11-4-1971

The Ursinus Weekly, November 4, 1971

Candy Silver
_Ursinus College_

Jane Siegel
_Ursinus College_

Lesa Spacek
_Ursinus College_

Carol Barenblitt
_Ursinus College_

Lindsley Cook
_Ursinus College_

See next page for additional authors

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly

Part of the Cultural History Commons, Higher Education Commons, Liberal Studies Commons, Social History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Click here to let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation
Silver, Candy; Siegel, Jane; Spacek, Lesa; Barenblitt, Carol; Cook, Lindsley; Swarr, Bob; Redmond, Michael; and Connell, Ruthann, "The Ursinus Weekly, November 4, 1971" (1971). Ursinus Weekly Newspaper. 111.
https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly/111

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Newspapers at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. It has been accepted for inclusion in Ursinus Weekly Newspaper by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. For more information, please contact aprock@ursinus.edu.
Authors
Candy Silver, Jane Siegel, Lesa Spacek, Carol Barenblitt, Lindsley Cook, Bob Swarr, Michael Redmond, and Ruthann Connell

This book is available at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly/111
Theologian Hans Kung To Speak At Temple

By JANE SIEGEL

One of the most controversial of the reforming Roman Catholic priests, Dr. Hans Kung, will speak at Temple University on Friday, November 12, at 8 p.m., in Baptist Temple, Philadelphia.

Dr. Kung's writings are currently under investigation by a high Vatican tribunal, has challenged the entire dogma of Papal infallibility, recommends that Catholic couples follow their own conscience on birth control and remain in the Church, believes that priests and laymen should have a voice in selecting pastors, bishops, and even the Pope, and that the priesthood should be open to married persons and women.

His long campaign for ecumenism, greater freedom and decentralization of authority within the Church has seen some wins and some losses, but his ecumenism has received greater acceptance since the start of Vatican Council II in 1962, and Dr. Kung's proposal that lay people participate in the Mass has been put into effect at several in many places. But at various times he has been labeled a heretic and archheretic from speaking in Los Angeles, Washington, D.C., and Philadelphia.

Dr. Kung's appearance at Temple will be co-sponsored by the John XXIII Ecumenical Center of Paulist Press and the Jewish Center for Inter-Religious Studies, an inter-religious quarterly published at the University and edited by Dr. Leonard A. Sivel, professor of religion at Temple.

Dr. Kung's topic is "Jesus Christ: Dialing the Church," and he will be in Philadelphia to help celebrate the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Inter-American Ecumenical Center, Doylestown, Pa.

General admission is $2. Student tickets are $1. Tickets are available at the Curtis Building, 1720 S. 13th St., Philadelphia, and at the door that evening.

Two of Dr. Kung's books, "The Church of Christ" and "Jesus, God and Infallibility? An Inquiry," published in the late 1960's, stirred in them much controversy within conservative Roman Catholic circles that they were removed from their library as a result.

The Congregation of the Doctrine of the Faith, a Vatican bureau which is to oversee the official magistery of the Church, told Dr. Kung to respond in writing to the Pope's document, and if he did not, would consider him "off the air.

But Dr. Kung found a way, sooner or later, to leave for a worldwide speaking tour. He declined at that time because he is tied with teaching commitments.

The Congregation still has the matter on its agenda. However, it finds that the books do not conform to the traditional Roman Catholic teaching, it could insist that Dr. Kung retract them under threat of excommunication.

A group of 289 Christians from 12 countries has recently petitioned the Vatican on Dr. Kung's behalf. The petitioners, including many leading theologians and churchmen, are supporting Dr. Kung's work. And they are asking the Congregation to withdraw the Congregation's dossier of accusations against him. They assert that Dr. Kung's book, "Jesus, God and Infallibility? An Inquiry," is "a work of great value and worth publishing" in the sense that Dr. Kung is being deprived of a right to publish.

Mr. Kung is looking forward to the visit to Philadelphia, but he is leaving for a worldwide speaking tour.

He is scheduled to speak in the following places on this tour:

Philadelphia: Temple University, Monday night, November 12. The Catholic faculty and student Government have called the meeting an "inter-faith" one and have sponsored it.

New York: St. John's University, Tuesday, November 13.

San Francisco: Dominican College, Thursday, November 15.

Los Angeles: The University of Southern California, Friday, November 16.

Several weeks later, Dr. Kung will return to Philadelphia to lecture to the University's sociology department.

Almost three years ago, at the invitation of the Pope, Dr. Kung gave a series of lectures and held discussions on the subject of "Theology and the Future" at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia.

He is the author of some 25 books, and his latest work, "Jesus Christ: Dialing the Church," is scheduled for publication in the United States this fall.

Dr. Kung has been invited to many places. But at various times he has been labeled a heretic and archheretic from speaking in Los Angeles, Washington, D.C., and Philadelphia.

Dr. Kung's appearance at Temple will be co-sponsored by the John XXIII Ecumenical Center of Paulist Press and the Jewish Center for Inter-Religious Studies, an inter-religious quarterly published at the University and edited by Dr. Leonard A. Sivel, professor of religion at Temple.

His long campaign for ecumenism, greater freedom and decentralization of authority within the Church has seen some wins and some losses, but his ecumenism has received greater acceptance since the start of Vatican Council II in 1962, and Dr. Kung's proposal that lay people participate in the Mass has been put into effect at several in many places. But at various times he has been labeled a heretic and archheretic from speaking in Los Angeles, Washington, D.C., and Philadelphia.

Dr. Kung's appearance at Temple will be co-sponsored by the John XXIII Ecumenical Center of Paulist Press and the Jewish Center for Inter-Religious Studies, an inter-religious quarterly published at the University and edited by Dr. Leonard A. Sivel, professor of religion at Temple.

His long campaign for ecumenism, greater freedom and decentralization of authority within the Church has seen some wins and some losses, but his ecumenism has received greater acceptance since the start of Vatican Council II in 1962, and Dr. Kung's proposal that lay people participate in the Mass has been put into effect at several in many places. But at various times he has been labeled a heretic and archheretic from speaking in Los Angeles, Washington, D.C., and Philadelphia.

Dr. Kung began college at the University of Munich, Germany, in 1933. He went on to study law and theology at the University of Tubingen, Germany.

U.S.G.A. Turns To New Matters

By JANE SIEGEL

With the open dormitory issue settled at Temple, the Student Government is now free to deal with the other numerous and varied matters of student concern.

The U.S.G.A. has been grappling with the problem of selecting Judicial Board members for several years. Both faculty and student representatives are called upon to be the final judges in many types of campus offenses. A more precise method has long been needed to choose people capable of persistent justice. Recently, Ted Tanney and Eileen Shrauger have been working on a complex system of judicial reforms and have devised a new method of training potential T-Board members. This system will be more fully elaborated at the next meeting, November 12.

The English majors reported to Council on possible weaknesses in English teaching, and that it is administered to senior majors in the faculty and student Government. This system will be more fully elaborated at the next meeting, November 12.

The U.S.G.A. has been grappling with the problem of selecting Judicial Board members for several years. Both faculty and student representatives are called upon to be the final judges in many types of campus offenses. A more precise method has long been needed to choose people capable of persistent justice. Recently, Ted Tanney and Eileen Shrauger have been working on a complex system of judicial reforms and have devised a new method of training potential T-Board members. This system will be more fully elaborated at the next meeting, November 12.

The English majors reported to Council on possible weaknesses in English teaching, and that it is administered to senior majors in the faculty and student Government. This system will be more fully elaborated at the next meeting, November 12.

The U.S.G.A. has been grappling with the problem of selecting Judicial Board members for several years. Both faculty and student representatives are called upon to be the final judges in many types of campus offenses. A more precise method has long been needed to choose people capable of persistent justice. Recently, Ted Tanney and Eileen Shrauger have been working on a complex system of judicial reforms and have devised a new method of training potential T-Board members. This system will be more fully elaborated at the next meeting, November 12.

The English majors reported to Council on possible weaknesses in English teaching, and that it is administered to senior majors in the faculty and student Government. This system will be more fully elaborated at the next meeting, November 12.

The U.S.G.A. has been grappling with the problem of selecting Judicial Board members for several years. Both faculty and student representatives are called upon to be the final judges in many types of campus offenses. A more precise method has long been needed to choose people capable of persistent justice. Recently, Ted Tanney and Eileen Shrauger have been working on a complex system of judicial reforms and have devised a new method of training potential T-Board members. This system will be more fully elaborated at the next meeting, November 12.

The English majors reported to Council on possible weaknesses in English teaching, and that it is administered to senior majors in the faculty and student Government. This system will be more fully elaborated at the next meeting, November 12.

The U.S.G.A. has been grappling with the problem of selecting Judicial Board members for several years. Both faculty and student representatives are called upon to be the final judges in many types of campus offenses. A more precise method has long been needed to choose people capable of persistent justice. Recently, Ted Tanney and Eileen Shrauger have been working on a complex system of judicial reforms and have devised a new method of training potential T-Board members. This system will be more fully elaborated at the next meeting, November 12.

The English majors reported to Council on possible weaknesses in English teaching, and that it is administered to senior majors in the faculty and student Government. This system will be more fully elaborated at the next meeting, November 12.
Having been an economics major, Danny plans to put his knowledge to good use when he buys his Van. He says, "I've always dreamed of moving to a deserted island and writing a book of poetry."

"When you leave Ursinus, one of the major problems is adjusting to reality. Here you've got everything at your disposal. In the environment, 21 years old and it's sad to have a girl, want to drink, to do anything you want. When you get out you realize ridiculous is it. A lot of the rules are as old as Freeland Hall was and deserve the same fate. It's no use dwelling upon it, you have to grow through your awareness of it. At a certain point, I'd rather not dwell upon the subject of Ursinus at this time, for I feel many of my sentiments in these areas are negative; and I do not have enough space here to fully discuss them. I would, however, like to use the space I've been given to comment and say hello to some of the many good things I have come into contact with at Ursinus.

Danny did ski, however, he benefits would not have been realized without a budget-wise, however, he benefits would have been realized.

When leaving home, the group split up into distinct groups of people on their own, where they could really appreciate being there. However, the band reached everyone. Their precision and style made this one a very memorable homecoming.

A little score of 62 to 7, half-time was enjoyed unlike any other. There enjoyed both his humor and his singing. It was a day well planned and executed. One that those in attendance are not likely to forget.

The obvious choice is to attempt to gulp down a meal of Asian delight, because if the food is in the mouth less than twenty minutes (including finding a place). Of course, there is always room for improvement. Next year the Bears may win, even if they do play a team as tough as Geneva.
MACULITY PORTRAIT:
Melynn Ehrlich

In spite of the language barrier that sometimes interfered with communication and a cultural barrier that interfered with communication and understanding, Mr. Ehrlich enjoyed his stay in Japan enormously and would go to Japan permanently. He described several experiences peculiar to Japan, and he especially enjoyed the Kabuki theater, which, unfortunate­ly, he never saw in the United States but which he saw in Japan, where it developed. That, and the beautiful paper­type style that is being produced in Japan now, and Japanese audiences and rural folk, are all characteristics of Japan, some good and some bad.

Mr. Ehrlich has recently returned from a one-year stay in Japan, where he spent the year as an exchange professor at the University of Sendai. He is excited about the temporary drama in Japan to students of English, and he was somewhat disappointed by the fact that he could discuss so few plays with them in the time permitted. (His classes met only once a week, for ninety minutes at each meeting.) He commented on an observation that, interestingly enough, students of mathematics and science in Japan were more interested in conversation and their counterparts in fields true that there's no place like sey, which was heartily recommended to him, and we are also glad that he is back. He expressed his gratitude for being here, and he said that Ursinus students seem somewhat brighter than he has experienced them before. He said that there's no place like home.

Mr. Ehrlich traveled a great deal when he was here, and he said that Ursinus's students seem somewhat brighter than he has experienced them before. He said that there's no place like home.

Mr. Ehrlich enjoyed his stay in Japan enormously and would go to Japan permanently. He described several experiences peculiar to Japan, and he especially enjoyed the Kabuki theater, which, unfortunately, he never saw in the United States but which he saw in Japan, where it developed. That, and the beautiful paper-type style that is being produced in Japan now, and Japanese audiences and rural folk, are all characteristics of Japan, some good and some bad.

The CRITIC'S CHOICE: Book, Movie Class And Lunch

By LINDSEY COOK

Book of the Week - The Late Nite Special by Ira Lindsay, which was heartily recom­mended to him, and we are also glad that he is back. He expressed his gratitude for being here, and he said that Ursinus students seem somewhat brighter than he has experienced them before. He said that there's no place like home.

Mr. Ehrlich enjoyed his stay in Japan enormously and would go to Japan permanently. He described several experiences peculiar to Japan, and he especially enjoyed the Kabuki theater, which, unfortunately, he never saw in the United States but which he saw in Japan, where it developed. That, and the beautiful paper-type style that is being produced in Japan now, and Japanese audiences and rural folk, are all characteristics of Japan, some good and some bad.

Mr. Ehrlich enjoyed his stay in Japan enormously and would go to Japan permanently. He described several experiences peculiar to Japan, and he especially enjoyed the Kabuki theater, which, unfortunately, he never saw in the United States but which he saw in Japan, where it developed. That, and the beautiful paper-type style that is being produced in Japan now, and Japanese audiences and rural folk, are all characteristics of Japan, some good and some bad.

Mr. Ehrlich enjoyed his stay in Japan enormously and would go to Japan permanently. He described several experiences peculiar to Japan, and he especially enjoyed the Kabuki theater, which, unfortunately, he never saw in the United States but which he saw in Japan, where it developed. That, and the beautiful paper-type style that is being produced in Japan now, and Japanese audiences and rural folk, are all characteristics of Japan, some good and some bad.

Mr. Ehrlich enjoyed his stay in Japan enormously and would go to Japan permanently. He described several experiences peculiar to Japan, and he especially enjoyed the Kabuki theater, which, unfortunately, he never saw in the United States but which he saw in Japan, where it developed. That, and the beautiful paper-type style that is being produced in Japan now, and Japanese audiences and rural folk, are all characteristics of Japan, some good and some bad.

Mr. Ehrlich enjoyed his stay in Japan enormously and would go to Japan permanently. He described several experiences peculiar to Japan, and he especially enjoyed the Kabuki theater, which, unfortunately, he never saw in the United States but which he saw in Japan, where it developed. That, and the beautiful paper-type style that is being produced in Japan now, and Japanese audiences and rural folk, are all characteristics of Japan, some good and some bad.

Mr. Ehrlich enjoyed his stay in Japan enormously and would go to Japan permanently. He described several experiences peculiar to Japan, and he especially enjoyed the Kabuki theater, which, unfortunately, he never saw in the United States but which he saw in Japan, where it developed. That, and the beautiful paper-type style that is being produced in Japan now, and Japanese audiences and rural folk, are all characteristics of Japan, some good and some bad.

Mr. Ehrlich enjoyed his stay in Japan enormously and would go to Japan permanently. He described several experiences peculiar to Japan, and he especially enjoyed the Kabuki theater, which, unfortunately, he never saw in the United States but which he saw in Japan, where it developed. That, and the beautiful paper-type style that is being produced in Japan now, and Japanese audiences and rural folk, are all characteristics of Japan, some good and some bad.

Mr. Ehrlich enjoyed his stay in Japan enormously and would go to Japan permanently. He described several experiences peculiar to Japan, and he especially enjoyed the Kabuki theater, which, unfortunately, he never saw in the United States but which he saw in Japan, where it developed. That, and the beautiful paper-type style that is being produced in Japan now, and Japanese audiences and rural folk, are all characteristics of Japan, some good and some bad.

Mr. Ehrlich enjoyed his stay in Japan enormously and would go to Japan permanently. He described several experiences peculiar to Japan, and he especially enjoyed the Kabuki theater, which, unfortunately, he never saw in the United States but which he saw in Japan, where it developed. That, and the beautiful paper-type style that is being produced in Japan now, and Japanese audiences and rural folk, are all characteristics of Japan, some good and some bad.

Mr. Ehrlich enjoyed his stay in Japan enormously and would go to Japan permanently. He described several experiences peculiar to Japan, and he especially enjoyed the Kabuki theater, which, unfortunately, he never saw in the United States but which he saw in Japan, where it developed. That, and the beautiful paper-type style that is being produced in Japan now, and Japanese audiences and rural folk, are all characteristics of Japan, some good and some bad.

Mr. Ehrlich enjoyed his stay in Japan enormously and would go to Japan permanently. He described several experiences peculiar to Japan, and he especially enjoyed the Kabuki theater, which, unfortunately, he never saw in the United States but which he saw in Japan, where it developed. That, and the beautiful paper-type style that is being produced in Japan now, and Japanese audiences and rural folk, are all characteristics of Japan, some good and some bad.

Mr. Ehrlich enjoyed his stay in Japan enormously and would go to Japan permanently. He described several experiences peculiar to Japan, and he especially enjoyed the Kabuki theater, which, unfortunately, he never saw in the United States but which he saw in Japan, where it developed. That, and the beautiful paper-type style that is being produced in Japan now, and Japanese audiences and rural folk, are all characteristics of Japan, some good and some bad.
Soccer: 4-2-3 And 5 To Go

By MICHAEL REDMOND

On Friday, October 29, the Bearcats played PMCC (Pennsylvania Military College). It was a big improvement over the last two games. Coach Manning, and Doug Baker made a switch in the lineup. Mike Cash who had been playing left half back was moved up to left wing while Charles Anthony was moved back to Mike's place. The result was the Bearcats were now a strong shooting unit on the line. Since Dan Snyder has been out the Bearcats have lost their shooting ability. Don Young was also returned to the line, having been out for a few weeks with the flu. The result was that Ursinus had 29 shots at the PMC goal while PMC only returned 10. Another improvement in this game was increased passing on the part of the Bearcats. The team's real test was yesterday, when they faced Haverford.

Scores against PMC were made for Ursinus in the second quarter by Mike Cash (10:22), in the fourth by Steve Kiesewetz (5:30) who also assisted on the first goal, and again by Mike Cash (16:20). The final score was 1-0.

Saturday's game (Home Coming, Oct. 30) was exciting and fun. The Bears took on the Alums at 9:30 A.M. The time had been changed from 10:00 a.m. and, as a result, not all the returning Alumni were present for the game. Many old players showed up at 12:00 to get suited up only to learn that the game was already over. The first half found the field very wet causing ball control to be quite a feat. The field was almost dry in the last quarter. The Bears beat the old Bears 3-2.

I've heard two arguments concerning this Alumni game. The first is that the game is exciting and fun. The second is that the Alumni generally come back out of shape and tend to play a murderous game. Each time the Bears usually end up with a few injuries that bother them the rest of the season. Also many members of the team would rather play another team rather than the Alumni. On the good side is the argument that this game is very enjoyable. CALL Alumni for they get to actually feel the team out, get to play, and get to see old friends and new ones. I enjoy watching some of the older players show off their handling control. All in all, it was a good game and a shame that not all the returning Alumni were aware of the time change.

The Bears have two home games coming up. La Salle on Nov. 5, at 2:00, and Franklin and Marshall at 2:00 on Saturday, Nov. 20. Let's all try to make these last two home games so the Bears can really say they have the students' support. I must add that there were more students at the PMC game and the Alumni game than had been at the University of Delaware College. The team appreciates this support and once again thanks you.

POWERS
"Distinctive Ladies & Men's Wear" 221 Main Street, Collegville, Pa.
Lady Arrow - Janett - Hickok COLLEGIATE CLEANERS
Phone: 489-3417

Colloid's Tuxedo Boutique
179 Main Street Collegville, Penna. 19426

"House of Distinction"

Put Your Fabulous Face On

MASTER CHARGE
Now at PROVIDENT NATIONAL BANK

COLLEGIATE
A. W. ZIMMERMAN
Jeweler
Certified Gemologist
American Gem Society
Complete Line of Jewelry ~ Diamonds ~ Silverware
All Types of Trophies Engraved and Presented
On Premises
COLLEGIATE, PA.

The J.V. game cannot come on Saturday. Miss Kelly said she can't remember the last time the J.V.'s beat West Chester. Our underdogs Beatrice gave 10% for Miss Ford and pulled out a victory, 1-0. Bray Watson won the end of the first half, giving U.C. an edge at orange time. But perhaps the highlight of the game was when a penalty ball was called against Ann Paul late in the second half. The air was filled with opposition. The odds of a defense player winning a penalty ball are about 10 to 1, but Ann Paul won and with surprise, Bray played her best in chasing up the victory. I can't single out any one player they all deserve the line and a tranquilizer.

Speaking of champs, last weekend was the All-College North Tournament held at Chesterton H.S. This is the first step toward the national tournament and you can bet a number of our players will make it to Nationals. Good luck and go, you Bears!

DANNY SPENCER (Continued from Page 2, Col. 5)

I would also like to thank my associates, Harry Shing, Sages, Hal Lay, Jamie, Tino, Barnaclo, Stuey, and the Count of Montesquieu for being there when I needed them. It is possible to be with us in spirit though not in flesh.

Finally I should like to mention that when the penalty ball was about to happen, the fngerer who has never been drunk. I think I know every player, even, and I should extend a special thanks to mom, apple pie, and my dad.

P.D. I should also like to thank The Weekly for allowing me to write my own interview.

POWELL'S
3:50 A.M. - 10:00 P.M.
111 Main St.
COLLEGEVILLE, PA.
COLLEGE DINNER
Home Style Cooking

M ARZELLA'S FIFTH AND MAIN
Maureen and Franny Marzella
STATIONERY & SUPPLIES
GIFTS & CRAFTS
489-9275

COLLEGIATE SHELL
489-9117
ROAD SERVICE
and STATE INSPECTION

1 HOUR DRY CLEANING
Collegewide Shopping Center
SHIRT SERVICE
489-9902

CLASSIFIED
The Ursinus Weekly assumes no responsibility for the advertisements placed here.

FOR SALE: 4 sets of yellow and green print curtains. Call Candy Talb at 489-9000.

FOR SALE: I sell stereo headsets. Call Mr. Talb at 489-9970.

FOR SALE: 4 reels 1800 foot Concert Tape. $1.50 ea. Conditon "Excellent"

WANTED: Stove - pipe lat. Contact Mike, NMD. 112G.

Ad rates: $2 per word. Contact Jim Katz or Candy Silver.

By RUTHANN CONNELL

That's right, the Rams of West Chester were overpowered by our Re-dazzling Bearettes for the second consecutive season. The game of the season was played Thursday, October 28th, away at West Chester. It was a warm day and there were spectators everywhere. It was a game exploding with tension yet controlled by spyder, Cola skill. Our team's speed and strength was season with desire as they gave a strong showing. The first half was scoreless, both teams playing well. But, early in the second half, Harriet Reynolds hauled a Rick from Robin Cash, the proceeded to get by two defending Rams, finally driving the ball past the W.C. goalie for the first score of the game. With this the U.C. fans went wild, such jubilation at a hockey game this season I have not seen. The Snellhues continued to score, two goals, not letting up for a minute. The score came later in the game when Robin Cash took it for a free hit outside the circle. Robin played her usual game but it was Beth Anderson who hanged it in. Again the fans danced with delight and jumped for joy. The final score was 2-0. I can't enough about the efforts of the defense. Popey appeared calm and cool at all times, Trojan and Claudia stopped everything and fed the forwards fantastically. The attack - Beth, Better, Robin, Stephanie, and Harri- et worked together in their best effort this season. The entire team contributed to the win, which is the way it is supposed to work. What a TEAM!

The Ursinus Weekly takes no responsibility for the advertisements placed here.

FOR SALE: 4 sets of yellow and green print curtains. Call Candy Talb at 489-9000.

FOR SALE: I sell stereo headsets. Call Mr. Talb at 489-9970.

FOR SALE: 4 reels 1800 foot Concert Tape. $1.50 ea. Conditon "Excellent"

WANTED: Stove - pipe lat. Contact Mike, NMD. 112G.

Ad rates: $2 per word. Contact Jim Katz or Candy Silver.

By RUTHANN CONNELL

That's right, the Rams of West Chester were overpowered by our Re-dazzling Bearettes for the second consecutive season. The game of the season was played Thursday, October 28th, away at West Chester. It was a warm day and there were spectators everywhere. It was a game exploding with tension yet controlled by spyder, Cola skill. Our team's speed and strength was season with desire as they gave a strong showing. The first half was scoreless, both teams playing well. But, early in the second half, Harriet Reynolds hauled a Rick from Robin Cash, the proceeded to get by two defending Rams, finally driving the ball past the W.C. goalie for the first score of the game. With this the U.C. fans went wild, such jubilation at a hockey game this season I have not seen. The Snellhues continued to score, two goals, not letting up for a minute. The score came later in the game when Robin Cash took it for a free hit outside the circle. Robin played her usual game but it was Beth Anderson who hanged it in. Again the fans danced with delight and jumped for joy. The final score was 2-0. I can't enough about the efforts of the defense. Popey appeared calm and cool at all times, Trojan and Claudia stopped everything and fed the forwards fantastically. The attack - Beth, Better, Robin, Stephanie, and Harriet worked together in their best effort this season. The entire team contributed to the win, which is the way it is supposed to work. What a TEAM!

The Ursinus Weekly takes no responsibility for the advertisements placed here.

FOR SALE: 4 sets of yellow and green print curtains. Call Candy Talb at 489-9000.

FOR SALE: I sell stereo headsets. Call Mr. Talb at 489-9970.

FOR SALE: 4 reels 1800 foot Concert Tape. $1.50 ea. Conditon "Excellent"

WANTED: Stove - pipe lat. Contact Mike, NMD. 112G.

Ad rates: $2 per word. Contact Jim Katz or Candy Silver.