To the Alumni:

Among the questions of great importance to the United States are these: How, during the next few years, can a continuing supply of men be educated for the professions? Is it in the national interest to require students of unusual ability to serve in the armed forces before or after they have completed college and professional school? These questions have been much discussed—not always wisely and reasonably—ever since the North Koreans invaded South Korea last June. Our alumni can read with profit the excellent discussion of these questions by President Griswold of Yale in a recent number of The Atlantic.

The Soviet Union, according to our best information, requires all good students to continue their academic work until they have prepared themselves for the greatest possible service to the state. No prospective doctor or engineer or teacher is permitted to serve in the armed forces before he completes his education. In the United States we have approached these questions with great caution. At no time has anyone suggested that a college student or a boy who wishes to enter college be permitted to avoid military service. The question has been, "When shall he serve in order to make the greatest contribution to the national welfare?" Shall the student serve as a private at the age of nineteen or several years later as a physician or engineer or in some other work that requires professional education?

On March 31, 1951, President Truman signed an executive order authorizing the deferment of students who meet certain requirements. The regulations that apply to undergraduates are as follows:

1. Students who have completed the third year in college, who stand in the upper three-fourths of the male members of the class, or who have made a score of seventy or more on the Selective Service College Qualification Test, may be deferred.

2. Students who have completed the second year in college, who stand in the upper two-thirds of the male members of the class, or who have made a score of seventy or more on the Test, may be deferred.

3. Students who have completed the first year in college, who stand in the upper half of the male members of the class, or who have made a score of seventy or more on the Test, may be deferred.

The Selective Service College Qualification Test is prepared, administered, and graded by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey. This test will be given at Ursinus College May 26, June 16, and June 30. These alternative bases for deferment—class standing or test scores—guarantee that no student will be penalized by differences in academic requirements or grading systems among the colleges and universities. All students have been urged to take the test because it is possible that in the future the test score will be the sole basis for deferment.

It must be remembered, however, that President Truman's executive order merely permits — it does not require — the Selective Service Local Board to defer the student's induction. It is probable that most Local Boards will defer the student's induction whenever the regulations permit.

The existing Selective Service Law permits any college student to complete the academic year that he has begun. All pending legislation includes the same provision.

Unless we have total mobilization, it is probable that a boy entering college will be permitted to complete his work in college and professional school provided the quality of that work is reasonably satisfactory.

I hope that the foregoing statement of the regulations and of the probabilities will be helpful to those alumni who are parents of boys or who are counsellors of boys. It will, I hope, be of interest to all our alumni. The present international situation makes it certain that most young men of college age will serve for a time in the armed forces, and that the enrollment at Ursinus — and consequently our income — will be seriously reduced. The College needs, therefore, your continued help in sending good students to us, and the College needs your gifts as we face these challenging years.

Lloyd H. Wood, '25, Inaugurated As Pennsylvania's Lt. Governor

Ursinus Graduate Assumes High State Office In Colorful Senate Chamber Ceremony

Lloyd H. Wood, '25, former state representative and state senator, became lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania on January 16 when inaugural ceremonies were held in the State Senate chamber in the Capitol at Harrisburg.

In his new office to which he was elected on the Republican ticket in general state elections held last November, Wood will preside over the State Senate, and serve as chairman of the State Pardons Board. In the event that Governor John S. Fine becomes unable to discharge his duties, Wood will assume the official responsibilities of the state's chief executive.

For the 53-year-old Ursinus graduate the new office is another step in a political career which began with his election to the General Assembly as a representative in 1938. He was re-elected to that office for three additional consecutive terms and in 1946 was elected to the State Senate to fill a vacancy. Later that year he was elected to a full term in the Senate. Since 1940 he has been chairman of the Montgomery County Republican Committee.

Expressing gratitude to the people of Pennsylvania for electing him to high office, Lt. Governor Wood in his inaugural address pledged his impartiality as presiding officer of the Senate and the full opportunity for debate and consideration of matters before him. He proposed fairness and justness in his Board of Pardons chairmanship offering "a helping hand only to those who are sincerely repentant or who have been unjustly punished."

Touching upon the position of Pennsylvania in the country's emergency mobilization plans he said, "In time of national emergency in the past, Pennsylvania has met every demand that was placed upon her for men, money and material. I am certain that this occasion will not be an exception. Team play produced those fine results. I doubt not that the general assembly will join our distinguished new governor in carrying out the platform pledges upon which he was elected in perfecting the machinery to facilitate the building of the national defense."

As an Ursinus student, "Woodie" is described in Ruby paragraphs as leaving an "indelible impression" on his classmates. A graduate of Central High School, Winchester, Tenn., he brought to the campus a "pleasing Southern accent." As a sophomore and junior he outshoed the baseball team to several important victories. He worked hard, completing the required courses in three years, proved himself "an ace as an entertainer," and demonstrated a "true love of good literature and poetry."

Ursinus To Be Honored By Newcomen Society

An outstanding honor will be conferred upon Ursinus College on May 24 when The Newcomen Society in North America will gather at a luncheon meeting on campus with Revelle W. Brown, president of the Reading Company, saluting the college and its achievement record.

Approximately 300 members and guests of the Society are expected to attend the meeting.

Presiding at the luncheon, to be served in the new gym by a caterer, will be Ralph Kelly, retired president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, and chairman of the Philadelphia Committee in American Newcomen. Grace will be said by the Rt. Rev. Oliver J. Hart, Episcopal Bishop of Pennsylvania and vice chairman, Philadelphia Committee in The Newcomen Society of England.

Following the luncheon the group will move to Bomberger Hall to hear an address by Mr. Brown on the subject: "Ursinus College, a Pennsylvania College in the Old Tradition." The speaker will be introduced by Dr. Norman E. McClure, president of Ursinus College. Well-known throughout America, Mr. Brown is regarded as one of the abler of this country's railroad presidents.

Dr. H. A. Cochran, of Temple, to Address Graduating Class

Dr. Harry A. Cochran, of Temple University, will address the graduating class at Commencement exercises on Monday, June 4, at 11 a.m. on Patterson Field when 222 members of the 1951 class will be awarded degrees.

Dr. Cochran is dean of the School of Business Administration and Treasurer of Temple. Three sons, Dr. Bryce A. Cochran, '41; Dr. Robert A. Cochran, '43, and William C. Cochran, ex '48, have been Ursinus students.

The degree of Doctor of Laws will be awarded to Dr. Cochran and Lloyd H. Wood, '25, Lieutenant Governor of Pennsylvania.

Delivering the baccalaureate sermon, Sunday, June 3, at 10:45, in Bomberger Hall, will be the Rev. Henry J. Herber, D.D., '11, of Lebanon, a member of the Board of Directors and father of one of the graduates, Robert Herber. A daughter, Carolyn, is a junior at Ursinus.

The Newcomen Society has two principal purposes. First, it seeks to increase an appreciation of American-British traditions and ideals in the Arts and Sciences. Second, it strives to serve as another link in the friendly relations existing between Great Britain and the United States.

Through its programs the Society centers attention on individuals and institutions which have made significant contributions to progress in industry, invention, engineering transportation, the utilities, communication, mining, agriculture, finance, banking, economics, education, law and other fields. Ursinus College will become one of a few American colleges and universities honored by the society.

An honorary society with headquarters in London and a branch in North America, its name is derived from Thomas Newcomen, 1663-1729, a British pioneer in the development of the steam engine.

New Life At Ursinus

If you check the present student roster at Ursinus you will come to “Saporoschenko, Mykola, junior, math, Brodbeck.”

To “Myk” that is a happy contrast to other rosters which have carried his name. In the past it has variously been, citizen of the Ukraine; sergeant, artillery, Russian army; prisoner, Germany; displaced person, Kiel, Germany; finally, student, University of Kiel.

Through the established displaced persons agencies operating in Europe at the close of the war, “Myk” was sent to America under the sponsorship of Ursinus. Arriving too late to begin work in September 1949, he audited classes until the opening of the Winter Term in 1950. Since then he has shown exceptional proficiency in mathematics and physics, his major and minor subjects, and has struggled uphill against his English language barriers.

In his adjustment to life in America and as an Ursinus student “Myk” has earned the respect of all who associate with him. To help him the students, through the “Y” groups, have generously met the expenses of his room and board during his first semester and provided him with better clothing and other essentials. The college offers him free tuition. Now, after a summer’s employment and through part-time and week-end employment “Myk” is meeting his personal expenses.

His life at Ursinus is far beyond the horizons he knew in Europe. As a youth in a controlled society, he was taught to think of America as a country of slums, starving people, completely controlled by a few powerful capitalists. These ideas came to him through his Ukrainian high school, the authorized papers and books and on the radio. One of his earliest first-hand introductions to the true picture of America came when he saw the American moving picture, “The Great Waltz,” in 1941. The difference was notable. Here was pure entertainment free from the all too familiar propaganda theme. It left an impression.

Ridding his mind of the many unpleasanties of the years from the time he was uprooted from his home and family ties in 1941, “Myk” has devoted himself completely to learning to be an American and preparing for a productive career in his new land.

When he graduates he hopes either to go on to graduate school or take a position in industry or teach. He has an assured quiet faith in his own future. This stems partly from this observation: “Everybody in this country who is willing to work can have a good life.” This he practices. As an employee of David Kelly, of Collegeville, he spent last summer and about 15 hours a week during the school term painting and doing general house repairs. He also is an odd-job man for several families in town over the weekends. On frequent occasions he has helped in the college dining rooms.

What are his impressions of Ursinus?

He likes its size, which is small enough to make it possible to know well many of the students. He is especially fascinated by the well-equipped laboratories and the fact that conditions there are not crowded. Under similar conditions several hundred students would attempt to use such laboratories in the European schools he has known. The sports programs and the students’ interest, whether they participate directly or not, have been a revelation to him as has the general respect shown for opponents’ outstanding performances.

In summary he says very quietly, “all the student activities, the dinners, the good times, the pleasant hard work. will leave a lasting impression of Ursinus.”

Ursinus will indeed long remember “Myk” and follow his career closely.

Artist To Glorify Queen

In May Day Pageant

The winning May Day pageant, written by Ruth Fiedler, ’52, will bring to Patterson Field on May 12, the story of an artist’s efforts to glorify the May Queen.

Each of the colors he chooses to use will display its talents in dance and pantomime to appropriate music such as “Rhapsody in Blue” and “Deep Purple.” The villain, black, will try to thwart the artist but, in storybook fashion, will fail.

The author of the pageant is a biology major from Northampton, Pa. She is active in the Meistersingers, the chapel choir, the Pre-Med Society and is secretary of the Phi Alpha Sorority.

This year’s May Queen is Mary McPherson, of Lancaster, Pa., a member of the Queen’s Court for the past three years. She is president of the W.S.G.A., a member of the W.A.A. Council, was a member of the swimming team for two years and is a member of Tau Sigma Gamma.

Her court will include Beulyn Syvertson, of Havertown; Helen Dawson, of Merrill, N. Y.; Ruth Reed, of Cranbury, N. J.; Molly Sharp, of Mount Holly, N. J.; Jonnie Graf, of Trenton, N. J.; and Ruth Sharp, of Mount Holly, N. J.

Responsible for the production of the 1951 pageant will be Mary McPherson, chairman of the day; Marge Paynter, manager; and Miss Marielle Waldo, director. Committee chairmen will be: Margaret Simcox, Eleanor Jones, Virginia Wilson, Jean Heron, Bev Tuttle, Gwen Schaeffer, Jackie Keller, Lil Skeba, Marilyn Miller and Jeane Davis.

Catalogue Re-designed

A completely re-styled catalogue is this year being sent to schools, colleges and advisory centers throughout the country for study by prospective college students.

Slightly larger than the former catalogue, the 1951-52 issue is printed on a semi-matte paper. New type styles and sizes have been used for increased readability and the arrangement of sections has been altered. A sketch of Bomberger Hall appears on the cover.

The work of supervising catalogue changes was done by Dr. William J. Phillips, Registrar.
Alumni Activities

Program Completed For 1951 Alumni Day

Plans for the 1951 Alumni Day have been completed and the program is substantially the same as that of a year ago.

The outdoor luncheon will be held at noon, the business meeting in Bomberger Hall at 2 p.m., the President's reception in the library at 3:30 p.m., and the dinner-dance, in Thompson-Gay gym starting at 6:30 p.m.

Registration will take place from 11 a.m. through the afternoon in a tented area adjacent to Bomberger Hall. Here luncheon tickets, costing 85 cents and dinner tickets at a cost of $2.50 per person will be sold.

Reunions to be held this year will include the classes of 1901, 1911, 1921, 1926, 1931, 1941 and 1946. Many of these will be meeting as luncheon groups either on campus or near the campus, a few will be joining in a group at the annual dinner. The Cub and Key Society reunion will also take place at the Thompson-Gay dinner.

Arrangements for the 1951 program have been worked out by a committee composed of C. Gordon Astheimer, '40, chairman, Mrs. D. H. Helfferich, '20, Paul Krasley, '28, Miss Lyndel Reber, '36, David Behney, '49, and Paul Craige, '38.

Dinner Held For Seniors

The entire senior class of the college was entertained at a dinner by the Alumni Association in the college dining room on Wednesday, May 9.

In line with the practice begun a year ago, the dinner was held for the purpose of acquainting the graduating class with the program and objectives of the Association and to introduce to the students the present Association officers and members of the Executive Committee.

Scholarship Fund Benefit Proceeds Total $1700

Almost 1000 people attended the film benefit staged at the college on April 26 by the Alumni Association for the Memorial Scholarship Fund. Proceeds totaled more than $1700.

With Mr. Charles Noss, of York, Pa., narrating his own film, "Pennsylvania Dutch No. 1", the over-flow audience in Thompson-Gay gym learned how the agricultural methods of the "plain people" of Lancaster County contrast to the methods used in other localities. The full-color film presented a convincing story of the productive cooperation of the farm family.

Following the film showing a "Pennsylvania Dutch Bazaar", arranged and staffed by members of the Ursinus Circle, was held. The supply of tasty shoo-fly pies, doughnuts and coffee, as well as 50 pounds of Lancaster County cheese and 50 pounds of bologna, generously given by Mr. Noss, was completely sold in a short time. Little "Dutch" novelties and stationery were also sold.

The committee in charge gratefully acknowledges the enthusiastic response of the college's many alumni and friends who made the benefit so successful.

Marjorie Trayes Becomes Rutger's Dean on July 1

The appointment of Miss Marjorie M. Trayes, '29, to the position of Dean of Students at New Jersey College for Women, Rutgers University, has been announced by Dr. Robert C. Clother, president. She will assume her duties on July 1.

Before joining the staff at New Jersey College for Women, where she has been director of students since 1948, Dean Trayes had been a Y.W.C.A.-U.S.O. director in Bethesda, Md., Jacksonville, N. C., and Tampa, Fla.

She has also served as counselor and instructor in English at the Newton, N. J. High school and in the Portland, Pa. High school.

In addition to her degree from Ursinus she holds an M.A. degree from the Graduate School, New York University. She has completed her work for a professional diploma in personnel administration at Columbia and plans to complete her doctorate.

She is a member of the National Association of Deans of Women, New Jersey Association of Deans and Counselors, A.A.U.W. and Kappa Delta Pi.

Crossley First Reported Casualty From Ursinus

Charles H. Crossley, a student at Ursinus in 1947-48, has become the first casualty among Ursinus personnel serving in Korea, according to Alumni Office records.

Early in January it was reported that he had been shot in the right leg and left arm and was recovering in a Kobe, Japan, hospital.

Prior to coming to Ursinus Crossley had served with the combat engineers in Europe in World War II and remained there with the Army of Occupation until 1946 when he returned to this country as a sergeant.

He re-enlisted for a one-year term, came to Ursinus, and then re-enlisted and was commissioned a second lieutenant in April, 1950 at Fort Riley, Kansas. He left for Japan on October 21 and two days later arrived in Korea.

Lt. Crossley is the son of Mrs. Mary E. Crossley, 2942 N. Camae Street, Philadelphia.

Sorry We Missed It

In the account of freshman sons and daughters of Alumni now at Ursinus which appeared in the last issue of the Journal, the relationship of Isobel Helfferich to several Johnsons in the history of Ursinus was unintentionally overlooked.

Actually Isobel is a third generation Ursinusite on two scores. Not only is her father's family well represented but so is her mother's. Mrs. Randolph Helfferich is the daughter of Dr. Ralph Johnson, '97. A sister, Mrs. Margaret Johnson Guenther, graduated from Ursinus in 1930, and at the present time there are two grandchildren of Dr. Johnson's attending, Isobel Helfferich, '54, and Lois Ann Johnson, '52, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Johnson, of Upper Darby.

Rhea D. Johnson Retires

Retirement from her position as a statistician with the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia was announced in January by Mrs. Rhea Duryea Johnson, '08.

Laucks Antique Collection
Near Museum Proportions

Prominent as an attorney, Samuel S. Laucks, '10, is rapidly becoming known as an authority on the economic history of his native York, Pa., County. It is much more than an evidence of that interest literally surrounds him.

Two decades ago Mr. Laucks turned a casual curiosity into a hobby and now his collection of antique household items is a veritable museum of more than 500 pieces. "I started this hobby to show how simply our ancestors lived but I soon became interested in the development of equipment from primitive to modern and the economic problems involved," says the Ursinus alumnus.

Housed in rooms adjoining his law offices in Red Lion, Pa., and on his country estate a few miles away, the collection includes a sample illustrating almost every phase of homemaking in the more rigorous days of the self-sufficient family unit. It emphasizes very emphatically the transformation which has come in America's economy from a very limited production by each individual to today's mass production through mechanization.

Interesting among the "tools" used by women of an earlier day are a distaff and wood spindle for making thread, a wool carder, a "heckle" used for combing flax fibers, a "betty" lamp, a wooden candelereet on which homemade candles were hung to cool, a lard press, a contrivance for holding hooks for hand sewing and a butter worker.

Equipment used by the men is represented in the Laucks collection by a "schnitzelbank," various types of sickles and cradles, tread mills, flails, homemade forged iron articles, cobbler's tools, a tinner's outfit and items of butchering equipment.

Someday, Laucks believes, he will catalogue all the material he has assembled and place it on display in a barn near his country home so that school children and any interested visitors can fully enjoy his collection.

After graduation from Ursinus in 1910, Laucks did graduate work at Columbia University, taught at Syracuse University and then completed his law study at the University of Pennsylvania. He began the practice of Law in York in 1916. He served one term in the Pennsylvania state legislature and was at one time assistant district attorney of York County. At present he is vice president of the York County Bar Association. He is also the author of the book, "America at the Crossroads," a study of our mechanized industrial system and the changes resulting.

His son, Samuel S. Laucks, Jr., '39, is a partner in the Red Lion law office.

Mack Trucks, Inc., Head Sets Great 1950 Record

At the end of 1949 the sales of Mack Trucks, Inc., were in a slump, Edwin D. Bransome, ex '13, was called in as president and in a year the sales dip reversed and a 50 per cent increase was recorded. The figure jumped to $123 million, second highest in the company's 50-year history.

For his dynamic performance, Bransome received several columns of attention in the Business and Finance section in the February 19 issue of Time magazine.

According to the Time report, Bransome has followed a simple formula: "First find out what's wrong, then correct it." In doing that he doubled advertising, improved purchasing and production methods and stepped up coordination between sales and production.

For his new $100,000-a-year position Bransome has had varied and impressive training. After leaving Ursinus he went into the construction business in Philadelphia, became a naval aviator in World War I and then joined General Motors at the age of 26. During the Roosevelt administration he headed the rubber division of the NRA. In 1935 he became president of the Vanadium Corporation of America and played an important part in developing uranium supplies for atomic experiments. He held that position until he moved to Mack.

As a student at Ursinus he was familiarly known as "Ted"; was a member of the Zwinglian Society, participated in many Glee Club concerts, played left end on the football team and infield positions on the scrub baseball team. He was interested in dramatics and belonged to the Friday Night Club and Zimmerman's Boarding Club.

Laucks standing at scutcher. Tooth device is the "heckle."
Plans for summer school at Ursinus this year have been altered to allow students to accelerate their training. Instead of the original eight-week session planned, two six-week sessions will be given. The first session will continue from June 11 to July 20 and the second from July 23 to August 31.

Sally App and Anne Hughes, both members of the Class of ’50, have been named preceptresses at Duryea Hall. They replace the Pangcoasts who have now moved into their new home in Collegeville. Sally is teaching English in the Pottstown High School and Anne is teaching the same subject in the Spring City High School.

Mrs. Thomas Glassmoyer (Frances Thierolf, ’40) spoke on the subject, “What the Ursinus colors mean to me,” at the 25th annual Color Day ceremony held on February 15.

The staff of the Weekly will be headed next year by Mary Yost, ’52, who has had experience during four summer on the Phoenixville, Pa., Daily Republican. She has previously been features editor and managing editor of the Weekly. Bob Henderson, ’52, was named business manager, and Dorothy Baum, ’52, circulation manager.

Three seniors, Marjorie Taylor, Roy Foster and Aubre Givler, have been initiated into the Ursinus chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic honor fraternity.

“Arsenic and Old Lace” has been selected as the spring play to be given by the Curtain Club on May 10, 11 and 12.

A record-breaking Red Cross drive was completed on campus two weeks ahead of the deadline with $178.83 raised. Dean Stahr and Mr. Lloyd Jones managed the girls’ and boys’ campus teams. Dr. Allan L. Rice, Ursinus faculty member, is chairman of the Collegeville Red Cross District.

An entirely student written, composed and produced senior class musical, “Speak Easy,” was presented March 9 and 10 as a Ruby benefit. The book was by Emile Schrader and Joe Beardwood, the music by Aubre Givler, Murray Grove and Gordon Tait, ’52.

What was believed to be a strictly local line in the play, “Grammar Ghost” when it was presented in Philadelphia apparently continues a permanent script line.

In the first act, Robert Sterling, the male lead, a newspaperman who later marries star Sarah Churchill, daughter of the famous Winston, discusses his college days and says, “Why yes, I played a good deal of football myself in college—at Ursinus College in Collegeville. In my senior year we even beat Muhlenberg.”

Ursinus people in the Boston area report that the line was also used in performances there.

Bill LeKernec, an English major, has been elected editor of The Lantern for 1951-52. As a sophomore he was business manager of the publication and this year has served as associate editor.

Men tapped for the Cub and Key at the Junior prom include Paul Doughty, Jay H. Ely, Thomas Davis, Herman Lintner, Robert Meckelburg and William Van Horn.

Rhea D. Johnson Retires

In her position with the Federal Reserve Bank she laid the groundwork for much of that institution’s statistical procedure and methods.

Jane Hartzel, Molly Hall, Barbara Landis and Jay Ely will head the WSGA, YWCA, WAA and YMCA respectively during the coming year.

Selective Service College Qualification tests are to be given at Ursinus on May 26, June 16 and June 30.

The departure of Russ Fisher for the U. S. Navy broke up the all-senior quartet “The 51’s” in mid-April. Appearing in numerous campus functions, club meetings in Collegeville and Philadelphia areas and on television, the quartet also participated in Barber-shop Quartet Nights in several metropolitan centers, won second place in the college quartet contest held by the University Glee Club in Philadelphia in 1950 and tied for first in 1951.

Ursinus College Bulletin 7
First Ursinus Faculty, Courses are Selected

By Muriel B. Pancoast, '38

An Almanac of the Reformed Church in the late 1800's presented Ursinus College as offering "a life free from the distractions and temptations of city life" and "influences favorable both to health and study". Many other recommendations were also made but that sketch of a quiet student life well described the pace at Ursinus during its earliest days.

Freeland Seminary was purchased by the Board of Directors of Ursinus and in some respects the college was at its opening a continuation of that seminary on an enlarged and more comprehensive scale. Ursinus was housed in one building—what is now known as Freeland Hall—with one wing, now known as Stine Hall. The grounds comprised 10 acres.

Faculty

The charter of Ursinus College gave as its purpose "imparting instruction in Science, Literature, the Liberal Arts, and Learned Professions". For the first year, starting August 12, 1869, the college's academic work was conducted by the same instructors who had managed Freeland Seminary. The Ursinus College Board of Directors exercised general supervision. The true course of study and instruction was not set up until after the actual opening of the college. The first year offered general studies such as English, Natural Science, Mathematics, Languages, Moral and Mental Science, Belles Lettres, and Music.

On February 10, 1870 a special meeting of directors was called with its chief item of business that of naming the faculty. Dr. John H. A. Bomberger, in addition to his duties as President, was named Professor of Mental and Moral Philosophy, Evidences of Christianity, and Biblical Studies.

Rev. Henry Wm. Super, A.M., Vice President, was elected Professor of Mathematics, Mechanics, Harmony of Science, and Revealed Religion. Dr. Super, a graduate of Marshall College and the Theological Seminary at Mercersburg had been a minister at Waynesboro, and had studied Mathematics in the Keystone State Normal School at Kutztown.

Next came J. Shelley Weinberger, A.M., a Yale man of 1859, with ten years of teaching experience behind him; and to him went the chair of the classics—his title being, "adjunct Professor of the Latin and Greek Languages and Literature, etc."

J. Warrene Sunderland, A.M., LL.D., had been the principal of the Pennsylvania Female College, an institution located nearby in the same village of Freeland. Dr. Sunderland was a graduate of Wesleyan and had for twelve years been a college professor in McKendree College in Illinois and in Kemper College in Missouri. He came east in 1848 to work with Mr. Abraham Hunsicker in his educational work at Freeland. Dr. Sunderland was also an Ursinus director, had prepared the bylaws for the institution and had lent valuable aid in framing its charter. As a faculty member, he was to take charge of the Natural Sciences—Chemistry, Geology, and Botany.

Rev. John Van Haagen, A.M., also educated at Mercersburg, had studied in Germany. He was named Professor of the German Language and Literature, History and Philosophy of Language. A. J. Warren Royer, M.D., was elected lecturer on Physiology and Anatomy.

These men made up the core of a faculty of which any Ursinian may be justly proud. From the beginning, the faculty men were educated and learned. Each had accepted his respective chair by July 2, 1870 and ten days later Prof. W. H. Snyder was elected Principal of the Academy Department, for side by side with the college, the academy was to continue. J. Warren Custer, Teacher of Instrumental Music, and H. W. Kratz, Teacher of Vocal Music, were appointed to supervise instruction in music.

We cannot hope to mention all the great and important early teachers at Ursinus, but in this era several (important) men deserve special mention. One is Samuel Vernon Ruby, Esq., A.M., Professor of Natural Sciences and Belles Lettres. He came to Ursinus in 1872, and is remembered not only as an important teacher of English Language, Literature and Social Science, but as one who gave valuable service in helping to edit publications of the college.

The Rev. James I. Good, D.D., a well-known name in Reformed Church History, was elected to the Ursinus Faculty in 1890 as Professor of Systematic and Pastoral Theology and Reformed Church History. In 1892, he was made Dean of the Theological Faculty.

One other great name, familiar to all Ursinians, is Wharton A. Kline, who came to the college as an Instructor in Latin in 1893. He was to give many years of service as a great teacher and Dean of the institution.

Instruction

The formal opening of Ursinus College took place on September 6, 1870, at which time the professors were inducted into their respective chairs.

The instruction comprehended not only the college proper, but an Academic or Preparatory Department, as well, which served as an English, Mathematical and Classical Boarding School for young men. We read in the catalogue of 1869-1870, "Ursinus College will endeavor to meet the wants of the age, by adopting a wise and healthy medium between the abstract ideal and materialistic utilitarian theories".

The younger students in the Academy studied in a common hall under the direction of a Professor or Teacher, while in the college, each class had at least three "exercises"—daily in the branches of study prescribed. Grades were given on a basis of "10" as the highest, graduated down to the very inferior "1" and failure, "C". At the end of the term grades were posted and sent to parents or guardians. Examinations were given according to the judgment of the faculty. Biblical instruction was considered part of the regular course of study from the very opening of the college, and one afternoon a week was set aside for this purpose. It is to be noted that although most of the founders and directors of Ursinus College were members of the Reformed (German) Church, the college was in no sense sectarian, "excepting as it was avowedly and distinctly Evangelical and Protestant".

Before the close of the first Academic year, a Theological department was established, and by June 1871 a Theological Course of Study was provided.

In the following years, more men were constantly added to the faculty and more courses of instruction offered. Various fields of study were more fully (Continued on Page 16)
New Candidates Display Promise as Varsity Nine Posts 3-6 Record

In building the varsity nine this year Coach "Sieb" Pancoast, who lost all but three lettermen from last year's 10-4 aggregation, was forced to rely heavily on new material and the rookie candidates have been turning in surprising first-year performances.

Capt. Don Stauffer, pitcher-outfielder; Don Young, second baseman-outfielder, and Harry Light, pitcher, formed the nucleus of the team. "Hal" Henning, a sophomore, took over Dick Cherry's catching post, Ken Weisel and Harry Light were assigned to first, Don Young and freshman Bill Burger shared the second base chores. Freshman John Anderson won the third base assignment and the short-stop spot has been handled in great style by freshman John Popowich. Outfield duties have been shared by Mel Smithgall, Dick Glock, Jay Kern, Ed Sella and Ed Rimsburg.

Hard hit by the graduation of George Saurman and the ineligibility of Ed Klein, who together posted eight of the Bears' triumphs a year ago, the pitching staff has been bolstered by effective work from Hal Feist, Bill Lampeter and Joe Walker.

Alumnae Continue Active In Philadelphia Area Sports

Many former collegiennes are still actively enjoying the game of basketball in the Philadelphia area.

An alumni team, playing in the Suburban Recreation League, completed the first half of its schedule with a 6-1 record and tied for first in the second half. Members of the alumni team are: Natalie Hoagland Whitting, '42; Blanche Schulz, '41; Constance Warren Poley, '49; Winifred Mutchler, ....; Erma Keyes, '47; Mary Evans, '50; Nancy Landis Wood, '43; Marion Bright Bayne, '44; Doris Harrington Abrams, '43; and Madge Harshaw Vosters, '40.

Ironically, three members of the Rockettes team which twice defeated the Alumni team, were the Ursinus alumni Hilda Anderson, '48; Jane Brusch, '47; and Joanne Duncan, '50.

Reice Named Captain

Dave Reice, three-year varsity guard performer, has been elected captain of the 1951-52 Ursinus five. A graduate of Northeast High, Philadelphia, Dave saved several games this year with last minute goals.

Slim Holdover Track Squad Greets Gurzynski

Track fortunes of Coach Ray Gurzynski's squad rest this spring on the uncovering of men capable of filling the gap left by the departure of Russ Binder, Bill Turner and Joe Shaw. Of the 334 point total scored in meets a year ago these three accounted for better than a third.

Experienced men who are expected to score with regularity are Don Cumpstone, who set a new college record in the javelin event last spring, Bob Swett, rapidly improving discus man and Bill Helfferich, shot-put specialist. Other experienced men Gurzynski will count on are hard-working Herm Lintner, two-miler, and Paul Scheirer in the 880. Ralph Ziegler, it is hoped, can shake off leg problems to represent the Bears in the pole vault. Roy Foster and Bill Fischer are fast improving 440-men.

Among the newcomers who have reported to Gurzynski are Gene Haag, Dick Eschbach, John Gruber, Floyd Fellows and Dick Cheesman.

Undefeated In 3 Years Helfferich Takes MAC Award

Undefeated in three years of regular season intercollegiate wrestling, "Bill" Helfferich, Ursinus senior, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Helfferich, this year climaxd his career, by winning for the third time the unlimited Middle Atlantic championship and earning the tournament's "outstanding wrestler" award.

Co-captain of the wrestling team "Bill" continued to score with comparative ease over most of his opponents. Six-feet three, weighing 230 pounds, he combines highly developed skill, amazing agility and great strength.

Entering the National Intercollegiate at Lehigh University at the close of the season, Bill captured fifth place to place Ursinus in a tie with Army, Columbia, Mankato State Teachers, San Francisco, Washington State, California and Wisconsin.

"BILL" HELFFERICH
COURT TEAM WINDS UP SUCCESSFUL SEASON WITH 10 WINS IN 18 GAMES

Taking 10 of 18 games and winding up in a tie for third place in the Middle Atlantic Conference’s Southern Division, Coach Jerry Seeders’ basketeers enjoyed a surprisingly successful 1950-51 season.

Unable to take a single conference game a year ago, the Bears this year got off to a good start, held the league lead briefly in February, then dropped out of contention after losing a crucial game to Swarthmore on February 28. The Garnet captured the title in its final game with Delaware.

Responsible for the good showing was the much improved performances of holdovers such as Phil Seibel, Wil Wimberg, Dave Reice, Don Young, Ira Bronson, Stan Cohen and Bob Swett. Awarded a starting berth at the season’s opening freshman Herb Knoll held a key role and developed steadily.

Two school records were set during the season. The 102-point total against Susquehanna set a new high for game total and the 1200 points amassed for the season went into the record books.

Individual high scoring total for the season went to遗忘 Bob Swett, 68.

The best record among Ursinus sports teams was turned in this year by the girls’ basketball team which swept through eight games with only one defeat, Temple taking 37-32 victory over the Belles.

Seniors on the squad this year were, Don Young, Phil Seibel, Ira Bronson and Wil Wimberg, have played their last Ursinus game.

Mermaids Drop Seven; Veteran ’52 Squad Sure

A ten-match schedule resulted in three victories and seven defeats for the swimming team, Drexel, Beaver and Penn falling to the Ursinus mermaids.

Just as the season ended Coach Jerry Seeders was recalled to active service in the Army. During his four-year span his teams turned in a dominant record in 18 games not only helped to pull many a game out of the fire but whose rebound skill kept the offense moving.

Dr. Miller Selected As New Ursinus Tennis Coach

Dr. Eugene H. Miller, head of the political science department at Ursinus, has been named tennis coach to fill the vacancy caused by the departure of Charles Matlack. Matlack, language instructor and coach for the past two years, is now doing graduate work at the University of New Mexico.

“Gene” has long been a tennis enthusiast, perfected his style on the Mount Penn Country club courts at Reading, has kept his service sharp on the Ursinus courts and is eager to lead student talent in intercollegiate competition.

Three veterans are back to help the new coach in his first year, Paul Jones, Jack Humber and Joe Benanotti.

FIRST UR SINUS FACULTY
organized and developed. For example, we find a breakdown between the Classical Course and the Scientific Course in the collegiate department, and a separate course of instruction for those desiring to qualify themselves to become teachers in the Public Schools (Normal School Course). By 1893, courses of study included: Classical (Psychology, Greek, Philosophy, etc.); Scientific (Mathematics, Sciences, German, etc.) and Literary (English Literature, Rhetoric, German, etc.). In addition, several courses of study, each of two years length, were offered for preparation in the various professions of Theology, Law, and Medicine. Each year showed changes in the curriculum as the courses of study became more comprehensive. By the end of the century we find: Classical, Math-Physical, Chem-Bio, Historical-Political and Modern Language Courses of Study offered.

OBITUARIES
mouth, N. J., Memorial Hospital. He was 49.
Born at Green Lane, Pa., he was graduated from the Collegeville High School. Following his graduation from Ursinus he became a teacher and coach at the Toms River, N. J., high school. After a year there he moved to Hazleton, Pa., High School for a two-year period and then in 1925 he was appointed assistant principal and track coach at the Long Branch, N. J. Senior High School. During his term as track coach his teams won 66 straight meets over a six-year period. Upon his retirement as coach he served as faculty manager of athletics. He was named vice principal of the Long Branch school in 1946.

Serving as vice-president of the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association from 1936 to 1938, he was elected president of that group and served until 1940. Since that time he has been the Association treasurer.

He was a member of the Long Branch, Monmouth County, N. J., and Federal School Teaching Associations. He was also a member of the board of directors of the Long Branch Y.M.C.A. and the New Jersey Principals Association, a president of the New Jersey State Coaches Association, and a member of the National Council of Social Studies.

He is survived by his wife, the former Irene Klappert, and a son, Robert.

It is interesting to note that the academic year was, in those days, divided into three terms: The Fall Term (September to December); the Winter Term (January to mid-April); and the Spring Term (April to July).
