The 1983 Ruby is a result of many hours of work, many rolls of film, many phone calls begging for money, and many sleepless nights, fearing missed deadlines. This project was truly a collective effort. In an attempt to create a book which represents all students on campus, a diverse spread of participants was needed. I was very fortunate to have a great core-staff who responded to my ideas and gave me many hours of their precious time. Specific thanks goes to:

Mike and Barb Guilroy for their advice and support
Mr. Broadbent for taking care of all the important business
Mike Cash and Andi Detterline for your extra photos and info
Mrs. Rischer for all kinds of paperwork
Gemma and Davor Studios for the fast, quality service
Nan for your ideas, aid, and enthusiasm
John for being there in June
Neiman for responding to my pressure
Anne for sticking with it, and coming up with the money
Maria for your grammatical expertise
Craiger for taking my abuse and getting ads
Sue and Diane for your flawless performances
Beth, Brad and the other photographers for 200 pages of pictures
Larry for your developing seminar at midnite before my last final
The others for your efforts
God for giving me the patience, creativity, and courage

As with every editor, I attempted to create a “new” yearbook, contrasting all sides of Ursinus, but maintaining some of The Ruby’s traditions. Despite my harried condition before deadlines, I must admit, I enjoyed having the power to control the destiny of the book. We consider this Ruby nothing short of a success.
