U.S.G.A. Passes Resolution

The Ursinus Student Government Association met November 4 and passed a resolution to allow S.F.A.R.C. to correspond with members of the Ursinus community pending notification of the U.S.G.A. This is in light of a Constitutional question of whether S.F.A.R.C. as a sub-committee can send self-initiated correspondence.

Sigma Xi To Host Speakers

The Sigma Xi Chapter of the Sigma Xi, an honorary science fraternity, will hold two meetings in upcoming weeks. The first meeting will have Dr. Michael Mote of Temple University speaking on color vision in the insect, and will be held Wednesday, November 17th at 8:00 p.m. in Pfahler 108.

Dr. Joseph A. Vinson of Scranton University is the second guest speaker. He will be here on Wednesday, December 8 at 7:00 p.m., Pfahler 108, and will be lecturing on the Chemistry of Marijuana in Man.

Switzer Named to Federal Board

W. Arthur Switzer, director of financial aid at Ursinus College, served last week (Nov. 1 to 5) on a Federal Regional Review Panel, which will distribute $92.5 million to help at least 82,700 students attend colleges in 1977.

The panel, meeting in Philadelphia, processed the federal student aid applications from colleges and universities in Federal Region III. That region encompasses Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

The applications requested some $245.5 million in federal student aid funds under the Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, National Direct Student Loans, and College Work Study Programs.

U.C. Student’s Paper Honored

A paper on inventory control, written by a 1976 Ursinus College graduate, won second prize in regional competition recently after winning first prize in a local contest with five other schools last summer.

Gregory Weigard, Center Valley, Pa., an economics major, entered his paper, “Inventory Control: A Scientific Approach,” in a contest sponsored by the American Production and Inventory Control Society.

The $150 prize in the local contest was awarded at a dinner in mid-October.

Weigard is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene B. Weigard, 162 Abberene St., Center Valley.

He was a guard on the Ursinus basketball team, and was vice president of Sigma Rho Lambda fraternity.

Ursinus Installs Richter

President Richard P. Richter is handed the mace, symbol of office, by Board President Theodore Schwalm.

Since the Report, Ursinus has completed an extensive capital improvement program, and has expanded several departments while terminating others. S.F.A.R.C. will consider the net change in faculty salaries, academic programs and administrative services since the 1967 study. One of the three S.F.A.R.C. researchers commented that, “the Gourman Report raises serious questions about the priorities of the college. Our November meeting will be very important and S.F.A.R.C. will be asked to consider actions to improve the college’s standing, quality of education and expanded offerings.”

The research by Dalaker, Lange and Rankin was funded by an appendix to the U.S.R.C., and consisted of a literature search of the University of Pennsylvania, the Philadelphia Free Library as well as the services of the Inter-Library Loan System at Myrin.

Academic Council Reports

By SHARON TUBERTY

The Academic Council met on Thursday, October 28th to discuss coursel changes for the 1977-78 school year. At the faculty meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 3rd, the Council’s suggestions were heard and voted on. The members of the Council are the President, Professor and Associate Professor of English, Professor and Associate Professor of Biology, Professor of Mathematics, and Professor of Computer Science.

A slight change was made in the German Department. Previously, the course Scientific German was taken only after the student fulfilled the German Intermediate requirements. The first term of Scientific German (111) will now consist of the basics—grammar, culture, and skill in the language. The second term (112) will place heavy emphasis on the scientific factors.

In the History Department, all of the seminars have been changed to three credits instead of the customary two. In the Political Science department, the course entitled “Constitutional Law” has been lengthened to a year (Sub. Sci. 211, 212) and will be taught both semesters by Dr. Pancost. Beginning next year, Dr. Kane will teach Law and Society (Sub. Sci. 222) which is a study of the origins, objectives and manifestations of law in the United States political system.

The major alteration in the Psychology department was the addition of two laboratory courses—111 and 112 which were created to correspond with the Psychology 101 and 102 (previously 101 and 108). The labs will consist of two hours a week in class and one semester credit for each laboratory. The labs need not be taken concurrently with 101, 102. If the student has already taken the introductory Psychology course, he may still elect to take the labs.

None of the alterations represent major transformations, and the college is not making any gross changes in staffing.

Congratulations
President Richter

Sunday, November 7th, was an important day in the history of Ursinus College; our tenth president, Richard P. Richter, was inaugurated. We should be grateful that we will have such an able and efficient administrator guiding the progress of this college. President Richter comes to office with a great deal of support and encouragement from all facets of the college community—his good reputation is the result of a lot of hard work. In his many capacities at Ursinus, including faculty member, advisor to various student organizations and Vice-President for Administrative Affairs, President Richter exhibited a deep and genuine concern. He was always ready to offer some sort of guidance or solution to all who came to him whether it was a student in one of his Freshman Composition classes or the editor of the Weekly analyzing over how to balance the budget. We are confident that the policy of openness and understanding will continue in his new position of leadership.

President Richter’s job is not going to be an easy one; the faculty, students and Board of Directors will see to that. And we should not try to make it “easy” for him. He will have to cope with demands from all sides and try to reach a solution equitable to all; he needs the input and ideas from all sides in order to keep in tune with what is happening at Ursinus. He has proven his concern and dedication to Ursinus; this appreciation for Ursinus’ past will not interfere with his objective of the College’s new development program, ADVANCE Ursinus 76/80, to raise some additional gifts for campus beautification. This is a minor goal among many major goals in terms of dollars; but most alumni and faculty involved in the fund-raising process recognize the symbolic significance of past gifts and the need for the same concern for our campus environment.

At last you again for writing an editorial that drove me to my typewriter to share these facts and thoughts with you.

Sincerely,
Richard P. Richter
President

the Alumni Association, Henry William Pfeiffer, Lawrence Dalaker, President of the Class of 1978, spoke for the students of Ursinus College, and Dr. Evan Samuel Snyder concluded this portion of the program with a few remarks on behalf of the faculty.

Featured speaker for the day was Dr. Robert Miller, President of Beloit College from 1954-1975. Beloit College, like Ursinus, is another small private institution with a relationship with the United Church of Christ. In his speech, Dr. Upton stressed the need for small, private, liberal arts colleges in a market dominated by large universities, both public and private. He feels governmental policy underestimates private higher education while overrating public higher education.

In what has become a traditional feature of the College, Richard Groth Bonnor, next year the names of the students who have been given the doctor of laws degree in the past two semesters. Dean Bonnor and President Richter respectively presented and conferred degrees on eleven candidates. Four received Associate in Business Administration: James Robert Brino, John Shelly Chappie, John Harry Cook, and John Michael Macintosh. Six Bachelor of Arts degrees were conferred: Drew Frothingham Alfgren, David John Hazen, Kathleen Ann Hendrickson, Herbert Jeffery Miller, John James Pimbhanson, and Sharon Louise Swift. Robert William Bishop received a Bachelor of Science degree.

President Richter was then conferred an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws by Board President Theodore Schwalm. Final event of the day was the presentation of a portrait of Dale Bonnor done by Theodore Xaras, head of Ursinus’ Fine Arts department. The donor’s wife, Mignon Bonnor, unveiled the portrait which will be placed in the library with the other portraits of College administrators. The program closed with a Benediction by the Rev. Max Nuschel and the recessional.

He has made his commitment and now it is up to us to help him in whatever way we can to keep it, whether that is praise for a good decision, constructive criticism of a bad one or suggestions on how to improve Ursinus. We can be sure that no matter what is said, it will be treated with respect and thoughtfulness. It is in that spirit that Ursinus will prosper and grow even more. We, the members of the Weekly editorial staff, wish to join with everyone else in saying “Congratulations and best of luck, President Richter.”

Founder's Day: A Presidential Inauguration

President Richter caught in a pensive moment during the Inauguration speech.

Dr. Robinson Miller Upton was the guest speaker at Sunday's Founder's Day Convocation and Inauguration.

Speaking on behalf of the United Church of Christ was the Reverend Joseph Henry Evans.

Representing the student body of Ursinus College was Lawrence Dalaker, President of the Class of 1978.

Dr. Evan Snyder delivered a witty greeting on behalf of the faculty of Ursinus.
Text of Pres. Richter's Inaugural Speech

Mr. President, Members of the Board of Directors, Honored Faculty, Distinguished Alumni, Students, Fellow Alumni and Friends of Ursinus:

In accepting this symbol of the official beginning of a new century, I wish to serve with respect for the traditions of Ursinus College, with confidence in the opportunities today, and with a keen desire to seize the opportunities that await Ursinus tomorrow.

Of course, I know that those opportunities will come accompanied by a long list of problems. But those who have lived through the last century and who have experienced the problems herefore have had problems just as great or greater. And all who serve this institution can be encouraged by the example of the men who, from Bomberger to Pettit, have worked to build Ursinus from the modest beginnings through many trials to its present state of strength. I salute them all, and in particular the two who sit in this hall with us today, President David S. Burg and Chancellor Donald L. Heffner.

It is a happy coincidence, I think, that finds us at this occasion before the opening of the centennial year, the opening of the University of the 20th Century. During the past month we have visited our relations, read and reviewed our cherished national documents. In so doing, we have recreated something of that sense of urgency and compulsion that separates us from each other, that spins us out and away from the rest of the world.

But although we are not universally known as a College, we do serve a multitude of students. And perhaps, the most admirable psychologists and educators, with all the pedagogical ingenuity that can be used in a pedagogical way, will try to prepare men and women to become thinking citizens—citizens who will reconcile and wholeness are themes common to both.

In the past, we have created the climate for creative and social development of the students for broad-gauge paths, they do open themselves to the future. To sustain their generous

Our contemporary goal is to reassert our contemporary goal is to reassert together what it is that Ursinus has been called a College. And it seems to me that the future.

To this end, I promise to work with all my energy for the purposes of this Board, for the scholarly goals of our faculty, for the aspirations of our students, and for the pride and participation of our alumni and friends.

To this end, I ask our faculty to keep their standards high and to hold fast to their belief in liberal education: the need to seek the large view of themselves as bearers of a great tradition.

But through such teaching we must continue creating the climate for faculty and students to do their best. I ask the Board of Directors to sustain their generous commitment to the work of this College and urge the alumni to continue by their example to show the world how useful that is. I invite the friedship of the neighbors of the College to make our cause their cause. I ask the United Church of Christ through the Board to work with us in finding new ways of manifesting the purposes of our founders.

"The Great Afflictions of Human Life"

And I ask everyone here today, and everyone associated with Ur-inus, to share with us a sense of the great possibilities of human life—what Alfred North Whitehead called "the limitless variations of choice, the possibility of novel and untired combinations, the happy turns of experiment, the endless horizons of the unknown.

It was this same sense of novelty that prompted my favorite 18th century monk, Meister Eckhardt, the mystic, to say, "Be ready at all times for the gifts of God, and always for new ones.

Mr. McClure said, and I would wish to say, "Ursinus College... must continue to produce scholars and scientists, men and women who are intellectually superior, men and women who will live happy, useful lives, who in the years to come will lead us toward that great soci-ty of which we dream, but which we may not live to see. Such a college deserves our love and devot-tion. To serve the College to the utmost of my ability to improve its work, to extend its influence, I esteem a rare privilege and a sacred duty. To the students and to the faculty and students, I dedicate myself anew to the service of Ursinus College."

U. C. Band Advances

By SAMUEL S. LAUKEES II

The opening of the 1976-77 school year at Ursinus also marks the beginning of the biggest and most important event to date for the Ursinus College Band. Many of you who have attended the football games have a chance to view the results of the band’s efforts. The marching band this year numbers about forty members. This is an outstanding achievement if you can remember the Saturday afternoons not too many years ago when the U.C. Band marched with ten or fifteen members. Furthermore, the marching band is sporting about twelve majorettes, rifles, and color guards.

Compliments on the band’s performance, and most recently, for the homecoming show, have steadily filtered in from many sources.

On the evening of October 27, the marching band left the gridiron and took to the streets for the annual Collegeville Halloween parade. The band, as always, was the hit of the evening, for they marched in Halloween costumes ranging from witches and ghosts to real-live pumpkin heads. Invitations from other communities have been received and considered.

The middle of November will mark the end of marching season and the beginning of concert season. This band, having lost only one member during the past three years, will provide musical entertainment ranging from witches and ghosts to real-live pumpkin heads. Invitations from other communities have been received and considered.

One of the most interesting events of the year—the Jazz Band. This group, during its short existence, has met with phenomenal success.

A band, like any organization, goes nowhere without dedicated leadership. The baton of Mr. James Sorel has guided the band on its recent climb to new heights. All are grateful for his musical expertise and personal dedication. Also not to be overlooked is Mr. Don Herrell, who not only gives encouragement and leadership as chairman of the Music Department, but whose faithful attendance in the tuba section is a real asset to the band. The finest first year this Kathy Katsyuky, our band front leader. Dave Schonert, percussionist for six years has also been instrumental in the band’s success.

There is only one more thing the band members can ask for: the increased support of the entire Ursinus community. They look forward to seeing every student, faculty member, and administrator at some or all of the events this year. Your backing, the band will continue to grow and will provide musical entertainment for the school for years to come.

Al Stewart

By DON WHITAKER

The mellow tones of Al Stewart’s Year of the Cat album, released by Columbia, are the latest of many outstanding renditions of the earlier Stewart albums. Unfortunately, she has a habit of turning all his songs into parodies. "Lord Fly" is the first side presents "Flying Scarecrow" magnificently captures an old friend, really into flying "No school walls creeping. The "While your thoughts could get away. You were taking in Tier Motto, your wings being pulled for the day."

Harold Al with the instrumental sections were Peter Wood, Stuart Elston, Peter White, Tim Renwick, and the band. The arrangement of Stewart’s is probably the closest thing to the original album was produced by Alan Parsons.

Al Stewart has found a style which apparently suits her artistic needs and one which a number of listeners find preferable. If he will ever make it big; if Year of the Cat is released; if Al Stewart continues to record, Al Stewart fans will continue to buy, and no one else will ever hear of him.

Volleyball Season Wrap-Up

By MARY BETH KRAMER

With only one game left to play, the Ursinus College Women’s Volleyball team has a record of 6-6. The team defeated Villanova University, Bryn Mawr College, Haverford College, and University of Pennsylvania. The Bears went for two points and the lead was stopped, and the half ended with the visitors ahead 7-6.

Dickinson scored again in the third quarter for a 14-6 lead, but Ursinus came back as Pete Nicholas raced in with a 68-yard pass from Irwin. However, the Bears were again thwarted in their two-point conversion try. The Dickinson QB, Jack Malley, scampered in from the four in the last quarter to make the score 23-15. The Bears continued the hustle they’ve shown all season as Irvin and Reddick combined on a four-yard TD pass. This time, the kick for the PAT failed and Ursinus took another frustrating loss. 21-18.

X-Country Runs Eleventh in MAC

The Ursinus cross-country team finished eleventh in the Middle Atlantic Conference Cross-Country Championships held Saturday, November 6 at Belmont Plateau in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia. The Bears finished with 288 points, just three points ahead of Haverford and only three behind Juniata. Gettysburg easily won the championship, defeating Franklin and Marshall 28-88. Johns Hopkins finished third with 128 points.

Freshman Joe Fieggi, the Bears’ top runner this season, was the only member of coach Bob Shoudt’s squad to finish in the top individual twenty-five. Fieggi finished nineteenth with a time of 29:19, only one second behind Russ Stephenson of Susquehanna and merely two seconds away from the varsity.

This year’s team was coached by Gail House. The strength of the team came from the experience of all the returning players. The junior varsity also had a winning season. Junior Varsity players were Margaret Horlock, Dot Connell, Jane Harris, Jane Myers, Karen Bartuska and Kathy Smith.

The two most difficult games were Temple and University of Delaware. Presently the team is participating in a Middle Atlantic Tournament and is looking forward to a win over Lafayette to close the season.

Elsewhere in MAC

While Ursinus’ Bears, to say the least, are not in contention for the MAC championship, they are battling for that title. F&M appears to have ended Widener’s reign as champion, but don’t feel sorry for the Pioneers.

Last Saturday, the Diplomats of F&M virtually clinched the MAC by beating Moravian 39-13. The hosts were in charge all the way, Star QB Joe Covello with his worst day passing (4 of 11, 29 yards) but directed an awesome ground attack for F&M. The Diplomats only defeat was handed to them by Widener, but the latter plays fewer conference games. Therefore, F&M has only to win Saturday to clinch the championship.

Widener lost to Dickinson earlier in the season, but it is obviously the best team in the conference. Last Saturday, the Pioneers hand ed Muhlenberg its first loss, 21-6. Despite their probable conference title, Widener is in search of post-season play for the second straight year. If they beat Swarthmore Saturday they will host a national Division III quarter-final game Nov. 20.
