"Demolition in Store for Supply"

by Sam Totaro

In an exclusive with the WEEKLY, both Dr. Donald L. Helfferich, President of Ursinus College, and Mr. Ellwood S. Paisley, Secretary-Treasurer of the Board of Directors of the College have remarked that they felt both a new Ursinus College Supply Store and Curtis Brodbeck Lounge would be completed by the fall. "We are quite confident that they will be ready for occupation by September," stated Dr. Helfferich.

Good-bye "Big Bill" — wherever you are!

The demolition of the present supply store, scheduled for early May, is imminent, and with its destruction, the second phase of the celebrated "new Ursinus look" will have begun. The first phase of course, is the Curtis-Brodbeck Lounge.

Will Seat 90

Mr. Paisley stated that the new supply store, which will cost approximately $45,000, will be located at the same site as the building, but this time it will face Wismer Hall. The building, which will be sixty feet long and eighty feet wide, will have a seating capacity for ninety students, which is quite a bit more than the present seating capacity.

The new edifice will be made of enameled steel and white colonial brick on the outside. It will have a gold and white trim, with a white roof and the color scheme for the interior of the new structure will be a pale mint cream. Also featuring a cement floor and fluorescent fixtures, the building will be completely air-conditioned! "We are contemplating having automatic food service for the students in the store," remarked Mr. Paisley. "We are also considering keeping the building open from eight o'clock in the morning until eleven o'clock at night."

Building Only Temporary
Mr. Paisley told the Weekly

that this building will be a temporary structure. In about two years, when the new library is completed, the supply store will be moved into the building which now houses the library. This building will be reconverted into a Student Union Center. At that time, the temporary Supply Store will be removed from its present site and be relocated behind the boiler room, and then be used by the maintenance department.

The use of that area, after the removal of the store, has not been decided as of yet. "It may be either used for parking or just a common," thought Mr. Paisley.

Older Than the President

Neither Dr. Helfferich nor Mr. Paisley could remember when the boiler house, which is part of the supply store complex to be demolished, was built. "It was here before I came," said Mr. Paisley, a member of the class of 1913. Dr. Helfferich felt that it was built sometime in the nineteenth century. He added that the present supply store was added in 1948.

When asked when the demolition of the supply store complex will be done, Mr. Paisley announced that "it will be out of the road by commencement." Thus by early June, Ursinus College will have shed the look of the past, and will be looking to the future.

New Officers Take Over

New WSGA Council and Senate officers for the 1966-1967 academic year were elected recently. Diana van Dam will succeed Darlene Miller as president of the WSGA, and Judy Maxwell will replace Sally Miller as president of the Senate.

Diana van Dam, a biology major, served as treasurer of WSGA and junior class representative to the "Y". She is a sister of Phi Alpha Psi, a member of the WAA, and plays on the basketball and softball teams.

Judy Maxwell, a history major, served as vice president of the Senate this year, as a sophomore last year, and as a freshman advisor this year. She sings in the Messiah chorus and has the lead role in this year's Spring Festival production. Judy also is a sister of Phi Alpha Psi.

Next year's vice president of the WSGA will be Gretchen Hoffman, an English major. Gretchen sings in the Messiah chorus, is a sister of Tau Sigma Gamma, is a member of the Spirit Committee, and is active in the WSGA.

Phyllis Dugan, an English major, was elected treasurer of the WSGA. She is a cheerleader, sings in the Messiah and Meistersinger choruses, is a member of the PSEA and WAA, plays hockey and badminton, and is also a sister of Tau Sigma Gamma.

Helen Allen, whose major is undesignated, was elected as WSGA corresponding secretary. Helen is this year's freshman representative to the WSGA and a member of the Canterbury Club. The new recording secretary is Maureen Murphy, whose major is also undesignated, and is a member of the Messiah chorus, the Weekly staff, and the Spanish Club.

Among the Senate officers recently elected is vice president Lee March, an English major. Lee was secretary of the Senate this year, president of the Spirit Committee, and a freshman advisor. She also sang in the Messiah chorus, managed the hockey and lacrosse teams, and is a sister of Phi Alpha Psi.

Freshman, Marilyn Reed, was elected secretary of the Senate. She participates in the "Y", PSEA, and is the senator from Rimby's. Her high school background well-qualified her for ## Free Seating . . . . Love It or Starve!

Economy Causes Change

New system leaves empty tables.

by Tim Coyne

The announcement last week that there would be free seating in the dining hall for the remainder of the year was explored in depth by the Weekly this week. Finally, Mr. Joseph Lynch, the kitchen steward, revealed the reason for the Dining Hall committee's decision: Economics. "We're serving tables with only two to six students who are getting a full serving for eight," said Lynch. "As a result, the waste of food is deplorable! There is too much left, and we can't use it over."

Lynch's Own Solution

Free seating was Mr. Lynch's solution to the problem. Says he, "I got in touch with Dean Rothberger, my contact with the

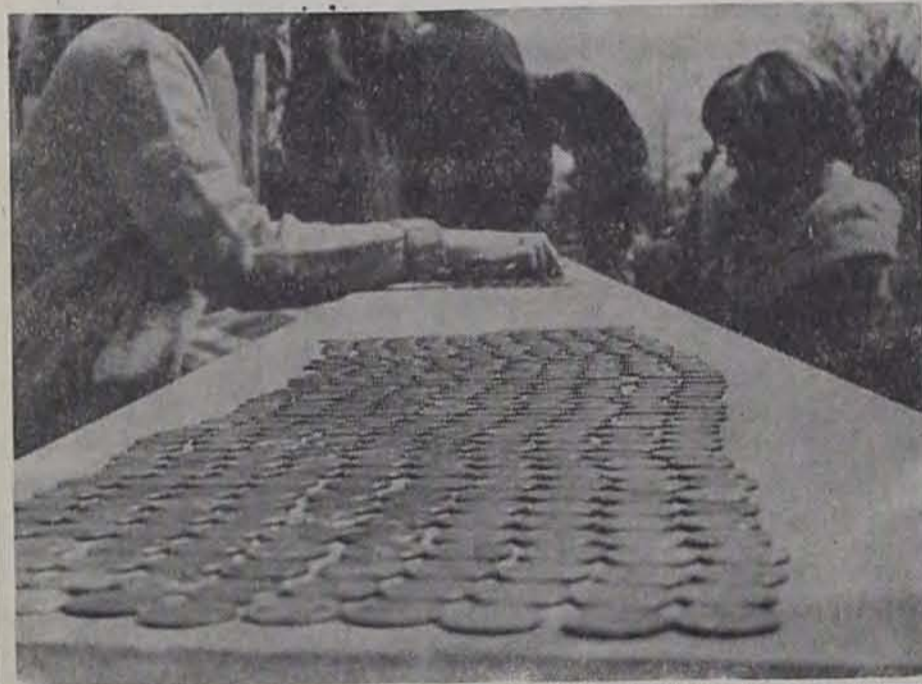

the job.

Constitutionally, the WSGA Council and the Senate are equal bodies, the Council being the executive branch, and the Senate the legislative. Often the WSGA appears to have more power because it deals with issues which relate more closely to the women students, while the Senate is mainly concerned with rule and constitutional changes.

This year, the main projects and accomplishments of the WSGA, under the capable leadership of Darlene Miller, were to adopt an Indian child to provide food, clothing and education; to co-sponsor the Lorelei dance with the MSGA, and to organize the Spring Festival activities. The WSGA also helped institute new rules beneficial to the women students.

Campus Chest Proceeds Break All Records

It was announced today by Jim Baer and Barb Gay, co-chairmen of this year's Campus Chest Drive, that with the raising of $2,500, the 1966 Drive which ran from April 13 to April 23 broke the record of $1,860 established last year. This annual drive raises money to support several chosen charities which the Campus Chest Executive Committee considers worthy of our support. As it was previously announced in the special April 12 issue of the WEEKLY published entirely by the Campus Chest Committee, this year Ursinus will divide the the money among three charities: The Sancta Maria Orphanage in South Viet Nam, Miles College in Birmingham, Alabama, and the Royer-Greaves School for the Blind in Paoli.

Miss Schultz and Dr. Staiger regress for benefit of Campus Chest!

The format for this year's drive differed from previous years in that the activities ran for a ten day period instead of the traditional two weeks. In view of the enthusiastic support of the entire student body, faculty, and administration, this change was definitely beneficial. Through the many and varied activities which ranged from the selling of CMP notes to the Pre-Med Movie to the Campus Chest Carnival, the entire Ursinus Community was able to find enjoyment and relaxation while feeling a sense of purpose and accomplishment, knowing that their money was going to be used to help others not as fortunate as themselves. The cooperation which was shown throughout these ten days was remarkable; the Ursinus Campus showed that when united in a common goal, the only outcome can be one of success.

All Participated

All facets of the college took part in the activities—the sororities, fraternities, Classes, independent campus organizations, and outside agencies, specifically the South Viet Nam Embassy who sent us Dr. Nhan, its Director of Information. During these ten days some of the events and activities sponsored by these groups were innovations, while some of the traditional events were retained. There were the fraternity and sorority auctions, and KDK's spaghetti dinner which satiated many hungry appetites. The Student-Faculty Show was the best yet presented, highlighted by the arrival of Nambat and Niebor and by the $150 sale of Dr. Helfferich's ties to Mrs. Helfferich. While these are events looked forward to each year, the Campus Chest Drive saw imaginative activities appear on the campus. The Delta Pi car stuffing received enthusiastic support as twenty-one students piled into the green Renault, while the Bailey Ball contest saw many oddly-dressed teams take on the strong P.E. force. The campus enjoyed the dinner prepared by the S.T.U. I.C.S. at the home of Dr. Lewis, and the Faculty-Varsity Basketball Game with the victorious faculty team. However, the highlight of this year's drive came on the last Saturday when the T-G Gym was transformed into a Carnival with cotton candy, turtle and rat races, and a dunking machine.

Thanks to Students

All of the activities held showed the cooperation and support possible and the concomitant enjoyment all can experience when working toward a purposeful goal. This year's Campus Chest Drive reflected the good which is in college students, their willingness to help, and their desire to give of themselves and their money for the benefit of others.

The Student and the Draft

In June and July of this year the United States Selective Service Boards will submit all present draft deferments for reevaluation — regardless of the cause for deferment or the anticipated date of reclassification. The strain placed on the board by the current Asian conflict places a new emphasis on the drafting of college students. Because of the upcoming reclassification, the May and June draft tests, and the November elections, it is essential to speak out strongly against such emphasis — especially to certain of you who are most affected by it.

There is probably an oriental maxim which would express it with more sagacity, but it is sufficient to say that a river that is dammed up or diverted cannot be expected to enrich its territories. The drafting of college students for a conflict which is not immediately strategic to our position is a direct drain upon the stream of our greatest wealth—the intellectual elements of our younger generation. It is their hard work, their mental capacity, and their educated ingenuity that have made this country prosper. And now, for those who are perhaps not even desirous of it, we are purchasing their freedom at the cost of such an invaluable asset.

The basis for selection, however, has inherent fallacies which may be even more detrimental to the nation. The student who is drafted is singled out either for his class standing or for his score on a nationally administered test. The assumption here seems to be that one who is in the lower two fifths of the class is an unambitious misfit attending college only so that he may be draft exempt. Failure in the test is likewise indicative that one's mentality is sufficient only to "get butchered in some rice paddy" as the colloquial expression goes. The frustration which this presents to the hardworking, but below average, students is tremendous. Moreover, consider the consequences of such weeding on the morale of the fighting men who now protect our country; "to be fit only for soldiering" or to be "an army of rejects" are hardly complimentary notes for their gallantry. They are rather the most base of insults.

And what may one conclude from all this? Only that the future may find us unable to maintain for ourselves the very freedom which we now so generously, and so expensively, give away to others.

Three English Comp Professors Use New Key to Stimulate Frosh

by Marge McKeon

Are bewilderment and frustration capturing the minds of freshman composition students, or is Susanne Langer's PHILOSOPHY IN A NEW KEY really serving as an inspiration to these students? Is the whole theory of freshman comp. outdated? Three youthful and imaginative Ursinus instructors are trying a "noble experiment" this semester to broaden the scope of the course; and who knows, it may be the thing of the future.

Although the freshman composition course has usually been regarded as a "service course" at Ursinus College, and its central concern the improvement of writing skills of students in all major fields, the three instructors in this "noble experiment," Mr. Foster, Mr. Ehrlich, and Mr. Richter, feel that the course might "serve" students going into diverse major fields in a broader manner than that of improving writing skills. Consequently the trio are presently conducting their course—using Miss Langer's Philosophy in a New Key as their text—with the idea of attempting to present to their students the major different strands of world-wide thought and culture.

A Stimulus to Thought
"The course is in no way a 'systematic' introduction to any field, but rather a stimulus to thought," Mr. Foster espouses. The frank hope is expressed that early in a freshman's career—

Dean's List Student Ignores Blindness

Penny Wright Succeeds in College But History Soothes Her to Sleep

by Mary Kay Meyer

"I've learned that if you put yourself at ease, you can cope with almost anything," says the short immaculately-groomed girl. And so she does. Remarkably enough, Penny Wright, Ursinus' only blind student, made the dean's list despite all the adjusting she had to do in her first semester at college.

Penny, an English major who plans to teach and write, limits her extra-curricular activities because, she says, "I must do my homework with Braille textbooks and recordings; it takes me at least twice as long to get my lessons done! Nonetheless, Penny is a member of the P.S.E.A. and the Bible Fellowship.

Has A Good Memory
Penny says that she thinks her memory is far more developed than the average person's, and her classmates will undoubtedly back her up. She can absorb more from listening. Occasionally, she admits, she falls asleep listening to her history book. "It gets so soothing."

College kids, she says are "not too shy to help" and have been "extremely helpful." She's learned her way around because people have led her. "The walks turn so much," she says, but now she can navigate herself fairly well because she knows where things are.

Echoes Help
Penny finds various buildings and rooms by listening for the echo of her footsteps, which sounds different when it's bounced back from different surfaces.

A tape recorder, a Braille textbook, and a Braille typewriter—part of the equipment that helped Margaret S. "Penny" Wright to make the Dean's List in her first semester at Ursinus.

All this may seem terribly difficult, but Penny takes it in her stride.

During the interview for this article, Penny told the interviewer, "Just don't make the article

Faculty Members "Immortalized" by Beta Sig's Poll

Hearty congratulations are extended to the faculty members whose true genius has at last been recognized through the tireless efforts of the brothers of Beta Sigma Lambda in the Faculty Popularity Poll. The poll served a dual purpose. First, in supporting Campus Chest, and second, in giving the students an opportunity to record the little known, yet best loved, attributes of their favorite professors.

Again, we congratulate the following faculty members:

Forsees Merger
To the Students of Ursinus College:

In our four years here at Ursinus we have seen the Weekly filled with complaints about student apathy. Often these complaints concern themselves with the lack of support for our athletic program, or the lack of student activities, or just plain student unrest. Perhaps the sharpest criticism has been directed at our student governments for their apparent inability to mobilize, express, and act upon student opinion. Regardless of our position, student or faculty, we all must agree that there is much room for improvement.

The times are changing. No longer do dances have to be held in the gym for Wismer is now available. Fraternities are trying to be a more constructive force on campus as demonstrated by the openings of the supply store. The Y has opened the Izzie and Lizzie lounge to give students and faculty a place to gather. One could also mention Campus Chest activities and the Free-land-a-go-go.

These are admirable accomplishments by individual organizations but much more can be done. We should pool our resources, coordinate student activities, eliminate red tape and harmful competition. We need organization.

The faculty has instituted a new "Ursinus Plan" which gives students greater responsibility and urges them towards honor work. Perhaps this type of approach should be expanded to student activities via a student "Ursinus Plan."

In the next issue of the Weekly we will offer a possible plan for a single student government and reasons for its creation, and we will welcome any comments and criticisms from any source.

Helps Out Kersey
Editor, Ursinus Weekly

Dear Sir:

In his abbreviated article in the last Weekly, Mr. Kersey alluded to the "disgraceful pressure" exerted upon the staff to give more space to advertisements and thus insure the financial solvency of the paper. Since I am sure Mr. Kersey in the remainder of his article, had there been space to print it, would have documented this charge, and since I believe Weekly readers ought to know the full truth of this scandalous affair, I am presuming to supply, as briefly as I can, what the iniquitous ads crowded out a week ago.

Let it be confessed, then, that the advertising manager has received repeated warnings that failure to sell at least $100 worth of advertising for each issue of the Weekly would have an unfortunate effect upon his grades. (Recently there was even a veiled hint of possible expulsion from college.) The ads for Coca-Cola and Bell Telephone, I understand, were procured just in time to be run last week and to save Mr. Cawman serious embarrassment.

May I also second Mr. Kersey's insinuation that the publication of the Weekly is a service the students render to the faculty and administration, and that the college should therefore be willing to pay for it. It is indeed time this matter was put in its proper light. An informal poll of the faculty revealed tremendous reader interest in the Greek Gleanings (some even admitted reading nothing in the paper except this column), and it was at my personal insistence that Mr. Kersey's article was curtailed rather than this popular feature, lest the pique and disappointment of the faculty be turned upon me.

Sincerely yours,
Geo. G. Storey, Faculty Adviser

Defends Green Beret
Dear Editor,

Leaving aside the question of whether or not a piece of subjective criticism should have been intruded into what was apparently intended as a news story, I would like to comment on your thin-skinned and/or brain-washed editorialist's distress that the "green berets" were parodied in the Student-Faculty Show.

An organization's inability to stand being made fun of is strong evidence of its arrogance or hypocrisy. The Army's Special Forces are trained as specialists in murder. To be sure, some of them show a lot of animal courage, just as a rhinoceros will. It is hard to see what high human qualities they show.

Then a high-school drop-out, after some years in this brutalized outfit, puts together a sloppily sentimental ballad about it. How could a parody of this be "in bad taste"?

Yet no parody is needed to express my "attitude toward those who fight in Viet Nam". It can be phrased in plain prose: they should come home.

The U.S. militarists in Viet Nam are: 1) strengthening communism more than the Chinese will ever be able to do; 2) are destroying the land and the people of a nation on the other side of the globe from us; 3) are supporting a fascist tyranny; 4) are weakening the social, political, and spiritual fabric of our own country. This last point alone is sufficient justification for parodying the green berets out of existence.

Sincerely,
Donald G. Baker

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Voltaire Recalled
Dear Mr. Editor,

The skit performed by Mr. Jones was I'm sure intended only as a comical satire on Lieutenant Sadler's song, "Ballad of the Green Berets". However, lest the scope of our commitment in Viet Nam be forgotten, it should be recalled that one of the things for which we are fighting is the right of individual dissent from the majority voice. When narrow-minded people attempt to terminate that right, our cause is lost. This freedom must be open in any field of public communications, be it the press, television, radio, or even a student-faculty show. If a faculty member has a point to bring across, let him deliver it. Do not forget the words of Voltaire:

"I disapprove of what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it."

Or in your patriotic zeal have you forgotten him?

Netmen Win One of Four

A very young and relatively inexperienced Ursinus tennis team owns a 1-3 record after four early matches.

Following similar 9-0 drubbings at the hands of powerful MAC opponents Swarthmore and Dickinson, the Bears rebounded in their first home meet to rout Elizabethtown, 8-1. In their most recent meet, however, the Bruins were whitewashed, 9-0, at the University of Delaware on Saturday, April 23.

Junior Captain Pete Wills is the number one singles man in the squad, followed, in order, by Ron Tietjen, Bob Deuble, Jack Warren, Rich Gibbons, and Jim Lodge.

The doubles teams, which have varied from match to match, have included Luther Smith, Milt Jenkinson, and John Darrah, plus Wills, Tietjen, Deuble, and Warren.

The club opposes Moravian in its second home match today.

Trackmen Lose to PMC, Mile Relay Decisive

U.C. Trackman, Clive Carney, leaps for third place.

Despite another record-shattering performance by Captain Bill Robart, the Ursinus track team was edged by visiting PMC on Tuesday, 70-61.

Robart smashed both field and meet standards with a heave of 52' 4" in the shot, and turned in another first for UC in the discus.

Joe Griner was a double winner for the Bears as well, capturing the 120 high and the 220 low hurdles. Griner set a new school record in the highs with a 15.1 clocking.

Freshman Dennis Sicher outraced classmate Don Kamela to win the 100-yard dash, and came back to outdistance competition and triumph in the 220.

Dave Irons set the pace for PMC, winning both the mile and two-mile runs in a meet which was not decided until the final event.

PMC held only a slight 59-57 advantage entering the final two events, but the host Bears were able to manage just a third in the javelin and dropped a heart-breaking mile relay by the margin of a few short yards.

PMC's Joe Pierra set still another field record when he catapulted 13' to win the pole vault. Jon Katz picked up a second for UC in this event.

Slim Cawthray was a surprise victor in the high jump, and teammate Bud Krum notched a third.

The Bruins garnered second and third places in the broad jump, due to the efforts of Bob Barandon and Clive Carney respectively.

Brian Souerwine and Doug Hedman were second-place finishers in the 440 and the mile.

Milt Kale and Walt Irvine each copped a third place, Kale in the two-mile run and Irvine in the 220 low hurdles.

In the end, however, the depth of the visitors was sufficient to hand the Bruins their first home dual meet defeat since 1961.

Senior Bob Barandon's jump nets a second at P.M.C.

Tennis Announcement

The Athletic Department wishes to stress again the regulations in effect concerning the use of the tennis courts. The courts are to be used only at specified times. Their use during or immediately after rainy weather makes the courts unsuitable for match play and creates extra work for the maintenance crew. Students are permitted use of the tennis facilities only when the nets are up—weather permitting. Failure to comply will result in reservation of the courts for team members only.

Lacrosse Team Drops 2nd in Ten Years

Tuesday, the 26th of April, was a gray day for the Ursinus varsity lacrosse team. The U.C. twelve lost 11-10 to their biggest rival, West Chester. There had only been one other day like it in the past 10 years, and on that day, two years ago, Ursinus lost to the same team.

It was Ursinus' game to win until the last five minutes of play. U.C. had a comfortable 7-3 lead at the half on the three goals by Enid Russel, two by Jan Smith, one by Sue Day, and one by Gwen Steigleman. The second half was U.C.'s downfall, we scored only three goals to W.C.'s eight. West Chester scored the first goal of the half followed by Sue Day's. UC's lead was cut to 2 goals as W.C. scored two in a row. Sally Murphy boosted the score to 9-6 but W.C. came right back with another. Then Sue Day scored U.C.'s last goal, making the score 10-7, Ursinus, with less than ten minutes left in the game. If they had been playing 25 minute halves, Ursinus would have won, however they were playing 30 minute halves, and it made all the difference in the world. After 55 minutes of hard, rugged play, the team was tiring fast and the offense ceased to click. Somehow, West Chester tied the score, and with less than one minute to play, scored the winning goal amid wild cheering from the West Chester bench. The Ursinus team left the field in dazed disbelief. They travel to West Chester for a return game on May 10; enough said.

There was some consolation in the fact that the Ursinus JV's won their game in a squeaker, 7-6. At one point U.C. was losing 4-1, but thanks to Gale Fellen-ser's three goals, Marty Berry's two, and one each for Fran Hovey and Janet Paul, the tables were turned and Ursinus came out on top.

Women's Tennis Team 1-3 on Season

Last Tuesday, the women's tennis team dropped their match with Swarthmore. Captain and first singles player, Darlene Miller, lost 4-6 and 3-6 to a Whitman Cup player. In second singles, Elsa Heimerer lost 0-6 and 4-6. In third singles, Jean Bonkoski put up a good fight but lost 4-6 and 5-7. In first doubles play, Jan Kuntz and Linda Nixon lost 4-6 and 3-6. In second doubles, Judy Storer and Gail Johnson lost 0-6 and 2-6.

In JV competition Marge Talmage lost in second singles 0-6 and 2-6. In third singles Lynn Freer lost 1-6 and 2-6. In first doubles, Jane Tillotson and Marilyn McKellin lost 0-6 and 3-6. In two close sets, Ellie Hyatt and Barbie Grimm lost 4-6 and 5-7.

The tennis team has faced tough opponents this season and have played very well even though their record is 1-3. Both teams lost to U. of P. in the first match of the season. The varsity beat Rosemont in every set while losing to Gettysburg. Their next match is tomorrow against Bryn Mawr at 4:00 p.m. on the home courts.

Apes

Congratulations once again to Bill Robart for another school record—this time in the shot put. Not once, but twice in the same week he broke his own record. You better cut it out, Bill, the guys are going to start getting mad because you're in the gleanings every week—especially publicity-hungry Paul. One final note left from pledging: Dean wishes to thank the kidnappers for introducing a new innovation into his life. Due to lack of funds on the trip, he stopped to eat lunch at a YMCA in West Virginia. Just ask him now about it and you'll hear him say, "It sure is great to eat at the Y." Condolences are also in order for Mr. Dean for trying to play Maury Wills in last week's intramurals. Nice play champ!

A hard-up student asked the brothers last week if they knew anyone around here who would do it anytime for anyone, and at anyplace. All the brothers immediately referred him to Little Leiser Jane. The brothers would like to thank all those who supported the recent APE's sponsored Freeland A-GO-GO for Campus Chest. Thanks also to Gary Frisch, Jim Bower, Gill Bolitho, and Ron Fabian, and also the "Avengers" for providing the free music. Thanks also to the surprise visit from the secret campus sleuth, Tricky Dicky, checking up on the usual unimportant things. Congratulations to Homer for withstanding the worms and maggots in the pies in the Ugly Man Contest. Win or lose, Homer, you are the ugliest . . . And as Recording Secretary, Scotty, you're full of it. All must admit that spring is truly the finest time of the year, with all the holly bushes in full bloom. Thanks Paul. Guess who Hoff?!! And this week we close with a proverb for all the intellects on campus: Having Old Lovers Leaves You Zealous!! Just follow the bold type.

Demas

Announcing! (ta ta) The new officers of Delta Mu Sigma for 1966-67; President Joe "Oh I forgot" Hagy, Vice Pres.—David McCoy, Treasurer — Bill Megill, Recording Sec'y — Fritz the-burned-out Light, Corresponding Sec'y—Chuck Gordinier, I. F. Rep.—John Gabel, Chaplin — Father F. George Atkinson. The election meeting this year was much shorter than previous years, the final ballot being cast by 2 a.m. (of course we started at 1:55 a.m.) All brothers were there for the final ballot except Bill Kulesh, who was present at the start, but with every sip of his 8 oz. bottle of Ripple and Ale mixture he slipped a little further under the table until only a rising column of bubbles in the area of his vacant seat gave away his presence.

Now that the out-going officers have taken their dubious seats of honor in the annals of Demas history (and the Norris-town jail, or was that last year?) we can safely say that those boys did a lousy job, especially Jack Gould. I have no intention of turning this article into a verbal attack on my ex-officers, but I have to say this; as for Kent Fogertine, ex-Prexy, that nothing, not even Gordinier's flat-top could possibly scratch up so many table tops in one year, as Kent would do in one night. And as for Bob Larzelere, he spent more time with food, girly books, and his girl (in that order) than he did with the brothers. And Jack Gould would do nothing but stand up at meetings and make temperance speeches and scream the wrath of God on us while lackadaisical Bill Kulesh could never be found because he was making out with the photographer for the Ruby behind the boiler house. And then there was Brackin, our Chairman of Domestic Affairs, who hated the small of B.O., liquor, cheap cigars, manure, and dead cats, so he never came to the meetings! Well, those horrible days are over for we now have a new regime and God help us!

Phi Alpha Psi

Never fear, little Judy, now is your turn! Congratulations to Judy Heiss as Senior Representative to the WSGA. Congratulations to Judy Maxwell, newly elected President of the Senate and Lee March, Vice President of Senate. Congratulations to Sue Pasimeni, new Vice-President of the YWCA. And we can't forget our lovelies!!—congratulations to Spring Festival Queen Sandy Weekes and sisters on her court—Barbie Grimm, Kathy Harkins, Barb Lopez, Helen Dix, and to the female lead, Judy Maxwell. Congratulations to Marilyn Cooke on being elected Alumni Corresponding Secretary for the Class of '66. Yes, Darlene, now you can go out and have a good time!!

Just one question, Wolf? Why don't you tell the sisters what you do in closets?!!

The final parting words can only be: I move—but the big question is, who will second???

Sig Nu

Best wishes to Eileen Cox on her recently announced engagement to Mike Csanady, president of Sig Rho. Also belated wishes to Donna Wolfe on her engagement to Nick Teti. And finally, congratulations to Betsy Miller on her recent pinning to Bill Semko a brother of Lehigh's Delta Tau Delta.

Congratulations to Lee Armstrong on being selected co-news editor of the Weekly.

A job well done by our pledge mistresses, Janice and Kief. You shaped those pledges up pretty fast. We will welcome the pledges formally as sisters tonight at the home of Dr. Parsons at formal initiation.

We have been planning and preparing for our spring party which will be held Tuesday, May 3, 1966 in the recreation room. We are looking forward to meeting you all and hope you enjoy seeing our interpretation of "U.C.'s Other Half."

Sigma Rho Lambda

The brothers of Sig Rho would like to announce their newly elected officers for the fraternity year of (1966-1967).

President — Jon Leupold (senior)

Vice President — Elwood Paisley (junior)

Treasurer — Paul E. Holl (senior)

Recording Secretary — Mills Eure (sophomore)

Corresponding Sec. — Luther Smith (junior)

Scholarship Chairman — Deny Smith (senior)

Sergeant At Arms — Thomas Dean (junior)

Social Chairman — Tad Yoder (sophomore)

Chaplin — Robert McCormick (senior)

Athletic Director — Rich Gibbons (sophomore)

Lastly, Joe Gray has been selected chairman of the Missing Brothers Bureau.

The offices of social chairman, chaplin and the athletic director are newly created positions of this semester....

...Finally and most importantly, we are proud to congratulate President Mike Csanady for his recent engagement to Miss Eileen Cox (Sig Nu).

Tau Sigma Gamma

At the annual Spring Dinner-Dance held at Stokesay on Friday night, the new officers of Tau Sigma Gamma were happily announced. They are as follows: President, Marilyn Diecks; Vice-President, Linda Burk; Recording Secretary, Ruth Forbes; Corresponding Secretary, Mary Mazur; Treasurer, Phyllis Dugan; Rushing Chairmen, Pat Price and Harriet Metzgar; Pledge Mistress, Sue Hartman; Social Chairmen, Mary Griffiths and Rosemary Kern; Chaplain, Marge Atkinson; Keeper of the Archives, Yours Truly; Alumnae Secretary, Sharon Lettinger.

Congratulations all you leaders of the Great Green!!

Let it never be said that Tau Sigers will be old maids. Just last week two more sisters decided to trade in their diaper pins for frat pins. Best wishes are extended to Linda Nixon in her secret pinning to Bob Deuble, a brother of APO and to Phyllis Dugan who is pinned to Bill Gill, a brother of Delta Tau Delta at Lehigh University. As for Sally, a belated "best wish" to you and Steve who is the proud title holder of "Ugliest Man" on campus. Oh, Mills, you did it again.

No Jan, you cannot take the gavel with you when you depart. If you did, Marilyn would have to use her knuckles—she must keep what bones she has. Spring has arrived in Patty's turtle bowl; both "Tau" and "Sig" have been inseparable these past few days — sunbathing, swimming, etc., etc.

Poor Mary Mazur has contracted a rather unsophisticated disease—not the gout, but the mumps. If you don't like it Buzz, you can "mump" it! It has also been suggested that Mary use a carrier pigeon for next year's elections.

Is it possible that Stokesay is more organized than we are?? Could it be that waiter George is the head of the organization committee . . . not only did we have a convenient table arrangement and international waiters, but even the "Castle Trio" has improved so much that no one would suspect that they were once the "Sugar-Shack Duo"!

Zeta Chi

Congratulations to the new and thanks to the old officers. "Tyrant" Moser had to be forced out of office at gun point by the new regime after a three day siege of the royal palace, Fircroft, to make way for his royal highness Pete Wills. Congratulations also to the Pottstown ace for making a meeting for a change. Speaking of flyboys, Pete (Alfred 62-U.C. 0) D'Achille was flying over Kutztown last week when he encountered heavy flak and had to crash land. He denies it, however, insisting that the crash was intentional. Poland and the Ukraine are entering the armament race with a cardboard throw-away submarine to be designed by Mike "Stripminer" Urenovich and Rich "Manure-spreader" Voll. Steve Darreff says Israel may be interested in buying several of the crafts. Spring is here and Big Hat Pete's fancy has turned to Beaver . . . College.

Ed Fischer, ZC's new fat chaplain announces his intention to pick up where the old fat chaplain left off and continue leading the Zetans in the paths of righteousness. From now on meetings will be opened with the popular hymn "Bringing in the Kegs." Last Saturday night Mike Pollock decided he just wanted "to get nice" and wound up with a date with Hedda the Hopper. Dieu is in the market for an I.F. date. Only nice-looking Italian girls need apply. Greg Tracey's new book, My Wicked Methods should be in the Supply Store in time for its demolition—luckily. We don't need that kind of smut on this upstanding campus, Greg.

Despite tricky weather the Zetans have thoroughly initiated the Perk party season with several Perk-side blasts at Joe's park and promise many more to come. Fischer's fat cult will hold services at some of the more obnoxious gatherings and Dave Spaeth will staart the midnight swims by throwing a DeNobili butt in the sparkling waters, retrieving it, and trying to light it again.

need for less help serving the means. "The increasing cost of food is being offset by a decrease in operating costs," said Joe Lynch. "However, I have had no word about dissatisfaction among the waiters, waitresses, and busboys. I'm here to help. If this is going to cause a rift, we'll have to find another solution."

Free seating is a question mark for next year, but the problem will most likely be resolved this summer.

Dr. Caroline Doane . . .

Dr. Doane, explaining her feelings about going to Miles, said, "In going to Miles I don't want to be thought of as a do-gooder. I just feel I'm going back among friends and am expecting to enjoy my work there as I did before."

U. C. O. C.

Ursinus has an Outing Club—one that is growing steadily and rapidly in both interest and participation. Begun sometime in the mid-fifties on an informal basis, the club received its charter as a bona-fide campus organization in 1960 under the advisorship of Dr. Roger Staiger. Until recently the club has not been so active as it might, due probably to the fact that, unlike most other Outing Clubs, the U.C.O.C. receives no endowment from the college and, consequently, operates on a budget of nothing but student initiative. (And, if U.C. is really as apathetic as all that, one would think that the Outing Club would have receded into oblivion long ago—but it hasn't!)

This year the club has offered what it considers to be an interesting, enjoyable program of moderately adventurous undertakings, open to all for the signing up. A few of the highlights of last semester and earlier this semester include: a two-cave spelunking expedition (where a group of Outing Clubbers from Penn, Bryn Mawr and Haverford were starting to crawl into Dreibilbis Cave when the first Ursinus Outing Clubber crawled out), an Appalachian Trail hike —on the coldest, windiest Saturday in Jan. (where two hikers turned back, and a few were nearly blown off the rocky promontory overlooking the Lehigh Gap), and a ski trip to Big Boulder (where all enjoyed themselves, and a few even learned to ski). Highlighting the calendar for the remainder of this semester are: a raft cruise through the Grand Canyon of Penna. over the weekend of April 16, and a canoe trip across the Chesapeake Bay on May 15. These trips would not be possible without the assurance of generous student support—support such as the club has been getting all year. And it stands to reason that the more student support the Outing Club has, the bigger, better and more ambitious its undertaking seems to be.

UC's Voice in Harrisburg

I find it "stimulating and frustrating, but always satisfying." Dr. G. S. Pancoast is not talking about teaching here at Ursinus but his position as Representative of the General Assembly from the fourth legislative district of Montgomery county.

Many of us are unaware of his activities in Harrisburg. As representative he is mainly concerned with public policy services for his constituents. He goes to Harrisburg to make the law and in the current session he will be trying to modify the rape laws and appropriate the money for public schools and mental health among other things. He also works as a messenger, especially in helping the public. For instance, a bridge in the vicinity was too low for many trucks to go under. In resorting to another route, they caused a traffic jam. The issue was presented to Dr. Pancoast and he then went to the proper authorities and is trying to get the road dug deeper. Mail often floods his desk, depending on the issues in the assembly. The frustrating part of his job is that he is a member of the minority group and a freshman in the assembly (Freshmen are to be seen and not heard).

Dr. Pancoast has had previous experience in politics. From 1961 until last year he was the mayor of Collegeville and before that he was president of the Borough Council. His particular interest, however, lies in the State Legislature for two reasons. One is that his father was a state legislator. In fact, he was born into a political family which helps to explain the "G" for Garfield. The other reason is the practical experience that his position gives him for the classroom for it is a known fact that "personal experience makes teaching more meaningful."
