How Does a “Mr.” Become a “Dr.”?

Reporter Traces Progress of Professor To Demonstrate Long, Arduous Route

Requirements included twenty-four semester hours of academic study, an exam and a thesis. Dr. Heilemann was supported in this endeavor by fellowship, which is actually a post graduate scholarship plus—plus spending money and other extras.

Dr. Heilemann’s study did not stop here. The next step: a Ph.D. in Physics. This place was Penn, same place he got his B.A. and M.A. The requirements for his Ph.D. included twenty-four more semester hours of study, an exam, and a thesis. The thesis for a Doctorate is, however, quite different. This must be an entirely original work, and it is published.

The year was 1938, and John Heilemann got his Ph.D. in Physics.

Was Whole Department

He came to Ursinus in 1941 when there was a vacancy in the Physics Department. Actually for a number of years Dr. Heilemann was the Physics Department. Things have changed at U.C. since 1941, but Dr. Heilemann is still here. He feels that a doctorate is long and varied. It takes determination and a love of learning. Dedication would be a byword. Dr. Heilemann’s road was exceptionally long, and equally unusual. Today things are different. The requirements are, however, quite the same. The obtaining of a Bachelor’s Degree is only the beginning.

No Teaching Courses Needed

A point of interest was suggested by Dr. Heilemann concerning teaching. This is that one need not have any so called teaching courses to become a college professor.

The Depression, The World War, and the comparatively small number of college students were things of the past, college students and people and those who hold (Continued on page 8)
Grapplers Pin
Delaware Valley Team

On the basis of Saturday's scrimmage with Delaware Valley College, the Ursinus wrestling team's prospects for the 1965-66 season look bright. Head coach Art "Red" Aggies 33-3 in an informal session that brought a large partisan crowd to see a UC lineup that featured three returning varsity wrestlers.

Saturday's Results

Dave Banta, wrestling first because he had an open "A" spot, got a short-term pin for his efforts against Dave Richardson. Mark Krum, with a hard-fought win over the strong 152-lb. class, was the Red Devil's biggest surprise.

A 147-pounder served notice last year that he was the team's most promising wrestler. He joined the line-up this year and, according to coach Fritz J. Campbell, "we have a long shot at a state title in the 147-pound class."

In the 100-pound class, Mike Pollock, both seem to have improved vastly in the 100th of his varsity career), and Bud Krum and Steve Jankovics, head up a strong corps of back-court men. Jankovics, incidentally, popped in 22 points in a sparkling reserve performance Saturday night, after replacing steady senior Bob Soziali.

Ed Schaal and Bud Eastburn add depth to the Bear backcourt, while Dave Campbell and Bob Bair are competent replacements up front. Freshmen Dave Gillespie and Chuck White round out the squad.

The Williams rounds up the Ursinus attack, Dick Giermann and Mike Pollock, both seem to have improved vastly in the past year. Captain Barry Troster is a more potent scoring threat than ever (27 points against Drew included the 1000th of his varsity career), and Chuck Williams round out the squad.

The team scored 107 points and scored greater heights than any three other double-figure scorers; Steve Jankovics (34 points), Mike Pollock (19), and Dick Giermann (15). The fifth 100-point game against Drew reflects the parterine career by the parterine college, as the game was halted and Barry received the game as a Head coach Barry Gibson places pleased by the wrestling team's performance Saturday night. He was pleased with the team's performance in the first half and throughout the entire second half of the game.

The Ursinus team is looking forward to the 1965-66 season, with high hopes for success.

The Lineup

The lineup starting this past Saturday will probably be the lineup for some years to come against Delaware on January 15. Captain, Tony Motto, the 152-pounder, took over first year at UC wrestling coach. Also, a 40-pound wrestler, to take the spot of his 20-pound man who can take the 152-pound class. In a move of these reserves are pressing for the No. 1 spot as Barry Troster, the year's varus players, resigning from the team.
