Wednesday Forum Provides Enjoyable Evening of Ballet

by Lee Armstrong

The Ballet Chauffer Concert Group, under the direction of George Chauffer, performed at Wednesday's Forum.

The program included a variety of pieces, ranging from modern ballets to works by well-known composers. The audience was captivated by the dancers' skill and grace, and several pieces received enthusiastic applause.

Political Science "Players" Portray Un-American Activities Committee Hearing

Although admission is free, tickets are required to attend the performance. Tickets can be obtained at the Student Center, Room 123, or by contacting the Political Science Department.

The one-act play is titled "The Case Against," and it depicts a hearing before the Un-American Activities Committee. The play focuses on the allegations against a fictional character named "Dr. Hinkle," who is accused of being a Communist sympathizer.

The cast is composed of students from various disciplines, and the production is directed by Professor John Smith. The cast includes major roles such as "Dr. Hinkle," "Senator Potter," and "Attorney General Kincaid." The play is set in the 1950s, and it is a commentary on the Red Scare of that era.

Senior Prom to be "Polynesian Paradise"

Cub and Key, Perm. Class Officers Lord and Lady to be Named

On Friday night, March 18, from nine to one o'clock, the Senior Class invites you and your date to swing and sway in a polynesian paradise. This is the social event of the year at the General Washington Country Club. The dress will be semi-formal Ursinus style — in other words men wear suits and the women wear long or short gowns.

Senior Class President Jack Smith and his fiancée, Jennifer Taylor, are the chairs of the event. The theme is "Polynesian Paradise," and the decorations will reflect the vibrant culture of the Pacific Islands.

Political Science "Players" Portray Un-American Activities Committee Hearing

The Political Science Department is presenting a dramatization of a hearing before the Un-American Activities Committee (UACC) as part of the political science curriculum. The play, "The Un-American Activities Committee," is written by Arthur Miller and is based on real events from the 1950s.

The play centers on the hearings held by the UACC, which were held to investigate alleged Communist sympathizers. The hearings were controversial and led to the Blacklist, where many people were denied employment in the entertainment industry due to their suspected political affiliations.

The cast includes several political science majors and is directed by Professor John Smith. The play is set in the 1950s and is a commentary on the Red Scare of that era.

"No Exit" Proves Cultural Exchange With Beaver

On Monday evening March 7 a group of players from Beaver College presented Jean-Paul Sartre's "No Exit" in the Winter Little Theatre. While a review of the production was quite favorable, a review of the production is much less important.

The production was open to the public and admission was free. The audience was captivated by the dancers' skill and grace, and several pieces received enthusiastic applause.

"Jesus, a clown?" Y's Controversial Art Film Asks

This weekend evening the Y presents the film "A Parable" which was made by the President of the University of Jesus Christ, Light of the World. While a review of the production was quite favorable, a review of the production is much less important.

The production was open to the public and admission was free. The audience was captivated by the dancers' skill and grace, and several pieces received enthusiastic applause.

“Some Students Couldn’t Afford Urns Except for Self-Help Jobs” — Mr. Wentz

One-fourth of Campus Gets Indirect Help From College

by Charles Tyler

Helping students cover tuition costs through self-help jobs has come to be one of the most outstanding policies of the college. 250 students, approximately one-fourth of the campus population here at Ursinus, currently have jobs. These jobs pay at the rate of $6500 annually.

"Many more jobs available," said Frederick Wentz, the business manager, who oversees the self-help jobs, "because it benefits both the student and the college. It helps students to lower their personal expenses and makes it possible for them to help with the college as a whole. It keeps tuition costs down for students. It also means that people helping with the job is easier. There are always more jobs available for them to do besides the one they have. We don’t want to make it difficult for them to work if they don’t want to. Mr. Wentz feels, in addition, that perhaps the college would have a better understanding of people to do the jobs and to see in which the college is locate.

Applying for Spring

Well, just how does a student go about getting a self-help job? A student interested in the spring, for example, may apply for a spring job now or at any other time during the academic year.

The basic requirement, of course, is to be a student. But, as a percentage of that, a percentage of those who have jobs, and a percentage of those who don’t, have quite a few differences.

Librarian Enjoying “Sadistic Fun”

The benefits of work as do a confectioner of knowledge (as a librar y clerk). Mr. Robert Davi k, librarian for the library of the College of the Academy of Music, is the only one who can do the job. He, like many other librarians, enjoys the people who come in the library.

Blame D’Achille For Car Tickets

Atmospheric driver. If you think your car ticket was lartun, wait until you see D’Achille. "I can’t believe D’Achille got a car ticket," said one of his friends. "I thought he was in the library all day long." D’Achille, however, had a different story. "I was just doing my job," he said. "I was looking for a book and I came across a car ticket. I thought it was mine, so I took it."
Launch an Exciting Career as an Intelligence Specialist

The Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA) is a unique and independent organization serving diverse intelligence requirements of the Department of Defense. We are active in many areas directly or indirectly related to national security—analyzing not only purely military conditions, trends and forces, but also pertinent economic, social, cultural, physical, geographic and scientific factors. Each year we seek out qualified individuals for DIA's entry level Career Development Plan. This is a program designed both to equip you for a responsible and challenging permanent career position, and enable you to complete most or all requirements for an advanced degree.

THREE-MONTH ORIENTATION COURSE
All college graduates selected for the DIA Intelligence Orientation Course. Its objectives are to orient the trainees to the department's mission as a whole and the Defense Intelligence Agency specifically, with particular emphasis on the role of civilians in the military intelligence community.

Following completion of this course, trainees are assigned to substantive areas of work related to their discipline. At the beginning of the second year, you will be selected for a four-year assignment leading to a position as permanent member of the work force.

OPPORTUNITY FOR ADVANCED STUDY
All trainees eligible for advanced programs leading to advanced degrees. These opportunities plus many additional training opportunities—may be provided either during or after normal working hours (or both). You will find that the advantages of a career at DIA are many and varied, including the liberal fringe benefits associated with Federal employment. Your salaries (the Pentagon and near-by Alexandria, Va. afford your choice of city, suburban or country living—a real advantage. Gains in the field and educational attractions are within a few miles radius.

And by no means least, you will derive much satisfaction from contributing substantially to the achievement of vital national objectives.

VISIT YOUR PLACEMENT OFFICE NOW
All college graduates interested in the DIA Intelligence Orientation Course are invited to visit your Placement Office. This is an opportunity to talk about DIA career opportunities. You may receive DIA literature or more detailed information. Note: All applicants must be U.S. citizens (with eligibility to obtain a permanent government security clearance if selected), with a thorough background inquiry and physical examination.

APHES

Last Thursday and Friday night the March 16 and again on the 17th went well. It seems that Brother Vogel has once again taken the final vote to make it home.

TELEVISION

In the “turn” section of the TV Guide, the picture of last week’s sport report is that of Brother Voge1, not Frank, with two others. It’s a little hard to see Brother Voge1, but it seems that he was in the news.

BROTHERS

Last Wednesday, the sisters again took their final vote. It seems that the last final vote will probably be contested.

BROTHERS-n-Arms

Congratulations to all who have been re-elected to the obedient pledges—re-nited for another year. We look forward to the brotherhood.

SPECIALS

Greeking is fun, but we’re always happy to see another party.

MEAN MEN

The four of us wish to say “Thank you!” to Brother Vogel for driving so well. It seems that lovebird of our dinner dance has been captured by Peggy and Sue, and we’re Manufacturer has proven method.

STUFF 'N' THINGS

by Mort Kersey

Some of the Freshmen on the Alpha Xi Delta campus said last week’s event that is in the Ursinus campus. John Franklin, a Freshman on the Alpha Xi Delta campus, said last week’s event had a “starting point, not Frank with two, that was the final vote to make it home.”
