March 28, 1918.

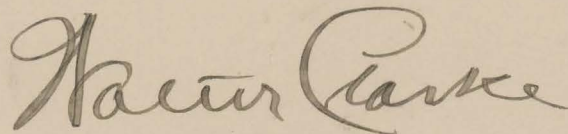

Mr. Huntington Wilson,
The Lincoln,
13th and Locust St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

My dear Mr. Wilson:

I had expected that before this date the Committee on Civilian Cooperation for Combatting Venereal Disease would have met and I would have had an opportunity to read your proposals to the committee. The meeting, however, has been postponed from time to time and I am not certain when the committee will be convened. It seems clear to me that this committee is at the present time the one to which your proposals should be presented and I should be very glad to lay the matter before the committee.

Thank you for consenting to the reprinting of your article in our Journal. We shall state that the article is reprinted from the Public Ledger.
