12-4-1975

The Ursinus Weekly, December 4, 1975

Ruth Von Kummer
Ursinus College

Thomas Raskin
Ursinus College

Robert Brant
Ursinus College

Jill Leauber
Ursinus College

George Geist
Ursinus College

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly

Part of the Cultural History Commons, Higher Education Commons, Liberal Studies Commons, Social History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Click here to let us know how access to this document benefits you.
Guidelines Approved For Records Access

In accordance to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act, the Student Government Association of the University of Connecticut has presented to the Board of Trustees guidelines pertaining to the confidentiality of student records. These guidelines will be readily available to students, faculty members, and the administration.

Exceptions for requests included in the guidelines are made for student health emergencies, financial aid processing, and other legal requirements.

The records which are protected by the guidelines include: records concerning student academic achievements; records concerning student financial aid; records concerning medical, psychological, or social history; and any other records that are subject to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act.

Faculty and staff members are encouraged to become familiar with these guidelines, as they will be held accountable for the protection of student records.

Party Hangover

The Ursinus College "Messiah" Choir will feature four prominent soloists in its 50th annual Christmas production on Thursday and Friday, December 11 and 12, at 8:15 p.m. in Bomberger Hall. This year's concert will contain selections from Bach's "Christmas Oratorio" and the traditional portions of Handel's "Messiah."

The soloists are Ami Yervanian, mezzo-soprano; Karen, William Mason, tenor; and Dan Murket, baritone.

Miss Yervanian, mezzo-soprano, performed solo in the Eastman School of Music, and has been honored many times in national and regional voice competitions sponsored by the Metropolitan Opera Company.

She has enjoyed extensive operatic roles across the country and has performed on the stage of the New York Philharmonic as a soloist in the opera "Oratorio" and concert, and concerts. Miss Yervanian has sung in operettas and the "Messiah" under the baton of Sir Charles Mackerras. Her work was recognized by her appearance in the 1976-77 season, and she may view the records and a few others, such as financial aid offices and parents of a student who are legally entitled to know.

Students may not view parents' financial records, and they may not place in educational records prior of the student's privacy.

The All-College Night performance will be held in Bomberger Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. on December 11, and the concert is free of charge.

The SFARC meeting was held on Tuesday, November 25, in the USGA hearing room. A special guest to attend the meeting was Dr. Jack W. Wilkinson, dean of the College of Business Administration.

Dr. Wilkinson related some statistics and also the current recession. The act, and the USGA received in the records, and a few students will be featured in the Messiah. The U.S.C.G.A. has been invited to share in the meeting, which will be held in the Student Center.

Dr. Wilkinson answered questions concerning the events of the previous Saturday afternoon. After considerable discussion of the 500th anniversary of the unification of the present rules, the meeting was adjourned.

A special meeting of SFABC, held in the College of Business Administration, was attended by Mr. Richard Reading, an advisor to the students. Mr. Reading read a letter addressed to the University. He cited the need for sending a message that students should once again be making their prime concern. After the meeting, the move to include this letter in SFABC minutes was withdrawn. SFABC role was questioned. Chairman George Jones replied that the university is not a government body. Dr. Sullivan added that the present organization of the university is not a government body.

The SAC and USGA are current on the process of receiving suggestions for rule revisions.
LETTERS TO THE EDITOR
ON STUDENT RIGHTS

To the Editor of the Weekly,

The rules of Student Conduct and Relations in the Ursinus campus are only now beginning to realize the resources available to the student body as a whole. No one has found as much as the last year in the sudden concern, and as such, hope that this will now occur. The terms of the new policies and principles include: (1), a mature authority to respond to the things of the student body, and of society, and (2), a sense of responsibility. Our ac­

The administration has been in no way out of tune with the current activities. All policies are in such a way that rules must be changed so as not to inhibit our social needs and our desire as a whole to proceed. The administration is not trying to accomplish this in a responsible and appropriate mansion, prevent us from becoming re­

Dormitory Vice President

To Whom It May Concern,

Ursinus isn’t a police state where authorities knock down doors, tie Nell to the railroad tracks, and even if his reported attitude

raises any such question about this institution, there is a well-defined procedure to follow. Is there? There is no person to whom this whole campus must go to in order to have his rights and freedoms as responsible individuals.

David Runions
Michael Matthews
Suite 206, N.M.D.

To the Editor of the Weekly,

At the end of last semester I un­

kind for the student body. It can­

While discussing an injustice, I will mention a few em­

ers of the college who were involved in this activity. One

has overstepped his bounds several times in making dis­

To Whom It May Concern,

Ursinus isn’t a police state where authorities knock down doors, tie Nell to the railroad tracks, and even if his reported attitude

raises any such question about this institution, there is a well-defined procedure to follow. Is there? There is no person to whom this whole campus must go to in order to have his rights and freedoms as responsible individuals.

David Runions
Michael Matthews
Suite 206, N.M.D.

To the Editor of the Weekly,

At the end of last semester I un­

kind for the student body. It can­

While discussing an injustice, I will mention a few em­

ers of the college who were involved in this activity. One

has overstepped his bounds several times in making dis­

To Whom It May Concern,

Ursinus isn’t a police state where authorities knock down doors, tie Nell to the railroad tracks, and even if his reported attitude

raises any such question about this institution, there is a well-defined procedure to follow. Is there? There is no person to whom this whole campus must go to in order to have his rights and freedoms as responsible individuals.

David Runions
Michael Matthews
Suite 206, N.M.D.

To the Editor of the Weekly,

At the end of last semester I un­

kind for the student body. It can­

While discussing an injustice, I will mention a few em­

ers of the college who were involved in this activity. One

has overstepped his bounds several times in making dis­

To Whom It May Concern,

Ursinus isn’t a police state where authorities knock down doors, tie Nell to the railroad tracks, and even if his reported attitude

raises any such question about this institution, there is a well-defined procedure to follow. Is there? There is no person to whom this whole campus must go to in order to have his rights and freedoms as responsible individuals.

David Runions
Michael Matthews
Suite 206, N.M.D.

To the Editor of the Weekly,

At the end of last semester I un­

kind for the student body. It can­

While discussing an injustice, I will mention a few em­

ers of the college who were involved in this activity. One

has overstepped his bounds several times in making dis­

To Whom It May Concern,

Ursinus isn’t a police state where authorities knock down doors, tie Nell to the railroad tracks, and even if his reported attitude

raises any such question about this institution, there is a well-defined procedure to follow. Is there? There is no person to whom this whole campus must go to in order to have his rights and freedoms as responsible individuals.

David Runions
Michael Matthews
Suite 206, N.M.D.

To the Editor of the Weekly,

At the end of last semester I un­

kind for the student body. It can­

While discussing an injustice, I will mention a few em­

ers of the college who were involved in this activity. One

has overstepped his bounds several times in making dis­

To Whom It May Concern,

Ursinus isn’t a police state where authorities knock down doors, tie Nell to the railroad tracks, and even if his reported attitude

raises any such question about this institution, there is a well-defined procedure to follow. Is there? There is no person to whom this whole campus must go to in order to have his rights and freedoms as responsible individuals.

David Runions
Michael Matthews
Suite 206, N.M.D.

To the Editor of the Weekly,

At the end of last semester I un­

kind for the student body. It can­

While discussing an injustice, I will mention a few em­

ers of the college who were involved in this activity. One

has overstepped his bounds several times in making dis­

To Whom It May Concern,

Ursinus isn’t a police state where authorities knock down doors, tie Nell to the railroad tracks, and even if his reported attitude

raises any such question about this institution, there is a well-defined procedure to follow. Is there? There is no person to whom this whole campus must go to in order to have his rights and freedoms as responsible individuals.

David Runions
Michael Matthews
Suite 206, N.M.D.

To the Editor of the Weekly,

At the end of last semester I un­

kind for the student body. It can­

While discussing an injustice, I will mention a few em­

ers of the college who were involved in this activity. One

has overstepped his bounds several times in making dis­

To Whom It May Concern,

Ursinus isn’t a police state where authorities knock down doors, tie Nell to the railroad tracks, and even if his reported attitude

raises any such question about this institution, there is a well-defined procedure to follow. Is there? There is no person to whom this whole campus must go to in order to have his rights and freedoms as responsible individuals.

David Runions
Michael Matthews
Suite 206, N.M.D.

To the Editor of the Weekly,

At the end of last semester I un­

kind for the student body. It can­

While discussing an injustice, I will mention a few em­

ers of the college who were involved in this activity. One

has overstepped his bounds several times in making dis­

To Whom It May Concern,

Ursinus isn’t a police state where authorities knock down doors, tie Nell to the railroad tracks, and even if his reported attitude

raises any such question about this institution, there is a well-defined procedure to follow. Is there? There is no person to whom this whole campus must go to in order to have his rights and freedoms as responsible individuals.

David Runions
Michael Matthews
Suite 206, N.M.D.

To the Editor of the Weekly,

At the end of last semester I un­

kind for the student body. It can­

While discussing an injustice, I will mention a few em­

ers of the college who were involved in this activity. One

has overstepped his bounds several times in making dis­

To Whom It May Concern,

Ursinus isn’t a police state where authorities knock down doors, tie Nell to the railroad tracks, and even if his reported attitude

raises any such question about this institution, there is a well-defined procedure to follow. Is there? There is no person to whom this whole campus must go to in order to have his rights and freedoms as responsible individuals.

David Runions
Michael Matthews
Suite 206, N.M.D.

To the Editor of the Weekly,

At the end of last semester I un­

kind for the student body. It can­

While discussing an injustice, I will mention a few em­

ers of the college who were involved in this activity. One

has overstepped his bounds several times in making dis­

To Whom It May Concern,

Ursinus isn’t a police state where authorities knock down doors, tie Nell to the railroad tracks, and even if his reported attitude

raises any such question about this institution, there is a well-defined procedure to follow. Is there? There is no person to whom this whole campus must go to in order to have his rights and freedoms as responsible individuals.

David Runions
Michael Matthews
Suite 206, N.M.D.

To the Editor of the Weekly,

At the end of last semester I un­

kind for the student body. It can­

While discussing an injustice, I will mention a few em­

ers of the college who were involved in this activity. One

has overstepped his bounds several times in making dis­

To Whom It May Concern,

Ursinus isn’t a police state where authorities knock down doors, tie Nell to the railroad tracks, and even if his reported attitude

raises any such question about this institution, there is a well-defined procedure to follow. Is there? There is no person to whom this whole campus must go to in order to have his rights and freedoms as responsible individuals.

David Runions
Michael Matthews
Suite 206, N.M.D.

To the Editor of the Weekly,

At the end of last semester I un­

kind for the student body. It can­

While discussing an injustice, I will mention a few em­

ers of the college who were involved in this activity. One

has overstepped his bounds several times in making dis­

To Whom It May Concern,

Ursinus isn’t a police state where authorities knock down doors, tie Nell to the railroad tracks, and even if his reported attitude

raises any such question about this institution, there is a well-defined procedure to follow. Is there? There is no person to whom this whole campus must go to in order to have his rights and freedoms as responsible individuals.

David Runions
Michael Matthews
Suite 206, N.M.D.

To the Editor of the Weekly,

At the end of last semester I un­

kind for the student body. It can­

While discussing an injustice, I will mention a few em­

ers of the college who were involved in this activity. One

has overstepped his bounds several times in making dis­

To Whom It May Concern,

Ursinus isn’t a police state where authorities knock down doors, tie Nell to the railroad tracks, and even if his reported attitude

raises any such question about this institution, there is a well-defined procedure to follow. Is there? There is no person to whom this whole campus must go to in order to have his rights and freedoms as responsible individuals.

David Runions
Michael Matthews
Suite 206, N.M.D.