The Ursinus Weekly, January 10, 1978

Ann Weibezahl
Ursinus College

Sharon Tuberty
Ursinus College

Cindy Poots
Ursinus College

Kaaron Benson
Ursinus College

Jonathan Zap
Ursinus College

See next page for additional authors

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly

Part of the Cultural History Commons, Higher Education Commons, Liberal Studies Commons, Social History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Click here to let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation
Weibezahl, Ann; Tuberty, Sharon; Poots, Cindy; Benson, Kaaron; Zap, Jonathan; Byrom, Sue; Moore, Lee; Morris, Rick; and Young, George, "The Ursinus Weekly, January 10, 1978" (1978). Ursinus Weekly Newspaper. 80.
https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly/80

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Newspapers at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. It has been accepted for inclusion in Ursinus Weekly Newspaper by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. For more information, please contact aprock@ursinus.edu.
Authors
Ann Weibezahl, Sharon Tuberty, Cindy Poots, Kaaron Benson, Jonathan Zap, Sue Byrom, Lee Moore, Rick Morris, and George Young

This book is available at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly/80
Craft Attempts
Prior Restraint

On Wednesday, December 14, 1977, the Editor-in-Chief of the Weekly, Harry E. Broadbent III, Head Librarian, had sent a memo to President Richard P. Richter stating that unless the library received more budget money, the library hours would return to those of 1975. Broadbent claimed that he would be sending a copy of this memo to the Weekly. Craft, who received the memo in the absence of President Richter, notified the Weekly editor that Craft had not yet received the memo. Craft asked the editor to print a copy in Craft's proposal, as claimed it was not yet official. It was later discovered that Craft contacted Broadbent to persuade the latter to influence the decision of the Weekly editor.

As has been stated previously, the Weekly will not subject itself to prior restraint. The Weekly's function is to report the news, as it happens, without censorship.

Lilly Endowment Scratched

At the faculty meeting of December 7, 1977 President Richard P. Richter, commenting on the Lilly Endowment, announced that the Lilly Endowment may provide for training of faculty members for dealing in matters of student counseling. The competitive endowment, however, does not apply to any and all areas of such training, especially if it includes limited proposals such as that submitted by Ursinus College. President Richter commented that, "when the endowment becomes receivable to proposals of this limited scope, Ursinus is assured of an opportunity to compete."

Band Hangs Mandel

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (CH) — University of Maryland Athletic Director Jim Kehoe doesn't think a band's halftime performance is the best way to make political comment.

Kehoe complained about a skit performed by the visiting Maryland pep band which depicted convicted Maryland President.

At the faculty meeting of December 7, 1977 President Richard Helms, former CIA chief, acknowledged that he had snitched as a student.

Bankruptcy
Negates Loans

Do you have a student loan?

Are you thinking about getting one? GLAMOUR Magazine's "The After Dinner Menu," Barbara Gilder Quint, has some important facts you should know regarding loan payments and bankruptcy.

In 1973, Am graduated from her state university with a master's degree in economics, lots of confidence — and $7,500 in debt. She had accumulated during her last five years of schooling. She quickly discovered that there were no jobs for high school French teachers, and that she was either under-qualified or unskilled for any other available jobs. Her best opportunity, it seemed, was as a part-time faculty member in an insurance office — a far cry from the $9,000 she had counted on as a teacher. To top it off, she received the first monthly bill of $81 for repayment of her college loans.

Cornell Students March for Time Off

ITHACA, NY (CH) — Thousands of Cornell University students marched through campus chanting, a bonfire was built, and several hundred protesters occupied the administration building briefly, earlier this month.

The issue: more vacation. The demonstrating students want some type of liberal arts college. The proposed stretch between the start of classes in August and Thanksgiving.

Library May Curtail Hours

by Sharon Tuberty

According to Mr. Harry E. Broadbent III, Head Librarian of the college, the library may be forced to curtail its hours back to the 1973 schedule unless its budget problems are resolved. Due in part to the increase in student wages, Broadbent states that the library cannot stay within its budget under the current operating system.

The increase in the subminimum wage rate paid to student workers for $1.95 to $2.25 per hour was not taken into consideration when its budget for the current year was prepared. This fail, the library exceeded its 1977-1978 hours on Friday and Saturday nights, and these hours were also un-billable.

A set of proposals to deal with the budget problems was developed and presented to President Richter before Christmas. Broadbent proposed to curtail its operating hours by 15 percent to accompany the 15 percent increase in student wage rates. Basically, it may be cut back to 1973 levels, however the library, open only until 11:00 p.m. and curtail its hours on Friday and Saturday nights.

Broadbent prefers to close the library early as opposed to taking a curriculum of concern is to close the library services at their present levels and conditions for the reduction or consolidations during the time when it just serves a study halls purpose would mean. Basically, it would mean that the library's new combined budget would be cut back, and that the library would be closed on Friday and Saturday nights.

Broadbent prefers to close the library early as opposed to taking a curriculum of concern is to close the library services at their present levels and conditions for the reduction or consolidations during the time when it just serves a study halls purpose would mean. Basically, it would mean that the library's new combined budget would be cut back, and that the library would be closed on Friday and Saturday nights.

CIA Investigates U.S.

The U.S. Central Intelligence Agency investigated student activism on the campus of Ursinus College, the Chronicle of Higher Education reported.

In a December 5, 1977 article by Phillip W. Serna, the CIA has begun an "outside monitoring" of campus radicals during the late 1960's and early 1970's. Richard Helms, former CIA chief, acknowledged that

"the Task Force will concern itself with all aspects of the curriculum, such as the majors and their roles in the curriculum, as well as the financial limitations of Ursinus, the Task Force will, in general, be concerned with the recommendations of the Evening School and, consequently, of its offerings to those of the students."

The Task Force will submit interim reports as feasible. In terms reports are requested on March 1 and May 15. A final report, with recommendations, will be due on July 15.

The findings of the report will form a part of the self-evaluation of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools.

C.I.A. Investigates U.S.

The U.S. Central Intelligence Agency investigated student activism on the campus of Ursinus College, the Chronicle of Higher Education reported.

In a December 5, 1977 article by Phillip W. Serna, the CIA has begun an "outside monitoring" of campus radicals during the late 1960's and early 1970's. Richard Helms, former CIA chief, acknowledged that

"the Task Force will concern itself with all aspects of the curriculum, such as the majors and their roles in the curriculum, as well as the financial limitations of Ursinus, the Task Force will, in general, be concerned with the recommendations of the Evening School and, consequently, of its offerings to those of the students."

The Task Force will submit interim reports as feasible. In terms reports are requested on March 1 and May 15. A final report, with recommendations, will be due on July 15.

The findings of the report will form a part of the self-evaluation of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools.

C.I.A. Investigates U.S.

The U.S. Central Intelligence Agency investigated student activism on the campus of Ursinus College, the Chronicle of Higher Education reported.

In a December 5, 1977 article by Phillip W. Serna, the CIA has begun an "outside monitoring" of campus radicals during the late 1960's and early 1970's. Richard Helms, former CIA chief, acknowledged that

"the Task Force will concern itself with all aspects of the curriculum, such as the majors and their roles in the curriculum, as well as the financial limitations of Ursinus, the Task Force will, in general, be concerned with the recommendations of the Evening School and, consequently, of its offerings to those of the students."

The Task Force will submit interim reports as feasible. In terms reports are requested on March 1 and May 15. A final report, with recommendations, will be due on July 15.

The findings of the report will form a part of the self-evaluation of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools.

C.I.A. Investigates U.S.

The U.S. Central Intelligence Agency investigated student activism on the campus of Ursinus College, the Chronicle of Higher Education reported.

In a December 5, 1977 article by Phillip W. Serna, the CIA has begun an "outside monitoring" of campus radicals during the late 1960's and early 1970's. Richard Helms, former CIA chief, acknowledged that

"the Task Force will concern itself with all aspects of the curriculum, such as the majors and their roles in the curriculum, as well as the financial limitations of Ursinus, the Task Force will, in general, be concerned with the recommendations of the Evening School and, consequently, of its offerings to those of the students."

The Task Force will submit interim reports as feasible. In terms reports are requested on March 1 and May 15. A final report, with recommendations, will be due on July 15.

The findings of the report will form a part of the self-evaluation of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools.

C.I.A. Investigates U.S.

The U.S. Central Intelligence Agency investigated student activism on the campus of Ursinus College, the Chronicle of Higher Education reported.

In a December 5, 1977 article by Phillip W. Serna, the CIA has begun an "outside monitoring" of campus radicals during the late 1960's and early 1970's. Richard Helms, former CIA chief, acknowledged that

"the Task Force will concern itself with all aspects of the curriculum, such as the majors and their roles in the curriculum, as well as the financial limitations of Ursinus, the Task Force will, in general, be concerned with the recommendations of the Evening School and, consequently, of its offerings to those of the students."

The Task Force will submit interim reports as feasible. In terms reports are requested on March 1 and May 15. A final report, with recommendations, will be due on July 15.

The findings of the report will form a part of the self-evaluation of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools.

C.I.A. Investigates U.S.

The U.S. Central Intelligence Agency investigated student activism on the campus of Ursinus College, the Chronicle of Higher Education reported.

In a December 5, 1977 article by Phillip W. Serna, the CIA has begun an "outside monitoring" of campus radicals during the late 1960's and early 1970's. Richard Helms, former CIA chief, acknowledged that

"the Task Force will concern itself with all aspects of the curriculum, such as the majors and their roles in the curriculum, as well as the financial limitations of Ursinus, the Task Force will, in general, be concerned with the recommendations of the Evening School and, consequently, of its offerings to those of the students."

The Task Force will submit interim reports as feasible. In terms reports are requested on March 1 and May 15. A final report, with recommendations, will be due on July 15.

The findings of the report will form a part of the self-evaluation of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools.

C.I.A. Investigates U.S.
Ursinus Safety

By Kaaron Benson

Does a greasy hamburger turn your stomach? How do you feel about getting your blood drawn? What's in a hot dog? Have you ever tried to go chicken-less, or do you think that a bloody pork chop does not make the cut? How do you respond when the thought of having your teeth pulled makes you nauseous? Have you ever tried to kick your smoking habit? How do you feel about meat? How do you respond when the thought of eating your own arm makes you shudder? How do you think about having your stomach removed? How do you respond when the thought of someone else eating you makes you nauseous? These are just a few questions that many people ask when they are considering becoming vegetarians. Many people are interested in the idea of becoming vegetarian because it is a way of life that is compatible with their personal values. The decision to become vegetarian is a personal one, and it is important to make sure that you are making an informed decision before making the change.

A Vegetarian's View

By Lorraine Caul'din

Many people are interested in the idea of becoming vegetarian because it is a way of life that is compatible with their personal values. The decision to become vegetarian is a personal one, and it is important to make sure that you are making an informed decision before making the change.

Censorship vs. Student Rights

By Lorraine Gauvin

The landmark 1968 Supreme Court decision in Tinker v. Des Moines was the first case in which the Court ruled that the First Amendment rights of students were protected. The decision was based on the fact that the suppression of speech activities was a violation of the students' rights to freedom of expression. The decision has been cited as precedent in many cases since then, and it has been used to protect the rights of students in many different situations.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Thank you.

Gilder Anne Lewis

Student Rights

By Lorraine Gauvin

The landmark 1968 Supreme Court decision in Tinker v. Des Moines was the first case in which the Court ruled that the First Amendment rights of students were protected. The decision was based on the fact that the suppression of speech activities was a violation of the students' rights to freedom of expression. The decision has been cited as precedent in many cases since then, and it has been used to protect the rights of students in many different situations.

Censorship vs. Student Rights

Special to the Weekly

by Lorraine Gauvin

Collegiate Headlines

The landmark 1968 Supreme Court decision in Tinker v. Des Moines was the first case in which the Court ruled that the First Amendment rights of students were protected. The decision was based on the fact that the suppression of speech activities was a violation of the students' rights to freedom of expression. The decision has been cited as precedent in many cases since then, and it has been used to protect the rights of students in many different situations.

Censorship vs. Student Rights

Special to the Weekly

by Lorraine Gauvin

Collegiate Headlines

The landmark 1968 Supreme Court decision in Tinker v. Des Moines was the first case in which the Court ruled that the First Amendment rights of students were protected. The decision was based on the fact that the suppression of speech activities was a violation of the students' rights to freedom of expression. The decision has been cited as precedent in many cases since then, and it has been used to protect the rights of students in many different situations.

Censorship vs. Student Rights

Special to the Weekly

by Lorraine Gauvin

Collegiate Headlines

The landmark 1968 Supreme Court decision in Tinker v. Des Moines was the first case in which the Court ruled that the First Amendment rights of students were protected. The decision was based on the fact that the suppression of speech activities was a violation of the students' rights to freedom of expression. The decision has been cited as precedent in many cases since then, and it has been used to protect the rights of students in many different situations.
Movie Attack

By Johnathan Zap

Close Encounters of the Third Kind

Close Encounters of the Third Kind is a movie about U.F.O.s and their inhabitants making themselves officially known to the world. Spielberg had before seeing the film was of a grim-visaged Gregory Peck or David Janssen as the reading tease-type reports of flying saucers destroying cities, and raping and pillaging and that sort of thing, while the military stood helplessly by and society descended into chaos. But twenty-nine-year-old science-fiction wonder-boy Steven Spielberg, who has already directed Sugar Land Express and that he was bitter but that he was bitter but this... saucers destroying cities, and society stood helplessly by and soceity

Third Kind is a movie who has already directed have before seeing the film was of U.F.O.s. Spielberg's vision of life might be fantasy, as children or people who have never lost that sense of child-like wonder. The flying saucers in this movie are, needless to say, as magical to the whole film. The angelic appearance of Close Encounters and Star Wars demonstrates the emergence of that fact, that the new seductive craft man the artist that is second only to the director in importance. The flying saucers in Close Encounters and Star Wars should be noted for not their technological sophistication, which can certainly be surpassed, but for the artistic genius of their design. Special effects are crucial to the believability of both films conveyed and it's hard to imagine either film without them.

Close Encounters, I predict, will be the most successful design of the complete absence of the three ingredients — sex, violence and lust — which comprise the modern cinematic formula. What will make this movie successful is that key missing ingredient — the mystery. That's precisely what Close Encounters is not "real life." People aren't going to pay four dollars for a story like that when they are all too much of that during the rest of the day. Escaping from life isn't part of the game, but a basic need of human nature and seeing the right type of movie is one of the best ways to fulfill that need. The next time life gets you down, do yourself, and your lover, a favor and go see Close Encounters.

Dylan and Tour in the New Year

By Sue Byrom

December 25th. To celebrate the occasion, Robert Silkgood, who is an enormous party to the east and friends at the Culver Station, which is the place where the film was made. It was believed to have cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $30,000 and about people attended. But despite the caviar and imported wines, there wasn't the celebratory air that expected. Alice Cooper and Gram Parsons set together at one table looking slightly bored, while the lights were dimmed. The collection consists of Linda's photon of her home and other objects of the historical society of Montgomery County.

Imprints

Silvestre Stallone has been named the motion picture star with the greatest box office appeal. Stallone is currently filming "Paradise Alley" in New York, a movie that he adapted from his own book and which he now directs and stars in... Linda McCandless, a member of the board of directors, was given a heartfelt thank you by the board of directors and the collection consists of Linda's photo of her home and other objects of the historical society of Montgomery County.

BARry MANLONOW

Barry Manllon has another story to tell that and his fans might have to make the most of the show for some time. He now has told friends that he wants to take time off to pursue the world — but as a tourist and not as a performer. That doesn't mean that he's giving up his recording career, just that while he intends to write the songs, he's not going on singing for them a while.

Close Encounters of the Second Kind

Dr. Parsons Working on New Book

The director of Pennsylvania Dutch Studies at Ursinus College, who recently wrote a successful book on the culture of the Pennsylvania Dutch, has completed a second book, entitled, "Minority Religious Groups in America," and is expected to publish it in the spring. The book, which is based on a study of the Pennsylvania Dutch community, is expected to be of interest to students of religious history and to those interested in the Pennsylvania Dutch culture.

Matty Simmons-the Man Behind National Lampoon

By Lee Moore

There's a good chance that Matty Simmons hasn't done. These day's, he's chairman of the board of National Lampoon Communications, the company responsible for "National Lampoon," the nation's most successful humor magazine.

Until 1967, when he left to form Twenty First Century, he was executive vice president of the Diner's Club. He had a hand in moving the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Association to San Francisco, where they are known today as the Golden State Warriors.

Through Twenty First Century, he started "Weight Watchers Magazine," in the 1960s, he owned a string of championship horses.

Ever since he left Brooklyn, a division of G. K. Hall & Co., is sponsoring the Immigrant Enthusiasms series, which includes both works by Parsons.

In his first book, "The Pennsylva­nia Dutch: A Persistent Minority," just went into a third printing. "Encounters with the Third Kind" is a movie with Twayne history of sects and small religious groups who suffered harassment and persecution and established churches in Europe," Dr. Parsons explained.

When those groups came to America, they preserved their own religious expression and varieties and turned helped shape American values of interaction, community spirit, and mutual assistance.

A publication date has not yet been set.

The publishing company, a division of G. K. Hall & Co., is sponsoring the Immigrant Enthusiasms series, which includes both works by Parsons.

In his first book, "The Pennsyl­ vania Dutch: A Persistent Minority," just went into a third printing. "Encounters with the Third Kind" is a movie with Twayne history of sects and small religious groups who suffered harassment and persecution and established churches in Europe," Dr. Parsons explained.

When those groups came to America, they preserved their own religious expression and varieties and turned helped shape American values of interaction, community spirit, and mutual assistance.

A publication date has not yet been set.

The publishing company, a division of G. K. Hall & Co., is sponsoring the Immigrant Enthusiasms series, which includes both works by Parsons.

In his first book, "The Pennsyl­ vania Dutch: A Persistent Minority," just went into a third printing. "Encounters with the Third Kind" is a movie with Twayne history of sects and small religious groups who suffered harassment and persecution and established churches in Europe," Dr. Parsons explained.

When those groups came to America, they preserved their own religious expression and varieties and turned helped shape American values of interaction, community spirit, and mutual assistance.

A publication date has not yet been set.

The publishing company, a division of G. K. Hall & Co., is sponsoring the Immigrant Enthusiasms series, which includes both works by Parsons.

In his first book, "The Pennsyl­ vania Dutch: A Persistent Minority," just went into a third printing. "Encounters with the Third Kind" is a movie with Twayne history of sects and small religious groups who suffered harassment and persecution and established churches in Europe," Dr. Parsons explained.

When those groups came to America, they preserved their own religious expression and varieties and turned helped shape American values of interaction, community spirit, and mutual assistance.

A publication date has not yet been set.

The publishing company, a division of G. K. Hall & Co., is sponsoring the Immigrant Enthusiasms series, which includes both works by Parsons.

In his first book, "The Pennsyl­ vania Dutch: A Persistent Minority," just went into a third printing. "Encounters with the Third Kind" is a movie with Twayne history of sects and small religious groups who suffered harassment and persecution and established churches in Europe," Dr. Parsons explained.

When those groups came to America, they preserved their own religious expression and varieties and turned helped shape American values of interaction, community spirit, and mutual assistance.

A publication date has not yet been set.

The publishing company, a division of G. K. Hall & Co., is sponsoring the Immigrant Enthusiasms series, which includes both works by Parsons.

In his first book, "The Pennsyl­ vania Dutch: A Persistent Minority," just went into a third printing. "Encounters with the Third Kind" is a movie with Twayne history of sects and small religious groups who suffered harassment and persecution and established churches in Europe," Dr. Parsons explained.

When those groups came to America, they preserved their own religious expression and varieties and turned helped shape American values of interaction, community spirit, and mutual assistance.

A publication date has not yet been set.

The publishing company, a division of G. K. Hall & Co., is sponsoring the Immigrant Enthusiasms series, which includes both works by Parsons.

In his first book, "The Pennsyl­ vania Dutch: A Persistent Minority," just went into a third printing. "Encounters with the Third Kind" is a movie with Twayne history of sects and small religious groups who suffered harassment and persecution and established churches in Europe," Dr. Parsons explained.

When those groups came to America, they preserved their own religious expression and varieties and turned helped shape American values of interaction, community spirit, and mutual assistance.

A publication date has not yet been set.
The Bruins, under coach Skip Werley, came up against Spring Garden Mobley combined for 49 points. Bamberger pulled down 11 rebounds. Mike Piotrowicz and Larry Davis (frosh) round out the starting five. The team looks for a better showing in their first game of the season by beating Haverford.

Mobley and Kevin McCormick led the Bruins with 14 points each. Steve Selby and Larry Davis followed with 12 and 11 points respectively. Mike Piotrowicz joined McCormick as Ursinus' high rebounders with 6. Ursinus was high scorer with 22 points.

Steve Selby and Larry Davis were the only two grapplers to take the mat. Selby broke his nose. The Bears were outscored in both the 50 and 100 yard events. Bloomsberg was outscored by fifteen points in both of these events.

Study before you sleep

Are you the kind of student who usually studies hard before going to bed, or do you tend to stay up late and forget your studies? The answer to this question may determine your study habits and ultimately affect your academic performance.

In Shanley v. Northeast Independent School District, two students were suspended for distributing an unconstitutionally overbroad school newspaper. The court found the suspension to be a violation of the students' freedom of the press right.

The Ursinus Wrestling team opened the first period. The Ursinus wrestlers were victorious in all seven weight classes.

Wrestling Opens Season

Men's Swimming

Bankruptcy

In Shanley v. Northeast Independent School District, two students were suspended for distributing an unconstitutionally overbroad school newspaper. The court found the suspension to be a violation of the students' freedom of the press right.

In Shanley v. Northeast Independent School District, two students were suspended for distributing an unconstitutionally overbroad school newspaper. The court found the suspension to be a violation of the students' freedom of the press right.

In Shanley v. Northeast Independent School District, two students were suspended for distributing an unconstitutionally overbroad school newspaper. The court found the suspension to be a violation of the students' freedom of the press right.

In Shanley v. Northeast Independent School District, two students were suspended for distributing an unconstitutionally overbroad school newspaper. The court found the suspension to be a violation of the students' freedom of the press right.