Japanese invade UC

By ROSEMARIE WUENSCHEL
Ursinus College played host to 22 Japanese students for three weeks this summer as part of its annual exchange program with its sister school, Tohoku Gakuin University in Sendai.

These students put together an exciting show and fair for all those involved in the program. "We have Japan Night to thank the Ursinus community," said one Japanese student.

One of the highlights of the program was the magic show. Nuobuko Inowue impressed all with her clever tricks.

After the program inside Japan night continued outside. Students led guests in dancing and encouraged all to taste the pleasant flavor of simple fireworks.

Many visitors gathered around two Japanese women who translated names into Japanese of the traditional Japanese tea ceremony.

Many visitors gathered around two Japanese women who translated names into Japanese and then wrote them in calligraphy. Then to top off the evening a student set off several simple fireworks.

Ruth Harris commented on the uniqueness of this year's Japan Night saying: "I'm quite proud of it. I think this is the first time that I can remember having a magician and fireworks. It's obvious this group is very talented."

"CULTINATION OF MANY YEARS OF DEVELOPMENT"

President Richert was impressed with this year's group also, saying: "This is the best quality of students we have ever had, partly I think because of the leadership on both sides." He went on to say that this year was the "culmination of many years of development."

In fact this is the twelfth such event that Ursinus has been host to students from Tohoku Gakuin University.

According to Cathy Doughty these Japanese students pay about $6,000 to visit the U.S.

"Sometimes their families are not particularly affluent but they will save for a trip to America. As early as their child's entry into grade school, parents will start saving for their child's trip. It's a very child-oriented society where people really do make an awful lot of sacrifices for their kids," said Dr. Ross Doughty, director of the Ursinus College-Tohoku Gakuin University American Studies program.

Dr. Doughty and his wife Cathy carefully choreographed the program with specific goals in mind. "At the end of their three-week stay in Collegeville, we hope all of the students will be more conversant in English, better informed about American culture and society and capable of functioning independently in the U.S."

The Doughty team pursued these goals "through classroom instruction, English practice sessions, games and interview assignments, films and lectures, trips and leisure-time opportunities, homestays and dinner visits."

HOMESTAY REWARDING

The dinner visit and especially the homestay afforded the students with the opportunity of experiencing American culture first hand.

After the homestay and dinner visit the students commented on the differences between American and Japanese family life. Dr. Doughty recalls, "The students felt that generally American families are more democratic, American children are more independent, more mothers and more husbands share the load in household duties than in Japan."

One student mentioned her homestay, "I enjoyed very much for three days." Many of the families became quite attached to their guest. By mid-week, a homestay host said of her Japanese guest, "She was absolutely terrific and we hope she comes back again for a longer visit."

Ed Stemmier and John Boyd compared the American homestay with the ones they experienced in Japan. Ed and John spent six weeks in the Ursinus College-Tohoku Gakuin University Japanese studies program during the summer of '83.

"I feel I got more out of the program because the homestays were longer in Japan. I commuted 35 minutes each day to the campus."

The Beardwood program received its namesake. Dr. Visser received his M.A. degree from the University of Pennsylvania, and earned his Ph.D. at Bryn Mawr College.

A member of the Ursinus faculty since 1968, Dr. Visser received his M.A. degree from the University of Pennsylvania, and earned his Ph.D. at Bryn Mawr College.

The many clubs and organizations at Ursinus College provide a kaleidoscope of opportunities for individual excitement, fellowship, education, competition and growth.

Tonight they will shine brightly in the College Union Program Board's Activities Fair.

The following is a list of the clubs and organizations on campus.

ASTRONOMY CLUB: This club provides members of the organization and the college community an opportunity for learning about and enjoying astronomical observations. Biweekly meetings feature speakers, films, and slide presentations.

BEARDWOOD CHEMICAL SOCIETY: The Beardwood Chemical Society, named for the former organic chemistry professor, Dr. Matthew Beardwood, is the oldest and most continuously active of all the pre-professional organizations on campus. It offers its members a unique opportunity not only to learn about the chemical profession, but also to become acquainted with the faculty and students of the Chemistry Department. Its bi-weekly meetings feature outstanding speakers from both academic and industrial areas of contemporary chemistry. The Society also sponsors industrial plant visits and social activities for its members.

Regardless of major, Beardwood members are encouraged to become student affiliates of the American Chemical Society (ACS), the national professional organization of chemists. Student affiliates can subscribe to prestigious ACS journals at reduced prices and pay no charge when they use ACS employment services to find jobs in chemical fields.

In their meeting last spring, the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association approved the proposal for the bear, which is to be completed in time for Alumni Weekend in 1985. The bear's display location has not yet been determined, however, a few possible locations are Myrin, Corson, or Helfferich.

The remainder of the tree is to be made into momentos for alumni and friends of the college.
U.S. News and World Report ranked Ursinus College in America's top 50 liberal arts colleges for the 1984-85 academic year. The magazine praised the college for its strong academic programs, excellent faculty, and vibrant campus life. It cited Ursinus as one of the "most competitive colleges," noting that it attracts students from around the country who are looking for a challenging and rewarding educational experience.

The Grizzly, the student newspaper of Ursinus College, published this article in September 1984. It discussed the college's ranking and its impact on the student body and faculty. The article also highlighted the college's commitment to excellence, its strong academic programs, and its vibrant campus life.

The Grizzly's coverage of the college's ranking reflected the college's ongoing efforts to improve its academic programs and enhance its reputation. The college's top ranking in U.S. News and World Report was a testament to its commitment to excellence, and it served as a source of pride for the student body and faculty alike.

The article concluded with a call to action, encouraging students to take full advantage of the college's resources and to strive for excellence in all aspects of their academic and personal lives.
HAINES-BARNARD PRE-LAW SOCIETY: Using monthly meetings, speakers, seminars, and field trips, the Society develops the members with the practice of law and law-related professions as well as to assist members in choosing and applying law schools.

HEALTH, PHYSICAL EDUCATION, AND RECREATION CLUB: The organization promotes and enhances the professions through various activities. Students majoring or minor in health, physical education or recreation are eligible to join.

INTERNATIONAL EXPERIENCE: This group provides the opportunity to learn more about international history, culture, and customs. Students interested in helping shape the world are welcome to attend.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB: The purpose of the International Relations Club is to promote an interest in world affairs and international relations. Each year, the club sponsors debates, speakers, and films dealing with world affairs. Anyone interested in world affairs and international relations is eligible to join.

LACROSSE CLUB: Membership is open to all eligible male members of the academic community who are interested in the sport of lacrosse. This club has a highly competitive team and competes with area colleges.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS: The purpose of LeCercle Francais is to foster appreciation of French language and culture. Both majors and non-majors are afforded the opportunity to participate in discussions of current economic and social problems as well as talks by educational leaders. Activities include volunteer services and trips to area sites. All full-time students are eligible to join.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB: The Photography Club is designed to be a forum for those with an interest in photography, and to promote students' knowledge of the skills involved in photography. There are two memberships: $2 per semester for those who wish to have films developed and $1 per semester for others who wish to attend meetings and participate in various activities. The club meets weekly, and its activities focus upon topics in which members have expressed interest. Meetings are informal, and open to all students who wish to attend meetings and participate in various activities.

SOCIETY OF PHYSICS STUDENTS: The purpose of this club is to advance and diffuse a knowledge of the science of physics and the encouragement of student interest. Membership is open to all individual students interested in physics. The group meets on the second floor of the College Union.

SPIRIT COMMITTEE: The Spirit Committee includes the cheerleading squad and the Bear Band. Its purpose is to further the Ursinus spirit and to promote enthusiasm and a sense of pride in the college community. Activities include pep rallies and the promotion of the College November Festival.

CALENDAR

Monday, Sept. 3

ACTIVITIES FAIR
Bring your pencil or pen and sign up with your favorite clubs and organizations 8 p.m. Wismer Dining Room.

MOVIE: GORKY PARK
Come early for a good seat! It will begin at 9 p.m. in the College Union.

Tuesday, Sept. 4

HOW TO STUDY PART I
6:30 p.m., Wismer Auditorium
NOTE TAKING:
Effective note taking is essential for success in college. Few new students are prepared to both listen carefully to the teachings of a lecturer and produce understandable, recognizable lecture notes. This session will review rules for college note-taking and will introduce the Cornell System of note-taking.

Thursday, Sept. 6

URSINUS DAY
Welcome the Class of 88 and wear your red, black and gold in true Ursinus spirit. The celebration will begin in Bomberger Auditorium at 4 p.m. A welcome back picnic will follow at 4:30 p.m. on Wismer lawn.

HOW TO STUDY PART II
6:30 p.m., Wismer Auditorium
TIME MANAGEMENT
Have you wondered how you’re going to go to classes, study, participate in sports, clubs, and activities, have a social life, and still have time to eat and sleep?? If so, you could use some tips on how to manage your time more effectively. Take the time to attend this workshop — it might be worth it in the long run!

Friday, Sept. 7

MOVIE: FOOTLOOSE
Dance on over to Wismer Auditorium at 7:30 and/or 10:30 p.m. to see this toe-tapping classic.

Saturday, Sept. 8

SPORTS: SOCCER
Cheer on our soccer team against Gettysburg 1:30 p.m. on the field behind Helfferich Gym.

WELCOME BACK PARTY
USGA, Program Board and the Orientation Committee will host a unique dance band called Jellyroll in Wismer from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. Jellyroll’s repertoire includes a variety within a bluesy framework of original tunes delivered with such a passion, it will keep you coming back for more.

COMEDY SHOW
The improvisational comedy team of Abrams and Anderson will visit the College Union from 9 to 10 p.m. Tom Anderson and Leslie Abrams have enough talent, guts and rambunctiousness to stir any audience into wild cheers. Prepared sketches are interspersed with improvisations. Armed with some suitscases of funny clothes and a couple of hat racks, this duo led a usually mellow, often cynical, non-participatory crowd of Pubgoers on a wild hilarious comedic journey.

Tuesday, Sept. 11

SPORTS: HOCKEY
Come see our nationally known field hockey team play Michigan State at 3:15 p.m. behind the quad.

HOW TO STUDY PART III
6:30 p.m., Wismer Auditorium
EXAM TAKING
For many students, poor exam scores are caused by a lack of confidence in their test taking skills. Some students have relied on their memories, spend the night before the exam “cramming,” will “spit back” the material on the test, and forget the information one week later. This session will cover three types of examinations—the essay exam, the objective exam, and the problem-type exam. Suggestions for exam preparation, review and test taking will be reviewed.

Thursday, Sept. 13

SPORTS: VOLLEYBALL
The volleyball team will be up against F & M in Helfferich at 7 p.m.

HOW TO STUDY PART IV
6:30 p.m. Wismer Auditorium

MOVIE: HARD TO HOLD
Rick Springfield fans shouldn’t miss this one. It will be shown at 9 p.m. in the College Union.

 Clubs (Continued from Page 3)

Council, which is composed of officers and representatives, are to: consider academic and social problems of the College; adopt policies governing the social life of the campus; present requests to the appropriate committees or representatives of the administration, coordinate, and direct student interests; initiate and direct any committees which benefit the student body. Through the student representatives, the council makes requests and advises the allocation of funds; has the final authority in the directing of association funds; appoints a representative to the Governing Board of the College Union, names the student members of the Judiciary Board, and various other special interest committees. Standing committees of the U.S.G.A. include: Elections Committee, Orientation Committee, the Campus Life Committee, and the Men’s and Women’s Campus Councils.

WVOU: The campus radio station, broadcasts from the basement of Bomberger.

URSINUS ECUMENICAL SOCIETY: This organization is composed of inter-denominational students. Through study, worship and activities, it enables a variety of traditions to be expressed and examined. Membership is not restricted by denominational affiliation.

“FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTIAN ATHLETES” is made up of students (athletes and non-athletes) of the Ursinus Community, who desire to know more of who Jesus Christ is and what His will is for their lives. The FCA sponsors discussions and events such as the volleyball marathon and Special Olympics.

This year we are planning on having two or three small group Bible studies a week and one large meeting on Sunday where we will have guest speakers and spiritual times of fellowship.

Our activities include meetings at the local nursing home, a charity run this semester and a few more of who Jesus Christ is and what His will is for their lives. The FCA sponsors discussions and events such as the volleyball marathon and Special Olympics.
