The Road to Pfailure.....so many of us recognize this trek all too well. This walk is sometimes an elated one, sometimes a dejected one, but always, when is all is said and done, one that pays off in the end. This building is representative of so much that Ursinus is. It stands for all the excellence that Ursinus extracts from its students and is a memoir of all the blood, sweat, and tears that it took to stand up to those rigors. With some help, Pfahler is becoming the model of Ursinus in the 21st century.
If nothing else, an Ursinus education does teach its students to speak up. When we leave here the consciousness that we develop will go with us in all our endeavors.

Wismer Center provides a nucleus for the student body at Ursinus, with recent renovations, it has become a more inviting environment and more modern.

We have collectively one of the best Faculty/Administration bodies in the country, with numbers of both boasting degrees from Ivy League universities like Penn, Harvard, and our president, from Princeton.

Pfaehler Hall renovations are yet another manifestation, not only of Ursinus' dedication to progress and a modern education, but of the support that Ursinus alumni tend to the school long after they are gone from the dorms.

COMING SOON
A PFAHLER HALL
FOR THE 21ST CENTURY
PLEASE PARDON OUR DUST!
Olin Hall is our newest building, and is reflective of the modern spirit of our school.

Right: The Ursinus student body is drawn from the very best of the best across the country and throughout the world.

Below: Wismer food...always a source of controversy on our campus? Is it good, or isn't it? The verdict—Ursinus fare is actually some of the very best college dining in the nation.

Left: The small college community here fosters a great deal of friendships, and fortunately they tend to be the kind that last a lifetime.
Left: Wismer tables tend to be one of the cleaner places on campus. Bussing is not one of the preferred hobbies of Ursinus students.

Top: Wismer food, however, is generally a safe bet, at least when Don is cooking.

Above: Every now and again we get a special treat, this one brought to us by RHA in an introductory activity.

Left: But sometimes, when we just can't take it any longer, we break down...
Day after day, night after night, we toil... sometimes to no avail and sometimes... we're genius.

Left: That trek from the library home is one that you could do with your eyes shut... and the freshman are well on their way to having it memorized.

Left: At finals this is an unlikely occurrence. It can be impossible to find a computer that works in one of the six computer labs on campus.

Below: We all know what these are for, but we don't always use them. From the Odyssey to Calculus, Ursinus demands a well rounded student.

Left: On a good day, we get to go outside...

Above: And this is either your second home or foreign territory.

Opening
Left: When roommate problems arise, people can be found in the oddest places doing work... but sometimes it's just a need for peace and quiet.

Below, right: And we all know what it's like to try to find space here...

Below, right: Reimert is one of the most obvious settings for social interaction. The suites seem to foster a community spirit.

Above: And of course, the campus hoodlums are always in abundance in Reimert, too.

Above and right: People can always be found relaxing, even when there's work to be done.
Above: People bond . . . relationships are formed, friendships strengthened . . . these dorm walls see a lot.

Left: And sometimes it's too much . . .
If you want to know the value of one year, ask the student who has just failed his final exam.

If you want to know the value of one month, ask the mother who has just given birth to a premature baby.

If you want to know the value of one week, ask the editor of a weekly newspaper.

If you want to know the value of one day, ask the daily wage laborer who has ten kids to feed.

If you want to know the value of one hour, ask the lovers who are waiting to meet.

If you want to know the value of one minute, ask the person who has just missed the train, bus, or plane.

If you want to know the value of one second, ask the person who has just survived an accident.

If you want to know the value of one millisecond, ask the person who just won the silver medal at the Olympics.

Time stands still for no one. Treasure each moment.
Lions and Tigers and Bears..oh my! They've invaded Kristen Griffin and the girls of Paisley Basement!

Beardwood 1 plus Stauffer 1 plus RA Brian Ebersole equals trouble!
Beardwood, Paisley, and Stauffer Halls

Anne Alleger and the residents of Paisley 2 look quiet cozy squished in the hallway!

Paisley and Stauffer 1 just hanging out in Zack’s with RA Melissa Forbes Malikah Jenkins and Stauffer 2 share nothing but love with each other.

Only Dave Myers and Beardwood 2 could get away with this!
Danielle Lann's residents of Paisley 3 are nice and quiet...for now!

Brodbeck, Wilkinson, and Curtis Halls

Teresa Green does her best to take care of her residents in Brodbeck basement and 1.

Laura Owens and the crew from Brodbeck and Wilkinson 3 are a tight bunch.

Barry Keppard is all smiles as the RA in Curtis 1.

Wilkinson 2 gets two times the care with Tricia Winward and Kevin McGovern.

Matt Bauder and Curtis 3 ventured down to the lounge for this picture.
Sometimes, we catch up with a friend on the phone, lounge around and laugh, or... put lampshades on our heads??
We also resort to taking our aggressions out on others, checking email, having a cake fight, or just hangin' with the guys.
There is always something interesting going on, whether it be construction on Pfahler, "Uncle Joe Wismer" Dan Edwards cooking up something for dinner, random Reimert events, parties in Wismer Lower Lounge, free tours of Helfferich by Jamie Sharp, or band practice in Bomberger.
Right: And Leslie Funair's guys on Reimert 2, too.

they're one big happy family.
right: Demas has it pretty good, but the residents in 305 hafta live with Stacey... the third floor is a pretty motley crew.

Left: Bryan Shealer’s residents are privy to a little more normalcy.

Right: Mmmmm...the RHA banana split night was a big success in Wismer.

Above: Kate Weinrich was caught out at night without her hat or mittens...I hope her parents won’t worry!

Right: Megan Larkin is just loungin’ around.
