To the Alumni:

The following paragraphs are an informal report to the alumni.

We begin the academic year with a smaller number of students. Last year the enrollment was 10% below the all-time high for the previous year. The enrollment for the academic year 1950-51 will be about 800 — 500 men and 300 women. This total is about 15% below the total of 1949-50.

We hope to keep the enrollment at the present level. To accomplish this, we plan to admit two hundred and fifty Freshmen in September, 1951. The alumni will do Ursinus a great service if they will direct to the College those students who will appreciate the advantages that Ursinus offers.

The members of the Committee on Admissions and the Committee on Scholarships are impressed by the large number of students who need and deserve scholarship grants. Ursinus College receives from the Evangelical and Reformed Church an annual appropriation of about $15,000. This appropriation we use for scholarship grants to members of the Evangelical and Reformed Church. In addition, we have an annual income of about $10,000 from endowed scholarships. This total of $25,000 is inadequate to provide scholarship grants to the many excellent students who wish to enter Ursinus, and who can enter only if they receive scholarship grants. When The Alumni Memorial Scholarship Fund reaches the desired total of $100,000, the income will help greatly to supply this very important need.

The Alumni Memorial Scholarship Fund was started in November, 1948, with the hope that the alumni would contribute $100,000 in three years. Since November, 1948, the gifts and pledges have reached a total of $42,407. Nearly 900 of our 3300 living alumni have already contributed. Some alumni have requested that their gifts be used for purposes other than The Alumni Memorial Scholarship Fund. Of the members of the early classes, including the Class of 1910, 40% have contributed; of the Classes from 1911 to 1920, 35%; from 1921 to 1930, 27%; from 1931 to 1940, 13%; from 1941 to 1950, 30%. The interest and help of the younger alumni are especially noteworthy. Of the living alumni 53% have been graduated within the last fourteen years; 28% of these have contributed. Of the living alumni who were graduated in the Class of 1936 or earlier, 24% have contributed.

I am deeply grateful to all who have contributed, and I am especially indebted to the class chairmen, who have given so generously of their time and effort in this important undertaking. I hope that each of those who have already contributed will send a gift, and that many of those who have not yet contributed will do so. We shall publish the names of the contributors, but not the amount of the gifts. Checks can be made payable to Ursinus College. I hope that we can reach soon the goal of $100,000.

Despite the decreased enrollment, there will be few changes in the faculty. Professor Walter B. Ross, Associate Professor of History, has been granted a leave of absence for study. Dr. William S. Child, Associate Professor of English, has been granted a leave of absence for work with the army. Mr. Charles S. Matlack, Instructor in Spanish, has resigned to continue graduate study at the University of New Mexico. Mrs. Matlack (Margaret J. McKinney), Instructor in Biology, will accompany him. Mr. George Elser, Instructor in Spanish, has resigned to continue graduate study at the University of California. Dr. Cornelius Weygandt will return as Visiting Professor of English. Mr. Alfred D. Roberts, valedictorian of the Class of 1949, will return to Ursinus as Instructor in Romance Languages.

Mr. Stanley Omwake has resigned as Assistant Treasurer to become Treasurer of Sweet Briar College, Sweet Briar, Virginia. He will take office November 1. Mr. Omwake, son of George Leslie Omwake, sixth president of Ursinus College, was graduated from Ursinus in 1931 and from the University of Pennsylvania in 1933, with the degree of M.B.A. From 1934 to 1944 he was an administrative assistant, first to President Omwake and later to Vice-President Helfferich. Since 1944 he has been Assistant Treasurer. During all these years he has served Ursinus College with steadfast self-effacing devotion. I wish to take this opportunity to express publicly my gratitude to him for his great contribution to Ursinus College. His many friends at Ursinus will miss him, and their good wishes will accompany him as he undertakes his very important work at Sweet Briar College.

The annual Founders' Day Convocation will be held on Wednesday, October 18, at 2:30 in Bomberger Hall. The speaker will be The Honorable Samuel K. McConnell, Jr., since 1943 the Congressman from Montgomery County. Requests for tickets should be addressed to Dean Clawson. I hope that many alumni will plan to attend.

Alumni Activities

NEW PRESIDENT

Black Succeeds Blum As Alumni President

Terms of Alumni Offices Extended to Two Years

The Rev. C. Eugene Blum, '27, head of the Alumni Association for the past two years, passed over the president's gavel to Dr. Kermit Black, '31, at the annual meeting of the group on Alumni Day, June 3.

Repeating the successful formula of 1949, Alumni Day was again highlighted by a night-club style dinner dance at the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium on Saturday, June 3. The large crowd of 175 attending alumni was entertained immediately following the dinner by a song and dance program presented by student performers under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Helfferich.

Class Reunions Held

Well-attended reunions were also held by the classes of 1900, 1910, 1925, 1930, 1940 and 1945. Both the classes of 1910 and 1925 prepared attractive booklets containing biographical material and pictures of class members.

At the meeting held earlier in the day the Alumni Association approved constitutional amendments changing the terms of all offices from one to two years. Other matters presented at the business meeting included a report from the Board of Directors by Dr. Henry J. Herber, '11, a report from Mrs. John Davison (Elizabeth Ware, '38) on the activities of the Women's Club, a report from Donald L. Helfferich, '21, on the progress of the Alumni Memorial Scholarship Fund Drive, and a report by Harry Frosberg on his work as General Alumni Secretary during the past year.

McClures Entertain Class of 1915

Dr. and Mrs. Norman E. McClure entertained the members of the Class of 1915 and their families at a luncheon reunion on Saturday, June 3, at the President's home.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Brooke (Ann Schlichter), Dr. and Mrs. Charles F. Deininger and Dorothea Deininger, '41, Dr. and Mrs. William L. Fink (Esther M. Peters, '14), Mr. and Mrs. Horace C. Gott-

Class of 1925 Publishes Biographical Booklet

A unique and interesting little publication circulating about the campus on Alumni Day brought forth many a chuckle, especially from those of the class of '25 who were celebrating their 25th class reunion. It was a booklet edited by Ralph E. Heiges and Howard T. Herber, both of that class, and containing detailed data on each member of the class, complete with names, addresses, present weight, number of children and personal comments. The booklet contained the added pictorial interest of a cut of the class taken in 1924, and numerous up-to-date photographs of class members.

Heiges and Herber put out the book every five years.

The class of 1910, too, has published just such a leaflet, which would appear to be an excellent method of keeping a class "in touch," and serving as a tie to Alma Mater, Ursinus.

schalk, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Harrity, Dr. and Mrs. Elmer K. Kilmer, Miss Eva K. Kneidler, Mr. and Mrs. Russell K. Markley (Ann West) and Philip Markley, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Senat (Adele Hanson), Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Vanderslice and Rev. and Mrs. Ethelbert B. Yost (Gladys Boorem), '21 and '15.

Bears Tackle Swarthmore; Old Timers' Day, Oct. 21

Another Old Timers' Day coming up! All Grads are welcome to return to watch the Bears in action at every game, of course, but this year the big game—and the big day—for Alumni is October 21 when Ursinus pits its might against Swarthmore.

Elizabeth Evans Stevenson, '25, and her committee have laid plans to keep alumni entertained from the moment they step on campus. A pre-game band concert on the steps of Freeland Hall opens the day's program—at 2 p.m.

Following the game (with plenty of noise on the kick-off, please, at 2:30 p.m.) will be an informal reception for all alumni and guests in the new College gym. Free coffee and sandwiches will be served plus the cordial welcome of the Old Timers' Day committee. The Alumni Association will have two booths in the gym where small antique and curio pieces and college souvenirs will be on sale, all proceeds going into the Association treasury.

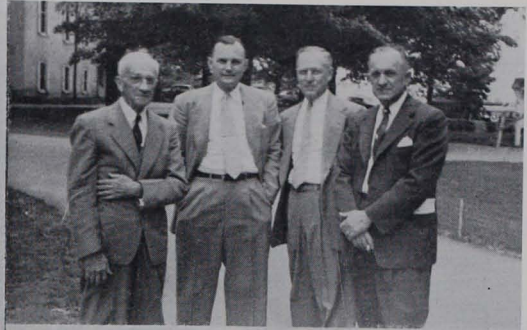

Once again the Varsity Club will sponsor its traditional Old Timers' Day Dance in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium in the evening.

Serving with Mrs. Stevenson on her committee are Dr. Harold Brownback, '21; Paul Levingood, '35; Elizabeth B. Grove, '38; and Muriel B. Pancoast, '38.

Don't forget the date—Saturday, October 21. And don't miss an Old Timers' Day victory, your college friends, or the free coffee and sandwiches.

The Rev. Oliver K. Maurer, '21, offered the Invocation. High School students who were guests of the association were introduced by Charles W. Rutschky, Jr., '19, and Richard Eckenroth, '46.

Corsages for all women guests were provided by the decoration committee, headed by Elizabeth Krusen Cressman, '36. Table decorations were later auctioned off at fabulous prices by *John F. Secretary's Corner by

HARRY M. FROSBERG

On a quiet August afternoon in Collegeville we can reflect upon a summer that has on the whole been very tranquil and pleasant. In many ways that is the inevitable tempo of a college town at mid-year.

There has been no escape here, however, from the same disturbances that have entered your homes and your lives.

In Korea Americans are again at war. In New York the president of the Security Council persistently ignores parliamentary procedure and brazenly twists the facts of his country's political and military record. It is indeed a disturbing experience to sit in the living room of your home and hear the voice of Russia trumpet boldly statements you know to be unbelievable.

If these related incidents have done nothing else they have re-emphasized for us the paramount significance of our free American educational system. And it is for that reason the subject is mentioned here.

No group in America plays a larger part in the strengthening of our educational system than the alumni of this country's colleges and universities. It is their repeatedly demonstrated loyalty and faith and active interest in the schools which have trained them that will insure the continuance of progressive and free education.

Several days ago there came to the Alumni Office the first report of proceedings of the American Alumni Council meeting held at Harvard in July. Contained in it is a prophetic statement of future alumni work by Charles A. McCurdy, Jr., of William and Mary College.

Re-stating the rather recent history of the development of alumni programs and referring to the popularity of practices that contribute little to the over-all effectiveness of an alumni association, McCurdy outlines probable alumni organization in the future.

Knowledge of every alumnus will be considered of first importance and in the larger schools elaborate methods will be installed to prevent loss of contact with any graduate. He believes that much more stress will be placed upon stimulating every graduate intellectually through improved magazines

COLLEGE BENEFACTOR

Name Three Alumni To Board of Directors Five-Year Curriculum For Teachers Approved

All the officers of the Corporation were re-elected and three new members chosen at the annual Board of Directors meeting held on June 3. The Board also approved the offering of a five-year curriculum for prospective teachers leading to the degree of Master of Arts or Master of Science and received from the committee on long-term planning a very favorable report with respect to the early erection of women's dormitories.

Paisley Reelected

Dr. Harry E. Paisley was named president of the Board for the forty-first year. Since his acceptance of the responsible post in 1910 Dr. Paisley has seen the College transformed from a modest company of fifteen professors and one hundred students occupying six buildings to the present institution with its faculty of sixty and student body of almost a thousand.

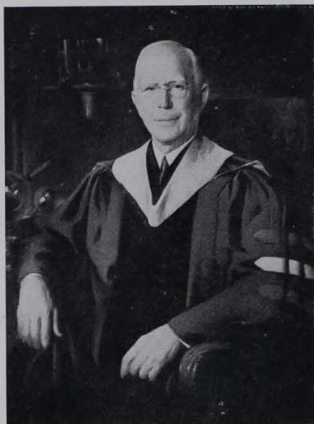

The new members of the Board are Mrs. Evelyn May (Glazier) Henzel, '32, of Glenside, Dr. William H. Schellhammer, '12, of York, and the Rev. Mr. C. Eugene Blum, '27, also of York.

Although the completion of four years of college work leading to the Bachelor's degree is still widely regarded as a sufficient minimum preparation for teaching in secondary schools, several states and a number of cities require the completion of a fifth year of preparation leading to the Master's degree. Even if the fifth year of preparation does not become a universal legal requirement, it is certain that those who wish to teach will find a fifth year of preparation desirable in many ways.

Apply in 3d Year

A candidate who wishes to be admitted to the five-year curriculum must apply to the Dean for admission at the end of the third year. If the candidate is admitted to the five-year curriculum, the Dean, the Group Adviser, and the Professor of Education will plan his program for the fourth year and the fifth year. No courses in Education, except courses in special methods, will be included in his fourth-year sched-

1950-51 Academic Year Sees Five Faculty Changes

The appointment of a new instructor to the Romance Language department represents the only addition to the College faculty this fall. Four former members of the staff have not returned for the 1950-51 academic year.

Mr. Alfred D. Roberts, a February graduate of the Ursinus class of 1949 and valedictorian of his class, will teach beginning courses in Spanish, French and Italian next year. Mr. Roberts was awarded the Williams Prize at the commencement exercises here last year and since then has continued his studies at the University of Pennsylvania graduate school. He received his M.A. degree there in June.

A married veteran with one child, Mr. Roberts studied Italian under the army program and received additional knowledge of the language through experience with Italian prisoners of war. He and his family will live in Pottstown.

Mr. George C. Elser has resigned as instructor in Spanish to continue graduate studies at the University of California.

Also planning further graduate studies, Mr. Charles W. Matlack will attend the University of New Mexico. Mrs. Charles W. Matlack, instructor in

New Honors Bestowed On Dr. G. E. Pfahler

Two additional honors bestowed upon Dr. George E. Pfahler this year emphasize for all Ursinus people the distinguished accomplishments of this college benefactor and member of the Board of Directors.

At its July meeting in London the Sixth International Congress of Radiology made Dr. Pfahler an Honorary Fellow in the Faculty of Radiologists. In May the alumni association of his alma mater, Bloomsburg State Teachers College, presented him with its distinguished Service Award.

In all respects, Dr. Pfahler, for whom the Ursinus science building is named is an exceptional American. His reputation in the field of medicine is international. Specializing in X-ray work he became in 1900 the first Clinical Professor of Radiology in this country and in 1912 the first Professor at the Medico-Chirurgical College in Philadelphia. Since 1916 he has been associated with the University of Pennsylvania as a Professor of Radiology. At the same time he has served as a consultant for four Philadelphia hospitals and Director of the Radiological Department at Misericordia Hospital in that city.

In 1937 he was honorary vice-president of the Fifth International Congress of Radiology and in 1938 honorary vice-president of the Third International Cancer Congress. He has been president of the American Roentgen Ray Society and was the first president of the American College of Radiology.

Dr. Pfahler, in addition, is an honorary member of the British, French, German, Scandinavian, Austrian and Russian Radiological Societies and the Radiological Society of North America, the American Roentgen Ray Society and the New York Roentgen Society. Scientific publications in Switzerland and Spain have been dedicated to him. Medical journals over the years have published hundreds of his scientific articles.

Biology, has resigned to continue her studies, too.

Mr. Walter B. Ross has been granted a leave of absence for the academic year, 1950-51, in order to continue graduate studies.

E. & R. General Synod Convenes at Ursinus

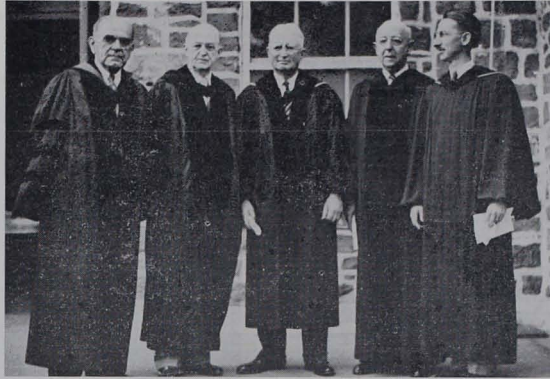

Convening for the first time on a college campus, the General Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church met at Ursinus for its triennial session from June 21 to 28. The meeting also marked the first time Ursinus had played host to representatives of a national body.

To many of the delegates, and nearly every state was represented among the 400 who attended, the Collegetown campus was entirely foreign. After a week's stay, they found that the college facilities provided ideal surroundings for the serious discussion of numerous important issues faced by this and other denominations today.

Meeting in morning, afternoon and evening sessions, delegates reviewed the complete picture of the church's operation and laid plans for expansion in the years ahead. Discussion of social issues resulted in strong resolutions advocating improved race relations and definite separation of the church and state. Federal aid to education was endorsed and improved welfare services were recommended. Improved pension plans for ministers were presented and adopted. Also preliminary plans were drafted for a denomination-wide drive three years from now for $2,500,000 to aid the educational institutions related to the church.

Spiritual highlight of the meeting was the Convocation held on Patterson Field on Sunday evening, June 25, with more than 2,500 persons present. The Rev. Dr. John S. Stamm, of New York, president of the Federal Council of Churches, delivered a memorable address.

To Ursinus College, which has its taproots deep in the denomination, serving as host to these delegates from across America and the international mission field will be a long-remembered pleasure.

Quite a few Ursinus alumni were back in Collegetown as Synod delegates and participated actively in discussions, reports and programming.

Graduates elected to offices and boards are: Dr. W. Sherman Kerschner, '09, Secretary; Dr. John Lentz, '02, General Council; Rev. James W. Bright, '22, Board of Business Management; *Rev. Bomberger—Founder of Ursinus

By Muriel B. Pancoast, '38*

(Part I)

Dr. John H. A. Bomberger was chosen unanimously the first president of Ursinus College on June 7, 1869. He was a man of outstanding prominence in the Reformed Church, and even those men not sympathetic to his views proclaimed him as one of the great men of his time in the church. What kind of background had this man?

John Bomberger was born on January 3, 1817, of German ancestry, in Lancaster, Pa. He was the only son, and for many years the only child, of George H. Bomberger and Mary Hoffmeier Bomberger, and consequently his boyhood was spent largely in the companionship of adults. We read that young John came from a long line of God-fearing ancestors and lived in an atmosphere where spiritual-mindedness was wrought into the very fibre of his home life. While his adult companionship and the devout attitude of his parents and grandparents served to instill in the boy a somewhat sober cast of mind, his childhood was by no means devoid of the fun to which every child is entitled.

Of Old Lancaster Stock

His maternal grandfather was the Rev. John Hoffmeier, pastor of the Reformed Church in Lancaster for 30 years, and in later years, Dr. Bomberger often referred to happy days spent at the home of his grandfather Hoffmeier.

His father's people were well-known Lancaster merchants. Both parents and grandparents were earnestly religious and dedicated young John at an early age to the ministry. Although his parents' education had been limited, they made sacrifices that their son might spend the necessary years in intelligent preparation for his calling.

The school system in those days left much to be desired, and John's early schooling was inferior in quality. His first school was connected with Rev. Hoffmeier's charge—known as Mrs. Lennokay's school. From there, he went on to a higher English school of a Mr. Fuller. In 1828 the Lancaster Academy opened, but the teacher was young and inexperienced. When John was 15 years old (Jan. 1832), he entered the high school which the Reformed Church had opened in York under the supervision of the Rev. Frederick A. Rauch, who later became the first president of Marshall College. Rev. Rauch was a learned man and Bomberger's first real teacher. He spent two years there, and, at 17, entered the theological seminary.

Enters Marshall College

In 1835, the high school moved to Mercersburg and elevated in grade (in 1836, it became Marshall College). The young Bomberger entered this school, where he was induced to suspend his theological studies and follow a course in liberal arts. At Marshall College, he was a faithful and diligent student. He received his degree in 1837, to become the first graduate of this parent college of the church. After graduation, he completed his theological course under the aid and direction of Dr. Rauch with whom he studied until the fall of 1838, when he was licensed as a minister of the Gospel by the Synod at Lancaster.

Dr. Bomberger's first charge was at Lewistown, Pa., where he served three congregations for 20 months. It was a difficult and discouraging field, run down by neglect, but it offered excellent experience for a young minister. Although the members of his charge rarely managed to pay him more than $225 a year, he was able to add $200 to his income by teaching five and a half days a week at the academy connected with his charge. On the grand sum of $425 a year, he married Marian Elizabeth Huston of Mercersburg on April 11, 1839.

In July, 1840, he was called to Waynesboro where he served until April, 1845, when the charge was divided, and he felt he could not happily associate himself with either half without the other.

Takes Church in Easton

Easton called, and he readily accepted. Here was but one congregation, and hence he had more time for study. Moreover, it was near the field of his venerated grandfather Hoffmeier's ministry. Here he spent a very happy, successful, and influential term as the English pastor of the congregation for six years.

In August 1852, he was called to Philadelphia as pastor of the Race Street Church. However, the Easton congregation refused to accept his resignation and raised his salary $200 to $1200 and gave him the use of the parsonage. When in 1854, he was called again to the Race Street Church, he felt impelled to accept.

The Rev. Joseph F. Berg, D.D., who had been pastor at the Race Street Church was a very gifted man as well as an intense and ardent protestant. He became involved in a controversy with Dr. John W. Nevins of Mercersburg on the doctrinal issues underlying the subject of liturgical worship in the Reformed Church. He was one of the first to feel that the German Reformed Church was "on the way to Rome," and hence resigned his charge to accept a call from the Second Dutch Church of Philadelphia.

At Old Race St. Church

The so-called "Berg affair" called the attention of the city to the great controversy about to engage the Reformed denomination; and for a time the Old Race Street Church felt the full force of ecclesiastical ostracism. Moreover, little or no attempt had been made on the part of the denomination toward church extension in the city.

Sports Review

Gurzynski Predicts Improved Grid Season

Commenting on the coming season's football prospects for the Bears, head coach, Ray Gurzynski, '39 offers the following report to hopeful rooters: "With twenty-two veterans comprising the nucleus of a squad of 40 who reported for two-a-day practise sessions on September 6, the prospects appear bright for a good 1950 football season.

"Contact between coaches and players has been maintained by six issues of the 'Grizzly's Growl', a publication containing vital football information and news about the various players. Letters received from the players indicate a tremendous amount of enthusiasm toward the coming season.

"The coaches feel confident of winning at least four games this season. The material is good, the spirit and morale leave little to be desired. They expect to field a team superbly conditioned, well drilled in fundamentals, and battle-tested and toughened through numerous scrimmages during the pre-season training period.

"Returning from last year's squad are Captain Don Young, Bill Bond,

"The T formation will be used again this season. The coaches feel that both the ground and passing attack will function to a better degree because of the experience of the players involved."

Eight Seniors Spark Nine to 10-4 Record

The best baseball team since 1922! That's what they are saying about the 1950 baseball bruins, a team that won 10 out of 14 games. The 1922 team equalled that record, but you have to go back to the 1914 team's 13 and 5 record to find an Ursinus diamond team that fared better.

Sieb Pancoast and Ron Landes deserved heaps of credit for coaching their proteges to this enviable record, but without the eight seniors, who have played for the last time on Price Field, the record might easily have been reversed. In each victory one or more of them was the key to triumph.

Big George Saurman, the backbone of the mound staff, was unimpressive as a pitcher until this year. George wound up the season with a sensational record of five victories and only two setbacks, completing four of the seven games he started. The defeats came at the hands of Swarthmore and Delaware. Two of the best pitchers in collegiate ranks, Dick Hall and Doc Green of Delaware bested George.

New Training Room Aids Injured Athletes

Ursinus athletes now have the finest available equipment on hand for the treatment of the aches and sprains incident to sports competition.

Opened a year ago in the enlarged old coaches' dressing room in Thompson-Gay gymnasium, the new training room facilities include two infra-red lamps, one ultra-violet lamp, several portable heat lamps, a whirlpool bath, an automatic diathermy machine, the recently marketed hydrocolators, massage tables, a refrigerator and the various medical preparations necessary in injury treatments.

Supervised during the past year by Chet Hilger, '50, who served as trainer for all the teams and did an excellent job, the training room in many cases restored injured men to competition quickly.

Replacing Hilger this year when football season opens will be Dr. C. V. Roelofs, Phoenixville chiropodist, who has had experience as a trainer with the Chicago Stags basketball team and the Philadelphia Warriors basketball team. A graduate of the Chicago College of Chiropody and Pedic Surgery, Dr. Roelofs has also worked with several Chicago high schools. He describes as "very fine" the facilities Ursinus has to offer.

Diathermy Apparatus

Perhaps most helpful is the diathermy apparatus. Of the type standard in many hospitals, it is completely automatic and incorporates the refinements required by the Federal Communications Commission to eliminate interference with radio and television reception. By sending electric current through any portion of the body it relieves the pain of muscular injuries.

The whirlpool bath provides massage by heated water circulated by high pressure around injured parts. Large enough to accommodate one seated man it can also treat at one time two or three men with injured arms or legs.

Extremely useful, too, are the hydrocolators which are chemically treated pads that absorb heated water and when applied to an injury exude for as much as a half-hour the even moist heat found beneficial in relieving pain.

Treatment of athletes is not limited to the training room. The portable heat lamps and the electric heating pads are used frequently by the men to continue in their rooms the treatments suggested by the trainer.

2 Losses in Ten Years For Girls' Softball Teams

The girls' softball team finished another highly successful season, marred only by an 8-5 setback at the hands of Temple in the season's finale,—only the second loss suffered by coed teams in ten years of intercollegiate competition.

Drexel, Chestnut Hill, Albright, Beaver, Bryn Mawr, Swarthmore and Penn fell in succession before the Bruinette onslaught. The most crushing blow of all was a 22-0 no-hitter hurled by Marguerite Spencer at Chestnut Hill on May 4. Other season's highlights were the 27-3 and 20-0 runaways over Bryn Mawr and Swarthmore.

Golf Team Wins One

The men's golf team, in a seven-match schedule, scored only a single victory, over Moravian. Here is the season's record:

BOMBERGER

and the Reformed Church was losing ground.

For these reasons, Dr. Bomberger saw a real challenge in the Race Street Church position. Through his tireless efforts, new life ebbed persistently into the church, and it grew and thrived.

Two tragedies occurred while Bomberger was pastor at the Race Street Church—the Civil War which depleted his ranks and slowed his work for a little while; and the death of his wife on November 21, 1860.

His church gradually became a wealthy one, and a need for growth and new localities developed. Dr. Bomberger led his people in building up the Reformed Church in the city. Probably one of the most notable events occurred on Jan. 17, 1863 when the Tercentenary celebration of the Heidelberg Catechism was held at the Race Street Church—an event participated in by all the synods of the church.

Defender of Principles

Meanwhile Dr. Bomberger's congregation was ever fearful lest the high churchmen at Mercersburg would bring Romish tendencies into their liturgy. Bomberger was destined to become the great defender of protestant principles and practices of the Reformed Church. Fate put him in a prominent church among like-minded people. The storm had been brewing when he came to Philadelphia, and it rapidly grew more intense. Dr. Bomberger had always taken an active interest in the work of the synod; and now a Classis, at Synod, at the General Synod, he became a more and more dominant figure. He was not a man to relish a controversy. Indeed, it must have caused him real sorrow to lead opposition against men who were

and other phases of alumni work. The Alumni Secretary and the work of the alumni office will become vastly more important.

His reason for believing in these developments, however, is the significant point. "Why will this occur?" he asks. "Because, while our universities and colleges will of course continue to exist entirely for the benefit of the students, more and more it will be the alumni who will make this existence possible."

Alumni secretaries will, McCurdy believes, solve mechanically the matter of keeping records and devote much of their attention "to the mighty serious concerns of making higher education itself the most important realm in the land, after organized religion."

Such is the thinking in alumni offices across America today and here at Ursinus we are indeed heartened by the knowledge that Ursinus men and women everywhere understand the serious aspects of their relationship to their alma mater.
