Women's Open Dorms Suspended for Friday P.M.

This Friday, February 28, all women's dorms will be closed and open houses will no longer be held in them; the decision was made to prevent any possible false alarm which was set off in the women's quad which resulted in mass confusion. Several local fire companies were called out and a few spectators wandered through the exodus of women which was sparked with Ursinus males. Worse yet, men and women remained in the dorms; the men were afraid to exit because they were in violation of visiting hours and several others did not hear the alarm.

This has been an actual fire, the potential tragic incident would have had to any hand slapping in the form of open dorm suspension. Had there been a real fire somewhere else, the fire companies would not have been able to respond properly—thus this event involved not only the Ursinus community but potentially the local community.

There has been a mixed reaction to Dean Harris' move, some thinking the measure too harsh, others thinking the measure too lenient. Either way, it is a shame that all women, and indeed all men, be punished because of the irresponsibility of a few people; the issue does not end here. Does anyone ever consider that the "open dorms" (which is how the administration views our open houses) are only incidents like this occur? Saturday morning did not demonstrate to the administration that we are mature adults able to handle a more extensive open dorm policy; in fact, it most likely has set us back for a while. Instead of focusing on school environment, why don't we concentrate on a positive plan of action which will have a more beneficial impact on our maturity and in that way will establish a more open dorm policy?

Dean Ruth R. Harris

The editorial department would like to hold the schools responsible for the many small groups and small activities. Another change that has occurred in the past two years has been the decline of freshmen. "Urinus was always known as a friendly campus but it seems to have lost a lot of friendliness in recent years."

U.C. GRAPPLERS (Continued from Page 4, Col. 5)

A year later, Angela Harris, who was a member of the 1975 championship, returned to Ursinus to win a second championship. In her senior year, Angela Harris again won the championship and was named to the All-American team. Angela Harris went on to become a successful coach at the collegiate level, guiding Ursinus to many more championships and accolades. She is now the head coach at a prominent university, where she is recognized as one of the top coaches in the country. Angela Harris's dedication and hard work have earned her many awards and honors, and she continues to be a role model for aspiring wrestlers everywhere.

Can The Flyers Repeat?

By JOE SARACO

It's hard to believe, but it's been a decade since the Philadelphia Flyers last won the Stanley Cup. The Flyers were the last team to win the Cup in 2000. Since then, the team has had some talented players, including Eric Lindros, Mark Recchi, and Ron Hextall, but they haven't been able to recapture the magic of that season. As we look ahead to the 2021-22 season, it's natural to wonder if the Flyers can repeat their success of a decade ago. What will it take for the Flyers to win the Cup again? While much will depend on the performance of their players and the overall strength of the NHL, it's clear that the Flyers have the talent and experience to make another run at the Cup. Can the Flyers repeat their success of a decade ago? We'll have to wait and see.
