

4-20-1970

Letter From Peggy Claflin Atkinson to Eleanor Snell, April 20, 1970

Margaret E. Claflin
Ursinus College

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/snell_docs

 Part of the Health and Physical Education Commons, Higher Education Commons, and the Sports Studies Commons

Click here to let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation

Claflin, Margaret E., "Letter From Peggy Claflin Atkinson to Eleanor Snell, April 20, 1970" (1970). Eleanor Frost Snell Programs, Correspondence and Other Documents. 36.

https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/snell_docs/36

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the The Eleanor Frost Snell Collection at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. It has been accepted for inclusion in Eleanor Frost Snell Programs, Correspondence and Other Documents by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. For more information, please contact aprock@ursinus.edu.

Mrs. Harry L. Atkinson
5243 Brendonridge Rd.
Indianapolis, Indiana 46226

April 20, 1970

Dear Eleanor,

I am sorry that I will be unable to attend your retirement dinner. At this time of the year Indianapolis goes into full orbit and I get enmeshed in the many activities that are important to our existence in the "500" Race city.

The experience of having you as a teacher, coach, and friend has made an indelible impression on my life. You were my first -- and really the only -- teacher who used the casual approach to teaching. How well I remember your "seminars" back in 1935 when you would half sit on the desk and encourage us to think. A good argument had its place, even if it was contrary to your own position.

Playing on your teams was a stimulating and rewarding experience. You taught us to evaluate our own abilities and our own performance realistically, feeling neither superior nor inadequate. There was never a doubt that you expected each of us at all times to give our best, whatever that might be. What a wonderful lesson to be learned for life!

But the best was yet to come when I was given the opportunity to return to Ursinus and work with you as your assistant. To be a part of your leadership philosophy was even more stimulating than playing on one of your teams.

The lessons I learned from you, Eleanor, have guided me in whatever I have done since those unforgettable days. Your aggressive spirit was always tempered with impeccable sportsmanship and your firm discipline with warm compassion. How valuable those lessons have been in raising a family in this permissive age!

I send not only my warmest affection but my continuing admiration to a respected teacher and to a cherished friend. I hope your well earned retirement will be full of happiness and that your memories of matchless success and hosts of friends will always illuminate your days.

I do hope, too, that on one of those trips to Nebraska you will stop in Indianapolis for a visit.

Sincerely,
Peggy Clapham
Atkinson