Nov 7, 1911.

Dear Mr Wilson

Your letter was read on my return from an absence but not in time to write you so as to have it reach you. I was in doubt what to do and so decided to wait your coming the last of the week named. Possibly you changed your plans. I would have been glad to talk more with you along the lines we covered at Springfield. There is however but little to add on the local Conditions in this state Kept it is my observation that the President's visit here has helped him.

His earnest
and straightforward attitude made a permanent impression.

It is too early to have returns from Massachusetts but if we learn there it will help confirm the wisdom of the President's course as seen here.

No light appears on our muddled affairs in state politics. The former faction has openly warred on the judicial ticket in this City Election today.

I hope you will feel free to write me, or call on me
for any service which you may wish.

On looking over a possible list of men available for private secretaries, I can find none free whom I could recommend at this time.

Later possibly there is one I have in mind, we might get if you do not secure a man.
If you are in Chicago in the future and wish to see me write me as far ahead as you can, I am here nearly every week and could easily arrange to meet

you,

With my sincere good
wishes
Yours
