My dear Mr. Williamson:

Many thanks for your kind congratulations upon my appointment to this post, which I find extremely interesting. You and my other friends in the Far East may be sure that the variety of my present duties does not in the least diminish my deep interest in the work you are doing in the part of the world I enjoyed so long.

Hoping that all goes well with you, I am, my dear Mr. Williamson,

Yours sincerely,

Adolph A. Williamson, Esquire,
Vice and Deputy Consul,
Dalny, Manchuria.
