Authors
Judy Schneider, Jonathan Weaver, Alan Gold, Frederick Jacob, Linda Richtmyre, Linda Turnage, Paul Sautter, Cris Crane, Rudi Herman, James Deboy, James Williams, David Sears, and Alan Novak
Sorority Pledges Perpetrate “Riot”—New Dorm Fiasco

By JONATHAN WEAVER

At approximately 8:00 p.m. on October 29, the entrance of two sorority pledges into the quad of the New Dorm precipitated what has variously been described as an incident, a disturbance, and a minor riot.

The arrival of the pledges, who were allegedly selling mugs, brought a considerable number of residents from their books to the balconies. There was a great deal of shouting for a duration of about ten minutes, ensuing with the swift, and mysterious exit of the girls.

Trumpet Signals Battle

After this incident, the quad returned to relative silence, but a pervasive uneasiness remained, denoted by occasional shouts and slamming of doors. At 10:30, according to proctor Sam Smith, a trumpet was blown on the third floor, bringing shouts for quiet, and apparently the throwing of an apple. The noise again brought students from their suites, and general disorder set in. An audience estimated at 120 watched as some 20 people carried on a battle with large quantities of water, more apples, at least one bottle, and several firecrackers. The damage from the battle was a mere in the quad, a cracked window, and a dented door; but thankfully no one was injured.

Fines Levied

On the 30th, the Committee of the Dean of Men, composed of the Friday evening, November 22, in Drexel Hill, Pa., and a museum curator have used the Federal Service. Perhaps even more important when it occurred, is that pressures were brought to bear on individuals who might have actually actively participated. A number of those came forward and admitted their part.

The response to the fine was immediate and quite negative, with the result that pressures were brought to bear on individuals who had actually actively participated. A number of those came forward and admitted their part.

Selection Criteria

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directorysprite students based on their academic achievements, and the Committee, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential future. They then group all students who register in the various schools in the nation.

Outstanding students have been acknowledged by the Dean of Men, composed of the Friday evening, November 22, in Drexel Hill, Pa., and a museum curator have used the Federal Service. Perhaps even more important when it occurred, is that pressures were brought to bear on individuals who might have actually actively participated. A number of those came forward and admitted their part.

The arrival of the pledges, who were allegedly selling mugs, brought a considerable number of residents from their books to the balconies. There was a great deal of shouting for a duration of about ten minutes, ensuing with the swift, and mysterious exit of the girls.

Trumpet Signals Battle

After this incident, the quad returned to relative silence, but a pervasive uneasiness remained, denoted by occasional shouts and slamming of doors. At 10:30, according to proctor Sam Smith, a trumpet was blown on the third floor, bringing shouts for quiet, and apparently the throwing of an apple. The noise again brought students from their suites, and general disorder set in. An audience estimated at 120 watched as some 20 people carried on a battle with large quantities of water, more apples, at least one bottle, and several firecrackers. The damage from the battle was a mere in the quad, a cracked window, and a dented door; but thankfully no one was injured.

Fines Levied

On the 30th, the Committee of the Dean of Men, composed of the Friday evening, November 22, in Drexel Hill, Pa., and a museum curator have used the Federal Service. Perhaps even more important when it occurred, is that pressures were brought to bear on individuals who might have actually actively participated. A number of those came forward and admitted their part.

The response to the fine was immediate and quite negative, with the result that pressures were brought to bear on individuals who had actually actively participated. A number of those came forward and admitted their part.

Selection Criteria

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directorysprite students based on their academic achievements, and the Committee, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential future. They then group all students who register in the various schools in the nation.

Outstanding students have been acknowledged by the Dean of Men, composed of the Friday evening, November 22, in Drexel Hill, Pa., and a museum curator have used the Federal Service. Perhaps even more important when it occurred, is that pressures were brought to bear on individuals who might have actually actively participated. A number of those came forward and admitted their part.

The arrival of the pledges, who were allegedly selling mugs, brought a considerable number of residents from their books to the balconies. There was a great deal of shouting for a duration of about ten minutes, ensuing with the swift, and mysterious exit of the girls.

Trumpet Signals Battle

After this incident, the quad returned to relative silence, but a pervasive uneasiness remained, denoted by occasional shouts and slamming of doors. At 10:30, according to proctor Sam Smith, a trumpet was blown on the third floor, bringing shouts for quiet, and apparently the throwing of an apple. The noise again brought students from their suites, and general disorder set in. An audience estimated at 120 watched as some 20 people carried on a battle with large quantities of water, more apples, at least one bottle, and several firecrackers. The damage from the battle was a mere in the quad, a cracked window, and a dented door; but thankfully no one was injured.

Fines Levied

On the 30th, the Committee of the Dean of Men, composed of the Friday evening, November 22, in Drexel Hill, Pa., and a museum curator have used the Federal Service. Perhaps even more important when it occurred, is that pressures were brought to bear on individuals who might have actually actively participated. A number of those came forward and admitted their part.

The response to the fine was immediate and quite negative, with the result that pressures were brought to bear on individuals who had actually actively participated. A number of those came forward and admitted their part.

Selection Criteria

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directorysprite students based on their academic achievements, and the Committee, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential future. They then group all students who register in the various schools in the nation.

Outstanding students have been acknowledged by the Dean of Men, composed of the Friday evening, November 22, in Drexel Hill, Pa., and a museum curator have used the Federal Service. Perhaps even more important when it occurred, is that pressures were brought to bear on individuals who might have actually actively participated. A number of those came forward and admitted their part.

The arrival of the pledges, who were allegedly selling mugs, brought a considerable number of residents from their books to the balconies. There was a great deal of shouting for a duration of about ten minutes, ensuing with the swift, and mysterious exit of the girls.

Trumpet Signals Battle

After this incident, the quad returned to relative silence, but a pervasive uneasiness remained, denoted by occasional shouts and slamming of doors. At 10:30, according to proctor Sam Smith, a trumpet was blown on the third floor, bringing shouts for quiet, and apparently the throwing of an apple. The noise again brought students from their suites, and general disorder set in. An audience estimated at 120 watched as some 20 people carried on a battle with large quantities of water, more apples, at least one bottle, and several firecrackers. The damage from the battle was a mere in the quad, a cracked window, and a dented door; but thankfully no one was injured.

Fines Levied

On the 30th, the Committee of the Dean of Men, composed of the Friday evening, November 22, in Drexel Hill, Pa., and a museum curator have used the Federal Service. Perhaps even more important when it occurred, is that pressures were brought to bear on individuals who might have actually actively participated. A number of those came forward and admitted their part.

The response to the fine was immediate and quite negative, with the result that pressures were brought to bear on individuals who had actually actively participated. A number of those came forward and admitted their part.

Selection Criteria

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directorysprite students based on their academic achievements, and the Committee, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential future. They then group all students who register in the various schools in the nation.

Outstanding students have been acknowledged by the Dean of Men, composed of the Friday evening, November 22, in Drexel Hill, Pa., and a museum curator have used the Federal Service. Perhaps even more important when it occurred, is that pressures were brought to bear on individuals who might have actually actively participated. A number of those came forward and admitted their part.

The arrival of the pledges, who were allegedly selling mugs, brought a considerable number of residents from their books to the balconies. There was a great deal of shouting for a duration of about ten minutes, ensuing with the swift, and mysterious exit of the girls.

Trumpet Signals Battle

After this incident, the quad returned to relative silence, but a pervasive uneasiness remained, denoted by occasional shouts and slamming of doors. At 10:30, according to proctor Sam Smith, a trumpet was blown on the third floor, bringing shouts for quiet, and apparently the throwing of an apple. The noise again brought students from their suites, and general disorder set in. An audience estimated at 120 watched as some 20 people carried on a battle with large quantities of water, more apples, at least one bottle, and several firecrackers. The damage from the battle was a mere in the quad, a cracked window, and a dented door; but thankfully no one was injured.

Fines Levied

On the 30th, the Committee of the Dean of Men, composed of the Friday evening, November 22, in Drexel Hill, Pa., and a museum curator have used the Federal Service. Perhaps even more important when it occurred, is that pressures were brought to bear on individuals who might have actually actively participated. A number of those came forward and admitted their part.
As all the campus knows by now, one of our freshman coeds was killed in an automobile crash last Friday night. Both of her male companions, who are also Ursinus students, were very seriously injured; by the time this column is printed, one or both may be dead. And, once again, the conversation on campus has that hushed, uneasy quality.

When the recent Civil Rights legislation was enacted, it was the ghost of the campus that we heard. Now, it is Ursinus's turn to reflect on its role and reaction to the situation. The accident could have just as easily occurred on the highway, at a football game or a dance. Is it our role to assume the responsibility for these affairs? Is it not enough to look at the fraternities or sororities to blame for the action of the members of the Ursinus community from their activities—activities that have been called immoral, indecent or inhuman, or even worse? It is not for the administration to take action. It is the responsibility of the students to evaluate the situation.

In Memoriam...

Last Friday night Kristine Litzauk died in an automobile crash on the way back from a party in Pottstown. She was a most beautiful girl. I cannot speak of her—she was too complicated—and now is neither the time nor the place.

After I heard about the accident, I thought that I should have known better. It seemed to have been my one mistake. I had stopped for a moment, a moment of mourning. But it was Kris. We of the Weekly staff offer our most sincere sympathies to her parents and friends—but this is not enough.

The Mailbag

To the editors of the Ursinus Weekly:

Dear Judy,

The student body of Ursinus has been subjected to a series of rather amusing and unfounded attacks against the "hated" sororities and fraternities by fellow students and faculty members. Stating that these attacks are unfair and serve no purpose to arouse the bitterness that poisoned the air here last spring.

As the second choice is to do nothing, to allow things to go on as they have. I believe that this kind of accident has shown the futility of banning open parties on campus, only to look the other way when those parties are held in Pottstown or Norristown. Who is deluding whom? Upwards of 95% of the students on this campus have no scruples against taking a drink that has alcoholic content. The college's present stand has demonstrated to their hands to conduct their parties—with grievous results.

In the last path is one that will be difficult for the administration to accept, but is the only one that makes sense: to allow the open parties to be held on campus. Last Friday's tragedy is a grisly truth. But it was the ghost of the campus that we hear. Now, it is Ursinus's turn to ponder and decide on the course of action.

Three Alternatives

A decision is going to have to be made as to the status of the "open" parties. Friday's accident surfaced the uninformed and unnecessary belief that open parties cause trouble. The accident could have just as easily occurred on the way home from one of the many fraternity beer parties as from the home of a student's parents. The accident only served to re-awaken the bitterness of what they believe to be a sorority or fraternity. In fact, one of the chairman was in a sorority. Also most of the booths set up at the carnival during Campus Chest were run by a sorority or fraternity. When we consider that fraternities and sororities, I can only talk about those at Pennhurst. Do you call these activities self-serving? If there are "mature, thinking Ursinus individuals," perhaps they should slow the maturity and think enough about their futures to consider that the war in Viet Nam, the inequality of the black man, and economic problems of the country will not be solved by sororities, fraternities or hockey games.

In Our Mailbag

To the editors of the Ursinus Weekly:

Dear Judy,

The student body of Ursinus has been subjected to a series of rather amusing and unfounded attacks against the "hated" sororities and fraternities by fellow students and faculty members. Stating that these attacks are unfair and serve no purpose to arouse the bitterness that poisoned the air here last spring.

As the second choice is to do nothing, to allow things to go on as they have. I believe that this kind of accident has shown the futility of banning open parties on campus, only to look the other way when those parties are held in Pottstown or Norristown. Who is deluding whom? Upwards of 95% of the students on this campus have no scruples against taking a drink that has alcoholic content. The college's present stand has demonstrated to their hands to conduct their parties—with grievous results.

In the last path is one that will be difficult for the administration to accept, but is the only one that makes sense: to allow the open parties to be held on campus. Last Friday's tragedy is a grisly truth. But it was the ghost of the campus that we hear. Now, it is Ursinus's turn to ponder and decide on the course of action.
The Ursinus Weekly
Published a minimum of fifteen times each academic year by the students of Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa. 19426.
Sixty-eighth year of publication

Editor-in-Chief
JUDY SCHNEIDER
Associate Editor
FRED JACOB

News Editor
ALAN C. GOLDFIELD
Feature Editor
TIM COYNE

Sports Editor
KEN YORGEY

Examiner Editor
Byron Jackson
Assistant News Editor
Mike Stoner
Assistant Feature Editor
Linda Richtmyre, John Picconi
Advertising Manager
Jack Davis
 Classified Editor
Tom Starr
Photographers
John Gryn, Jim Weaver
Typist
Linda Richtmyre
Cartoonist
J. W.

THE EDITORIAL CONTENT DOES NOT NECESSARILY REFLECT THE OPINIONS OF URSINUS COLLEGE

Student Art Added to Curricula: Experiments in Media Underway

For several years there has been talk of adding a course in painting to the Ursinus curriculum, but 1967-68 a course in the appreciation of the visual arts was finally approved. This course will be offered for the first time this fall under the direction of Mr. Sorenson. It will be open to women students only. In previous years, students have requested that such a course be added to the curriculum. Mr. Sorenson has been working with them and has been making arrangements for the course to be offered this year.

The course will be taught in the new studio art building, and students will have access to a variety of materials and equipment. They will be able to experiment with different techniques and media, and will be encouraged to develop their own style and individual approach to art. The course will also provide an opportunity for students to explore new ideas and concepts, and to express their creativity in new ways.

Mr. Sorenson believes that this new course will be beneficial to students in a number of ways. It will provide them with an opportunity to develop their creative skills and to express their ideas through art. It will also provide them with an opportunity to learn about different cultures and viewpoints, and to gain an appreciation for the art of other cultures.

The course will be taught by Mr. Sorenson, who has had many years of experience in teaching art. He has been working with students in previous years, and has been making arrangements for the course to be offered this year.

The Ursinus Weekly

On the campus of Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa. 19426

By Paul Sautter

"The Black Dilemma" is unusual in that it (a) displays the logical fallacies of composition, hasty generalization, and argumentum ad baculum remarkably well, (b) contains a number of arguments that are contradictory and (c) the author has stated his opinion, which in itself is just as "reasonable." To counter these possibilities, one wonders what Humphrey would do for the black America that the author considers is worth the effort that President Johnson did for and against. Humphrey would have to undo all the things that Humphrey would do for the black America that he would not do for the black America that Johnson would do for.

"Humphrey, like so many other whites in this country, reinforces his sense of security by lumping in black and white, and by trying to make the black white as they see it. In 1964, he said, "If the good fights for the good he fights it must be that the majority vote of the people approved." But there are other points which are more than just a simple question of the majority vote. Humphrey would have to undo all the things that Humphrey would do for the black America that Johnson would do for.

This is Logic?

President Humphrey has approved the opening of the lounge, while Mr. Williams has approved the opening of the lounge at the request of the student body and the Board of Directors. If anyone interested in this program, I suggest that you go to Mr. Williams and ask him about it. Humphrey would have to undo all the things that Humphrey would do for the black America that Johnson would do for.

The juxtaposition of a number of arguments used by Mr. Jackson is as risky as calling Mayor Daley a Yippie. But there are other points which are more than just a simple question of the majority vote. Humphrey would have to undo all the things that Humphrey would do for the black America that Johnson would do for.

The Black Man's Dilemma, or What Is It Going to Be? Special Report ... (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)
BEARETTES STILL U. S. CHAMPS

Snell and Company Nip Rametts on Late Goals By Cash and Porter

By CHRIS CRANE

If ever determination, desire, and sheer pride were the key factors in the outcome of a game the prime example would have to be the Ursinus-West Chester championship game. One couldn’t help feeling the tension in the air as the busloads of local high schools, anxious parents, and yes, crowds of U.S. students worked. The girls picked up the atmosphere and certainly did not let the onlookers down as they hustled and fought to a 4-3 win. The crowd probably saw the best hockey played anywhere in the U.S.

Ursinus scored first early in the first half as co-captain Gwen Steigelman barreled through ahead of their defenses for a picture goal. This lead was shortened, despite a fine save by Kim Brown, the persistent West Chester offense squeezed in a goal and the half ended with a score 1 to 1. The strain was really felt as the second half started.

West Chester scored first in the second half, although Joanne Snell and Company Nip brought the ball shot from one end of the field to the other, and then Janet Landis breaks through into daylight and hit a lightning shot to the goal—2-2.

Again, West Chester roared back and scored. Things looked bad. Time was running out. It was here that the Ursinus girls decided that NOBODY was going to beat them, not even West Chester. They came back with a fire in their eyes. The Bears obliterated a score. Late in the final period, Ursinus was awarded a penalty kick and Rhodesia’s gift to the soccer team, Selby Narya, easily lobbed the ball into the upper right hand corner to put the finish on a great all around effort by a fired-up soccer team.

The Ursinus soccer team knocked the MAC Conference last Wednesday by making their first win of the season a big one—a 3-1 upset over previously unbeaten Swarthmore. Two goals by Danny Spencer and some acrobatic goal-tending by Howard Solomon, playing in place of regular goalie Terry McMenamin, aided the Bears in building a two goal advantage at halftime. Swarthmore scored midway through the third period and attacked the Ursinus goal for the equalizing score for the remainder of the period. However, fullbacks Dan Rudloff and Walt Kiely and halfback Rudy Ruhlman were up to the challenge and staved off the Swarthmore rally without five minutes to play.

The strain was really felt as the second half started, although Joanne Snell and Company Nip brought the ball near the goal. After being entertained at halftime, the Bears obliterated a score. Late in the final period, Ursinus was awarded a penalty kick and Rhodesia’s gift to the soccer team, Selby Narya, easily lobbed the ball into the upper right hand corner to put the finish on a great all around effort by a fired-up soccer team.

Ursinus scored first early in the first half as co-captain Gwen Steigelman barreled through ahead of their defenses for a picture goal. This lead was shortened, despite a fine save by Kim Brown, the persistent West Chester offense squeezed in a goal and the half ended with a score 1 to 1. The strain was really felt as the second half started.

West Chester scored first in the second half, although Joanne Snell and Company Nip brought the ball shot from one end of the field to the other, and then Janet Landis breaks through into daylight and hit a lightning shot to the goal—2-2.

Again, West Chester roared back and scored. Things looked bad. Time was running out. It was here that the Ursinus girls decided that NOBODY was going to beat them, not even West Chester. They came back with a fire in their eyes. The Bears obliterated a score. Late in the final period, Ursinus was awarded a penalty kick and Rhodesia’s gift to the soccer team, Selby Narya, easily lobbed the ball into the upper right hand corner to put the finish on a great all around effort by a fired-up soccer team.

The Ursinus soccer team knocked the MAC Conference last Wednesday by making their first win of the season a big one—a 3-1 upset over previously unbeaten Swarthmore. Two goals by Danny Spencer and some acrobatic goal-tending by Howard Solomon, playing in place of regular goalie Terry McMenamin, aided the Bears in building a two goal advantage at halftime. Swarthmore scored midway through the third period and attacked the Ursinus goal for the equalizing score for the remainder of the period. However, fullbacks Dan Rudloff and Walt Kiely and halfback Rudy Ruhlman were up to the challenge and staved off the Swarthmore rally without five minutes to play.
Harriers Set Record For Consecutive Wins

By BUDI HERMAN

Twenty-two victories and no defeat for two seasons -- many, many meets. That's the up-to-date record on an unbeatable UC sports record book. The UC CC team has re-written the sports record books in a blaze of glory which has been matched since the days of the Civil War. Stopped in this tradition of producing fabulous teams, Coach Ray Gruzyk has not had a team defeated in so long that he forgets it feels so good to win and to know that when he finishes practice the finish line is in sight.

Then Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday, and the University men humbled the opposition in the season with a record of 6-2 compared to 6. Sig Rho entered their last game position only 18, while compiling the Division opponents by wracking up 4-2, resulting in the Electric Collegeville to make a shambles of the opposition. 'Charisma' won.

The next Saturday the "Jets" only lost to the Anchors, a 52-23 defeat, and on Wednesday, November 20, the UC CC team comprised the longest winning streak in the history of Ursinus: 22 straight victories.

That means that Earsby, the University's head coach, has a team capable of winning any match, even if they do not win all the time. But, nonetheless, that team has been a threat to every team they have faced. And baby, that's what we want to be called. The team has reached the UC CC team and Coach Gruzyk will not rest, as he has told them more than once, "This is the team that we have been working for all season." But remember, UC has only one game left to play.

The championship games, the last two games will be played Tuesday, November 19 through Thursday, November 21 between the victors of both divisions, Electric Flowers and Sig Rho. Below are the game schedules:

Dorm Division

- Team
  - W
  - L
  - R
  - J's

- Elec. Flowers
  - 9
  - 0

- Bruback
  - 0

- J's
  - 2

- APES
  - 5

- Sig Rho
  - 3

- Beta Sig
  - 4

- ZX
  - 0

- AFO
  - 8

The UC Bears led 12-0. The Bears would not let their opponents close the gap any further. Bob Honeyman, a fresher on the Dickinson in the first quarter, Timko at quarterback Ron Timko several times. UC's offense was just too good for the Bear's defense. Shuman passed to first half, utilizing tough defense interceptions. The championship games, the last two games will be played Tuesday, November 19 through Thursday, November 21 between the victors of both divisions, Electric Flowers and Sig Rho. Below are the game schedules:

Sig Rho Lambda To Meet For Championship

By JIM DEBOY

The Intramural Touch Football League is back, and the action never stops. The season last Wednesday, November 13, the Continental Electric Flowers and Sig Rho whipping up their division crowns.

The Continental Electric Flowers made a complete shambles of their Dorm Division opponents by wrapping up 113 points and 103 goals, Monday, November 17, 6-5, 5-6, 3-4, 3-5, 3-5.

As had been expected, the Frank Division race was not decided until the last day of play. November 6. Sig Rho entered their last game of the season winless. With a 6-11 goal, while APES, 5-2, still had a chance of tying Sig Rho and forcing a division crown. 1. They could dispose of APES, and 2. Sig Rho could dispose of APES. Their last week, they will play Tuesday, November 19 through Thursday, November 21 between the victors of both divisions, Electric Flowers and Sig Rho. Below are the game schedules:

Dorm Division

- Team
  - W
  - L
  - R
  - J's

- Elec. Flowers
  - 9
  - 0

- Bruback
  - 0

- J's
  - 2

- APES
  - 5

- Sig Rho
  - 3

- Beta Sig
  - 4

- ZX
  - 0

- AFO
  - 8

The University men humbled the opposition in the season with a record of 6-2 compared to 6. Sig Rho entered their last game position only 18, while compiling the Division opponents by wracking up 4-2, resulting in the Electric Collegeville to make a shambles of the opposition. 'Charisma' won.

The next Saturday the "Jets" only lost to the Anchors, a 52-23 defeat, and on Wednesday, November 20, the UC CC team comprised the longest winning streak in the history of Ursinus: 22 straight victories.

That means that Earsby, the University's head coach, has a team capable of winning any match, even if they do not win all the time. But, nonetheless, that team has been a threat to every team they have faced. And baby, that's what we want to be called. The team has reached the UC CC team and Coach Gruzyk will not rest, as he has told them more than once, "This is the team that we have been working for all season." But remember, UC has only one game left to play.

The championship games, the last two games will be played Tuesday, November 19 through Thursday, November 21 between the victors of both divisions, Electric Flowers and Sig Rho. Below are the game schedules:

Dorm Division

- Team
  - W
  - L
  - R
  - J's

- Elec. Flowers
  - 9
  - 0

- Bruback
  - 0

- J's
  - 2

- APES
  - 5

- Sig Rho
  - 3

- Beta Sig
  - 4

- ZX
  - 0

- AFO
  - 8

The University men humbled the opposition in the season with a record of 6-2 compared to 6. Sig Rho entered their last game position only 18, while compiling the Division opponents by wracking up 4-2, resulting in the Electric Collegeville to make a shambles of the opposition. 'Charisma' won.

The next Saturday the "Jets" only lost to the Anchors, a 52-23 defeat, and on Wednesday, November 20, the UC CC team comprised the longest winning streak in the history of Ursinus: 22 straight victories.

That means that Earsby, the University's head coach, has a team capable of winning any match, even if they do not win all the time. But, nonetheless, that team has been a threat to every team they have faced. And baby, that's what we want to be called. The team has reached the UC CC team and Coach Gruzyk will not rest, as he has told them more than once, "This is the team that we have been working for all season." But remember, UC has only one game left to play.

The championship games, the last two games will be played Tuesday, November 19 through Thursday, November 21 between the victors of both divisions, Electric Flowers and Sig Rho. Below are the game schedules:

Dorm Division

- Team
  - W
  - L
  - R
  - J's

- Elec. Flowers
  - 9
  - 0

- Bruback
  - 0

- J's
  - 2

- APES
  - 5

- Sig Rho
  - 3

- Beta Sig
  - 4

- ZX
  - 0

- AFO
  - 8
THE URNSUS WEEKLY

EXCHANGE COLUMN—The Student Rebel

Although the student rebel may be conspicuously absent from the school news, the article “On Misunderstanding Student Rebels” in the November issue of the Atlantic Monthly is particularly illuminating. Rebel movements, the author notes, can be a valuable force for change. Indeed, revolt is an accepted part of political life. It is a theme that is frequently developed in theATLANTIC MONTHLY.

---

STARLIGHTS

(Continued from Page 3, Col. 1) this article, the Minnesota perspective on the air and the nature of the air was remedied by a robust discussion of the question of the air we breathe. The author was a member of the Minnesota Starlight Committee, in the state's effort to initiate action toward improved air quality.

---

SPARC FRAMES

(Continued from Page 3, Col. 1) this is a metaphor for the discussion of the air and the nature of the air and the metaphor was set off by a robust discussion of the question of the nature of the air and the nature of the air. The author was a member of the Minnesota Starlight Committee, in the state's effort to initiate action toward improved air quality.

---

SALON SUITE

(Continued from Page 3, Col. 1) this is a metaphor for the discussion of the air and the nature of the air and the metaphor was set off by a robust discussion of the question of the nature of the air and the nature of the air. The author was a member of the Minnesota Starlight Committee, in the state's effort to initiate action toward improved air quality.

---

POLITICAL COMMENTARY

(Continued from Page 3, Col. 4) election are dependent on which of the candidates is the most compelling. In the opinion of the author, Nixon was the most compelling and the election is thrown into the balance.

---

THE URNSUS WEEKLY

GREEK GLEANINGS

Delta Mu Sigma

The year has gotten underway and the boys are starting to display their versatility. Max tried out for the soccer team and the boys are starting to dis-...