To the Alumni:

All my associates at Ursinus join me in sending to the alumni good wishes for 1951.

The following paragraphs addressed to the alumni supplement "The Reports of Officers," submitted to the Board of Directors on November 21, 1950, and recently mailed to all alumni.

The reports outline the progress of Ursinus during recent years and our plans for the immediate future. It is obvious that our plans must to some extent depend upon the international situation and the military needs of the United States. At present no one can accurately predict to what level the enrollment at Ursinus and at other colleges will be reduced, but in the face of many uncertainties we can be certain that the reduction will be serious, and that the difficulty of providing adequate income for the operation of the College will be very great indeed. Consequently, we must seek the help of the alumni at once.

The alumni can help at once in two very important ways. First, the alumni can bring Ursinus to the attention of students who will appreciate the opportunities that Ursinus offers. At all times we need your help in attracting good students to Ursinus, but especially do we need it when military service will temporarily interfere with the plans of many who wish to attend Ursinus. Secondly, we need your help in bringing the Alumni Memorial Scholarship Fund to the desired total of $100,000. More than 900 alumni have contributed. I invite even those alumni who have already made gifts to this fund to send additional gifts now. Many of the most promising students who wish to enter Ursinus need and deserve scholarship grants, and we—the alumni and the other friends of Ursinus—should do our utmost to make these grants available.

Ursinus, together with all other colleges and universities, faces several very difficult years. I am confident that, with the help of the alumni, Ursinus can continue to grow in strength and to serve even better and more generously than in the past. We need your help now.

Five Sons and Daughters of Alumni Members of 1954 Class at Ursinus

Enrollment Totals Eight Hundred and Ten as Eighty-first Year Reaches Mid-Year Point

Now at the mid-year point in its 81st academic year, Ursinus has an enrollment of 810 students, 523 of whom are men and 287, women.

Many of these students have chosen Ursinus as their college through the influence of our alumni and included in the freshman class of 196 are five sons and daughters of Ursinus graduates.

These second-generation Ursinusites we are especially happy to welcome.

Believing that you might like to know who they are we are including these brief biographical notes.

James W. Bright, Jr., is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. James W. Bright, his father being a member of the class of 1922 and pastor of the Ascension Evangelical and Reformed Church at Norristown, Pa. Rev. Bright is also president of the Philadelphia Synod of the E. & R. Church.

"Jimmy" graduated from the Eisenhower High School, Norristown, last June where he was a member of various musical organizations and the varsity swimming team. At Ursinus he is taking the pre-med course and hopes to become a surgeon. His sister, Phyllis R. Bright, graduated from the college in 1948.

Michael R. Deitz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Deitz, his father, who is now an actuary in Hollis, N. Y., having graduated in 1924.

A graduate of the Brooklyn Technical High School last June, "Mike" is taking the pre-med course and expects to become a physician.

Third Generation Represented

The enrollment of Isobel Helfferich at Ursinus has brought to the campus another member of a family that has been prominent in the college's development through the past half century. Her father, Randolph G. Helfferich graduated in 1929 and her mother, who was Isobel Johnson, graduated in 1927. Isobel's grandmother and grandfather, the William U. Helfferichs, are alumni as well as her uncles, Donald L., and Reginald H.

Isobel is taking the Biology course and plans to become a medical technologist. A graduate of the Upper Darby Senior High School in 1950 she was active in many high school organizations. She was a member of the school choir, the staff of the literary magazine, participated in dramatics and intramural hockey and baseball.

To Shirley H. Holt goes the distinction of coming the longest distance to enroll at Ursinus. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman W. Holt, she was Elizabeth Howell, '29, her home is in Duxbury, Mass., where her father is an engineering draftsman.

Shirley was graduated from the Pembroke High school last June where she was a member of the Library Club, the Yearbook staff and played basketball.

At Ursinus she is taking the Business Administration course.

Barbara J. Kuebler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Kuebler, of Philadelphia. Her father was a member of the class of 1931. Barbara received her high school diploma at John Bartram in Philadelphia last June. As a student there she was a member of the school honor society, the staffs of the yearbook and school newspaper and the swimming club.

Majoring in Romance Languages, Barbara is preparing to become an interpreter.

Lt. Governor L. H. Wood Takes Harrisburg Office

Elected in the Republican victory in Pennsylvania last November, Lloyd H. Wood, '25, took his oath of office as Lieutenant-Governor on January 16 at Harrisburg.

Dr. Miller To Present
10-Week Course on TV

Many of you who live in the Philadelphia area will have an opportunity this year to revive classroom memories through the medium of television.

Dr. Eugene H. Miller, '33, professor of political science at Ursinus, was selected as one of the university and college faculty members from the Philadelphia area to take part in the noteworthy effort of WFIL-TV to bring to television audiences a high-level educational program in the series, "University of the Air." The time is 11:00 a.m. to noon each weekday.

Scheduled for a ten-week period commencing January 2 of this year, the series will include lectures by well-known instructors in subjects designed primarily to interest the housewife. The course being given by Dr. Miller on comparative governments is titled: "Governments Around the World," and is aired each Monday from 11:10 to 11:30 a.m.

Dr. Miller, a member of the Ursinus faculty since 1935, is a son of Dr. and Mrs. Howard U. Miller, of Reading, both Ursinus graduates. In addition to teaching political science he has also served as the registrar and dean of men. In recent years Dr. Miller has become well-known through the East as a student of international relations.

Both in scope and duration the WFIL experiment exceeds the plans heretofore initiated in this new field's programming and if successful it offers the promise of fulfilling to some extent the great educational opportunities in television.

From those of you in the Philadelphia area who have the chance to follow the development of this program and especially the course on comparative governments, Dr. Miller will be glad to receive comments.
16 Receive Degrees On Founders' Day

McConnell Delivers Address; Three Alumni Honored

Four honorary degrees and 16 degrees in course were conferred by President N. E. McConnell at the Founder's Day Convocation held October 11 in Bomberger Hall.

Congressman Samuel K. McConnell, Jr., representative from the 16th Pennsylvania District, delivered the Founders' Day address. He received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

The LL.D. degree was also bestowed upon Chester Robbins, '13, Deputy Commissioner of Education for the state of New Jersey, and Francis J. Gildner, '00, Allentown attorney.

The honorary Doctor of Divinity degree was conferred upon the Rev. Elmer E. Leiphart, '19, minister of the Christ Evangelical and Reformed Church of Philadelphia.

Mr. Robbins, Mr. Gildner and Rev. Leiphart are members of the Board of Directors of Ursinus.

The following received Bachelor of Arts degrees: Donald R. Aikens, Bala-Cynwyd; John L. Bower, Glassboro, N. J.; Barbara Jarden, Moyland; David J. Knauer, West Chester; Jack A. Mol-vie, Schwenksville; Muriel E. Scholl, Norristown; Arthur J. Wilkie, Jr., Glenside, and William A. Withers, Elizabethtown.

Those receiving Bachelor of Science degrees were: Robert J. Hekking, New York City; Werner J. Hollendonner, Trenton, N. J.; Charles W. Kuhn, Philadelphia; Edward E. Love, Morristown, N. J.; Roger D. Lovelace, Sicklelerville; Robert Poole, III, Doyles-town; John J. Sampsel, Shenandoah Heights; and Joseph W. Simpson, Norristown.

American Magazine Spotlights Isabelle Barr

For her work as a “sleuth” at the Radioactive Isotope Laboratory, Bethesda, Md., Isabelle Barr, '48, was featured in the pages devoted to “Interesting People” in the January issue of American Magazine.

Miss Barr is assigned the task of guarding 150 scientists and workers from radioactive materials used in medical research at the Maryland laboratory which is connected with the U. S. Public Health Service. Daily she

York Alumni Show Noss Film as Scholarship Benefit

“Pennsylvania Dutch No. II,” a movie produced and edited by Charles H. Noss, a director of Ursinus College, had its premiere showing on November 16 in St. Paul’s Lutheran Church, York, Pa., under the sponsorship of the York County Alumni Association. Proceeds of the evening’s program, totaling nearly $1,000, will be used by the York group to provide scholarships to Ursinus.

Mr. Noss’ new movie is a sequel to “Pennsylvania Dutch No. I” and was made in the Amish section of Lancaster County. Many of the scenes recorded by his camera are the first ever made of the Amish who permitted him to film their farm and home activities on the express stipulation that the film would never be shown in Lancaster County.

Starting his movie hobby in 1928 by filming the Grand Canyon, which unexpectedly brought many requests for public showings, Mr. Noss has traveled with Mrs. Noss through the entire United States and many foreign lands to produce a number of successful films. These films, in turn, have been shown by Mr. Noss throughout the East at a number of benefits for churches and charitable organizations with all income going to the sponsoring group. Up to last September

Dr. Jessie Greaves Named “Distinguished Daughter”

Many years of devoted service to the blind brought to Mrs. Harry Greaves (Jessie Royer, ’92) last October the distinction of being numbered among Pennsylvania’s 12 most distinguished women of 1950.

At ceremonies held in Philadelphia during the observance of “Pennsylvania Week,” she received from Mrs. James H. Duff, wife of the governor, a specially minted gold medal symbolic of her selection. The medal recipients were chosen from 125 candidates nominated by 225 women’s groups in the state and were named “Distinguished Daughters of Pennsylvania.”

Founder and Principal of the Royer-Greaves School for the Blind, located at Paoli, Mrs. Greaves, known in educational circles as Dr. Jessie Royer Greaves, taught for 20 years in the Overbrook School for Blind. As a result of that experience she concluded that special instruction should be developed for the retarded blind. The establishment of the Royer-Greaves School followed.

Twenty-five years of direction by Mrs. Greaves have brought to the school, the only one of its kind in America, a secure position in the field of blind education. Located on 13 acres on South Valley Road, Paoli, the school has three large buildings and approximately 40 pupils ranging in age from seven to 20. The students live in a home atmosphere and attend daily classes on a schedule similar to other schools. Mrs. Greaves received an honorary Ped.D. degree from Ursinus in 1939.

Others honored in Pennsylvania last year were Pearl S. Buck, Mrs. J. Edward Durham, Jr., Mrs. Lyman D. Gilbert, Miss Mabel L. Gillespie, Miss Elsie Singmaster, Miss Sarah D. Lowrie, Miss Violet Oakley, Mrs. Arthur Hoyt Scott, Dr. Florence Barbara Siebert, Mrs. John F. Stanwell-Fletcher, and Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton.

Ursinus Ivy at Cedar Crest

In dedication ceremonies of the new Alumnae Hall at Cedar Crest College, Allentown, on October 28, Ursinus participated with a number of other colleges and universities, by providing an ivy rooting taken from Bomberger Hall.

Alumni Activities

Glassmoyer Resigns
As Journal Editor

Notified last August of his probable call to active service within a few months, Thomas P. Glassmoyer, '36, editor of the Journal since the Winter Issue of 1949, has submitted his resignation to the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association. At this writing Tom's reporting date is January 29.

Separated from the service following World War II as a first lieutenant in the Judge Advocate General's Department, Tom has since that time been in the inactive reserves. He anticipates re-assignment to the Judge Advocate General's staff.

As the editor of the Journal, Tom has spent many hours of his spare time to build the publication into an interesting news-filled periodical. His competence and enthusiasm for the work will be missed and to him the members of the Association are sincerely grateful for his generous service.

To carry on the work of issuing the Journal, the Executive Committee has appointed Dr. J. Harold Brownback, '21, and Harry M. Froisberg, Alumni Secretary, co-editors, and a JOURNAL staff composed of the following: Muriel Brandt Pancost, '38; Elizabeth Ballinger Grove, '38; Louis Krug, '37; and Paul Levengood, '35.

Ursinus Women's Club
Holds Annual Luncheon

Forty indefatigable members of the Ursinus Women's Club, undaunted by the 70-mile gale on Saturday, November 25, attended the club's annual Christmas luncheon at the Gimbel Brothers' store in Philadelphia.

Over-flowing streams and streets littered with the debris of trees, poles and wires barred many but those who successfully negotiated the obstacles enjoyed a pleasant reunion.

President Elizabeth Ware Davison, '38, greeted the group and introduced the club's officers and committee chairmen. Dorothea McCormick Robinson, '39, sang several solos accompanied by Betty Usinger Paisley, '40, and led the club in singing.

Mary McPherson, '51, president of the W. S. G. A. reported on recent changes at Ursinus.

New York Association
Elects Rev. N. Alexander

The annual meeting of the New York Vicinity Alumni Association was held in the Solarium of the Barboin Hotel for Women at 63rd Street and Lexington Avenue, New York City, on Wednesday, May 3, 1950. President Naomi Kistler Roeder, '24, presiding.

Thirty alumni attended, including Samuel T. Roeder, graduate of Franklin & Marshall, and an alumnus by marriage.

The following officers were unanimously elected for the year 1951: President, the Rev. Kenneth Neal Alexander, '31; vice president, Nicholas J. Palladino, '19; secretary, Mrs. Mary Hyde Sauder, '41, and treasurer, J. Wilbur Clayton, '28.

Dr. N. E. McClure reported on the state of the college, and also delivered a most provocative address on the "welfare state" and its effect on private educational institutions.

Harry M. Froisberg, alumni secretary, spoke about the present and future of the general Alumni Association and the role of local groups in the all-over program.

The Rev. Alexander plans to hold informal meetings during the year in addition to the usual annual meeting. The annual meeting of the New York group is always scheduled for the first Wednesday evening in May.

Memorable Old Timers' Day Enjoyed by Many

Ideal weather, a large number of returning alumni, a football victory, the alumni reception and the evening's Varsity Club dance—but chiefly the stunning performance of the Bears on Patterson Field—joined to bring a heartening warmth to the grads, old and new, on Old Timers' Day.

Throwing everything at the Swarthmore eleven from ball-carrying by a tackle and a center to a well-executed forward-lateral, the Gurzynski men tickled the fancies of an almost capacity crowd by piling up a convincing 35-14 victory. Capt. Don Young auspiciously returned to action after an early season injury to play one of his finest games of the year scoring two touchdowns and intercepting two Carnet passes. Once on the way to sweeping Swarthmore off its feet the Bears were in no mood to be stopped although the opposition brought temporary pains to the Bruins by scoring 14 points quickly in the third quarter to bring the score to 21 to 14 with Ursinus leading. Brushing the threat aside, however, the Bruins kept driving to the finish.

Following the game free coffee and sandwiches were provided by the Alumni Association in a reception in the new gymnasium. The Association also held a souvenir sale of small antiques, plants, various items of Ursinus labelled merchandise and attractive Ursinus lamps.

Proceeds from the sale were used to defray the expenses of the reception and a net of approximately $26 was placed in the Association treasury.

Members of the committee planning the affair were Mrs. Elizabeth Stevenson, '25, chairman; Dr. J. Harold Brownback, '21; Paul Levengood, '38; Mrs. G. Sieber Pancost, '38, and Mrs. William J. Grove, '38.

To these hard-working committee members who also served at the tables during the reception together with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Krug, William J. Grove, G. Sieber Pancost, and David Stevenson, much credit is due. Their success appears to have set a precedent for the reception which should make it a regular part of the Old Timers' Day program.

Arvanitis To Do Research On Heart-Lung Machine

Dr. Charles P. Bailey, who created wide interest throughout the medical field early in December by announcing the development of a heart-lung machine, has selected Steve Arvanitis, '49, as one of two undergraduate members of his research group working on perfecting the machine.

Steve's special problem is the finding of a method of surgical repair for congenital defects of the atrial septum.

Chief chest surgeon at Hahmemann Hospital in Philadelphia, and one of America's outstanding heart surgeons, Dr. Bailey has tested his machine on animals and hopes that it will perform equally as well with human beings.

Housed in a transparent cabinet 30 inches high, 16 inches wide and 18 inches deep, the machine detours blood from the heart and lung and takes over their functions. It takes the blood from two veins near the heart and pumps refreshed blood back into the neck artery, by-passing the heart and lung. This, it is believed, will make possible new kinds of chest operations and medical treatment of heart and lung diseases.

It is used when the heart has stopped and cannot be revived by medication or massage.

Alumni Plan Fund Benefit at Ursinus

Sponsored by the Alumni Association of Ursinus College, the film "Pennsylvania Dutch No. 1," produced by Charles H. Noss, a member of the Board of Directors, will be shown Thursday, April 26, at 8:15 p.m. in Thompson-Gay gym on the Ursinus campus.

Picturing the life of the Amish in Southeastern Pennsylvania, the film has been enthusiastically received at Mr. Noss' numerous showings throughout the East.

All proceeds—Mr. Noss even pays for admission to his own shows—will be counted as alumni contributions to the Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Won't you set April 26 aside and plan to attend this benefit showing at Ursinus? More complete details will be announced later.

Dr. G. E. Pfahler Named To Alumni Presidency

Dr. George E. Pfahler, who has long been associated with Medico Chi College and the Graduate School of Medicine in Philadelphia, was elected Honorary President of the newly formed G.S.M.—Medico Chi Alumni Society in September.

A graduate of Medico Chi in 1898, Dr. Pfahler has taught for more than forty years at Medico Chi and the Graduate School of Medicine. Since 1945 he has been Emeritus Professor and Emeritus Vice Dean of the two schools which merged in 1916.

A member of the Board of Directors of Ursinus and a college benefactor, Dr. Pfahler holds the honorary degrees of Sc.D. and L.L.D. from Ursinus.

1950-51 Committees Are Appointed

The following committees were appointed by the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association at its meeting in November.

Nominating Committee: Mrs. Elizabeth Stevenson, '25, Chairman.

Election Committee: C. Arthur George, '24, Chairman; Rev. Alfred W. Creager, '33, and Warren Frances, '30.

At its September meeting, the Executive Committee had named Dr. Eugene H. Miller, '33, and Dr. J. Harold Brownback, '21, to the Library Committee.

Alumni Prominent In Church Pageant

A number of Ursinus people participated in a 225th Anniversary Observance of the first communion service of the Reformed Church in America held at the Falkner Swamp Reformed Church, New Hanover, Pa., on October 15.

Author and producer of the pageant "Witnesses in Trust" was Mildred B. Hahn, '31. Dr. Paul T. Slinghoff, president of the Reading Synod, was chairman of the committee planning the pageant.

The Rev. William Solly, pastor of the church, delivered the prologue and enacted the part of John Philip Boehm and the Rev. Paul Haas, '37, played the part of John Calvin.

Ursinus College seniors, James Johnston and Mabel Faust, also took part in the pageant.
Barbara Crawford, of Bridgeton, N. J., and Nelson Fellman, of Norristown, have been chosen the co-editors of the 1952 "Ruby." Business managers will be Marjorie Donaldson, of Aldan, Pa., and Gene Pascucci, of Norristown.

First formal of the year, the Senior "Snow Ball," was held at Sunnybrook on December 9th with Matt Gillespie and his orchestra providing the music.

When you next return to the campus you will miss several of the trees remembered as part of the Ursinus picture for many years. The high winds of November 25 toppled the beautiful spruce near the southeast entrance and another spruce just west of Bomberger. In all, fifty or sixty smaller evergreens on the college properties were uprooted. The Clamer grounds suffered most with a sugar maple and two spruces lost. Two stained glass windows in Bomberger were also blown in.

Mary McPherson, of Lancaster, who reigned as "Harvest Queen" on Old Timers' Day, has been chosen "May Queen" for this year. Her court will include Bevlyn Syvertsen of Havertown; Helen Dawson, of Merrick, N. Y.; Ruth Reed, of Cranbury, N. J.; Molly Sharp, of Mount Holly, N. J.; Jonnie Graf, of Trenton, N. J., and Ruth Sharp, of Mount Holly, N. J.

Credited by the Weekly as "a vehicle for some of the best dramatic acting the Curtain Club has ever turned out," the thriller, "Angel Street" was presented December 1 and 2, the season's first play. Cast members were Jonnie Graf, of Trenton, Howard Roberts, Long Beach, Calif.; Emile Schmidt, of New York City; Marge Paynter, of Philadelphia and Susan Deitz, of York.

More than ever this year the "rec" center has been fulfilling its intended purpose. Completely re-decorated last September by the members of the "Y" organizations, the center has a refreshment bar and soft-drink dispensers as well as a new 19 inch television set given to the college by Emanuel Eichler, of Hillside, N. J., father of Bernard Eichler, a freshman. Members of the "Y" take turns supervising the center.

Fifteen seniors were selected for inclusion in this year’s "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities." They are: Nancy Bare, Roger Drechsler, Mahle Faust, Robert Herber, Janet Hunter, Floyd Justice, Harry Light, Mary McPherson, Russell Mack, Marilyn Joyce Miller, Patricia Richardson, Emile Schmidt, Donald Stauffer, Marjorie Taylor and Donald Young.

Main street took on a new appearance for the Adelphi game as the Spirit Committee initiated the custom of decorating the dorms. The men's dorm at 724 Main won first honors. The trophy, a black lacquered gallon oil container, was presented ceremoniously to the dorm representative at half-time by the head of the Spirit Committee, "Whis" Donahue.
We have read in a previous article about the conflict in the Reformed church and how Ursinus College was started as direct opposition to the views of the high churchmen. It was opened as an institution to train young men for the ministry with teachings based on the principles of the Heidelberg Catechism in direct opposition to high liturgy or so-called “Romish” tendencies.

Dr. Bomberger did not accept the presidency of Ursinus until September 1869, although he had been chosen in June of that year. It was not because he lacked interest that he hesitated—not by any means. He did much to establish the college by helping to choose its name, to make the provisions of its charter and to draft its constitution. Proof of his help in financing the little college came in September 1869 when it was reported that he had obtained pledges for more than $25,000.

Moves to Trappe

Dr. Bomberger, however, was no longer a young man. He loved his work as pastor of the Race Street Church in Philadelphia and his work brought him a steady and substantial income. Taking over the presidency of Ursinus College meant giving up a fixed salary; promised nothing but uncertainty. Fate was with him, or perhaps we should say with Ursinus, for the St. Luke’s Reformed Church of Trappe, the little town next to Freeland (Collegeville) asked him to become its pastor. This meant at least a partial answer to his problem for it gave him means of living and offered him the opportunity to continue his pastoral work which he loved so much. At the same time, he would be near enough to give his help and time to the little college that needed him so badly. Although there is no record of his formal acceptance made in the Minutes of the Board of Directors at Ursinus, from this time on his relation as president was assumed.

There are men who have said that Dr. Bomberger founded Ursinus because he was bitterly disappointed when he was not elected professor of theology in the Theological Seminary at Mercersburg in 1863. The Rev. Henry Harbaugh was elected in his stead. This has been refuted by many, among whom was Dr. Bomberger himself. While he championed the cause of Ursinus, we know he hesitated long before he accepted the responsibility of acting as its head. He was not looking for personal glory—he was furthering a cause in which he believed.

It is interesting to note that Bomberger’s first home in Freeland was an old-fashioned homestead, the former home of Captain H. H. Fetterolf, directly opposite the college grounds. In 1876, Dr. Bomberger purchased the land of Abram Grater and built Zwingli Hof as his home. Today we know this house as Shreiner Hall.

Faces Financial Problems

Of course, Dr. Bomberger’s hardest job in the early years of his presidency was financing the college, and that was a job, indeed. The “Panic of ’73” brought many financial failures and lost fortunes including those of some of Bomberger’s most ardent supporters. The original endowment dissolved. Because the whole idea of Ursinus College was viewed by many of the Reformed Churchmen as “irregular,” asking support through the regular channels of benevolence in the church was made impracticable. The leaders and workers for the college, however, did look to the church for help and did receive it. The result of this appeal to the churches for maintenance made the college a center of interest for great numbers of people in the Reformed Church. It was no longer “Dr. Bomberger’s College,” but one of the institutions of the Reformed Church.

We read of tireless work of Bomberger and his followers to raise money, and of the great benevolence of men like Robert Patterson and others. Very gradually the financial burden lifted.

Writer, Teacher, Thinker

As an educator, Dr. Bomberger would probably be called “a doctor of the old school.” He relied on deductive reasoning and on authority, but he was very definitely an original thinker. A profound and serious teacher, he probably “talked over the heads” of many of his students; but his biographers tell us he was merciful in assigning grades.

His writing in the Mercersburg Review, the Reformed Church Monthly, and the Christian World show him to have been a very profound thinker and a versatile writer. In addition to his many articles in these publications, some of Dr. Bomberger’s sermons were published. He is also remembered in the field of literature for several translations: “Kurtz’s Textbook of Church History” and “The Protestant Theological and Ecclesiastical Encyclopedia.”

Busy as he was with his college and his St. Luke’s pastorate, Dr. Bomberger continued to be active in Reformed Church work. The General Synod at Lebanon in 1890 conferred on him the highest honor it could bestow by electing him its president. Hence, he happily lived to see the fruits of his labors. But he served only briefly. After his election, he conducted the exercises of the 19th Annual Commencement at Ursinus, and then went to Ocean Grove, N. J., for a short, much-needed rest. Hardly had he returned to Collegeville to take up his duties, when he was stricken ill and died at the age of 73 on August 19, 1890.

Our picture of Dr. Bomberger is that of a man who accepted man’s responsibility for the welfare of his fellow-man—a courageous, yet a humble man, fearless yet devout. He lived a life freely and liberally given for the public good. Such was the first president of Ursinus College.

Seedersmen Off to High Scoring
Start in 1950-51 Campaign

Four of Five Taken by Bears
In Pre-Christmas Games

Four victories reeled off in five games before the Christmas recess have convinced Ursinus court followers that this year's edition, whipped into a fast-striking, accurate combine by Coach Jerry Seeders, is one of the best to represent the college in several years.

Scoring 352 points in their early games, one effort going to a record 102 points against Susquehanna, the team has set a blistering pace against all opposition except strong Lycoming of Williamsport. The latest win was a 73-55 over a much surprised F. & M. team.

Strong at all positions, the Bears are a well-balanced unit. Manning forward spots are co-captains Ira Bronson and Don Young. Always a driving performer who plays his heart out who is 6.8, provides the important height under the baskets. An up and down performer last year as a freshman, Swett has shown much improvement this year and is scoring repeatedly with his lay-up and hook shots. Wimberg, who is one of the fastest men on the squad, has returned in fine physical condition after a back injury forced him out in mid-season a year ago, and again is a great point-maker.

Speedy, aggressive and steady, Dave Reice, Stan Cohen and Phil Seibel, the three guards used by Seeders, form a tight, hard-to-penetrate back-court unit. Each, however, can shoot well. Seibel in mid-December ranked fourth among Philadelphia district scorers.

Bruin Grapplers
Face “Fair” Season

Prospects for the coming mat season are described by Coach Kuhrt Wienke as “only fair.”

Three returning lettermen and one experienced freshman will form the nucleus of the varsity line-up as Wienke attempts to build another winning combination.

Co-captaining the team this year are Bill Helfferich and Ted Miller, although much of the burden will fall on Bill, for Ted will probably be out all season as a result of an operation during the past summer. Bill will be trying for his third undefeated season and will defend the Middle Atlantic Conference unlimited crown he has held for the past two years.

Lettermen Loren Zimmereman and Dick Geigel will be back and Wienke is counting on these two men to produce much-needed points in the 137 and 147-pound classes, respectively.

Ed Marshall, Jr., of Upper Darby, a freshman with high school varsity experience is expected to do well in the 123-pound class.

Bruin mat fortunes in other classes will probably rest on T. French Youngman at 130, Jim Duncan or Gerald Donahue at 157, Gene Glick or Bill Fischer at 167 and Gene Pascucci or Floyd Justice at 177.

Hockeyites Take Five; Vadner on All-College

The 1950 hockey campaign brought to Coach Eleanor Snell’s stick-artists five victories in their eight outings. Graduation will take Captain Keyser, left halfback Janet Hunter, Nancy Vadner, who has played almost every position on the hockey squad, and Marion Kurtz, captain of the junior varsity squad.

In the All-College competition, Nancy Vadner was named to the left halfback spot on the first team, Audrey Rittenhouse and Jean Leity, made varsity squad.

Heartening, too, was the performance of one of the best groups of freshman candidates in recent years. Among these are ends Dick Sharpe, Ed Sella and Orin Houser, tackles Marty Boyer, Coleman Curtis, and Tapp Webb, guard John Anderson, and backs Ben Maliken, Dick Glock, Bill Fynon, and Al John. Injuries, unfortunately, kept Maliken and Fynon out nearly the entire season.

Seniors who have played their last Ursinus game include Capt. Don Young, Bob J. Davis, Joe Walker, John Law, Gene Glick, “Chic” Seirica, Don Stauffer, Herb Fry, Bill Helfferich, Frank Lafferty, Steve Munch, and Reid Watson, who was this year’s team manager. Reid’s playing days were ended last year when he sustained a serious neck injury.

Opponents in selecting “all” teams for the season included several Ursinus men. F. & M. named Young and Helfferich to their “all-opponent” team and Drexel placed Young on their select list of opponents.

Eleven Tabs Two Wins; Frosh Play Big Role

Ursinus in its first season under Coach Ray Gurzynski, ’39, posted a record of two victories, five defeats and one tie, the best eight-game tally since 1939, but to the coaches and the Bears’ grid followers two other developments brought increased satisfaction.

Throughout the season the team displayed a consistently improved brand of play that made every game exciting and statistically close. Only in the F. & M. game were the Bruins completely outclassed. Heartening, too, was the performance of one of the best groups of freshman candidates in recent years.

Among these are ends Dick Sharpe, Ed Sella and Orin Houser, tackles Marty Boyer, Coleman Curtis, and Tapp Webb, guard John Anderson, and backs Ben Maliken, Dick Glock, Bill Fynon, and Al John. Injuries, unfortunately, kept Maliken and Fynon out nearly the entire season.

Soccer Team Winless; Ties Alumni, 2-2

Working with a small, inexperienced squad, Coach “Doc” Baker developed a hustling team but was forced to watch the 1950 soccer season go by without a victory.

Scoring 11 goals, the Bakermen nearly doubled the point output of last year’s team, but ran into rugged opposition all along the line.

In the Old Timers’ Day tussle, the Alumni team moved into a 2-0 lead in the first half on scores by Herb Deen, ’48, and Archie Simons, ’48. The varsity booters came back strong in the second half, however, and goals by Jack Arthur and Harry Light tied the count.

Graduates back to man the Alumni team were Dan Hartline, ’41; Dick Wentzel, ’49; Roy Weidman, ’47; Vic Morningstar, ’42; John Peterson, ’50; Bob Luginbuh, ’42; Bert Light, ’48; Rev. Bud Adams, ’40; Herb Deen, ’48; Archie Simons, ’48; Dick Fink, ’48; Al Knepper, ’49, and Dick Hunter, ’45.

Six of Baker’s men closed their collegiate careers in the season’s finale with F. & M. Captain Johnny Powell, a stellar performer for four years, sustained a fractured foot in the second game and sat out the remainder of the season. Others graduating in June are Harry Light, rugged center halfback for two years, Jim Duncan, Jack Arthur, Roy Foster, and Jack Chris tensen.

Ursinus College Bulletin
Sarah Kulp Wagner, '85

Heart failure caused the sudden death of Sarah Kulp Wagner on November 14 at her home in Swarthmore. She was 83 years of age.

Closely associated with Ursinus for many years, she was born in Harmony Square, Montgomery County, Pa., in 1867. Much of her early life was spent in Gratersford where her father, Isaac Kulp, operated a general store.

She was married in 1888 to Charles A. Wagner, '06, by Dr. H. A. Bomberger, first president of Ursinus. Mr. Wagner's teaching assignments took the family to Ashburne, Pa., where he served as superintendent of the Chesterham School District and to West Chester, Pa., where Wagner taught pedagogy at West Chester Normal School. Later the family moved to Wilmington where Dr. Wagner, who received his Ph.D. from the University of Pennsylvania, was Commissioner of Education for the State of Delaware. He was subsequently Superintendent of Schools in Chester, Pa. He died in 1924.

Mrs. Wagner and her children, Dr. Ernest C., '10, and Edna M., '14, moved to their present Swarthmore home in 1937. She continued in excellent health until her death. Her last visit to the Ursinus campus came on the past Alumni Day when she was the guest of honor at the 40th Reunion Luncheon of her son's class.

Surviving are a son, Dr. Ernest C. Wagner, professor of Chemistry at the University of Pennsylvania, and Edna M. Wagner, head of the English Department at the Chester High School.

Daniel F. Kelley, '01

Daniel Francis Kelley, a long-time resident of Puerto Rico, died on May 29, 1950.

A graduate of the New York University Law School, he became associated with the Department of Justice in San Juan and at his death served as counsel to the law firm of Charles R. Hartzell in San Juan.

David R. Rohrbach, '07

David Renninger Rohrbach, retired and living at Bechtlesville, Pa., died on January 3, 1950.

Necrology

Born in Berks County in 1875 he received his degree from Ursinus in 1907 and his M.A. degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1912.

During his career as a teacher he was successively Superintendent of the Monroe Township, N. J. Schools from 1904 to 1909 and the Egg Harbor City, N. J., Schools from 1909 to 1933. He served also as president of the South Jersey Schoolmen's Association from 1916 to 1918 and the Atlantic Principals' Association from 1918 to 1921.

Russell C. Johnson, '16

Russell C. "Jing" Johnson, a former pitcher for the Philadelphia Athletics and athletic director of Ursinus College for 13 years, was killed in an automobile collision on Route 422, three miles west of Trappe on December 6. "Jing" was 56 years old.

One of the most prominent sports figures to be graduated from Ursinus, "Jing" became nationally known as a baseball pitcher but he had many varied interests. Popular and respected, he was a leader in the organization of several intercollegiate sports while a member of the Ursinus staff.

Born at Parkerton, Pa., he received his degree from Ursinus in 1916 and embarked on a professional baseball career with the Philadelphia Athletics that year. He was with the "A's" again in 1917, 1919, 1927 and 1928. He pitched for various independent clubs for six years from 1920 to 1927, Baltimore in 1928, and Allentown in 1929.

As a baseball coach he served at Bucknell University for one year in 1922 and at Lehigh University from 1925 to 1927. For three years he worked as a research chemist for the Bethlehem Steel Co. at Bethlehem, Pa.

Coming back to Ursinus in 1930 as baseball coach and Director of Athletics and also serving later as Manager of Properties, he led the baseball teams to a 56 won, 63 lost record during his coaching span.

He was instrumental in the organization of the Eastern Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Basketball League, the E.P.I. Baseball League, and the Middle Atlantic Football and Wrestling Associations. In his last year at Ursinus he was president of the M.A.F. & W.A. He also held the offices of president of the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Conference and secretary of the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference. He initiated the formation of the Varsity Club and the Cub and Key Society. For a number of years he served on the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association and was elected the Association president in 1943.

After leaving Ursinus he became an administrative assistant in the Personnel Relations Department, Marine Depot, Philadelphia. The following three years were spent with the Veterans Administration and in 1948 he became associated with an appliance store in Pottstown as a department manager, a position he held at his death. The Johnsons continued to live on Sixth Avenue, Collegeville.

He is survived by his wife, the former Mary H. Seiz, also of the Class of '16, and a son, Donald, an engineering student at Johns Hopkins University.

D. Wayne Channell, D.D., '33

The Rev. Dr. Wayne Channell, retired Methodist minister, died at the home of a son, John W. Channell, in Lansdowne, Pa., on October 2, in his 74th year.

Rev. Channell had been an active minister for 44 years and a member of the Philadelphia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church for more than 50 years.

A graduate of Dickinson College in 1897, he received a Doctor of Divinity degree from Ursinus in 1933.

Among his charges were congregations in Norristown, Coatesville, Asbury, Allentown, Frankford and Germantown.

He is survived by his wife, Charlotte M., a son, John Wayne, and four daughters, Miss Ruth Channell, Mrs. Neil Whittaker, Mrs. Norman W. Wood, and Mrs. John Graham.

Atsuo Hashizume, ex '40

Atsuo Hashizume, 31, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hashizume, of Ventnor, N. J., died in a Trenton hospital on November 10.

Born in Atlantic City he graduated from the high school there and spent four years at Ursinus.

Prior to his death he had been working with his father who operates a Boardwalk gift shop in Atlantic City.

News About Ourselves

CLASS OF ’78

The oldest living graduate of Ursinus, Samuel L. Hertzog, celebrated his 98th birthday on November 3, with a number of friends gathering at his home at 505 Eighteenth Street, Tuscaloosa, Ala.

CLASS OF ’98

Frequently reminiscent notes come to the Alumni Office and one we especially enjoyed came to us from William Howard Johnson, ’98, now living at the Cosmos Club, 1520 H. St., N.W., Washington, D. C.

Wrote Mr. Johnson: "Your last Bulletin brought back many memories. Appreciated "Charley" Rahn’s biography. His two Ursinus classmates, George Longacre and Horace Williams, and I were day students and jointly rented a room in old East College. "Charley" was a frequent visitor to our room. He was the only Lutheran in the group.

"I like the historical article in the last issue, too. My father attended Freeland Seminary after he finished public school. His second attack of pneumonia kept him from "graduation" and he was never able thereafter to go on with his studies for the ministry. He was ordered to stay outdoors and became a farmer. But his heart was not in farming. He died early due to his third attack of pneumonia as I ended my prep work for Ursinus in 1894.

"Bob Kulp and I meet here at The Cosmos Club and talk over the old associations. I put my copies of the Ursinus Bulletin on the Club magazine rack. Dr. McClure is highly esteemed by the Association of College Professors here."

CLASS OF ’00

The Rev. Carl G. Petri, D.D., has retired from his charge at Skippack, Pa., and is residing at 230 W. 7th Ave., Trappe.

An interesting letter from Jack R. Webb, '50, reports on his life in Norway since his graduation. It follows:

"As I guess you remember I went to the summer school here at the University of Oslo for eight weeks. We had lectures on every phase of Norwegian life from religion to politics and history to polar geography. Each weekend we took tours to various parts of Norway. The hospitality here is unbeat­able. I would recommend the summer school to anyone. It was one of the most interesting and beneficial times of my life.

"After the summer school I took a trip to Denmark and Sweden, to Copenhagen, that is really one fine town. They call it the 'Paris of the North.'

"Beginning August 15 I have worked for the English Department of Den Norske Creditbank, the biggest bank in Norway with the thought of getting some experience and to travel some more around Europe next Spring.

"In November we had a short vacation and I went to Stockholm. It is without any doubt the most beautiful city I have ever visited. It is quite a rich country not having been involved in a war for over 150 years.

"In Oslo I see quite a few movies, some concerts, go skiing and enjoy the friendship of the Norwegian home where most of the social life goes on. Last week I had the pleasure and fortune to be present at the awarding of the Nobel Peace Prize to Dr. Ralph Bunche. The king and many high representatives from many countries were present. One of the most impressive ceremonies I have ever seen. The following night I also heard Dr. Bunche deliver his Nobel Lecture, called 'Some Reflections on Peace in Our Time.' I also met Dr. Bunche.

"As for the skiing, it's one of the best sports I know. In only 20 minutes from Oslo I can go skiing in the most beautiful scenery imaginable. They say Norwegians are born on skis and I believe it. Anywhere from 2 on up you can see them on skis. "I guess the last bit of information is that I have been interviewed and processed for a Foreign Service job here at the American Embassy. If Washington approves it will mean a Foreign Service appointment."

checks the sensitive film and small ionization chambers carried by each employee to determine how much radiation has been absorbed. She supervises "dry runs" on each new experiment, establishes the safety factor in operation procedures and even tells the scientists to take a vacation when they have been overexposed.
Through Geiger counters in her office she also keeps a constant check on the radioactivity of laboratory equipment and is responsible for disposing of dangerously "hot" areas.
Prior to assuming her work at Bethesda, Isabelle was employed as a lab technician with the Atomic Energy Commission.
