IDAHO AND ITS FERTILE VALLEYS.

TRAPP, PA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 1, 1890. WHOLE NUMBER 239.

We will give you a Cuisine & a bottle of champagne, and the city is filled with the pleasantest diplomatic and commercial notes that have reached us during our residence, and we expect to know the details of many more.

Our city is situated above the heart of an immense valley. It is the heart of a magnificent valley, and there are no other towns within two hundred miles, so that the pure mountain air is inhaled by the citizen. The city is surrounded by a beautiful range of mountains, and the climate is mild and healthy.

The city is one of the most interesting in the United States, and the citizens are proud of their city. It is the center of a rich farming country, and the people are thrifty and hard-working.

The Student in the Lutheran Theological Seminary fell while 1'ifting the act of carrying a boiler filled with hot water, and as a result of the accident she has been taken to the hospital. She is expected to recover.

Pupils of Trappe public school, in connection with the Centennial of their school, have presented an address of thanks to Mr. R. Shelliker for kind favors.

The President of the audience.

About $70 worth of goods—necessities of the week.

The History of the Coldwater Historical Society.

A letter from M. R. Shelliker to the President of the audience.

The Centennial Anniversary is given the highest number of votes, as given by the members of the school.

The greatest event in the history of the school was the admission of Miss Jennie Johnson, with an elegant gold necklace and diamond earrings.

The Centennial Anniversary. The silver bell was rung for the first time, and the assembly assembled in the St. Augustus Presbytery.

The Rev. Funk. Quite a number of the scholars evidently appreciate her worth.
