Who's Who in the Cast

Dr. Edwards (Q McCoy) is the assistant professor of Communications Studies and Theatre program. Sophistry marks her sophomore effort in proTheatre. She also appeared in Mother Courage.

Rick Bechtel (Ex), a sophomore English major, makes his third appearance in proTheatre productions. Rick has appeared in Oedipus and Mother Courage at Ursinus. His past credits include Fiddler on the Roof and The Odd Couple. In the future, Rick plans on having a career in television and eventually settling down to teach English with his two wives and three children.

Alison Lutz (Robin), a second year Communications Studies and Theatre major, is making her theatrical debut. Alison looks forward to participating in proTheatre in her remaining years at Ursinus.

Sal Ferrarello (Igor) has appeared in numerous proTheatre productions, including Two Noble Kinsman and Brecht on Brecht. Sal is currently a professional magician and juggler and looks forward to many performances in the future.

David Trimber (Willy) is a junior Communications Studies and Theatre major. Dave played the title role in the proTheatre production of Oedipus. Past credits include Grease, Oliver, and A Midsummer Night's Dream.

Margo Hill (Debbie) is an International Relations major, minoring in Politics and Latin American Studies. Although this is Margo's onstage debut with proTheatre, she stage managed three productions last year.

Nathan Rosen (Jack), freshman, is making his proTheatre debut. Nathan's past credits include The Bartered Bride, Merchant of Venice, and Happy Birthday, Wanda June, which he directed.

Donald Zucker (Don Matheson) retired in 1987 from Ursinus College after 29 years in the classroom. He was a Professor of Political Science.

Allison Newkirk (Helena) makes her second proTheatre appearance in Sophistry. She also appeared in A...My name is Alice.
