A Mountain Ride.

of course when we all piled into the wagon, but the little children were always rather indolent, and felt quite contented about being thrown up into the air, and leaving the rest of us to look after them. We had no need to fear, for we were all used to the way of travel, and knew just how to behave. We were all quite content, for we were just as happy as if we were riding in a coach.

The sun was shining bright, and the air was quite warm, and we all felt quite happy and contented. The children were all quite contented, and were quite as happy as if we were riding in a coach.

We went on and on, and did not feel quite so contented as before, for the children were quite tired, and were quite as happy as if we were riding in a coach. We had no need to fear, for we were all used to the way of travel, and knew just how to behave. We were all quite content, for we were just as happy as if we were riding in a coach.
