4-28-1977

The Ursinus Weekly, April 28, 1977

Ann Weibezahl
Ursinus College

Cindy Shelmire
Ursinus College

David Clift
Ursinus College

Stephen M. Lange
Ursinus College

Linda Bell
Ursinus College

See next page for additional authors

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly

Part of the Cultural History Commons, Higher Education Commons, Liberal Studies Commons, Social History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Recommended Citation

Weibezahl, Ann; Shelmire, Cindy; Clift, David; Lange, Stephen M.; Bell, Linda; Glorioso, Thomas J.; Zap, Jonathan; Vincent, Barbara Ann; Meyer, Joel; Schwartz, Andrew; Wardell, Nancy; Shapiro, Benjamin; DuVally, Christopher; Wagner, Casey; and Lewis, Gilder Anne, "The Ursinus Weekly, April 28, 1977" (1977). Ursinus Weekly Newspaper. 70.
https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly/70
Authors
Ann Weibezahl, Cindy Shelmire, David Clift, Stephen M. Lange, Linda Bell, Thomas J. Glorioso, Jonathan Zap, Barbara Ann Vincent, Joel Meyer, Andrew Schwartz, Nancy Wardell, Benjamin Shapiro, Christopher DuVally, Casey Wagner, and Gilder Anne Lewis
Mattress Team Takes Second

Congratulations to the Ursinus mattress stacking group who placed second in the competition at the Vet Stadium on College night, Friday, April 22. The Ursinus team's score of 64 persons on a mattress, although not equaling first place winner Lehig University's score of 70, did win the team a $200 award for second place. The competition was held before the Phillies-Cardinals game.

Chemistry Delegates Tapped

The Chemistry department joined the growing number of Ursinus departments which allow student representatives to attend and participate in department faculty meetings. Representatives were elected under the auspices of the Beardwood Chemical Society at its April 13th meeting. Next year's representatives are Melanie Freed, Ethitha Wu and Mike Pelteroff (alternate). The officers of the Beardwood Chemical Society for next year are Joyce Niedringhaus, president; Mark McGowan, secretary; and Edward Lis, treasurer.

Cub & Key Chooses Officers

The Cub and Key held its elections for the 1977-78 academic year. Tony Woodward was chosen as president and Bob Egidio as secretary-treasurer. The advisors to the organization are Dr. Roger Staiger and Dr. Eugene Miller.

Class Elect Officers

On Tuesday, April 19, the Ursinus student body went to the polls to select their class officers for the 1977-78 academic year.

The new officers from the class of 1978 are: Christine Genace, president; Ben Shapiro, vice-president; Elizabeth Plummer, secretary; and Denise Davis, treasurer. The class of 1979 will be represented by: Samuel Ciapanna, president; Christine Warren, vice-president; Stephanie Dent, secretary; and Abbie Green, treasurer. The class of 1980 elected: Patricia Davis, president; Veronica Cribb, vice-president; Debbie Dobson, secretary; and Edward Lis, treasurer.

Economics Club Elects Officers

On Monday, April 18th, the Economics Club held its third informative meeting of the Spring semester. The main business of the meeting dealt with the election of three officers for the 1977-78 academic year. They are: Barbara Lanooce, president; Chris Warren, vice-president; and Donna Casinelli, secretary-treasurer. Dr. Petrakis, club advisor, presided over the elections in the Bomberger Shiproom.

Library Announces New Hours

The Myrin Library will be open on Saturday nights on a trial basis beginning in May. The hours will be 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

SFC/ARC Discusses WEEKLY

By CINDY SHELMIRE

The discussion shifted to the question of editorial freedom, specifically to the function and purpose of the Weekly Board of Control. No one on the Weekly Board of Control, who is a senior class officer, called its function advisory and supportive, stressing the fact that it has the right to veto a paper if it does not agree with the best paper possible. Stetler explained a situation involving the Mattress Team printer, Robert Weibezahl, who appeared several times this semester. When he approached Weibezahl for advice, Richter expressed some hesitation as he felt that the paper services should primarily be on Ursinus-related subjects. The purchasing of the column required a shifting of pre-budgeted monies, that is, not a request for more money but a shift of budgeting categories. The column was finally printed. Storey explained that he would like to see the paper from above; if advice was requested, it was given—otherwise with the broadest discretion. The role of Mr. Richter, according to Broadbent, is not officially delineated. Mattress Team are columnists, when the paper had severe financial difficulties, he stepped in and continued as business advisor since, for advisory purposes, the editor could more easily consult him than call on any other students or members of the Board of Control.

Mr. Richter suggested changing the discussion so it focused on the separate issues of editorial control and budget control. He suggested that the latter could be used to exercise the former; as a better procedure. He further suggested that the editor receive a lump sum to be budgeted as he saw fit. Broadbent said that, like the Mattress Team, he controlled by the president, to be used at his discretion, has been partly financed by the Art Fund. Richter then called on Wenne to give an example of budget control. The proposed budget for the proposed Activities Fund-$4200. Advertising, subscriptions, (which are not under his control), and the supplementary allocation by the President-$2,000. The budget is set up in two areas of circulation, since few actually subscribe.

Discussion continued on the query (Continued on page 5, Col. 5)

GRE REvised

By DAVE CLIFF

Mr. Jim Sabell has recently assumed the position of Associate Food Manager for Wimmer. He has been with the company for three years and has just joined us here at Ursinus College within the last three weeks.

Food Service Names liaison

By DAVE CLIFF

Mr. Jim Sabell has recently assumed the position of Associate Food Manager for Wimmer. He has been with the company for three years and has just joined us here at Ursinus College within the last three weeks.

The discussion shifted to the question of editorial freedom, specifically to the function and purpose of the Weekly Board of Control. No one on the Weekly Board of Control, who is a senior class officer, called its function advisory and supportive, stressing the fact that it has the right to veto a paper if it does not agree with the best paper possible. Stetler explained a situation involving the Mattress Team printer, Robert Weibezahl, who appeared several times this semester. When he approached Weibezahl for advice, Richter expressed some hesitation as he felt that the paper services should primarily be on Ursinus-related subjects. The purchasing of the column required a shifting of pre-budgeted monies, that is, not a request for more money but a shift of budgeting categories. The column was finally printed. Storey explained that he would like to see the paper from above; if advice was requested, it was given—otherwise with the broadest discretion. The role of Mr. Richter, according to Broadbent, is not officially delineated. Mattress Team are columnists, when the paper had severe financial difficulties, he stepped in and continued as business advisor since, for advisory purposes, the editor could more easily consult him than call on any other students or members of the Board of Control.

Mr. Richter suggested changing the discussion so it focused on the separate issues of editorial control and budget control. He suggested that the latter could be used to exercise the former; as a better procedure. He further suggested that the editor receive a lump sum to be budgeted as he saw fit. Broadbent said that, like the Mattress Team, he controlled by the president, to be used at his discretion, has been partly financed by the Art Fund. Richter then called on Wenne to give an example of budget control. The proposed budget for the proposed Activities Fund-$4200. Advertising, subscriptions, (which are not under his control), and the supplementary allocation by the President-$2,000. The budget is set up in two areas of circulation, since few actually subscribe.

Discussion continued on the query (Continued on page 5, Col. 5)
Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

In recent years this academic year, like any other, has had its ups and downs. An especially low point to many Ursinus students was the forced withdrawal from school of John Lerk and Guy Femeia, a couple of sophomores, from the pages of the Weekly. It is this oversight that this letter hopes to rectify.

John Lerk and Guy Femeia were both discovered by Dean Whatley to be in the possession of marijuana. The Ursinus rule book says that possession of narcotics is liable to expulsion. Neither student had been in any previous disciplinary trouble. Yet almost every student who attended the Ursinus administration to resign from school, based mostly on the logic that it is better to leave than be thrown out. The students were also coerced to sign "confessions," and the speed of this whole operation was such that John Lerk was out of school within five hours being brought before the police. A judicial system would implement the Ursinus method, court compulsion and expulsion of students.

What is debatable here is whether the punishment befitted the crime. Over the last few years of America, between the ages of eighteen and twenty-five, have smoked marijuana. Marin-

The problem that arises is the necessity of making its working criteria stringent and non-arbitrary, basing its decisions on the answers to the questsions asked, and not solely on personal convictions about the applicant. It should also be noted that the members of the CCC that personal biases could be detrimental to its policies. In the case of the USGA, some problems raised by such a factor were discussed by the committee and as much as is humanly possible.

Plans for combining squads during the orientation months are in the making and it was found that an even number of leaders would be needed. The total of 63 was decided upon in order to make the possible spots. Although it was not a true number prior to the selection of the squad leaders, 13 are next year's leaders and the remaining 15 will be sophomores.

Some selection was not based on friendship but rather on performance. A major factor of the distribution was equal. Of the alternates, 8 are class of '78, 2 are class of '79, and 1 is class of '80. Of course, these alternates will be activated as needed, in case these chosen teams are unable to leave the program or the incoming Freshman class exceeds 550 and there are any upperclass transfer students.

The interests of the entire realized the difference of the USGA to the USGA as of April 21 and will be published in the minutes of the meeting.

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 1)

The Ursinus Weekly

Published each week during the academic year by the students of Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa. 19426

Seventy-sixth year of publication.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
ASSOCIATE EDITOR
ARTS AND CULTURE EDITOR
WOMEN'S SPORTS EDITOR
MEN'S SPORTS EDITOR
COPY EDITOR
CONTRIBUTING EDITOR
ADVERTISING MANAGER
CIRCULATION MANAGER
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

PHOTOGRAPHY STAFF

STAFF

For Anything
That Pertains to Flowers or Plants.

SEE Ott's
EXOTIC PLANTS

Page 297, 767

Schwenksville, Pa.

Amn M. Weibezahl
Sharon R. Tultby
Barbara Ann Vincent
Nancy Wardell
Andrew Schwartz
Stephanie Dent
Stephen M. Lange
Erwin Wenner
Robert J. Egido
Kevin J. Griffin

The Ursinus Weekly

Published each week during the academic year by the students of Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa. 19426

Seventy-sixth year of publication.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
ASSOCIATE EDITOR
ARTS AND CULTURE EDITOR
WOMEN'S SPORTS EDITOR
MEN'S SPORTS EDITOR
COPY EDITOR
CONTRIBUTING EDITOR
ADVERTISING MANAGER
CIRCULATION MANAGER
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

PHOTOGRAPHY STAFF

STAFF

For Anything
That Pertains to Flowers or Plants.

SEE Ott's
EXOTIC PLANTS

Page 297, 767

Schwenksville, Pa.

Amn M. Weibezahl
Sharon R. Tultby
Barbara Ann Vincent
Nancy Wardell
Andrew Schwartz
Stephanie Dent
Stephen M. Lange
Erwin Wenner
Robert J. Egido
Kevin J. Griffin

The Ursinus Weekly

Published each week during the academic year by the students of Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa. 19426

Seventy-sixth year of publication.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
ASSOCIATE EDITOR
ARTS AND CULTURE EDITOR
WOMEN'S SPORTS EDITOR
MEN'S SPORTS EDITOR
COPY EDITOR
CONTRIBUTING EDITOR
ADVERTISING MANAGER
CIRCULATION MANAGER
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

PHOTOGRAPHY STAFF

STAFF

For Anything
That Pertains to Flowers or Plants.

SEE Ott's
EXOTIC PLANTS

Page 297, 767

Schwenksville, Pa.
THURSDAY, APRIL 28, 1977

THE URNSUS WEEKLY

MOVIE ATTACK

Jonathan Zap

Airport '77

falls in love with a blind musician who also has only one eye. A moment before he dies, a reunion of lovers that haven't met since London where Jimmy Stewart, a recluse, offering a sumptuous millionpound, for which Jack Lemmon, the only one who has only a few months to live (as his daughter learns in the final scene), is also equipped with a group of disguised art thieves who hijack the plane pretty much on a whim. In the middle of the end of the movie they have a statement assuring us that the incident was fictional. This is not to imply, however, that the movie is without-hit-the-head lines for a while. The passengers wake up after being rendered unconscious by art thieves during a policeman-gone-gaga on the plane has crashed, they find themselves buried under furniture, many are injured, and one is drowning. We are filler with water. Jack Lemmon to engineer: We come to the gate! Another example, they discover that the hijackers had booked miles off course, under radar cover, no one has any idea where to look in the end of Uriznas. You have ever noticed how even the worst movies have promotion lines? Happy... .powerful... —N.Y.Times!” (Continued on Page 6, Col. 1)

Band Holds Concert

The evening of April 17 was clear and warm and a full moon shone brightly over the campus as the College Theatre Center for the Arts. Inside, over 140 musicians from the Drexel and Villanova bands performed their evening concert to a full house. The evening started with a series of three combined bands the concert participated in this week. Drexel hosted the entire group on April 18, and on April 20 they performed at Villanova.

The program included contemporary and traditional works for concert band. Dr. Clyde Shive from Drexel conducted Music for a Concert, Cole Porter's "I’ve Changed" from the Drexel concert. Band.

Performers included: "The Young Artist Series at Drexel College" and "The Student Band Series," presented by the Drexel College Band. The evening concluded with "The Young Artist Series at Drexel College" and "The Student Band Series," presented by the Drexel College Band.

Perfection Personified

by THOMAS J. GILIOSSO

The piano is a popular and well-liked instrument throughout the world. When one witnesses a performance such as the one held recently at the URISUS, one realizes just how beautiful the sound of a piano is, and how skillful the performer must be to play a piece of music.

The forum guest artist was James Adams, a prize-winning pianist-composer and conductor. He was also the guest artist in the Young Artist Series at URISUS. At an afternoon workshop offered by Mr. Adams, he talked about the program he played at the concert, and demonstrated the different styles and techniques required to perform them effectively. In addition to the three pianists performing the three Chopin pieces, each possessed a different style. "Schonzeit in B minor, Opus 20" was one of his favorite Chopin selections. James Adams' formal title is pianist-composer. In order to live up to that title, he performed an original work entitled "Passacaglia for Piano" written in 1974. In this piece, one voice is repeated over and over, and another, and eventually crumples into a fury of notes. It is extremely deep and haunting, and is like music from a movie. The audience really enjoyed this section. The program ended with a reprise of No. 7, Opus 83" by Prokofiev, a very difficult and dramatic piece. It was performed excellently and with great energy.

On behalf of all the students at Uriznas I would like to thank Dr. Adams and all of our classes for their supervision of the Young Artist Series. The series was very educational as well as beautiful and showed different types of genres in one performance. The tremendous relief from the hectic business of school work was appreciable and I hope that another series like this can be repeated next year. Again, thanks to all of the Young Artists' Series a success.

1 HOUR DRY CLEANING
Colleyville Shopping Center
SHIRT SERVICE
459-9502

WILL'S MOBIL SERVICE STATION
GENERAL REPAIR & TOWING
3rd & MAIN STREETS
COLLEYVILLE, PA.
Phone: 459-9502

Carnival on the Quad...

300 students, faculty, and staff gathered on the Quad for the annual Carnival.

Rides were available including the "Swing," "Mini-Screamer," and "The Fun House." Food also included cotton candy, corn dogs, and other popular fair foods.

The event was a success and all those involved were very pleased with the turnout.

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

Send me information on the full 77 graduate program.

Name:
Address:
City:
State:
Zip:
Mail to: Dean of the Graduate School, Villanova University, Villanova, PA 19085.
(215) 527-2100 Extension 412.

Zip----.,...
To the Editor:

I must inform you that Ursinus has submitted for this issue a letter protesting the portrayal during this year's Songfest of the crucifixion of Jesus Christ. Because I was not an eyewitness to this event, I feel uneasy about commenting upon an eyewitness even though I am in agreement with the substance of the protest letter. It would be like to take a different tack in this letter, since I feel that there is no need to question the protest letter other than to execute personal vendettas. As previously stated, applications, not the various votes cast by the fifty-six were chosen from that group. The whole process took approximately one week and I felt that the matter was not attacked in a fair manner at all. It was taken as a chance to appease personal acquaintance. It was also noted that many students felt that the protest would go to the CCC or to any one member of it, were viewed as the matter in question.

The CCC feels that it has made 56 solid choices, and acknowledges the fact that these choices are not well qualified for the position. But in any selection process, some positions will be filled better than others. Therefore, the CCC has been given the job of requalifying the job. We wish to thank everyone for cooperation that we have received and we realize fully that we have a long job ahead of us, as do the leaders choosing from the ideas and new processes will call forth new, creative leaders of the part of those involved. Our only hope is that we can make the course even more enjoyable. We feel that Freshmen have a good foundation of the Ursinus curriculum and the feeling of unity as a class and elimination of individuals who are not as yet new in the new surroundings. We believe that we can accomplish these goals with the concerted joint action and we feel that the program which is in the making will encompass enough areas that the incoming class of 1981 will have one of the best orientation programs executed in the 7 day period. Our program will offer a number of opportunities to all students, and we hope that they will be answered by both men and women, and it will also allow for a total sense of community and unity of each and every squad leader. In this way, we feel that we are working towards a better future, the newcomers and the squad leaders.

Once again, we wish to thank everyone for their significant contributions to the quality of student life on campus. If there are any questions, please address them to any CCC member directly. The message to the CCC mailbox in the Women's Quad with your name and address and they will be answered promptly.

Sincerely,

(Roe Blake, Bob Donato, Dave Doris, Lisa Colona, Lynne Howard, and Britta Matteson)

PRESIDENTIAL MEMO

THURSDAY, APRIL 28, 1977

Dear Faculty, Staff, and Students:

I am writing to you today to discuss a few basic campus policies, including the judicial system, the Code of Conduct, and the code of morals.

1. It is true that the College is planning to take in a freshman class of 500 students. The new class will be larger than the current 400, but we are looking for a full complement of students in the freshmen class.

2. How do you plan to defend the review of student life policies? We are looking to make sure that the new policy is in line with the best orientation and that the new policy is in line with the best orientation for both women and men.

Richard P. Richter

P.S. I am also concerned about the question of our foreign students. There are some who feel that they are not being treated fairly. I am going to investigate this issue further and I will keep you updated on the progress.

SPECK'S DRIVE-IN

Pipe's Hot Sandwiches

COLD DRINKS

MILK SHAKES

LIME RICK

SOFT ICE CREAM

450-7343

COLLEGEVILLE, PA

BROODHICK'S

489-2316
SFARC Discusses Weekly (Continued from Page 1, Col. 5)

Tuition of the budget. Beiler noted that the same amount of money had been budgeted for his two years as an assistant professor, but the printing costs had risen. Sullivan, speaking as a member of the Student Activities Committee, said that no request for more money had been made. A suggestion was made that perhaps something could be done about the price of tickets. Ms. Sullivan told the committee that they should be told more about the paper, its policies and production.

At the mention of the Student Activities Fund, Rankin brought up the topic of the ads, which he found looking in lack of bulk and quality. Sullivan suggested that this was because of the voluntary nature of the ads, and that the newspaper should perhaps consider charging a fee for them.

Finally a motion was made expressing the need seen by SFARC for the weekly to have an independent source of funds which would provide for a weekly paper. It was made by Todd, seconded by Scher, and carried.

In the area of old business, a rules committee has been formed, according to Sullivan. The committee will be in charge of a handbook of suggested changes. Langner asked whether the members of the rules committee would be allowed to make their suggestions. Mr. Sullivan said he did not think so.

The next and last S.F.A.R.C. meeting will be held in May in the dining hall. The meeting will consist of the members of the S.F.A.R.C. meeting with the daily bulletin for the date of the meeting.

FOOD SERVICE liaison (Continued from Page 1, Col. 3)

primary duty is to better relations between the dean of students and the management. His ability to effect changes, however, has not been realized. It was through his suggestion of student opinion cards for each table, asking for student opinions on the food and the environment in the dining hall. The student response cards were distributed to the students and the management, and Mr. Sullivan has been successful in getting the faculty's help in improving the quality of the food and the environment in the dining hall.

GRE REVISION

As a result of the GRE revision, the number of students taking the test has increased. The revision has been successful in improving the quality of the test and in providing more accurate results. The benefits of the GRE revision have been evident in the increase of the number of students taking the test and in the improvement of the test's validity and reliability.

The GRE is taken each year by about 300,000 college students as part of the admissions process to graduate school. The exam is offered six times a year, while admission to 20 subjects is offered five times a year throughout the nation.

SFARC novamente (Continued from Page 4, Col. 5)

discussed student activities. The Student Activities Committee had added $20 to the budget to cover costs associated with social activities. However, Beiler noted that the same amount of money had been budgeted for his two years as an assistant professor, but the printing costs had risen. Sullivan, speaking as a member of the Student Activities Committee, said that no request for more money had been made. A suggestion was made that perhaps something could be done about the price of tickets. Ms. Sullivan told the committee that they should be told more about the paper, its policies and production.

At the mention of the Student Activities Fund, Rankin brought up the topic of the ads, which he found looking in lack of bulk and quality. Sullivan suggested that this was because of the voluntary nature of the ads, and that the newspaper should perhaps consider charging a fee for them.

Finally a motion was made expressing the need seen by SFARC for the weekly to have an independent source of funds which would provide for a weekly paper. It was made by Todd, seconded by Scher, and carried.

In the area of old business, a rules committee has been formed, according to Sullivan. The committee will be in charge of a handbook of suggested changes. Langner asked whether the members of the rules committee would be allowed to make their suggestions. Mr. Sullivan said he did not think so.

The next and last S.F.A.R.C. meeting will be held in May in the dining hall. The meeting will consist of the members of the S.F.A.R.C. meeting with the daily bulletin for the date of the meeting.

FOOD SERVICE liaison (Continued from Page 1, Col. 3)

primary duty is to better relations between the dean of students and the management. His ability to effect changes, however, has not been realized. It was through his suggestion of student opinion cards for each table, asking for student opinions on the food and the environment in the dining hall. The student response cards were distributed to the students and the management, and Mr. Sullivan has been successful in getting the faculty's help in improving the quality of the food and the environment in the dining hall.

GRE REVISION

As a result of the GRE revision, the number of students taking the test has increased. The revision has been successful in improving the quality of the test and in providing more accurate results. The benefits of the GRE revision have been evident in the increase of the number of students taking the test and in the improvement of the test's validity and reliability.

The GRE is taken each year by about 300,000 college students as part of the admissions process to graduate school. The exam is offered six times a year, while admission to 20 subjects is offered five times a year throughout the nation.
By ANDREW SCHWARTZ

This past Saturday the weatherman’s forecast had called for rain all day. My prediction was that Ursinus would be defeated by a doubleheader against Widener, and thus their chances for a league title now seemed rather slim. The prediction was totally inaccurate; mine came within one out of the truth, and Widener was out 11-5 but bounced back and took the second game by a score of 5-3.

In the first inning of game number one, Ursinus was going to have an easy route to a doubleheader sweep as they scored four unearned runs. But it was not to be. The Bears got it back in their half of the inning on a run on a single hit by Alfonso. They then added bases, and error he had committed in the first inning. Meanwhile, Ray Dougherty had settled down the infield for a routine out at first for a scoreless inning. Alfonso and Widener were furling up a storm for real as it was now Widener’s turn. Dougherty got two quick outs on two groundballs and Ursinus was within striking distance of the punchout of Widener. The third out apparently came on a line drive caught by Tom Miller for the second Widener game was over and rushed in to congratulate Dougherty. Everyone expected it to be a really good game, but no one expected it to be a one hitter. The Bears, who had not held the ball long enough. Bettendorf decided to take in the next one to attempt to nail the runner. However, Mike Piotrowski, who had ended was not covering first base, enabling Miller to go to second. After giving up a double, Dougherty left the game and Tim Todd came on in relief. However, over as Todd could not manage to prevent the Widener batters from executing a double steal leading off the doubleheader. In the second game Todd discovered that Widener’s hitters are not used to weather as they have won. They found enough weakness to limit Widener’s offensive production. This is only the second time Ursinus spotted the Fencers three runs. But in the sixth inning they tore up their frustrations from the first game on Tom Miller as a quick out. Tailwind was produced three runs. Phillips and Todd each had a run batted in, evening the score at three.

In the next inning Ursinus went ahead in the game for the first time. Mike Piotrowski, who led off the inning with a sharp double bunted the ball through the infield to score the winning run. Mike Piotrowski then knocked in his second run of the game with a hit just beyond the second baseman’s reach. While Ursinus was staging their comeback Dougherty really got a pitching groove. He retired nine of the ten Widener batters between the fourth and sixth innings allowing only one harmless baserun.

And then came one of the most nightmarish innings a baseball team can experience. Twelve of Fraziers’ batters took on twelve of Widener’s pitchers in all comers. Fraziers added another run in the third inning. Joe Miller hit a searing line drive to center field. Dougherty got two quick outs on two groundballs and Ursinus was within striking distance of the punchout of Widener. The third out apparently came on a line drive caught by Tom Miller for the second Widener game was over and rushed in to congratulate Dougherty. Everyone expected it to be a really good game, but no one expected it to be a one hitter. The Bears, who had not held the ball long enough. Bettendorf decided to take in the next one to attempt to nail the runner. However, Mike Piotrowski, who had ended was not covering first base, enabling Miller to go to second. After giving up a double, Dougherty left the game and Tim Todd came on in relief. However, over as Todd could not manage to prevent the Widener batters from executing a double steal leading off the doubleheader.

In the second game Todd discovered that Widener’s hitters are not used to weather as they have won. They found enough weakness to limit Widener’s offensive production. This is only the second time Ursinus spotted the Fencers three runs. But in the sixth inning they tore up their frustrations from the first game on Tom Miller as a quick out. Tailwind was produced three runs. Phillips and Todd each had a run batted in, evening the score at three.

In the fourth inning Ursinus bat­ tied back to tie the score. Vince Marino took advantage of a wild pitch and a throwing error by batter and alertly stroked a single into a double. Tom Ousey hit a perfect sacrifice bunt down the third baseline and reached first. He went to see the bean in a walk-off-profit throw by Pete Morrison. Phil Midgett then knocked in his second run of the game with a hit just beyond the second baseman’s reach.

While Ursinus was staging their comeback Dougherty really got a pitching groove. He retired nine of the ten Widener batters between the fourth and sixth innings allowing only one harmless baserun.

And then came one of the most nightmarish innings a baseball team can experience. Twelve of Fraziers’ batters took on twelve of Widener’s pitchers in all comers. Fraziers added another run in the third inning. Joe Miller hit a searing line drive to center field. Dougherty got two quick outs on two groundballs and Ursinus was within striking distance of the punchout of Widener. The third out apparently came on a line drive caught by Tom Miller for the second Widener game was over and rushed in to congratulate Dougherty. Everyone expected it to be a really good game, but no one expected it to be a one hitter. The Bears, who had not held the ball long enough. Bettendorf decided to take in the next one to attempt to nail the runner. However, Mike Piotrowski, who had ended was not covering first base, enabling Miller to go to second. After giving up a double, Dougherty left the game and Tim Todd came on in relief. However, over as Todd could not manage to prevent the Widener batters from executing a double steal leading off the doubleheader.

In the second game Todd discovered that Widener’s hitters are not used to weather as they have won. They found enough weakness to limit Widener’s offensive production. This is only the second time Ursinus spotted the Fencers three runs. But in the sixth inning they tore up their frustrations from the first game on Tom Miller as a quick out. Tailwind was produced three runs. Phillips and Todd each had a run batted in, evening the score at three.

In the fourth inning Ursinus bat­ tied back to tie the score. Vince Marino took advantage of a wild pitch and a throwing error by batter and alertly stroked a single into a double. Tom Ousey hit a perfect sacrifice bunt down the third baseline and reached first. He went to see the bean in a walk-off-profit throw by Pete Morrison. Phil Midgett then knocked in his second run of the game with a hit just beyond the second baseman’s reach.

While Ursinus was staging their comeback Dougherty really got a pitching groove. He retired nine of the ten Widener batters between the fourth and sixth innings allowing only one harmless baserun.

And then came one of the most nightmarish innings a baseball team can experience. Twelve of Fraziers’ batters took on twelve of Widener’s pitchers in all comers. Fraziers added another run in the third inning. Joe Miller hit a searing line drive to center field. Dougherty got two quick outs on two groundballs and Ursinus was within striking distance of the punchout of Widener. The third out apparently came on a line drive caught by Tom Miller for the second Widener game was over and rushed in to congratulate Dougherty. Everyone expected it to be a really good game, but no one expected it to be a one hitter. The Bears, who had not held the ball long enough. Bettendorf decided to take in the next one to attempt to nail the runner. However, Mike Piotrowski, who had ended was not covering first base, enabling Miller to go to second. After giving up a double, Dougherty left the game and Tim Todd came on in relief. However, over as Todd could not manage to prevent the Widener batters from executing a double steal leading off the doubleheader.