate season was closed with a second victory over Haverford.

Wrestling

The varsity wrestlers, coached by Charlie Steinmetz, suffered a 28-8 setback at the hands of Swarthmore in the Swarthmore field house on February 20 for their initial loss of the season.

In a match with Haverford at Haverford on the following Wednesday, the grapplers went down in defeat 21-11 after tying the count before the start of the three heavy bouts.

This sport will bear watching since Dick Shellhase, son of Adam Shellhase ’18, arrived at College. Shellhase was National Interscholastic 136 lb. Champion while at Mercersburg Academy. So far he has thrown all his college opponents in record time.
With five minutes to play in the fourth quarter, the Quakers of Swarthmore turned back an Ursinus scoring threat and then took the ball down the field to tally the goal that upset Baker's soccermen 1-0 in the second game of the season at Swarthmore on November 1.

Taking advantage of all the breaks, the Ursinus booters scored twice in the third quarter and once in the final period to register a 3-1 victory over the Lafayette Leopards on Friday the thirteenth in their closing intercollegiate game.

Seven alumni and four varsity substitutes suffered a 1-0 defeat in the annual Old Timers' Day fracas the following morning, when Dick Fohl booted the ball into his own goal while attempting a difficult kick.

Football

Led by the timely punting of Dean Steward, Pete Stevens' Bears held a strong Franklin and Marshall eleven to a scoreless tie in their 1942 football debut on mud-soaked Williamson Field October 17th. The Diplomats only once got within the 20-yard stripe, when Wally Ort knocked down a pass in the end zone to stop the scoring threat.

Inspired by a touchdown after a blocked kick in the first two minutes of play, Doggie Julian's Muhlenberg Mules went on to trounce the Grizzlies 41-0 on the following Saturday.

After a week layoff, the Bruins unleashed a running and aerial attack headed by Bill Fetch and Paul Detwiler that gave Pete Stevens his first triumph in two years, a 19-13 Dad's Day victory over the Drexel Dragons at home on Saturday, November 7. Ursinus capitalized on a Dragon fumble and the pass-snaring of Co-captain Mike Worthing to score twice in the first stanza, and then came from behind on a 20-yard touchdown march in the final period to clinch the triumph.

On a cold wintry afternoon that played havoc with punts and passes, the Bears held Gettysburg's football machine scoreless for the first half and then weakened under a powerful ground attack to lose their final game of an abbreviated schedule, 12-0.

SECRETARY'S LETTER

Dear Fellow Alumni:

How to get under the skin of worthwhile people with good intentions? That is a real problem, and it is mine. The government does it by appealing, first, to their patriotism, for voluntary response to a necessary issue. If that fails, a government order follows, which brings around the good-intentioned who "never got around to" falling in line.

I should be delighted to tell you that two-thirds of the alumni were active members of the association, instead of only the one-third whom I reported to you in the Summer 1942 issue of THE JOURNAL. But I can not. I must report the same two-thirds who have not yet sent in their dues. You may ask yourself: "Why should I do this? What do I get out of it?" That's typically American, isn't it? But I like to think of the Ursinus alumni as more interested in what they are putting into the college, than in what they are getting out of it.

Most of us have gotten the preparation for our livelihood out of the college, to say nothing of the more important contribution, a preparation for a fuller appreciation of, and participation in, life. Isn't it time—in the years after college—to put a tiny percentage of our means back into the college—each and every one of us?

Another angle to consider is that two-thirds of us are allowing one-third of the alumni to pay for our issue of THE JOURNAL. This is not fair; nor is it good business. It is not good business because one-third of us can not much longer pay for a Journal for everyone, and for this reason your Executive Committee has been considering this year—of necessity—the abandonment, or curtailment, of THE JOURNAL. I do not believe that the majority of the alumni want an abandonment any more than I do, which is not at all. A curtailment is going to be necessary unless considerably more alumni send in their annual dues.

As I write, I have before me a statement of a nearby alumni association, on which is printed: "(1) Two dollars enclosed, for Alumni Dues and Journal Subscription. (2) One dollar enclosed, for Alumni Dues, or Journal Subscription." It may be necessary to do that. It is only fair to do it. Our dues are extremely low. An interested alumni has recently suggested to me that we increase our dues to five dollars a year. Let's begin, or resume, our annual payment of dues until we have paid in twenty dollars, and become Life Members.

Faithfully yours,

Charles H. Miller,
Secretary-Treasurer.

URSINUS WOMEN'S CLUB NOTES

We are making a special appeal to the younger alumnae who have not joined the Club, to become members. Won't you help us to carry on the work which we have been doing during the last 27 years? We have contributed almost $20,000 to the college in the form of athletic director fees, payment on 612 Main Street dormitory, furniture for girls' dormitories, athletic prizes, scholarships, etc. Our dues are only $1 a year.

The annual card party will be held in the Freeland Hall upper dining room on Saturday, April 10 at 2:30 o'clock. Because of the limitations placed on travel, we must depend on the people in the vicinity of Collegeville. Even though you are unable to attend, will you respond as generously as you can toward the success of the undertaking? Last year some groups held card parties at their homes and sent us the proceeds; others responded with cash contributions. May we count on You?

The bank is now charging to cash checks. May we ask that you send cash for your contribution as well as for your annual dues? It will help us in our budget. Send your card party contribution to Mrs. Leighton K. Smith, 88 Sixth Avenue, Collegeville, Pa., and your dues to Mrs. Harold Brownback, Trappe, Pa.

Directors

The Loyalty Fund

Marked progress has been shown by the 1942-43 Loyalty Fund on the basis of a comparison of results for the current year to March 1, with the figures for the corresponding period of the previous year. At that date, 272 contributors had given a total of $7,818.39, compared with $3,285.50 given by 223 persons in 1942.

While the increased amount of the Fund is deeply appreciated in these times, equally encouraging is the increase in the number of alumni givers, which jumped 29 per cent, from 194 to 251; or, deducting alumni members of the Board of Directors, Faculty and Administrative Staff, 37 per cent, from 165 to 226. As is the case this year, a few large individual gifts can swell the dollar volume of the Fund to imposing proportions, but from a long range view, a steady and sizeable growth in the number of alumni participating is a more accurate indication of the health of the movement. Even with this year's increase, however, the participants number only ten per cent of the total alumni body.

We may all take pride in what has been accomplished to date, but let us not forget that June 30, the date when the Fund is officially closed for the year, is still some time away, and that even better results can rightfully be expected.

GARRY C. MYERS, Class of 1909, Professor of Psychology, Juniata College, 1912-14, Brooklyn Training School for Teachers, 1914-18, Department of Psychology, Cleveland School of Education, and Chairman, Division of Psychology, Western Reserve University, 1920-27; head of Division of Parent Education, Western Reserve University since 1927. Ph.D., Columbia University, 1913. Lecturer and Consultant in Child Psychology and Parent Education. Author of many books on various fields of psychology and education, and conductor of syndicated columns in 100 daily newspapers. Editor of periodical: Children's Activities. Resides at Boyds Mills, Wayne County, Pa.

Commencement

Dr. Merle Middleton Odgers, Ph.D., LL.D., president of Girard College, Philadelphia, addressed thirty-nine graduating members of the Senior class on the inseparable connection between American education and the American approach to life, at the first mid-year commencement exercises in the history of the College in Bomberger hall on Monday, January 25.

The seventeen candidates for the bachelor of science degree and twenty-two for the bachelor of arts degree were recommended for graduation by Dean Whorton A. Kline, while degrees were conferred by President Norman E. McClure, in ceremonies at 10:30 a.m. that followed tradition as far as possible.

Because of the fact that students graduating early will also be included in the May class roll, valedictory and salutatory positions and the announcement of honors, as well as all prizes, will be held over until the exercises on May 17.

The baccalaureate service was held on Sunday, January 24, at 10:45 a.m., in Bomberger chapel, with the College pastor, Dr. John B. Lentz, as speaker.

Organ

To substitute for the Charles Heber Clarke memorial organ, which gasped its last note in Bomberger chapel shortly before the Christmas vacation, the College purchased and installed an Everett Orgatron during the first week of February.

For some time before, the administration had discussed the advisability of reconditioning the old organ, but due to the difficulty in obtaining parts for replacement, the repair work has been delayed until after the war and the Orgatron has been temporarily substituted for the Clarke organ.

The Orgatron will serve a useful purpose even after the organ is repaired, for chimes and a loudspeaker system installed in the tower and controlled by the Orgatron below will be used during commencement exercises to provide music for the processional, and by attaching a microphone to the power unit in the Orgatron a public address system can be set up.

Ursinus College to get $25,000 from Church

The educational institutions of the whole United States face an emergency created by the war. The Evangelical and Reformed Church with which Ursinus College is affiliated saw the problem and recognized the necessity of promptly doing something about it.

An Educational Emergency Campaign was started in the thirteen eastern synods of the church with a goal of $370,000.00. The purpose is to raise a fund to meet a part of the actual financial needs of the nine church schools in the east for the next two academic years.

The schools sharing in the Fund are Catawba, Cedar Crest, Franklin and Marshall Academy, Franklin and Marshall College, Hood, Lancaster Theological Seminary, Massanutton Academy, Mercersburg Academy, and Ursinus. These are the Evangelical and Reformed Church Schools east of the Allegheny Mountains. The Western Schools elected not to join in the campaign because a successful campaign for their support was still going on.

The campaign got under way on February 21. Reverend James E. Wagner, of Lancaster, Pa., is campaign director.
CHANGES ABOUT THE LIBRARY

Under the direction of the new Librarian, Charles H. Miller, '24, and the new Assistant Librarian, Miss Sarah Hatton Beck (who resigned a position as Senior Cataloguer at Brown University to come to Ursinus), some noteworthy changes have taken place in the library during the past year. In addition to placing emphasis on the acquisition of needed reference books, new newspaper and magazine subscriptions, and the binding of a large number of volumes of periodicals, some entirely new projects have been initiated, which enables the library to serve better both the student body and the faculty.

Early in the year the librarians began editing, jointly, THE LIBRARY REPORTER, a bulletin which brings to the attention of students and college attaches, timely information about the library. Shortly thereafter, a Rental Collection was initiated, which makes available many late fiction and non-fiction books which the library would not otherwise be in a position to provide. This service is proving very popular. Rental books are available, also, to townspeople and alumni.

Exhibits pertaining to current topics or timely activities are now a regular part of library routine, being changed at one or two week intervals. Suggestions for these exhibits are invited from students and faculty members, and requests from both have been received, and the exhibits set up. Some interesting ones to date include Civilian Defense and War-Time Activities, War-Time Careers, Free France, Christmas Customs and Music, The Negro, Our Duty as Women in the War, Lincoln, Washington, Pennsylvania. The librarians hope to enlarge the library's collection in the field of local history, including: (1) Pennsylvania as a whole; (2) Montgomery County in particular; and (3) Pennsylvania Dutch material. If any alumnus has material of this nature which he would like to present to the Library, will he please contact the Librarian?

A Picture Collection has been begun, and five or six hundred pictures mounted and filed by subject, which are available for borrowing. More than a thousand unmounted pictures have been donated, mostly by faculty members and officers, and it is hoped that many more will be presented by interested alumni. A picture collection is an extremely interesting and useful adjunct to the library, serving as illustrative material for academic work, and as decorative material for the use of individuals.

A file of hundreds of Musical Analyses, clipped from Philadelphia Orchestra programs, and presented by Miss Beck, is now available. These analyses are mounted, and arranged under individual composer and composition. They are useful in music appreciation work. Old or current programs are requested from alumni.

A table has been set aside in the reading room which contains a continually changing group of current and timely Pamphlets. Many flow into the library daily, and this display makes available the latest information received in pamphlet form.

The following excellent Reference Books and Sets have been acquired: Beilstein's Handbuch der Organischen Chemie, 49 volumes; The New York Times Index, 1934 to date; The Essay and General Literature Index, 1900 to date; Granger's Index to Poetry; A Dictionary of American English, 4 volumes; Greek-English Lexicon, Liddell and Scott, 2 volumes; Encyclopédia Britannica World Atlas; Hammonds New Era Atlas of the World. All of these works are the best in their respective fields, and will be of incalculable assistance to students and faculty in the years to come.

Several hundred volumes of Periodicals have been bound this year, including many volumes of scientific journals housed in the Pfahler Hall of Science Library. A continuous plan of binding is in progress, which will in time enable the library to have an excellent collection of permanently bound periodicals.

Local Alumni Group Meetings

As this goes to press, three local groups have definite plans for their annual get-togethers, and most of the other groups are making plans.

The first dinner of the season is scheduled by the York Association for March 27 at the Golden Glow. A week later, on April 2, the Reading Association will meet at The Berkshire Hotel. “Kich” Kichline, their aggressive president (and last year President of the General Alumni Association) has planned a most entertaining program. The New York Group have announced their dinner date as May 26, but no details have been received as yet. Trenton and Lancaster groups are also making plans for dinner meetings.

It is hoped that the officers of all associations will arrange dinners as usual this year, in spite of the difficulties which every group has to face now. Representatives from the campus always get a kick out of renewing friendships with members in the several groups. If the Alumni Office can help you with addresses, do not hesitate to ask.
