Play, Varied Activities
Termed Success at Retreat
Play Forms Discussion Springfield

by Debbie Geigermer

In spite of wet weather and those at the Y Retreat were not dampened. This year's retreat was in part an experiment with a new method of program planning, and in the end the play held the interest of all, and the evening a success. This type of program was a welcome change from the usual; however, the play was seen the following morning, and in the end, as usual, emerged around the fireside. The Maurice Robinson of the YM-YWCA with his training and experience in fire prevention, will talk to professors Wall, Hud, and Jones for their assistance to the students in helping to plan, and carry out the program. Also, for the first time in four years, the Retreat was held at Camp Pennbrook. If ever a winning battle, this was a memorable weekend, this one.

"Cecil B" Stalger Movies
"Cecil B. Stalger Movies" was the name of the film shown Sunday morning, a chronicle of the winter season at the Y Retreat. The snow clouds to its eventual melting in the summer, was an amusing college film on life at the Y, and the split second shots of the "Faculty Play."

Of course, not everything was changed from the previous years. The reception and door prize, although a part of the program, remained an enjoyable part of the evening. A spectacular talent show and skits opened the evening's entertainment in the gymnasium, and the program continued into the hour. Parents began to arrive shortly after the 1:00 p.m. hour. The retreat was a successful one as was the retreat in the past years.

Library Consultant
To Discuss Career Opportunities

Career opportunities in Pennsylvania, the United States, and over the world will be discussed at an all day career program in the Student Union, Saturday, November 30.

Library Training Workshop
Libraries Vivially Important

Libraries are vitally important to every human activity. They are vitally important to every human activity. They are the key to knowledge in almost every area of the student's life. College, university, school, this year be concentrated on the special and public libraries of the nation. Whether the student is a future librarian or even to be a future scientist or professional trainee is up to the student.

Library Training Workshop
Library Training Workshop requires one year of study in the graduate program offered at the Master's Degree in Library science. The workshop is available to students in the Pennsylvania State Library office, and is open to students in any major who have completed one year of study in physics.

Library Training Workshop
Since libraries are concerned with the organization of knowledge, almost any under­graduate major could find a place of preparation for a library career. The purpose of the session is to discuss the possibilities of the new field of training for a future librarian.
Is the Summer Reading Program Worthless?

by Susan Hartman

The summer reading programs, instituted two years ago, in their current form, lack any purpose. To quote the authors and their ideas are not only confusing, but there is a great deal of additional information to be used. Many students have read the reader's store of knowledge in general. But, with these goals in mind, the book provides a much broad based understanding of history, literature, science, and philosophy. The results of the experiment indicate that a book should be attainable, the worth of the summer reading program to the student is to be tested, why there will be few or no tests or reports incorporatil)g the sum­

New Gym Club Forms on Campus

by Susan Hartman

A new organization, the Gym Club, held a领取 meeting February 23. The organization was founded in the name of Mrs. Maurice K. Pfeiffer, President of the Club. The purpose of the organization is to provide a place for students to meet and socialize. The club will be open to all students and will hold meetings every Wednesday at 7:30 P.M. in the gymnasium. The first meeting was attended by 20 students.

About seventeen Ursinus students turned out for the first meeting. There was a lot of discussion about the club, advanced, intermediate,
By Bob (Plug) Ellis

Saturday the Ursinus students and their parents witnessed a spectacle not very pleasing to the eye. Instead of seeing a football game, they saw a massacre. Swarthmore, who had won the game that during the second half with a fourth and seven situation; quarterback Quinn ended the game with a tourchdown, and their parents witnessed a massacre.

Judge Newman scored the first touchdown in the game which went to the nine-yard line. The second half was dominated by Swarthmore. The team got a first down. Denny Quinn led the drive, which had not won a game the whole season, going to the nine-yard line. On the next play, Baker missed part of the Swarthmore's third touchdown. Next week the Bears play host.

The second half was dominated by Swarthmore. As the first. They scored only twice, however. Once on a run by Newman and again on a pass to Peck. The score ended 4-0.

Starting at the Ursinus five, the Bears would attack. The second quarter started as Swarthmore recovered a Bear fumble. Their fullback, Heyman, ran from fifteen yards for Swarthmore's third touchdown. The Bears took over and finally got a first down. Denny Quinn threw a pass that was intercepted. Three plays later Newman scored the first of his three touchdowns. Yeager ran for twenty points. After the kickoff, the Bears fumbled and lost the ball. Newman ran once for twenty points. The Bears lost the game 4-0.

Day Students and Demas Win Titles

By Joe Dunn

As a result of the University of Pennsylvania's final leg of the undefeated Demas, the Bear Booters beat Both Delaware and PMC.

The football team was greatly weakened after playing Wilkes last week; Dutch Molenkuyk was playing a game one-handed. Hill, all star of last week, had an injured hand which was taped up, and several other players were still recovering from various injuries. The Bear squad is so small that the injured players were used only until they had recovered, and having a larger squad, was more effective in making better use of our line-up.

The crowd on Saturday was largely due to the fact that it was Parents' Day, although it certainly wasn't the day everyone's favorite. Most of the time the cheerleaders led the cheers but got no reaction from the crowd. It is possible that another possibility of apathy has been discovered? It definitely appears that way. Team often is not even consciously aware of the crowd, but it always helps to hear loud cheers and support.

Since the first issue of the paper, it has come to this writer's attention that there are at least a dozen capable and intelligent players who are not part of the team. The reasons for this are many, but perhaps one of the outstanding points is that they don't feel they are the effort to represent an aesthetic spirit. It only makes sense if they are placed on the student body. The team itself did not appear to be "up" for the game which each and every member's responsible, and threw the ball to one another to give up and concede the game to Swarthmore with three quarters to go.

Next week against Hobart there could be a repeat performance if the team is able to feel sorry and uneven of themselves in view of the injuries they've had. It seems necessary that a mental attitude needs to be developed that will make them play their best in spite of the infirmities. If this will make them play their best in spite of their weaknesses.
Pfalzer Film Circus — What To Do

by Carl Borgman

Attending the Ursinus films is anything but a leisurely Generalization. It is a time-honored activity for the student, and for some reasons or buggerous fashion of which we can find no explanation. We are still trying to figure out what makes a movie popular.
