May 4, 1909.

My dear Mr. Ambassador:

I beg leave to introduce to Your Excellency Mr. Thomas W. Cridler, whom I have known for many years and who was formerly Third Assistant Secretary of State and was connected with the Department for nearly twenty-nine years.

Mr. Cridler is now in business in connection with which he is about to make a trip in Canada, where it will be necessary for him to be placed in touch with certain high officials. If Your Excellency will be good enough to give him a line of introduction to one or two officials whom he will mention I shall much appreciate the favor.

I am, my dear Mr. Ambassador,

Yours sincerely,

His Excellency

The Right Honorable James Bryce, O.M.,

British Embassy.
