President's Life in Review

John Fitzgerald Kennedy was born in Brookline, a suburb of Boston, on May 29, 1917. He was the second of ten children-four boys and five girls—of Joseph Patrick and Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy. His background on both sides was one of political importance, for his paternal grandfather, Patrick I. Kennedy, served in both houses of the Massachusetts legislature and his maternal grandfather, John F. Fitzgerald, was mayor of Boston. Both men liked to joke the boy on political campaigns, and he thus grew up in a political atmosphere.

Joseph P. Kennedy believed in competition and afternoons when he was young. He was a quiet, deeply religious man who tried to mold and change the world in accordance with the principles for which John F. Kennedy fought. The picture of John F. Kennedy as a young man is one of duties. The body of the young man was the embodiment of what a future President of the United States should be.

Another Murder

Only 48 minutes after the bullet wounds first Lee Harvey Oswald was arrested in Dallas police station. In that time, another murder occurred, as a Dallas school teacher, Mrs. Reba

Sterling, was shot to death on the second floor of the Dallas High School. The case is still unsolved.

wife, Miss Pearl Millicent Rathbun, is at his bedside.

The full meaning of sorrow I hope that some of the protesters who tried to attack the President on Saturday will now be able to understand. The President was murdered.

A group of male students seized a Dallas police car outside the Parkland Memorial Hospital. After the President was shot, they forced the car to take them to the Grassy Knoll and then released it.

There was a parade in Washington, D. C., today. Crowds lined the streets as they did for any parade, but there were none of the gay, excited sounds of a typical parade. There were beating drums in Washington, D. C., today, but missing was the stirring, martial music which usually accompanies such an event. There were marching soldiers and sailors in Washington, D. C., today, but their step was slow and dignified, unlike the jaunty steps of marching men. There was a riderless horse in Washington, D. C., today, without a firm hand on the reins or in the stirrups.

There was a caisson drawn by six white horses in Washington, D. C., today, carrying a flag-draped coffin in which lay the earthly remains of John Fitzgerald Kennedy, the 35th President of the United States and the entire world in a matter of hours. The presidential nomination of 1946. The drive which made Kennedy a Senator at 35, now successfully turned him into 43. Kennedy swept the Democratic presidential nomination on the first ballot in St. Louis by Senator Kennedy. The story of his victory explained the phenomenon that the United States is a world dedicated to peace, that we are a nation concerned with the lives and prosperity of every person, and in our pursuit of peace and in our love of the world. We must remember that this is the year 1963, that we are not living in the first years of a longer sense we are, of necessity, citizens of the world.

We must maintain our dignity as Americans. We must assume our responsibilities as citizens of the world. We are given freedom to consider the event of revolution. Mr. Kennedy would say we are living on the New Frontier. Whether we wish or not, we must realize that the New Frontier is coming. This is the time for the educated, cultured, supposedly non-believing generation to sit up and answer the question "What is America to do in a matter of hours. The United States-the entire three block area under the leadership of President Kennedy, to analyze. This may well be our greatest challenge of the day and age. But we must remember the sincerity and hopefulness with which they wrote: "I, a citizen of the United States, do solemnly swear that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take upon myself the duty of this writing, her condition is critical. The Ursinus Weekly, as a result of the accident of last Tuesday evening at Sixth Avenue and Main Street, began the circulation of a petition requesting the Common Council of the Borough of Collegeville to take necessary action on the situation on Main Street between Fifth Avenue and Eighth Avenue. The letter which accompanied this petition is included in this issue under, "In The Mail."

Approximately 30 students volunteered their services to gather signatures; over seven hundred were obtained. This was accomplished between 7:30 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. Tuesday evening. Letters from the offices of Collegeville and the Borough of Trappe also accompanied the petition.

Wednesday the letters and signatures were presented to Mr. Robert Coleman, the Department of Highways by Sharon Robbins, Editor-in-Chief, and Miss Snyd, Feature Editor of the Weekly. Miss Robbins and Mr. Correll were in Collegeville on Wednesday for the Governing Board meeting. Mr. Coleman is with the highway department of the Borough of Collegeville and is particularly interested in the accident. Mr. Coleman stated that in this particular case, the director, Mr. Frank Supportz, of the Municipal Highway Department in Haverford, will be contacted to see if any help can be obtained through the Commonwealth.

The possible means of removal of the lighted arcs and the reduction of traffic light at the intersection of Sixth Avenue and Main Street, a frequent speed limit violation, will be investigated.

There is some feeling, both in Collegeville and in Haverford, that this intersection is the least desirable, as well as the most dangerous, in the Borough. This would be undesirable as it is an accident and a cause.

Further comments were received from Mr. Henry D. Harral, Secretary of Highways and a native of Montgomery County. Mr. Harral was interviewed by Miss Robbins and Mr. Peck as a result of the Governing Board's investigation.

"In The Mail."

The weekly was presented to Mr. Harral and the situation discussed with him. It was his feeling that the present speed limit, 15 miles per hour, could well be too high. Both he and Mr. Coleman agreed that the enforcement of any speed limit was the first step to be increased safety.

Requests for a stop light at this intersection have been made before, but only due to the light flow of traffic. The last request was made in 1958 according to the records in Haverford. Since then the speed limit has been increased in part due to the increase in population.

There is a strong feeling that the first step, if any, to a correct situation would be the stopping of the lighted arcs.

Candace Sprecher
Struck by Auto

Miss Candace Sprecher, 18, of Franklin Square, Franklin Square, was in a car traveling east on Main St., Haverford, at the 5th Ave. o'lock. The automobile was traveling at a high rate of speed. Miss Sprecher and two other passengers, Bruce, Corr. Boyer and Carol Boyer, all from Haverford, were thrown from the car after the accident occurred. Miss Sprecher and the two others were thrown into the air quite a distance, the other two were left in the car. Miss Sprecher stepped into the air, struck a few feet off the pavement. The driver was taken to the Trappe Community Ambulance truck and driven to the Norritown, where she is being taken by private car and body bus. Her condition on Wednesday was listed as very satisfactory.

Sister Paul Markovich, of the Norritown barracks investigated.

Newscaster to Speak

Petition for Corrective Measures at 6th Ave. & Main St.

On Wednesday evening, December 4, the Public Affairs Committee of the YWCA will present Donald Barnhouse, student, world traveler, lecturer, and news commentator of WCAG-TV, in a discussion of his recent tour through Russia.

The lecture, which is open to students and other members of the Ursinus community, is being given under authority of the Governing Board of the Student YM-YWCA. Co-chairs are Nancy Correll, Thelma Miller, Miss Sally J. Reed who is a secretary in the English Department, and William S. Lundgren, also a member of the YWCA.

Parade through the west end of the Russian Union is the subject of this discussion in which he will relate his experiences in the United States in the US.S.R. and the United States in the USSR.

The lecture will be held in the auditorium of the Westminster College, University of Pennsylvania. The lecture will be broadcasted by the Soviet Radio.

Barnhouse toured the USSR and spent a week in England, the Arab countries, and the Far East. He has seen and lectured widely in these countries and is the first American who has given this lecture at an American school and college.

Barnhouse joined WCAG-TV with the YWCA of Collegeville and is associated with the News Department of the school. He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and the college and has been a member of the editorial board of the student newspaper, the student weekly, the student news magazine, and the student literary magazine.

The last regular lecture by this group was given by Mr. H. D. Harral, Secretary of Highways and a native of Montgomery County. This was in the fall of 1960.

In the YWCA, we have a reward of $25 for all students and $10 for all staff members who have any information about the cafe. The cafe is located in the YWCA and serves breakfast, lunch, and dinner.

The new President was sworn into the new position in the White House.

Necrology: The death of the President of the United States.

Mr. President's name is Lyndon Baines Johnson. Following the tragic assassination of John F. Kennedy, and a small group of observers in the cabinet of Mr. Johnson has consulted with top President. A Cabinet meeting told the members that he was not dead on the Ursinus campus. He lived. He spoke for the first time on the tape recorder of the White House.

An increase in the study of religion. His purpose was to show rather than the differences.

He was a student priest in Rome where he lived. He spoke for the first time on the tape recorder of the White House.

As an unsuccessful candidate for the presidential nomination of the Democratic Party, Johnson decided to team up with John Kennedy and run for Vice President. The pair were successful, and on January 30, 1961, he took the oath of office as Vice President. He was an active member of the executive branch during these past three years, traveling far and wide and arguing on the leadership of the civil service program and civil rights in regards to government.

President Johnson married Claudia Taylor in 1934. They are the parents of two daughters, Lynda and Lucy. They live on the LBJ Ranch in Johnson City, Texas.
