The Egyptian at Home.

Inrushes into and out.

The Egypt of the day may appear to be engaged in beauty, but that is only part of the story. It is not the beauty of a land, but the beauty of people that the dweller in Egypt will always aim to reflect. In Egypt, the ancient may still be seen today, but the modern is not always on display. The people are still the essence of Egypt, and they will always try to reflect the beauty of Egypt in their daily lives.

The Republic. State of the Legislature. Who must have been in Boston.

The former Post Office and Commercial Building has been occupied by the Legislature since it was completed in 1866. The building is one of the finest in the city, and is fitted and deserved tribute toAdjutant General William H. Allen, who was the first person to occupy the building.

In the first day the Legislature met, the press was crowded with reports of the proceedings. The vote of the day was the appointment of the committee of detail on the state of the state, and the committee was composed of the following members: Messrs. F. H. Hoar, E. G. Hoar, C. E. Chandler, and H. S. Parker.

The committee reported that the state of the state was in a very bad condition, and that the Legislature should take immediate steps to remedy the evil.

The report of the committee was adopted by the Legislature, and the body proceeded to organize itself for the session.

The committee of the whole on the state of the state was appointed, and the body adjourned to meet on the following day.
