Frat Pledges Taken For Spring Semester

On February 24 each fraternity received its respective pledges and plans have been made for pledging programs that will best familiarize the pledges with the fraternity and prepare them for membership.

No fraternity was especially happy, all were grieved, none got all of the roses that they gave bids to.

The pledges received by the Alpha Delta Phi consist of Bruce Cameron, Bob Hodden, Mike Streel and John Duffy. The pledges received by the Delta Phi Epsilon consist of Andy Kabcenel, Bob Reid, Skip Wolley, and Andy Cox.

The pledges of the Phi Sigma Kappa consisted of Ronald Bash and Bill Barker.

Delta Nu — Alvan Beek, Bob Koss, Gary Keys, Glenn Haberhush, and Bill Ashley.

Zeta Chi — Jeff Carpenter, John Truman, Felix Noreg, Jim Wilcox, Vince Scannella, Pete Shumar, and Skip Delow.

As is the policy with most of the fraternities, first semester pledges will join those mentioned above in going through the official pledging program.

Pledgers have by now been educated to have the responsibility of drawing a pledge into their group, with the stress placed most beneficial to those involved.

The Alpha Phi Epsilon pledge class was most interested in the little bit of the ridiculous to the serious, which, in this instance, was most important. In any case each pledge will experience something during the affiliation that he will associate with his fraternity membership for years to come.

Gabel Crowned Lorelei King

Friday evening, March 1, John Gabel, the handsomest man on the Ursinus campus, was crowned King of the Lorelei. John won out in a stiff competition against three other personalizable Ursinus males, including the everefficient Bill Martin, the cool, silent Frank Lynn, and the indescribable Herb Smith.

The Lorelei was, as usual, held at Sunnybrook with its usual up-to-date band. Washouts and mistakes were played most of the evening, although a cosmopolitan atmosphere was created toward the end when the Mexican Hat Dance, Pelota, and the Charleston were played.

About 300 people attended this annual turn-about event. Students escaped the morning campus atmosphere on the following sidelines of the decorations, which were centered around the theme "Red Sand in the Sunset." Joyce Small, a junior, organized the decoration committee for the dance. The focal point was a sailboat in the middle of the gym, which the late Mrs. Smith would have approved.

Dr. Phillips and the officers of the Meistersingers are preparing for their annual tour.

Whitnins Honor Eight Women During Lorelei, Friday Night

The Whitnins recently announced the selection of eight new members. Membership in the Whitin Society is based on leadership, service, and scholastic achievement. Any junior girl or any senior girl who has given both leadership and service to Ursinus is eligible if she has had an average of 85 for four out of five of the high school years; if she has been active in at least two campus activities per semester; and if her leadership qualities are equal to her academic qualities. A recent constitutional change by the Whitin Society removes the limit on the number of girls who can be awarded membership.

This honorary society was established in 1939 in honor of Elizabeth R. White, a professor here at Ursinus College. The Whitin Society sponsors a tea each semester in honor of those women students who have been Whitins. The tea for the spring semester was that of Linda Fyle, a senior. Linda spent her junior year studying in Madrid. Her activities have been in the area of musical organizations and the language department.

Society member is a junior French major from Havertown, Pa. She is Vice President of the "Y" and has been active in sports and the C.C.G. C.C.

An English major from Shamokin, Pa., Barbara Ringers has been active in the Messiah, the English Club, and the "Y." Linda Harsh is a Physical Education major from Point Pleasant, Pa. She has been active in sports, the W.A.A., and the Freshman Spirit Committee.

Nancy Holland is a French major who comes from Conshohocken, Pa. She has been active in sports and in the language department.

Barbara Lewis lives in Homesdale, Pa. She is a Spanish major and has been active in the Spanish Club and the Bible Fellowship.

Samantha Stigler, a Political Science major from Springfield, Del., has been active in the Mountaineer Club and Young Democrats.

Susan Neff is a Math major from Phoenix, Pa. Her activities have been in the Math Club and in P.S.E.A.

Ursinus Y Presented The Voyage of the Phoenix

The week before his death in the Vietnam war, Dr. Howard presented the film "The Voyage of the Phoenix" as his senior research assistant last year. The film began in Hiroshima Fleet in the Gulf of Tonkin. They passed through without incident, the group left Coatesville, a senior.

The film turned at the Gulf of Tonkin to North Vietnam. They were picked up. The next day they were given permission to visit and photograph a list of points entirely of their own choice. The results in the film include several shots of USS jets bombing North Vietnam, of burning huts, and of injured civilians.

After the film John Braxton described the second voyage of the Phoenix and answered questions from the audience.

Wilson Foundation Confers Honors on Senior Woman

Miss Charlotte Ann Frost, a senior physics major, is among 90 college seniors throughout the United States and Canada who received "honorable mention" recognition in this year's awards from the Wilson Foundation of the National Fellowship Foundation.

Miss Frost is a graduate of the Beverly, Massachusetts, High School. Charlotte enrolled at Ursinus College in the fall of 1964. In the fall of 1966 she went to Wellesley College for the first semester, then turned to Ursinus to continue her college work.

She has been on the Dean's Honor or List five semesters at Ursinus, and in her freshman year received the Whitin Prize for highest scholastic standing among women in the class. Miss Frost is a member of the Brownback-Anders Pre-medical Society, and of the Whitnins Honor Society for women students.

For the latter election a list of points entirely of her own choice. The results in the film include several shots of USS jets bombing North Vietnam, of burning huts, and of injured civilians.

After the film John Braxton described the second voyage of the Phoenix and answered questions from the audience.

67 Grad Dies; Smith Mourned

For the second time this year the campus was hushed by the tragic death of an Ursinus student. Dennis L. Smith, who graduated last year, died of complications following an appendectomy on Monday February 19 in Montgomery Hospital, Norristown.

Smith was a native of Hamburg, Pa. He taught eighth grade science since September at Pottsgrove High School. The week before his death he held the male lead in Barefoot in the Park.

At Ursinus, Smith was academically a good student. According to Dr. Howard, "Dennis was an integral part of the biology department—student, worker, and friend." He was a lab assistant for two years and one of four of Dr. Howard's research assistants last year. He graduated with a bachelor of science degree.

Smith remained in the Collegville area after graduation. He lived at Shady Neck, First Avenue, Collegville, with his wife, Mary Hunter Smith.

In the last issue, the Weekly called attention to the pseudo-"firing" (Let us not quibble over a trivial semantic technicality) of Mr. Gary Waldo.

This past week we were appalled to hear of a second absurd "non-renewal of contract." The instructor concerned is Mr. Wesley Clymer, a member of the English department. Mr. Clymer is a man of rare brilliance and a teacher of unimpeachable ability. The literature of this world means something to him; and more often than not, this concern is transferred to his students. Mr. Clymer has played a major role in elevating Freshmen composition from the almost high school level he found it taught. He has never been afraid of asking a lot from his students, and they have, among themselves, accepted this responsibility with redoubled efforts. Similar to Mr. Waldo, those who study at Ursinus hold Mr. Clymer in high esteem.

Why has it been decided that these truly fine men must leave this college? Though we have an aversion to crystal-ball gazing, we can only conclude that somehow in the higher echelons of the Faculty and Administration these men have fallen from favor. The Administration has maintained its customary and excruciating silence on this matter; however, the Weekly has learned from a reliable source that the "official" rationale behind Mr. Clymer's and Mr. Waldo's departures is the search for "new blood."

Really . . .

If Ursinus seeks new blood in the Faculty, this Editor would be more than happy to suggest a few dead branches that are in need of transfiguration. But not Mr. Clymer or Mr. Waldo! The Weekly hopes Ursinus has not overlooked the prime requisite of a teacher — he must be able to teach. Both of these young men clearly fill this sacred requirement.

The students of Ursinus have reacted to this depressing situation in a manner that dispels the notion that apathy rules this campus. Yesterday five students, Pam Green, Sue Royak, Rich DiEugneco, Dave Kaplan, and Gary Berman helped Mr. Helferich a petition — a petition signed by over 800 U. C. students. The petition requests a formal explanation from the Administration. The concept only natural for someone to get an idea of the quality of an education and the future of the college? Surely are not provoked—they remain composed within a mound of gray matter that can only be impressed by diversion.

Perhaps I should entertain you with a case in point, or rather, two cases. The first is the plight of the Negroes here at Ursinus. There are seven Negroes now attending the college; none of these are males. There are 52 Negro girls here, because it is not only wholly inconsistent with cases. The one case is the plight in this process of aiding the Negroes here. Whether you know it or not, the administration is trying to solve the problem. No. 2. The administration may be trying to get Negroes to attend Ursinus, it can try a just a bit harder.

Whether you know it or not, the lack of having more Negroes here is one of responsibility. You are harming yourself more than you may think and you must understand that it is a "hurting" thing.

"It's A Hurting' Thing"

To those of you who have not realized it to be now, Ursinus College is a small liberal arts institution, located 25 miles northwest of the thriving metropolis of Philadelphia, and Ursinus has an aversion to crystal-ball gazing. The 1968 students and 7 Negroes and 2 Jewish girls. The purpose of this institution is to provide an intellectual and stimulating atmosphere to the student while supplying him with a diverse set of ideas and a liberal education. But in reality this is the Ursinus administration, the students of Ursinus hold Mr. Clymer in high esteem.

The college needs more Negroes and better Negroes, and that many of the students come here as freshmen, never having talked to or even seen a Negro before and those students, now in that situation, will suffer if they know nothing of their fellow man. Most of the other colleges in this area have at least one Negro, but it is only to be a musty up seven, which are most often seen and heard, except for yours truly.

I would wish that it would be natural for someone to get some Negro girls here, because if I can remember correctly, the plan- for these Negro girls, but to this point, no effort has been made to try for Negroes for their men Negroes. But in all fairness, I must say that it isn't easy as it sounds, because it takes a talk with a rather fair and honest person, the administration is trying to solve the problem. Another way that we could look at this is that if the Negroes here had been more responsible, the administration would not have to" hurting heaven." The administration is trying to solve the problem. No. 2. The administration may be trying to get Negroes to attend Ursinus, it can try just a bit harder.

Bears Beat Drexel Dragons: Close to Mules in MAC Final

The MAC playoffs at Allentown last Friday night began in a truly dramatic fashion. Drexel, the only team that had beaten all of the other contenders was in third place and Johns Hopkins, the first-place MAC finisher in the south, was the only team really counted out of the running.

For the UC Bears, successive losses to Colby, Muhlenberg, Drexel, and Pharmacy did not drown their pennant hopes. Two point losers at Baltimore and at home to Drexel, 57-55, seemed to dispose all hopes of a playoff spot. The 121-72 thumping received at Allentown put off a threat to confirm these beliefs. But the other top teams could not find the winning combination. The second place team that had beaten all of the others, Muhlenberg, which has not lost at home this year, was toppled by Delaware Valley at Doylestown and Drexel suffered from Scranton.

The Southern division race had the Hopkins team that had beaten all of the others in third place after last Friday night began in a truly traumatic manner. After a loss to Hamilton, and another to the Bears, the conference and playoff leaders were in third place.

Highman Hailed For Street Feast

Collegville salutes today a significant achievement bolded by one of its important citizens, Dr. Alvin Highman III, of 20 Bent Barrel Boulevard, Collegville. Pennsylvania, across the street in front of his home, totally unaided and unsolicited, on the after­noon of February 25th, 1968, at 4:23 p.m.

The proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Highman III, welcomed their two-year-old sister Barbara Anne.

The dapper young lad was attired in an outfit designed by Pan­aro's of Collegville, Pennsylvania. He wore knee-length charcoal tux­eders and a vermilion sweater. Orange Fruit-of-the-Loon socks completed the outfit. Bis hand-knit lavender cap was made for him by his grandmother, Mrs. Buss­ard, and his five-and-a-quarter-year-old sister Bar­bara Anne.

The baby was lifted to an op­posite side of the street. Upon reaching the gutter, the heroic youngster was embraced by his young­-burned mother and his five-and-a-quarter-year-old sister Bar­bara Anne.

Chapel Plans Released In Pa. Grotesque Style

Plans for a new chapel and class­room building were released this week, with construction due to be­gin in 1969. The architect's sketch­es show a modern building full of innovations which are sure to bring it recognition as one of the most important college buildings erected in the present decade.

In line with the Ursinus spirit, the building will combine the old with the new, the familiar Pennsylva­nia Gothic with the older Romanesque, the new style being called Pennsylvania Grotesque.

Twin towers will rise above the Baroque facade, and will contain respectively an observatory and a ther­mometer, there will be an optional chapel, complete with stained glass windows depicting memorable scenes in Ursinus history. Some of the events included will be Mrs. Helfferich crowning John Gable as King of the Lorrice, Dr. Parsons giving a multiple choice final exam in American History, the food in dining hall while the Evaluators were here, and the Board of Direc­tors meeting at the Boarder Institute of Dependent.

The suit says Armand Angelucci, a 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Franco Angelucci Below its campaign of destruc­tion, the slim-encrusted creature apparently was happily living in the Perkomen Creek. Officer Mc­Clure, SS leader for the Colleg­Sales and Howards will be reflec­ted, “Just sure enough as cases of missing radio­ists.” It is not known at this time why the monster left the bubbling waters, however the editor of the college newspaper has advanced an intriguing theory.

“We don’t know that students throw Focus magazines into the Perk. It’s become an Ursinus pastime. Or course, the Perk is pretty darn polluted as it is; with Focus in there it’s no wonder the beast is there.”

Monster Named

As the monster advanced towards the campus, a most singular act of self-appointed task of wrecking the ultra-modern facilities occurred. First to go was Wimber Hall, yielding to the Collegeville police. The vast stables of what has been euphemistically labeled food disappeared down the beast’s gutter. Stagger­ing somewhat, “Godzilla” crashed across the south parking lot and set upon a freshman physical education class. Dean, Football Coach, In­structor Richard Waz saved about 150 students from the conflagration.

Because of the impressive beauty of the new building, required chapel attendance will be expanded to include Minis, Eves, and Vespers. This move has met with the full approval of the student body. Further­more, there will be an optional prayer meeting on Thursday evenings, and every night after dinner the Ursinus Christian Fellowship will lead a hymn-sing.

Police Chief Sued In Brutal Beating

A Norristown youth and his father are seeking damages in ex­cess of $25,000 in a civil suit filed against the Borough of Colleg­ville and its police chief, Richard Mc­Clure.

The suit says Armand Angelucci, a 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Franco Angelucci of Norristown.

Atty. Anthony J. Giangulio, Norristown lawyer, filed the suit for Angelucci and his father Dominic Angelucci.

The teenager received a broken nose and other injuries which re­quired hospital care and which pre­vented him from performing his su­als affairs and business, the suit says.

Mr. Marsteller Shakes Nation
With Prediction of Catastrophe

Twenty-Six Years Of Heroic Work
Finally Rewarded

At a news conference this afternoon, in the basement of Fisher Hall, Professor of Physics W. Woodrow Marsteller revealed the findings of his interplanetary and cosmic research project which began 26 years ago.

Nattily attired in a charcoal-gray business suit with a poinsettia in his lapel, Mr. Marsteller told men that he had finally discovered and gained an explanation of a mysterious cosmic phenomenon which he began probing in the spring of 1941. The professor mentioned, "The results of my work will prove to be highly important to the general security and welfare of all the nations of the world.

I have observed an impeding cosmic phenomenon which may develop to catastrophic proportions here on earth, as well as all through the universe."

Professor Marsteller conducted his significant research project in the observatory high atop Fisher Hall. He worked unannounced until 1965, at which time he discovered that one of his astronomy students, Chuck Burton, would make a su-perf probe. Mr. Burton is presently on a hand-shaking tour of the United Nations.

Yesterday evening at precisely 8:39 P.M., Professor Marsteller, one eye on the lens of his telescope, the other on a nearby 21-place natnal logarithm table, shouted "Eureka, Eureka!" When Mrs.
Marsteller did not answer his call,
the professor immediately telephoned the NASA Space Center in Houston. After being alerted of Mr. Marsteller's findings, officials at the Pentagon scheduled a special top-secret meeting for this evening. At this meeting, Mr.
Marsteller will present a 384-page report on his work (consisting of calculations, diagrams, graphs, tables, and doodlings), which he has painstakingly compiled over the years.

When asked to provide a technical evaluation of his findings, the mild-mannered physics professor told the gentlemen of the news media, "I have basically confirmed an ancient astronomical thory, known to the Romans
as "Ruins of Heliopolis."

"By evaluating the negative cosine moment of inertia of the planet Earth, I was able to calculate the thoretical value for the simple harmonic vibratory motion of the various experimental temperature gradients which persist themselves in problems of this sort. The resulting indefinite integral could be solved by utilizing the basic physics identity: cos a x sin x tan x sec x

+ cot x sec x csc x = p v - n + h + c + l. At this point, the problem

Sex Expert Shocked By Profligate Ursini

— B. C. —

Smiling benignly over her spectacles, Miss Helen Mall talked to us from her rocking chair in the library. "Yes," she answered our query, "birth controldevices will be offered free of charge to any student requesting them. We are displaying a variety of these devices in the lobby show case in the library. We will try to fill every need. Diaphragms will be fitted every Friday afternoon from 3:00 to 4:00 P.M. and the Friday before J.F. weekends from 9:00 A.M. to 11:00 P.M. A Condo-Mat will be installed in each men's dormitory. The ever-popular pill (which takes the worry out of sex) will be pleasing packages, color coordinated to match your eyes, hair, or mood.

"Each student, however, is responsible for the proper use of these aids. He is advised to recall the wisdom of Benjamin Franklin: "A stitch in time saves nine.""

— Liberal Arts —

Gael Greene, author of the controversial Sex at the College Girl, on a recent visit to the Ursinus campus, gave her opinion about the sweet life at UC. Relaxing in a chair in Unwed Parents' Loungie, Miss Greene gazed over the soft, greenswarded campus as she spoke. "Ursinus," she said reflectively, "has certainly come as a shock. After all, I have been to Asticia, Bennington, and Vassar. But in all my experience, I have never seen such prodigal behavior as on this deceptively sleepy campus. Need anyone ask why it is so sleepy? Even the symbols flanking the doors of the girls' dorms proclaim the unashamed fragility. The school authorities adjudge the women to be have as "Ursinus ladies" and prod the school as being one where "boys act like boys and girls act like girls." I have never before heard of official sanction.

"I noticed the new note behind your science building; very accommodating. So nice to have it right on campus since many of your students don't have cars."

We asked Miss Greene, author of the upcoming Sex and the Nursery School Girl, if she had any advice for the Ursinus male. "Yes," she said, looking us straight in the eye, "still try, for who knows what is possible."

— Cleanliness Next To —

An investigation has recently been concluded concerning the rumor that a 23 year old cleaning lady has been working in the men's dormitory. Charges that the cleaning lady did not fulfill the necessary requirements of previous custodial experience have been dropped. The supervisor of the maintenance and custodial personnel recruited office of the college, who chose to remain anonymous, commented, "The young lady was working free-lance, and not on the payroll of the college. In such a situation, we have no jurisdiction."

The cleaning lady in question was hired by the boys themselves. According to the young lady, a recent graduate of this institution, she was engaged in graduate work in human relations in addition to her custodial duties.

Dean Petit remarked, "The college has no way of reprimanding her. I feel that especially since she was doing field-work closely connected with her graduate studies, no action should be taken against her. Never let it be said that I stand in the way of a liberal education. However, all of the boys involved have been cautioned to be more circumspect in the future."

Dining Hall Scene; Chivalry Prevails

As President Helfferich once said, "It is our responsibility to teach the good life." One example of such lessons may be seen above, in the picture of Ursinus students dining in to dine at lovely Wimser Hall. The scene is full of old-world chivalry. Notice the pageant stimulated by the rule that all students must wear their finest clothes. Courtey manners are abetted by the oversize entrance halls, which insure that no students need stand outside in the cold while awaiting a meal. Weekly calculations indicate that about one square foot of space has been provided for each student in these entrance foyers, a figure comparable to the Oriental grace of the Tokyo subway at rush hour.

So you'll be 1-A. You're still A-1 with Armstrong.

Let's be realistic—you may be serving in the military later on. But why just mark time until something happens? Facing the draft is no reason to be unemployed. 65% of the college graduates who joined us last year were eligible for military service. You can begin your career with Armstrong now. Then, after you fulfill your military obligation, you pick up right where you left off. Why this consideration? Because at Armstrong we need capable, imaginative college graduates who are looking for a place where they can grow and contribute. We're building for the future with each person we employ. The recent shocking discoveries of human skeletons in the vicinity of Wismer Dining Hall have caused a furor. An in-depth investigation is being undertaken into the composition of Ursinus’s “Mystery Meat.” The worst is feared.

Frankfurter waste no time in establishing rapport with the latest crop of neighbors. There is a turnover of practically one hundred per cent every year for two reasons. First, it is a long walk, especially in the middle of winter, to classes every day and, second, it just isn’t respectable for a girl to want to live next to Frankfurter two years in a row. The real prudes move before the end of the year if they get the chance, but those whose super-egos are slighted defective probably miss that first year when they later find themselves ensconced in Cow Palace.

The girls to be sure have an interesting time but imagine the sight of an innocent freshman boy who arrives at school and soon realizes that he is living his first year at college in the midst of a clashing, brawling, shouting, fun-loving, hard-playing, and exclusive club. It is at once an opportunity and a disadvantage but most find it exhilarating kind of atmosphere to be actively sought.

Ironically enough, it is rumored that faculty apartments are what is in store for this girl. The more thought of such an ignominious fate is sacrilegious to Frankfurters, but one must pity those faculty lip Van Winkle who will have to endure the hurrings of History Romanic revolting and console the girls of 942 and 944 whose lives will be made desolate upon the passing of that rare breed from the sylvan estate next door. (No one at their windows in the middle of the night!) The tradition and lore of Frankfurter could fill a good sized volume with tales of the exploits of past rake-tail who stalked those grounds.

The tale is by no means completely told but also, the end approaches and the day will soon come when Frankfurter will cease to be a living symbol of a bacchanal cult. Mrs. Ernold R.P.

Did J. D. Salinger Coll This Home?

Dear Editor,

After one-half, and a whole semester at Ursinus College I am completely convinced that there is no campus other than Ursinus which has it all. I am appalled at the elementary level of the compositions composed, this year. Having been a great writer at Agnes Scott (the school that beat Princeton at College Bowl), I am totally disillusioned. I have not consciously been able to give a higher grade than D+ all year and that was with five pitty points. Is this really the home of J. D. Salinger, or the Isle of the South? Helen "God" Johnson

The Fall Of The House Of Frankfurter
Soon, perhaps later this year, Frankfurter waste no time in establishing rapport with the latest crop of neighbors. There is a turnover of practically one hundred per cent every year for two reasons. The sixth meeting of the Student, Faculty, Administration Relations Committee (SFARC) was called to order on Wednesday, February 14, 1966.

Bill Burrell reported that during finals, the demand on the part of the students for the use of the library, past 10:00, did not justify the SFARC in making any recommendation for a permanent library extension. Essentially very few students took advantage of this extension. It was asked, however, if the lack of proper publicity on the part of the committee might have had something to do with the limited use. This possibility was considered, and it was decided to ask for another extension during the second semester exam period.

SFARC has long debated the extent to which it should involve itself in the problems of curriculum improvements and evaluation. It has been decided that the committee itself can take no direct action, but it should take measures to evaluate the functions of the other agencies on campus involved with these problems. It was also decided that any true curriculum evaluation must initiate with the student body. In this regard the following recommendation has been made to the Ursinus Student Government Association (USGA): “SFARC recommends that the USGA establish an annual course evaluation guide which would include an appraisal of course content, presentation, examination procedures, etc., with the aim of informing students as to the strengths and weaknesses of respective courses and suggesting improvements to the faculty.” All members of the SFARC present at the meeting agreed to this recommendation.

The members of the Faculty Assembly Committee will be invited to the next SFARC meeting, in hopes of working up together some feasible recommendations for the revision of Monday and Tuesday Assembly.

It was reported that the Board of Directors recent statement on academic freedom and guest speaker policies has yet to be received by the faculty. A delegation of SFARC members will arrange a meeting with Dr. Hellocker to discuss the content of this statement.

Dr. Fletcher will be invited to the March meeting of the SFARC to discuss the need of additional guidance personnel at Ursinus.

Two meetings of the SFARC will be scheduled for March; a short meeting on Wednesday, March 6, to discuss the Assembly situation, and a regular meeting on March 13. With no further reports or discussion the committee adjourned.

Univac: for people who want to make it better

Here at Univac, we’ve spent the better part of 20 years working to make the world a little better place to live.

For example, Univac computers help to direct traffic, watch bank accounts, run steel mills, build bridges, keep track of airline flights.

But the important problems are the problems that aren’t anywhere near solution, yet... overcrowded cities, dwindling natural resources, food shortages.

These are the problems we’re working on today and this is where you come in.

Univac needs electrical and mechanical engineers, chemists, physicists, mathematicians; men and women with a scientific education but a humanitarian leaning, to help build the computers that will make tomorrow’s world the kind of world it should be.

Get more information on Univac by visiting your college or university placement office. Univac will be on campus soon.

Snowball Thrower Declared Innocent By Judiciary Board

On February 28, a male student was brought to trial before the Judiciary Board, having broken law V of the Property Regulations of the Student Government. The law states that “Indiscriminate throwing of snowballs near College buildings or sidewalks shall be prohibited.” Naturally the secrecy which surrounds such trials causes rumor to run rampant, and an underground movement was begun to legalize the use of snowballs. The leader of the movement, who does not wish to be identified, stated “snowballs are less deadly than stones, and so aren’t prohibited. Those of us who wish to throw snowballs shouldn’t be discriminated against by those who prefer to throw stones. Everyone should be allowed to do his own thing.”

This protest was, however, unnecessary. The student accused pleaded “not guilty,” and submitted the following evidence. On February 10, he was not near a College building at the time of the incident, having been standing behind a tree while the lawn in front of the library. This caused debate over how close was “near,” and the board adjourned to inspect the scene of the crime. Dr. Ritter suggested that an operational definition of “near” be accepted, and proposed that it be defined as the distance at which it was possible to throw a snowball with average impact and break a window in the nearest building. Since there was no snow on the ground a trial was made with crushed ice, and it was decided that a snowball thrown from the scene of the crime would not break a window.

This would have been enough to acquit the student, however, he wished to present further evidence pertaining to the discriminatory phrase in the rule. He explained that the snowball had a hard core, having been frozen earlier this winter. The student had spent 45 minutes in the nippy 45° weather, waiting for his target, keeping the snowball frozen by inserting it in an ice chest packed with cold beer.

And finally, his victim would not strike on Monday, having been hospitalized for a deep cut on the forehead, proving that not only had the snowball been highly discriminant, but also effective.
Ursus Retired
To Honor Whatley

The Ursus Bear is no more. In honor of the unique and inimitable record compiled by Richard J. Whatley while head football coach here at Ursinus, the faculty voted unanimously to retire Ursus as school mascot.

The faculty had difficulty, however, in deciding on a mascot replacement. The followers of the bear, in agreement with the Weekly reporter Quinby Rae, who, ensconced in the Weiser auditorium above, had a ring-side seat of the bizarre proceedings:

"Well, at least we didn't lose my "Clippard!"

Whatley Named Head of Fitness

In a totally unexpected move, President Johnson today named Richard J. Whatley as the new director of the President's Council on Physical Fitness, replacing the recently resigned Stanley Morton.

Whatley, who had been in Washington, attended a national football convention, immediately called a special conference in a downtown hotel.

A disconcerting confidence, he was surprised that Henry was late, was heard to exclaim, "I propose the nomination of Mr. Whatley."�

Mr. Whatley was selected by a close vote from the rear of the audience.

Nominations were open on April 25: Former Dean Whatley takes the helm of the college. Their nominee: Physical Fitness, replacing the recently resigned Stanley Morton. Mr. Whatley was heard to exclaim, "I propose the nomination of Mr. Whatley."�
