Mr. Ursinus 1993

There were six students competing for Mr. Ursinus 1993, including Wes Lipschultz, nominated by Alpha Sigma Nu; Pete Kern by Kappa Delta Kappa; Darnell Lee by the Multicultural Student Union; Brent Baldasare by Omega Chi; and Michael "Pastrami" Hennessey by Phi Alpha Psi. Brian Edens, nominated by Ursinus' newest sorority, Upsilon Phi Delta, won the title of Mr. Ursinus 1993. The contestants based their acts on this year's theme, "It's a Small World." Burke Morrison was the emcee for the show, which raised $600 in proceeds. The proceeds from the show went to the Teri Urban Scholarship Fund.

The 1993 Airband show was a huge success by raising over $1300 that went to the Laurel House, a shelter that offers peer support and counseling for abused women and their children. This year's show was composed of eight acts, and senior Reed Nichols was the m.c. for the evening. The panel of judges included faculty members and people from the community, and the show was also being watched by MTV talent coordinator Lawrence Axmith. Axmith was hoping to find new talent for his game show, "Lip Service", which is seen regularly on MTV.

Spring Pastimes
The annual All-Greek Picnic in the spring is a day that is looked forward to by all. This year's festivities included a band and barbeque, and the day also marked the end of the usual week of games. Among the day's games for sororities were events such as a mattress race, egg toss, pizza-eating contest, belching contest, and a final all-sorority football game with water balloons and shaving cream. Omega Chi and Tau Sig tied for first place in the week's events. The Greek picnic also ended a week of wiffle ball, basketball, football, and volleyball for the fraternities. Delta Pi took first place for the fraternities' Greek Week events.
