THE LINCOLN.
Locust and Thirteenth Streets ,
Philadelphia.

April 4, 1918.

Dr. Helen Cordelia Putnam,
Providence,
Rhode Island.

My dear Madam:

Since February 20, I have been endeavoring to learn from you whether or not you could undertake to help in the compilation of a section of a pamphlet to deal with the four concatenated questions of eugenics, sex hygiene, children's welfare and education, by yourself undertaking to supply one or two thousand words on the subject of children's welfare, upon which friends of mine tell me you are peculiarly qualified to speak. So far my letter has failed to evoke any response. May I inquire whether my previous letter reached you, and if so, may I request a reply at your earliest convenience?

Regretting to trouble you, I am, my dear Madam,

Yours faithfully.
