In other words she forgot the harsh winds of Spring.

"But they have their eyes on some way, to blow out the bed she accommodated some White arms and Spring flowers. There is no more important accomplishment in the winter and average of humanity, which nearly needs Hood's Sarogapilla.

WOMEN'S POLITICAL WORK.

At the first California election in which women equal men, the number of women serving as County Assessors in California was around in twenty-six. Before the passing of the law, women were not allowed to vote in any public elections or hold any public offices. They were considered as inferior to men, and were excluded from the right to vote. The law provided that women could hold public offices and vote in any public elections. The law was not very popular with some men, who thought that women should not be allowed to vote. The law was not as popular with some women, who thought that they should not be allowed to hold public offices.

INDEPENDENT COMMENT.

The Ex-PRESIDENT.

The story of the Presidency is still being written, as we have noted in our editorial, and it is interesting to reflect on the remarkable career of the man who held that office for eight years. It is a story of unrelenting struggle, of political battles and personal sacrifices, but also of great achievements and lasting legacies. The Ex-President has left a mark on history that will endure for generations to come.
