4-12-1973

The Ursinus Weekly, April 12, 1973

John T. Fidler
_Ursinus College_

David Ochocki
_Ursinus College_

Richard Whaley
_Ursinus College_

Nancy Shislar
_Ursinus College_

Judith James
_Ursinus College_

See next page for additional authors

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly

Part of the Cultural History Commons, Higher Education Commons, Liberal Studies Commons, Social History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Recommended Citation
Fidler, John T.; Ochocki, David; Whaley, Richard; Shislar, Nancy; James, Judith; Kraus, John; Neustadter, Larry; Vietri, Robert; Griffith, Gary; and Connell, Ruthann, "The Ursinus Weekly, April 12, 1973" (1973). Ursinus Weekly Newspaper. 102.
https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly/102

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Newspapers at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. It has been accepted for inclusion in Ursinus Weekly Newspaper by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. For more information, please contact aprock@ursinus.edu.
Authors
John T. Fidler, David Ochocki, Richard Whaley, Nancy Shislar, Judith James, John Kraus, Larry Neustadter, Robert Vietri, Gary Griffith, and Ruthann Connell

This book is available at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly/102
Board of Control Meets, Elects John Fidler Editor; New Staff Chosen for Fall

On Thursday, March 22, the Weekly Board of Control elected John T. Fidler to the position of Editor-in-Chief to replace Chuck Chambers for the remainder of this semester and for next year until this time. Also running for the position were Nina Camiel and Mark Nore. John assumes the position three weeks after the departure of the Weekly staff; he replaced Jim Goheen as Features Editor earlier this year. In addition to work for the Weekly, John has served two years as squad leader for the orientation program. When asked about plans for the coming issue of the paper, John was hesitant about laying down definite plans, because he simply did not want to "make idle promises." He did, however, emphasize that the Weekly will continue to keep news and features "fresh and exciting.

Names New Staff

Attending his first Board of Control meeting on April 4, the new Editor-in-Chief submitted titles for news, feature and sports editors, as well as junior editor and news editor. Joe is a junior political science major, and is vice president of his class. He has also been on the Weekly staff for two years and is a member of the Alpha Upsilon Sigma chapter. Elsie Van Wagener, a junior business major, will serve as co-features editor. Both are freshmen.

Another who will remain on the staff will be Scott Rhoades; he will return to the position of Business Manager. Richard McIntyre will replace Rich Clark as Circulation Manager. Present at the luncheon meeting last Wednesday were President Pettit, Vice President Richter, Press-Tessas Storey, Cape and Jones, John Fidler, Dave Zimmermann (for the U.S.G.A.), Scott Rhoades and Rich Clark.

Ecological Concern

Cites Collection Days

By RICH WHALEY

If one is concerned about helping the earth understand its circle of life again, one may be interested in the U.S.G.A. Committee for Ecological Concern, whose chairperson is Lee Metager. The committee will put on a "trash action" this week to test the aluminum rings from the bottle-top" mount-aluminum and newspaper--please bundle or put in a paper bag if possible--on April 14, 22, and May 12, with the help of Dr. Zucker and his 47 Ford pickup.

One may perform these actions in a variety of places: in the off-campus dorms, boxes in the girls' quad, and on the ground floor storages room in the New Men's Dorm.

The collected materials are delivered to the Collegeville Barn on route 29, which was given by the Borough to the Women's Club of Collegeville. Eventually the newspaper is given to the Boy Scout, the aluminum is brought to the Reynolds Co., the clear glass is brought to the Diamond Glass Co., in Boyertown and the colored glass is brought to the Coca-Cola Co.

The U.S.G.A. Committee for Ecological Concern is a non-profit organization and is going well, with about two truck loads every pickup. If one is interested in helping out, one may contact Lee Metager, and all help is welcomed.

I R Club to go to NY

By NANCY SHEILAR

The Ursinus International Relations Club will again attend the National Model United Nations Conference in New York held at the Statler Hilton in New York from April 24 through 29. The conference is attended by colleges from the United States and from foreign countries such as Harvard and West Point.

This year the IRC will be represented by the following: Kelli Butcher, Scott Rhoades, Mike Downey, David Gower, and Jeff Hoekstra.

Meistersingers Return; Complete Successful Tour

By RICH WHALEY

One of Ursinus' best "ambassadors of goodwill" is the Meistersingers, having been on tour from last Saturday, April seventh, till today, April twelfth. They include about forty Ursinus students, directed by Mr. Dave Howlett. This is the Meistersingers' 58th season and they are presenting their Sacred Concert Program. The program includes a selection from the "American Spiritual," "Forbidding Nymphs," "A Day by Handel's Let All Angels of God Worship Him from Messiah."

On April seventh the Meistersingers presented their program at Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church and St. Paul's United Church of Christ, both in Shrewsbury, Pa. On the next day, they went to Westminster, Maryland. First stopping to see Gettysburg, then to St. Paul's United Church of Christ. The next day, on the third, they did sight-seeing in Washington, D.C. After a few days in New York, they went to Bethel United Church of Christ in Arlington, Va.

Travelin' 6 Concert to be Held May 3

Plans are currently underway for the Travelin' 6 concert to be held in WiseCrome Collegetown on a Friday night. The concert is to be held on May 3, from 7:30 to 11:00 p.m. Featuring student talent as well as headlining the Hewitts, the concert is in keeping with the F. Scott Pierce memorial scholarship fund. Proceeds are intended to honor the memory of F. Scott Pierce, a talented student who was killed by a car on campus in 1967 while a student here. Admission is $1 and tickets will be sold at the door only. The public is invited. Refreshments will be served during the concert.

Buddhi's Follies

The third annual Buddhi's Follies, sponsored by the Psychology Club, will be held on May 2 at Valley Forge Army Hospital. Needed are more men and women dancers. If interested, see Richard Judeinstein, Nancy Frye or Barb Taxis.

J-Board Plans Complete; Meat Boycott Discussed

By DAVID OCHOCKI

The last meeting of the Student Government Association was called to order on April 2 by President Dave Zimmerman. Treasurer Mike Werner reported a balance of $653.12 in the U.S.G.A. treasury.

Zimmerman reminded those present that the Weekly has a new editor. John Fidler, who lives on third floor Curtis, is now heading the campus publication. The U.S.G.A. urges anyone with any campus news item to please contact John, as the Weekly is always looking for news worthy campus stories.

Jeff Higgins reported that plans for the new Judiciary Board are nearly completed. Meetings are being held this week to choose the new J-Board members. After their appointments, the new members will participate in a mock trial in an effort to become acquainted with judiciary proceedings.

Mark Nore brought a petition signed by 102 students supporting the national meat boycott. He asked the council to see what could be arranged with Wmmer in regard to the matter. Dave Zimmerman said that the meat for the coming weeks has already been contractually purchased and it would be a waste of money not to eat it. After consultation with Mr. Heath a compromise was agreed upon. Each meat dish served will be supplemented by a non-meat dish for those students supporting the boycott.

The next meeting of the U.S.G.A. will be held this Monday right after dinner in the Union.

Alpha Phi Omega Plans

Alpha Phi Omega, local coordinator of the nationwide "Come for the Returned" Day to be held on Sunday, April 29, 1973, announced its campaign to recruit riders and walkers for the upcoming event. Students and faculty are invited to walk or ride 5, 10, 15 or more miles on a route that starts and ends at the college. Participants will solicit sponsors from businesses, faculty members, friends or neighbors who will pay the participant a predetermined amount for each mile that he walks or rides. All monies collected will go to the local and state Association for Returned Children to benefit 360,000 reordered childeren throughout the state.

By finding five friends to each pledge 20 cents per mile and then riding your bike for 15 miles, you could earn $15 for the retarded. Easy, wasn't it? Bike riding is fun; why not ride for a worthy cause? Interested riders and walkers should obtain a registration form from Dr. Zucker or by contacting Kevin O'Connor (NMD 303D, 485-3485).

Photos by John Roy

Pictured above from left to right: Helen Ludwig, Co-Sports Editor; John T. Fidler, Editor-in-Chief and Elsie Van Wagener, Feature Editor. Not pictured are Sue Peterson, Sports Editor; Mike Goheen, News Editor.

Photos by John Roy

Pictured from left to right are Jeanne G. Babulski, Jane A. Mussel white and David M. Spitho.
Taking Care of Business

An expression of thanks is in order after the Board of Control's decision to elect me Editor-in-Chief of The Weekly. While it was not an extremely surprising one, the news of my ascension in Chuck Chambers, and, thinking back to my freshman year and the man who “gave me my start,” Alan C. Gold. At that time, had anyone told me I would be Editor in my junior and my senior years I would have been shocked that the college也能 game was never my specialty so I’ll quit while I’m ahead.

Some Plans, Maybe

Since I must jump in and take over where Chuck left off, I cannot afford to say, “Well, I’ll do this, and then I’ll be doing that, and then . . .”, because those ideas rarely work. What I do plan to do is keep up with the things that work for The Weekly. Many readers look forward to the faculty portraits and student focuses, so these will be continued, and if possible, expanded. The Forum series, which began with interviews of General Frizzell and Dr. Gold, and most recently with the foreign student interview, has much room for such expansion. We managed, with a little creative up-our-agreements.” The government does not do more than these sections this year. If there are any of you out there who like to go to movies, concerts or the theater see me or the feature editor, and you can reach fame and fortune and be greatly appreciated. As a former editor once said, “Only another failure.”

Violence rarely succeeds in getting someone his desired result. I am not referring to the examples of guns and ammunition appear, tension and undue irritation are created. The recent situation at Wounded Knee, South Dakota is yet another failure of violence to achieve desired effects. Despite the agreement signed by the Indians and General Frizzell, and Indian leader Russell Means, some fifty Indians will face charges of a Federal nature. The agreement will provide for the formation of a panel to investigate the treaty rights of the Oglala Sioux. In addition, the agreement calls for investigation into the governing of the Oglala’s reservation. After thirty-seven days of sporadic shooting and extra faculty involvement, justice is done.

The sickeningly cynical nature of this type of development has been a disturbing one for quite a while. The Indians saw fit to brandish their weapons for something the government should have provided long ago. Mr. Frizzell summed it up when he said, “All of us in the past at times have failed to live up to our obligations,” or at least more serious thought about after this summer’s storm, and just as people began listening to the problems of highways. The NSA blow up in the summer of 1965, so now the U.S. government must do something about it. The government (they were the first Americans) have been pushed around enough. The sad part of the whole situation is that the involvement on the part of the minority group usually loses in the end.

So the Indians will finally be investigated, and maybe some of the maladies of reservation life can be cleaned up. Once again, violence was found to be necessary to make us aware of the situation. Those of us who already were aware are angry, and they have a right to do anything they want to do with their lives. If they have power to do something they have now been alerted. This is a strike against the Indians. But the strike against the U.S. government is a bigger one, indeed. It took more shooting and death to make it aware of the desperate situation. Now it’s up to the investigating committee to make of this something that will not be a routine government study, which costs too much money and does too little good.

Bury The Faith at Wounded Knee

I’ll mention some of the newsworthy items that have appeared in The Weekly as it appears in the city of Philadelphia. He plans a long range plan: include some of the country and a graduate of Wissahickon High School in Ambler. Dr. Gold, Wilmington University in Ohio, a Quaker hospital, was especially interested in sociology. He earned his Ph.D. at Wash-ington University in St. Louis, where he was a University Fellow. His doctoral dissertation was entitled “The Corporate Ideal and War Disarmament.”

Dr. Miller is a native of this part of the country and a graduate of Ursinus College in Collegeville, Pa. He plans a long range plan: include the example of Dr. Miller to be the “good life.” He also contends that “if you develop a decent good thumb it is likely that you can grow the kinds of food that are nutritious that you can buy in the supermarket.”

Long range plans include planting an orchard and building a home us­ing the granite boulders found at an old quarry site on the land. Dr. Miller hopes also to use some of these stones for his hobby, sculpt­ure.

Unlike many people Dr. Miller does not see this type of life as an escape. He hopes that his home­staying experience will allow him to become more involved in the larger community outside of Sum­merton. Said Dr. Miller, “I know some people look at rural commun­ities as solutions to the problems we have. I don’t really see it that way. I think our problems are tremendous problems involved.”

Dr. Miller’s desire to “get more direct­ly involved in the things that are necessary to sustain someone or sustain a community rather than have a strict dependence on mar­kets.” Being able to sustain one’s self is part of what Dr. Miller con­siders to be the “good life.”

Within the field of sociology Dr. Miller’s main interest is the prob­lem of the stratification of society. He is particularly interested in the example of Dr. Miller to be the “good life.” He also contends that “if you develop a decent good thumb it is likely that you can grow the kinds of food that are nutritious that you can buy in the supermarket.”

Long range plans include planting an orchard and building a home us­ing the granite boulders found at an old quarry site on the land. Dr. Miller hopes also to use some of these stones for his hobby, sculpt­ure.

Students, Dr. Miller believes that the college would benefit by a strengthening of campus activities such as an expanded program of speakers and by the addition of a more adequate bookstore.

Peaceful Summertown is the home of Dr. Miller and his wife. They are happily awaiting the arrival of their first child with­in the next few weeks. Dr. Miller and his wife believed that the college would benefit by a strengthening of campus activities such as an expanded program of speakers and by the addition of a more adequate bookstore.

Peaceful Summertown is the home of Dr. Miller and his wife. They are happily awaiting the arrival of their first child with­in the next few weeks. Dr. Miller and his wife believed that the college would benefit by a strengthening of campus activities such as an expanded program of speakers and by the addition of a more adequate bookstore.

Peaceful Summertown is the home of Dr. Miller and his wife. They are happily awaiting the arrival of their first child with­in the next few weeks. Dr. Miller and his wife believed that the college would benefit by a strengthening of campus activities such as an expanded program of speakers and by the addition of a more adequate bookstore.

Peaceful Summertown is the home of Dr. Miller and his wife. They are happily awaiting the arrival of their first child with­in the next few weeks. Dr. Miller and his wife believed that the college would benefit by a strengthening of campus activities such as an expanded program of speakers and by the addition of a more adequate bookstore.

Peaceful Summertown is the home of Dr. Miller and his wife. They are happily awaiting the arrival of their first child with­in the next few weeks. Dr. Miller and his wife believed that the college would benefit by a strengthening of campus activities such as an expanded program of speakers and by the addition of a more adequate bookstore.

Peaceful Summertown is the home of Dr. Miller and his wife. They are happily awaiting the arrival of their first child with­in the next few weeks. Dr. Miller and his wife believed that the college would benefit by a strengthening of campus activities such as an expanded program of speakers and by the addition of a more adequate bookstore.

Peaceful Summertown is the home of Dr. Miller and his wife. They are happily awaiting the arrival of their first child with­in the next few weeks. Dr. Miller and his wife believed that the college would benefit by a strengthening of campus activities such as an expanded program of speakers and by the addition of a more adequate bookstore.

Peaceful Summertown is the home of Dr. Miller and his wife. They are happily awaiting the arrival of their first child with­in the next few weeks. Dr. Miller and his wife believed that the college would benefit by a strengthening of campus activities such as an expanded program of speakers and by the addition of a more adequate bookstore.

Goings On...

- at Cafe Theater, Allen’s Lane and McCallum St.: “Under Milk­wood,” Fridays and Saturdays through April 24.
- at Walnut Street Theater: “Junas and the Paycheck,” every Tues­day through Saturday through April 29.
- at Bijou Cafe, 1409 Lombard St.: Robert Klein, April 11 - 14; Johnny Otis Show with Shuggie Otis, April 18 - 21.
- at Walnut Street Theater: “The Great White Hope,” every Wednesday through Saturday through May 5.
- at the Abbey Stage Door, 6615 Rising Sun Ave.: “ Forty Carats,” Fridays and Saturdays through June 5.
- at The Spectrum, 5031 North Eastern, Earth with Tracy Nelson and the Doobie Brothers, April 12; Mahavishnu Orches­tra meets Frank Zappa and The Mothers of Invention, April 28.
- at the Academy of Music: Bette Miller, April 15.

The Ursinus Weekly published each week during the academic year by the students of Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa. 19428. Seventy-second year of publication.
SEEDS AND ASHES

Student Spotlight

This is Gnork, the hero of John Krause's column, as he contemplates a question.

By JOHN KRAUSE

Who is Gnork P.7. Gnork is the automatic individualist. Everyone subconsciously wishes they had the courage to become. He appears to be locked into the drudgery and mechanics of society's "freak" faction, but he has even transcended that and has established himself in his own world of ideals, ideals which large segments of society would label as manifestations of a severely disturbed personality.

Gnork is a philosopher by his own standards. Whether this philosophy is the necessary culmination of his experiences or the direct result of reading "Mr. Natural" columns, Gnork could not say when interviewed last week. He often refers to Maynard G. Krone and Woody Allen as dominating factors in his tasting the fruits of freedom.

When asked about this naturalistic philosophy of his, Gnork said, in his typical merchant manner, "The saddening point about today's precious souls is that, although they are aware that society's pressures force them to retreat into shells of conformity, the fear of ostracism and the hardness that naturalism implies, at least within the context of the current society, often makes people believe that they are nothing at all, and therefore they cease completely to be domestic naturalists.

"This may all seem epitomized on my part, but I don't pretend to be a Buddha or Mohammed. However, I must warn you that the day of weeping is fast approaching, so you'd better get what you can while you can."

Somewhat taken back by all this, I decided it necessary to change the subject to a more conventional topic. I asked Gnork about the open dorm controversy.

"Well, all I can say is that my dorm is open all the time. How about yours? But let's rather seriously consider the problem of drug abuse on college campuses. This is a deplorable situation and a problem that can only be arrested by Broderick Crawford. His first move should be to push for capital punishment for all users, from Camillas to heroin. This should serve as a major deterrent for all those not yet trapped in the murky mire of marijuana usage."

I then proceeded to inquire whether Gnork, himself, has ever experimented with marijuana. He replied, "Don't touch the stuff!"

FILM REVIEW

"The Poseidon Adventure"

By LARRY NEUSTADTER

"At midnight on New Year's Eve, the S.S. Poseidon was swamped by a 90 foot tidal wave which engulfed the ship. Only a handful survived. This is their story." With these words, the audience is whisked into an adventure story which is about as original and exciting as any that has ever been filmed.

The cast includes fifteen academy award winners, and separately they are all good; however when they are put together they are tremendous. The cast includes Ernest Borgnine, Shelley Winters, Gene Hackman and Red Buttons, just to mention a few.

From a technical viewpoint, producer Irwin Allen's and his staff have produced a minor miracle. The movie was so difficult to film that a television special precede the release of the movie showing how it was filmed. Once the boat was capped, it became the plight of the group trying to escape to climb to the bottom of the boat to get out, since the bottom is now the top. Thus, the production staff must work with everything inverted for the majority of the movie.

The special effects were certainly warranted the award that it received. Gene Hackman, playing the priest who is somewhat off center, is actually the leader of the group. He can only persuade about ten people to go with him to the bottom, since most people don't realize that the boat is upside down. Thus, the rest of the group realizes a-round this group's desperate bid for survival.

Comparing the movie with the book usually produces the same result; the movie is a poor second. However, this is not so with "The Poseidon Adventure." The novel by Paul Gallico was a good, fast moving story. However, the movie did the book more justice. One cannot actually picture what is going on until he sees it for himself.

After watching this movie, the book is much more enjoyable. It is obvious that the movie is better than the book, as for one book reviewer wrote, "Gallico's new novel is a film of Poseidon."

"The Poseidon Adventure" is a suspenseful movie. It is a no-nonsense adventure movie, and therefore they cease completely to be domestic naturalists.

"This may all seem epitomized on my part, but I don't pretend to be a Buddha or Mohammed. However, I must warn you that the day of weeping is fast approaching, so you'd better get what you can while you can."

Somewhat taken back by all this, I deemed it necessary to change the subject to a more conventional topic. I asked Gnork about the open dorm controversy.

"Well, all I can say is that my dorm is open all the time. How about yours? But let's rather seriously consider the problem of drug abuse on college campuses. This is a deplorable situation and a problem that can only be arrested by Broderick Crawford. His first move should be to push for capital punishment for all users, from Camillas to heroin. This should serve as a major deterrent for all those not yet trapped in the murky mire of marijuana usage."

I then proceeded to inquire whether Gnork, himself, has ever experimented with marijuana. He replied, "Don't touch the stuff!"

Although Gnork is by nature cut off from the rest of the student body, he expects that his rash remarks and the divulgement of his true form will help him amass new friends. He therefore invites all readers to a party in his room next Monday night, B.Y.O., and B.Y.M. of course.

Collegeville Sunoco
State Inspection
Automatic Transmission and General Auto Repairs
ROAD SERVICE
All Major Credit Cards Honored
Call 489-9896

THE URNUS WEEKLY

PAGE THREE

Letter To The Editor:

R EEF A VOUT BEEF

To the Editor:

It has remained a secret long enough. Someone must come out and let the dining service know that the meals they are giving us are unsatisfactory. In the last few weeks the quality of eating at Urnus has dropped well below the palatable level. In more common terms, the food stinks. Everyone has a pet complaint; I only cite the meat in the stew as an example. It is hoped that this letter will induce the kitchen to improve the quality of eating in Wmerr Hall.

Yours truly,

JOHN MALGUSTO

---

Gnork P., a senior, lives in Hobliton, and plans to return there upon graduation and open up a bubble-gum factory with a unique array of flavors, such as turnip, spinach, Borkum Riff, cole slaw, and several others. He sees this as a tremendous opportunity to exploit the twenty-hoppers of America; "First I look at the purse."

In retrospect, Gnork made several comments concerning his four years at Urnus College. He is very pleased to have experienced the many changes at Urnus over this period.

"The advent of delivery service at Marrella's has particularly tickled my fancy," he said. "Also, the opening of the student union has made me realize my innate potential at pinball."

Although Gnork is by nature cut off from the rest of the student body, he expects that his rash remarks and the divulgement of his true form will help him amass new friends. He therefore invites all readers to a party in his room next Monday night, B.Y.O., and B.Y.M. of course.

Collegeville Sunoco
State Inspection
Automatic Transmission and General Auto Repairs
ROAD SERVICE
All Major Credit Cards Honored
Call 489-9896

---

Dick Bishop 489-9366

KEYSER — MILLER FORD

FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL
By VEETS

The 1973 Bear thinclads under the wise direction of Coach Raymond Gibson rendezvoused with a resounding 111-31 victory over the Diplomats of Franklin and Marshall College. The meet was held on the lose's Williamson Field in Lancaster. The Bear victory ran their consecutive dual meet string to 14 in a row.

Highlight of the meet was the record breaking performance of the harder workers on the team, Ord, held by Sing, was 215' 8". One number one doubles, Trishman-Gassel, and the number three singles, Doreen Rhoads, is likely to make a habit of thirty-minute games, as a result of another nine-day travel to Baltimore on Saturday to set up her varsity team.

Alan Bartholomew, another U.C.'s played Sunday. The weekend Bear thinc1ads duel the Garnet of Swarthmore at home and then travel to Newark to set up their varsity team. On Saturday, the cradling Bear thinc1ads under Coach Gary O'Connor, and Gary Griffith, both losses to U.C. The Bears played six games, two with number one doubles. Tri-mossil, Gary Widdo, Bob Mikkelsen, and The team was prepared for this year's Eastern tour, and every team that was in the tournament. The team was ready for this event, but were prepared for this event, but were prepared for this event, but were

Diamond Season In Full Swing

By GARY GRIFFITH

Coach Gene Harris and 18 varsity baseball squad members recently returned from their southern tour during which the Bears played six games, two with number one doubles. Tri-mossil, Gary Widdo, Bob Mikkelsen, and The team was prepared for this year's Eastern tour, and every team that was in the tournament. The team was ready for this event, but were prepared for this event, but were prepared for this event, but were

KILT KLAD'S COMMENT: LACROSSE TEAM IS SUCCESSFUL AT SANFORD

By RUTHANN CONNELL

The Women's Lacrosse team went 6-1 in the season for Mrs. Mary Watson who played the past weekend in the Sanford Tournament held at the Suderwood Golf Course in Newark, Delaware. Our year is in full swing and our team is looking forward to another successful season.

On Saturday, the Bears played two games. Bearettes played seven-minute games, six and six points, two and two points. The weather was also called off due to inclement weather. As a general rule, Mrs. Watson uses the playing time to set up her varsity team and give them some playing in order to work out any problems the offense or defense may have. As the games progressed, our veteran attack began to click. The passes and shots were beautiful to watch. The defense also looked good. Our new coordinator and shifting became more automatic and the positions are not set but whatever the lineup turns out to be, it will undoubtedly be the best Uranus has to offer. We will see the best teams around.

The softball team is just getting started with new coach Gale Fel- lenzer taking over. The Bears are beginning to click. We have had a number of returning players and some strong promising freshmen. This season is shaping up to be the best we have had. The team is the season's big game. The Bears are playing lights out. The Bears played six games, two with number one doubles. Tri-mossil, Gary Widdo, Bob Mikkelsen, and The team was prepared for this year's Eastern tour, and every team that was in the tournament. The team was ready for this event, but were prepared for this event, but were prepared for this event, but were

Doreen Rhoads Competes At Intercollegiates

Over the spring vacation, sophomore Doreen Rhoads competed in the EIAW Intercollegiate Gymnastic Championships. The meet was held at Temple University on March 28 and 29. Twenty-nine schools participated in the competition with twenty-two of the colleges competing for our Bear thinc1ads. Springfield College placed first, scoring 194.90 points, the University of South Carolina was second, with 190.85; and Clarion College came in third in scoring 97.20 team points.

The three teams will represent the Eastern Area in the National Intercollegiate Championships. Uranus did not compete as a team, Doreen Rhoads was the only Bear to compete. Doreen did well in what was her first gymnastic competition.

Next week, the Bears are scheduled to play the visiting division and performed her floor exercise to much applause. From "Pistol" on the Beam, Coach Georgia Ferrell was extremely pleased with her and

SPECK'S DRIVE-IN

Pipin' Hot Sandwiches
Cold Sandwiches
Milk Shakes
Hoagies

LIMERIC, PA.
SOFT ICE CREAM

493-715

NOW REOPENED:

COLLEGEVILLE, PA.
BROASTED CHICKEN

509-2110

1 HOUR DRY CLEANING

Collegeville Shopping Center

SHIRT SERVICE

493-9922

Shadrack's

ARCO Station

405 Main St.
Collegeville, Pa.

Official Inspection Station

MARZELLA'S PIZZA

PIZZAS & STROMBOLIS

HOT & COLD SANDWICHES

CALL FOR OUR FREE CAMPUS DELIVERY SERVICE AT: 493-1946

OPEN 3:30 to 11:00 P.M. CLOSED MON.

WANT CONVENIENCE? Why Not Your Own Checking Account at

Collegeville, PA.