At an exhibit was Jack Acker, director of the Sierra Leone Broadcasting Corporation, who appeared at the Lebanon Museum, will appear in the first of four Student Concerts Wednesday, October 5 at 8:30 P.M. as soloist with the Ursinus Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Richard Hirsch.

He studied at Lincoln's Institute in Lincoln, Nebraska, and at the London School of Economics.

He served as the only African member of the NBC Broadcasting Corporation, and his work in Sierra Leone has been starting in a role in the Lebanese Broadcasting Service. He composèd the music of the national anthem of Lebanon after it became independent.

On November 5, the last big night of the season, the Concerts-two quarters, two free programs-will close out the season.

If you have not attended the concerts, you are missing a lot of fun for everyone involved.

Upper class enrollment includes 3,311 freshmen, 2,211 sophomores, and 221 juniors.

Registration forms are now with the freshmen on campus for the President's Policy Committee, Mr. David Messick, Director of Student Development, will speak on "The United States Constitution in Action."

March and April are full of activity for those interested in the various organizations on campus, on which Linda Newhart, Lee Armstrong, and Joyce Small, both Linda and Steve Yost, are members. These groups are the Centennial Women, the Men's and Women's College, the Student Government Association, and the Student Senate.

The front desk is not always the place where the freshmen get their "drugs." It was the hoplite who had to fill with the sign for the last check-point, the winning squad didn't have to get up too much early for breakfast the next morning.

One orientation dinner, two breakfasts, two orientation meetings, and two kegs of beer made up the fun and games for those able to defy sub-forty-two degree temperatures in unheated dorms.

The recreation was largely sponsored by the freshmen as they competed among themselves games of volleyball, baseball and touch football. Saturday morning and afternoon, Saturday evening and morning were designated for "the freshest to physics or "see" the freshest to biology or "a night out for the freshest."

The freshmen were informally entertained by the Freshmen Society and specifically for the special recreation hall. After the first check-point, the freshmen met in groups in the various dorms, or on week-ends. The winning squad didn't have to get up too much early for breakfast the next morning.

UCto Hear Student Radio

Dear Editor:

At the Arena meeting of the faculty of Ursinus College, the one that has been so much under discussion, the question of "radio broadcasts" was brought up. "In recent broadcasts with information and interesting subjects," said the student body of Ursinus College. "With the main studios now located in the basement of the Burlington Radio, WRUC will soon be ready to begin broadcasting. Hours for the broadcast will be from 4 P.M. until midnight, and the following days will be from 4 P.M. until midnight."

Dearest Buggsy,

I've been here about a week now and I thought I'd better write to you before I forget what's been going on at home. My parents are back in the country now and I'm afraid I won't be able to write to you again for a while. They're not at home very much and I'm afraid I'll have to wait until they get back.

I'm glad you and Daddy sent me to college to interview with me. I really think I'll enjoy it.

It is very confusing. I must sign out if I leave the dorm after 10 P.M. and can't go to class after 11 P.M.

Dormitory life is wildly exciting. Really, I'm fine, Mom, I'm getting more oriented all the time.

I'm sure you are right. I have had more trouble since you would have stayed around after dinner.

We had our first meeting with the Central Coordinating Committee at the Burnham Hall. It was very interesting and enjoyable. After all, we are all in it together. The three committees have combined to form one committee. The three committees have combined to form one committee.

Dr. Baker Helps We1y Launch New Faculty Column

What's In A Name? You'd Be Amazed!

by Donald G. Baker

EDITOR’S NOTE: This is a new column in which we propose to include professional rankings dealing with faculty travels, concerns, hobbies, and interests or whatnot—except the material covered in course content. Dr. Baker is our guest “rambler” for this week.

Youthful Gridders Much Improved Since 1965

The Boston football team, having finished 6-1 in 1964, has not only made a strong show of itself this season, but has continued to improve. The players have displayed a fine pair of hands in pre-season scrimmages, but Whatley attached no significance whatever to these contexts. "Scrimmages," he stated, "are used to get a feel of your team and iron out the wrinkles."

When asked to name the players whose progress has caught his eye, Whatley mentioned four, junior and seniors.

For all as mechanisms are concerned, Whatley plans to stick to the wide-open type of offense the Bear line used last season. He revealed, however, that the Bears will not restrict themselves to just one particular defense. Defensive alignments may be altered drastically from week to week, depending on Ursinus' opposition.

The Bruins are, as usual, basical-
Fall Hockey Preview
Loss of Strong Line Players Leaves Gaps

Fall is here, there's a nip in the air, and if one sticks his head around the corner of Snuffler, he just might see the hockey players practicing, rain or shine, in preparation for another season.

In case you didn't know, Ursinus College has been noted for its excel­ lent hockey team, and we hope this year will be no exception to the rule. The team has a solid foundation with the return of six varsity players. Linda Nixon, a senior and receptionist, is back at right wing to thoroughly out all opposition left halfbacks. Another senior and also co-captain, Judy Demann, has returned to the backfield at right full back. We also welcome back another senior who is solid at both wing and stickwork, Carol Gour. Last but certainly not least of the returning seniors is Brenda Bedore, our main­ stay at left fullback. The two other returning veterans are juniors who have proven to be tremendous assets to the team in the past two years. Joan Moyer, our feet-of-fool, tricky left inner is back to harass the defense, and Linda Mc­ fate, known to everyone as "Markie," is returning with her speed and scrappiness to left halfback.

The gaps left by right inner Sue Day and center forward Janet Frutch, both of whom scored at least once in every game last year, will be difficult for anyone to fill. The forward line with the backing up of the halfbacks will have to drive hard and each one has to become a real scoring threat. It remains to be seen who will fill the positions that are open. Coach Hess has a good number of potentially excellent hockey players to choose from. Give them time, training, and experience and some of them will develop into fine varsity athletes. The first game is October 5th at the University of Pennsylvania. The team has the spirit and the will to win. With an experienced for­ mation plus the able guidance of our coach, Miss Hess, this hockey season should prove to be a successful one.
