In Memoriam

To all who knew them there must have come a feeling of inexpressible sadness when they learned of the deaths of J. Philip Citta, M.D. '33, and Frederic W. Swift '40, who have given their lives in the war. These men have served their country and their college well, and in the face of the matchless price they have paid toward our freedom and our future, our hearts are bowed in deepest sorrow for their passing.

Both men enjoyed the love and respect of many college friends, not only among the students but also among members of the faculty, and they will be sorely missed by them and scores of other associates as well.

We extend to their families and friends our sincerest and deepest sympathy.

Sports in College after the War

In the May issue of Harper's, John R. Tunis, whose critical eye is frequently turned upon various aspects of the American college, undertook an appraisal of the effects of global warfare upon competitive athletics. His observations are of especial importance to college administrators who are concerned about the position of sports in the college program.

If intercollegiate competition after the war resumes its former vigor, college officials should exercise care to see that varsity programs do not eclipse intra-mural athletics provided for all students. For the war has made clear a real duty and obligation of all educational institutions, namely, to keep their students physically fit and to help them attain a reasonable degree of athletic proficiency. This is more than a war-time duty; the increased leisure time which may be expected in the post-war world will emphasize its necessity in peace time as well.

As the college succeeds in giving its members a true appreciation of games and athletics in relation to health and wise living, so will its graduates in a hundred widely separated communities extend their influence in providing more playing fields, golf courses, tennis and badminton courts, hiking and riding trails, skating rinks and swimming pools, dedicated to the public use.

In this one way, at least, will sports in college aid in transforming the student into a good citizen.

Uniforms Are the Vogue!

With the arrival on the campus of two hundred Navy men, there has come a new and different aspect to the familiar scene. Coming from a wide geographical area, they bring manners and customs and points of view which should help to broaden the outlook of the entire college community and in turn give us an opportunity to extend to various parts of the country a knowledge of the name and spirit of Ursinus.

Only slight changes in the curricula were necessary to meet the Navy's needs, and some minor alterations in physical accommodations have been effected. The tri-semester plan is now in operation with the beginning of the summer term on July 6, and the fall term scheduled to open November 1.

We should feel grateful and proud that our college is making a significant contribution in the training of men for the service, and lend our full support to the administration in this important venture.

Do You Know Any Prospective Students?

Without your generous interest and help, it would be impossible to keep the student body at capacity size. If you know any students who can be recommended for admission, please communicate with Registrar F. I. Sheeder.

Please Keep Us Informed

The Journal, The Weekly, and other college publications will be sent to men and women in the armed services if we are supplied with up-to-date news of their whereabouts. Classmates and friends will be glad to have the latest information about each of you, so do let us know the news! Please write to Registrar F. I. Sheeder or Alumni Secretary, Charles H. Miller.

As one of the more than one hundred colleges chosen by the Navy for the Navy College Training Program, Ursinus College is undertaking new and important responsibilities. The Navy program at Ursinus College, together with the continuing program for civilian students, will tax to the utmost all the facilities of the College.

Although the Navy program will probably be continued for several years, the College must plan now the work to be done here after the war. The Commission on Liberal Education appointed by the Association of American Colleges has recently published a report, "The Post-War Responsibilities of Liberal Education." It is a report that deserves the study of all who are interested in the post-war programs of our colleges. The Faculty of Ursinus College will doubtless make proper use of it as they consider adjustments in the curricula to meet post-war needs.

The Report begins with the declaration that "there has been during the past years less and less vigorous propagation of faith in liberal education on the part of educators—and more and more adjustment of the functions of college to fit the conception of what people think they want," and that "colleges have lost sight of the value of liberal education and their curricula have deteriorated into a hodgepodge of training in technical skills." This declaration is of especial interest and importance now when the weaker colleges may be tempted to make hasty and ill-considered changes in their curricula.

It is clear that during the period of demobilization and afterwards the colleges must perform two functions simultaneously: first, they must supply the immediate needs for liberal education to the men and women who are now in industry and in the armed forces, and who will be attending college after the stress and strain of war, and must, in some measure, appeal to their immediate desires and special needs; and, secondly, they must preserve and interpret the abiding values that are the special and continuing concern of liberal education.

However varied and changing the special needs of the hour, the basic needs of man remain constant. Of these needs the student, intent upon the immediate future, may be wholly unaware. It is the special responsibility of the colleges to plan a program that will supply these permanent needs. Those who plan the curricula of colleges for the post-war period will remember that it was not too much—but too little—vital training in the humanities that was responsible for the stupidities and selfishness that in so large measure brought us and the whole world to the present unhappy state.

During the post-war period the college, as I have pointed out elsewhere, must see to it that the humanities—all that teaches man to keep his spiritual, moral, esthetic, and intellectual being in control of his instincts and technologies—occupy once more their rightful place in the curricula. Religion, ethics, literature, art of all kinds, history in its broadest sense—these are the studies that must provide the controls in the years ahead. There are the studies that shape the development of the whole man.

73rd Annual Commencement

The commencement season was again scheduled a month in advance of the date on which it was held in the past, because of the accelerated program. The war and its immediate influence on the lives of the graduates was the keynote of both the Baccalaureate and Commencement speakers. The alumni roster was increased by the names of 113 members of the graduating class, many of whom have already joined some branch of the armed forces. All of the class, but these latter especially, are in our minds, and have the very best wishes of The journal.

The Commencement

Commencement exercises were held in Bomberger Hall on Monday morning, May 17. The address of the day was delivered by Dr. Lewis C. Scheffrey, Professor of Gynecology at Jefferson Medical College. He pointed out in the beginning of his address that the older generation had an opportunity to create something worth while at the end of World War I, but they ignored it, and that it is up to the young people of today to make certain that these responsibilities are not shirked again.

Dr. Scheffrey concluded with the challenge: "If we can work and sacrifice to the limit for war, why can't we do the same for the peace of the future world?"

The degree of Doctor of Science was conferred upon Dr. Scheffrey, that of Doctor of Divinity upon Dr. William Edmund Lampe, of Philadelphia, Pa., and the degree of Doctor of Laws upon Dr. Merle Middleton Odgers, Philadelphia, Pa., and Dr. Whorten Albert Kline, Collegeville, Pa.

Baccalaureate Service

Dr. William E. Lampe, Secretary of the General Synod and General Council of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, was the speaker at this service. After discussing briefly the economic and political factors of world reconstruction, Dr. Lampe concluded that reconciliation must be accomplished by love and love alone. He reminded the graduates that they were especially fitted to carry the spark of Christianity to the world.

Musicale

In the evening, Joseph D. Chapline, Jr., ’42, presented a recital on the new Orgatron, playing principally numbers from Bach, Robert L. Williams, Jr., ’46, sang two tenor solos.

The Ursinus Woman’s Club has through the years performed a splendid piece of work, and deserves the support of all women alumni, and of other women friends of the college. Please contact Mrs. Brownback, Trappe, Pa., if you wish to affiliate yourself with this worthy work of helping the college and its students.

Alumni Association

A goodly number of alumni was in attendance at the annual meeting of the Alumni Association. This is very concrete evidence of the interest of the alumni in the Association, when we consider the sacrifices many had to make in order to be able to drive in this year of stringent gas rationing.

The election board reported the following officers elected by the alumni in the spring election: President, Russell C. Johnson ’16; Vice-President, Philip B. Willauer ’30; Secretary-Treasurer, Charles H. Miller ’24, College Librarian; Ralph F. Wismer, ’25, Alumni director, five year term. Other business transacted at the meeting is found in the Secretary’s report, on another page of this issue.

The following members were elected

The Journal extends best wishes to Mrs. May Royer Rauch

Resignations and inductions into the armed services of the country are responsible for the more important recent changes in the administrative and teaching staffs of the College.

Mrs. Rauch Retires
After nineteen years of devoted service to Ursinus College, Mrs. May Royer Rauch, '86, has retired from active service. Mrs. Rauch came to the College in 1924 as hostess in the dining room, and in 1925 she was appointed Preceptress at Olevian Hall. In 1931, when Olevian Hall was demolished to make way for the construction of the Pfahler Hall of Science, Mrs. Rauch moved to Sprankle Hall, another dormitory for women, and in 1932 she became Preceptress of The Maples.

Mrs. Rauch is spending the summer at her cottage in the Poconos, after which she plans to make her home with her daughter at 70-01 Thirty-fifth Avenue, Jackson Heights, L. I., N. Y.

Dining Department Changes Hands
Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Price, who have served the College so loyally as stewards in the dining room since 1932, retired as of July 1.

Mrs. Price came to the College in May of 1932 following the tragic death of Mrs. Emma Webb. She was joined by Mr. Price in December, 1932, since when they have both performed excellent services for the College.

Mr. and Mrs. Price will make their home in Schwenksville, where they will continue to operate their son's restaurant while he is serving his country in the armed forces.

Mr. Walter F. Beltz, '29, was elected steward of the College to take the place of Mr. and Mrs. Price, and assumed his new duties as of July 1.

Mr. Beltz has had wide experience in the restaurant field. He served for a number of years as Assistant Manager of the Spring Mountain House, Schwenksville, and has also been connected with the Princess Martha Hotel in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Changes in Modern Languages
M. René Veuve, who came to Ursinus College to assist in the French Department in the fall of 1941, at the time of the late Professor Sibbald's illness, left the College at the close of the first semester. He has enlisted in the Fighting French Army and is on his way for training in England.

During the second semester M. Jean-Yves Dunant took over the work in elementary and intermediate French. Like M. Veuve, M. Dunant had his bachelier-ès-lettres degree from Montpellier, and in addition had spent two years at the Université de Lyon. He is now teaching at the University of Pennsylvania.

Charles W. Steinmetz '40, a member of the Faculty in German, has recently been commissioned an Ensign, volunteer specialist unassigned, U.S.N.R., and is at present awaiting his call to active duty. Since his graduation, Mr. Steinmetz has been an Instructor in German and for the past two years an assistant football coach at Ursinus. He has pursued graduate studies at the University of Pennsylvania and the German School of Middlebury College, Vermont.

Dr. Helen Garrett, who will join the staff of the modern language department in October, is a graduate of Swarthmore College, in the class of 1932. She holds the Doctor of Philosophy degree in French from the University of Pennsylvania, 1941. Miss Garrett has, in addition, spent two summers in France and one in Germany. Her teaching experience covers several years in preparatory school work in addition to two years at Scranton-Keystone Junior College, and a post during the past year at the Penn State Undergraduate Center at Altoona.

Navy Course Added
William C. Hampton, M.E., University of Pennsylvania in 1912, has been added to the Faculty of Ursinus College to teach Engineering Drawing and Descriptive Geometry. Mr. Hampton worked as construction engineer with the U.G.I. for several years and, during 1917 and 1918, with DuPont's as general engineer for high explosive plants. Mr. Hampton retired to Collegeville in 1938 and has since then devoted his time to artistic work in wood. Mr. and Mrs. Hampton and their daughter reside in Collegeville.

'43 Graduates Elected to Faculty
Edward M. Man, who was graduated in the class of 1943, has been appointed Assistant in the Physics Department. Mr. Man entered Ursinus College from the Simon Gratz High School, Philadelphia, where he made an outstanding academic record. He was active on the tennis team in both high school and college. Mr. Man majored in Physics in College. He is a member of the Methodist Church.

Roger P. Staiger, also a member of the graduating class this June, has been appointed an Assistant in Chemistry. Mr. Staiger is a graduate of Hamilton High School near Trenton, N. J. His interest in Chemistry was awakened by Henry S. Kauffman '24. Mr. Staiger majored in Chemistry at Ursinus and took honors in the department. His main activities as a student were centered around the various science organizations. A member of the Methodist Church, Mr. Staiger's home is in Mercer, N. J.
Dear Fellow-Alumni:

In the Summer issue of THE JOURNAL, I like to report to you any important action that has been taken by your Executive Committee during the past year, and by the members of the Alumni Association at the last Annual Meeting. I know that you are interested in increases in membership in the Association, and what disposition is made of your dues.

Your Executive Committee made the usual necessary appropriations of money for the year, including $100.00 to The Library. This is a custom begun years ago, and one which should be continued indefinitely, for many students benefit over a long period of years, from books bought with this appropriation.

Annual Dues Raised

In the last issue of THE JOURNAL, I told you in my letter that unless many more alumni send in their annual dues, THE JOURNAL would, of necessity, have to be abandoned or curtailed. With this fact in mind, plus the additional facts of smaller graduating classes from which to expect dues, and that our dues have been much lower than that of many college alumni associations, your Executive Committee voted to increase the annual dues to two dollars per year, beginning May 1944, and to continue sending THE JOURNAL to every alumnus. We receive expressions after every issue of THE JOURNAL, from many alumni, of their appreciation of it, and this is true more than ever now, when service men's addresses go to every member in the service who is not overseas.

Reports read at the Annual Meeting, as well as officers and committees elected, appear on another page under Commencement News. The proposed new constitution of the Association was voted on, article by article, and adopted by the membership, with a few minor changes. Copies of the complete constitution will be furnished each alumnus at a later date—probably in the next issue of THE JOURNAL. The members voted, also, to increase the Life Membership fee to forty dollars, for any members who had not already completed the payments. This action originated in the Annual Meeting, not in the Executive Committee, and had the support of the members in attendance. Apropos of this action, I might mention that our Life Membership has been much lower than that of many college alumni associations.

My report of membership in the Association was made at the Annual Meeting and I was delighted to be able to report a substantial increase. One alumnus arose in the meeting and asked me to what I attributed this noticeable increase. I replied that I felt it was due in a marked degree to the persistence with which I have called to the attention of the alumni—both through THE JOURNAL and through my annual personal letter—the necessity for more alumni to become active members, if we wish to continue the two very worthwhile projects we have fostered in the past—the Library appropriation, and the publication of THE JOURNAL. My hat is off to every new active member who has responded to my appeals—and I am still receiving checks and cash for dues almost daily.

Important Gains Made in Association Membership

On Alumni Day, the active membership numbered 1035, a gain of 307 over last year. Since that time, forty-seven others have sent in dues, making our present membership 1102. Active members for the past seven years were as follows: 1936-37, 454; 1937-38, 517; 1938-39, 509; 1939-40, 681; 1940-41, 732; 1941-42, 748; 1942-43, 1055. This increase is a source of considerable pleasure and encouragement to your secretary. When he took office, about one-third of our total alumni were active members; at the present time, about one-half are affiliated with the Association. It is his hope that this number may continue to grow, until a very high percentage are active participants in this Association of their Alma Mater.

Current Treasury Balance Shows Favorable Condition

The Treasurer's report in May was correspondingly favorable. At that time, exactly $400.00 had been received in dues during the preceding year (this figure excludes Life Members, and dues of members of the current graduating class). This amount was the largest ever received in dues for one year. The preceding year, $251.00 in active dues was received, and the average over the ten-year period preceding was $165.00 per year. So you see we have gone a long way. The balance on hand on Alumni Day—with all bills paid—was $523.14. This is a new high in balances at the end of a year. The balances on hand during the preceding seven years were: 1936-37, $232.43; 1937-38, $174.67; 1938-39, $91.38; 1939-40, $184.91; 1940-41, $27.46; 1941-42, $181.37; 1942-43, $523.14. This fine showing is due to YOU—to your increased interest and support. Full steam ahead for an increased membership! Dues are received at any time, at $1.00 up to May 1944, and this entitles you to vote in the annual election next spring. Send in your dues, whether or not you have lost your statement. We will do more as we have more support. The Library appropriation could well be increased, or we could take up other projects for the college which your Executive Committee have under consideration.

Faithfully yours,
CHARLES H. MILLER, '24,
Secretary-Treasurer.
LOCAL GROUPS MEET
The York Alumni Dinner was held on Saturday evening, March 27, at the Golden Glow Cafeteria. A feature of the meeting was the dramatization of College days, in which all who were in attendance participated. President N. E. McClure spoke on the curriculum changes necessitated by the coming of the new Navy unit. Dorothy Beck McBride '30 served as toastmistress.
Officers elected for the new year were: President, Dorothy Beck McBride, '30; Vice-President, Rev. John H. Sando, '31; Secretary, Mary E. Myers, '34; Treasurer, Mildred Olp Frey, '37.

Reading
More than forty members of the Reading Alumni Association met for their annual banquet in the Walnut Room of the Berkshire Hotel on April 3, 1943. Tasteful decorations and an excellently varied program were provided by the committee on arrangements.

Guests from the College included the President and Vice-President, both of whom devoted their remarks to the activities of the College during the current academic year. Dr. McClure reviewed administrative and academic achievements and explained the Navy program contemplated by the College. The Secretary-Treasurer of the General Alumni Association, Charles H. Miller, was also present to discuss matters of general importance to the alumni associations.

J. Harley Hunter '23 was elected president for the coming year and Mrs. Verna Kurtz Lambert '23, secretary-treasurer.

New York Association
Elects Clayton Head
Alumni in the Metropolitan New York area, were present for the dinner at the Hotel Pierrepoint, Brooklyn, on Wednesday evening, May 26. There were forty in attendance. Mary A. Marquardt, '24, presided. Special guests included Mrs. J. W. Eckersen.

BOARD RECEIVES REPORTS
The regular spring meeting of the Board of Directors of Ursinus College was held in the Library on Saturday morning, May 15. The President, Dr. Harry E. Paisley, presided. The Board was happy to welcome Dr. Edward S. Fetz who has recently been absent from several occasions because of illness.

For the Committee on Buildings and Grounds, Dr. James M. Niblo read an excellent report telling of the splendid work in reconditioning the men's dormitories which has been done under the capable supervision of Mr. Russell C. Johnson.

Ralph F. W精美 05 was elected a member of the Board to serve for a term of five years. Since the election for a candidate to fill the unexpired term of Dr. Charles B. Heinly '00, deceased, resulted in a tie vote, the matter was referred to the Alumni Association for settlement.

Dr. N. E. McClure, president of the College, made an encouraging report in which he stated that in spite of many uncertainties the academic work of the past year has been satisfactory and acceptable. He commended the members of the Faculty who have remained loyal to the College in spite of the possibility of receiving greater remuneration elsewhere.

Dr. McClure announced that Ursinus College is one of fifty pre-medical units to be used by the Navy in its college training program, and stated that this again emphasizes the splendid reputation which the College has attained in connection with its pre-medical work. He indicated that of the 200 men assigned to Ursinus under this program for five semesters of instruction beginning July 1, 50 would be pre-medical students. Thirty of them, according to Dr. McClure, would be sent directly from high school for two semesters of basic training, and 120 would be transfers from V1 and V7 programs in other colleges having no Navy units. Dr. McClure stated that this latter group would be given from one to four semesters of college work.

It was gratifying to the members of the Board to learn that the budget for the present year is balanced, and that a payment of at least $20,000 has been made on the funded debt.

SUMMER TERM OPENS
The 1943 summer term got under way on July 6 with 342 students in attendance. 201 of this number are Navy men, and 141 are civilian students. Of the civilian students, 72 are men, and 69 are women. There are 40 new students, 24 of whom are men, and 16 women. The 1942 summer term had an enrollment of 136, of which more than half were enrolled in Chemistry-Biology group.

The Navy men represent transfers from other colleges and universities, some basic V-12 officer candidates who have for the most part come directly from the high schools, from the Fleet, and from other colleges. The colleges from which students have been transferred to Ursinus include the University of Michigan, Franklin College of Indiana, Lebanon Valley College, Rutgers University, University of Delaware, Earlham College, University of Minnesota, Juniata College, Washington College, University of Pennsylvania, New York University, Albright College, and many others. The Navy students hail from all parts of the country.

Student prospects for the winter term, which is scheduled to begin on November 1, are good. There are practically no vacancies remaining for young women. It is anticipated that the Navy will continue to keep the College filled with its promised quota of 200 students. It will, therefore, be necessary to have approximately 100 civilian men to keep the college filled to capacity.

The Athletic Program for 1943-14

Because of the uncertainty of the enrollment of civilian men and other conditions caused by the war, it has been difficult to plan the athletic program for next year. A few football games are being scheduled with other colleges but the final set-up is not yet complete. Additional emphasis will be placed upon the intramural program to include all civilian men. Navy students will be taken care of by their own physical program but will be permitted to engage in intercollegiate athletics.

The women's athletic program, which has brought much favorable attention to the College in recent years, will continue as heretofore. The women will engage in intercollegiate varsity competition in hockey, basketball, tennis and other sports.
