Mr. Lincoln on Civil Rights

Copyright 1964 by "Presbyterian Life." Used by permission.

There are times when one becomes discouraged at reading and wishes he could get away fromally the reading of a weekly column by a good friend.

This whole business of a column is my friend, Dr. Carl Peck. Mr. Lincoln is often quoted by people who know a little about him, but not quite enough. He is a little like the buckwheat flour that tastes good when made into pancakes, but not the same as the real thing. If we could all get to know Mr. Lincoln, we would be able to make better decisions.

In the Mail

Dear Editor,

There is a crisis in the U.S. military and the problem is to find out the cause. It seems to me that the crisis is due to the fact that the country is not as strong as it was in the past. The military is not as well equipped as it was, and the people are not as well trained. The government has done a good job of keeping the country safe, but the people are not as content as they used to be. The crisis is due to the fact that the country is not as strong as it was in the past.

Yours truly,

Fall of Man Topic of Bible Study

Last Friday, the after-dinner Bible study group continued to discuss the fall of man as recorded in Genesis. The class first looked at the setting of the story. Man had been provided with everything he could need. Though without garments, neither man nor woman felt naked. Perhaps this idea could be broadened to imply that, being obeying God's will, did not feel guilty. He was instructed however, not to eat of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. Enraged by a serpent, Eve was tempted by it. Encouraged by a serpent, Eve and Adam did the same. This brings us up before the fall of man, the entire question of sin.

A definition of sin which was Great Britain, was the battle over the nature of Jesus, God's new man. This discussion was invited to attend this stimulating and the.

The class then moved to the west Collegeville on Tuesday, March 29. The class meets at 12:30 p.m. in the west Collegeville and the.

Girls BB Falls to ES, 46-36; JV Team Continues Unbeaten

The women's Varsity Basketball team lost a strong first-half advantage to bow out of the playoffs. On Wednesday. A powerful comeback in the second half, aided by numerous UC violations brought on a constant full-court press, enabled the clinching victory.

UC had the game well in hand for much of the first half, but a fast-paced, all-court offense by UC's defense and several turnovers by both teams turned the tide. UC stifled East Stroudsburg with the speed of its full-court press, but it faltered, and in the meantime UC could find no way to take the lead, even by 4-4 with one minute to go in the half. The whistle was called on the guard Tracy Miller's possession at 9:27.

The action shown in the first quarter continued in the second, with UC opening the game 3 in the first half before stepping up. The first half was made up of a series of possession shunts and mistakes, resulting in 1-1-1-1. The first half ended at 16:16, with UC leading 11-6. The game continued as a defensive battle, with both teams making the defeat a harder one to take, but the defense was credited with a well-crafted game.

Wrestling: Win Last Match

On Tuesday the Ursinus wrestling team finished a successful season with a 4-1 record after a 15-13 home conquest over Muhlenberg. Junior guard Butch Hofman was selected by the Basketball Writers' Club of the East Coast for the "Unsung Hero" Award at its annual luncheon held last Thursday. One player from each area college and university was chosen to receive the award, but the criteria for this year's selection was based on the team's overall performance during the season.

The fall and spring are the big seasons for athletics. Hockey and lacrosse coaches always find an abundance of hopefuls coming out for their teams. The coach whose proverbial "cup runneth over" can find a suitable and, usually, capable substitute for a starter who can't perform that day. The starter is never assured of a position, and this doubt lends itself to more work and better performances. A combination like this is bound to bring home winning records.

The draw of the winter sports just isn't great enough to bring the women of Ursinus out to compete for laurels in starting positions. At East Stroudsburg, Karen Kahn wasn't hitting, and Diane Regester was having trouble saving her shots. The day before the game, the men's and women's varsity teams scrimmaged; Karen and Diane were on target during that game.

The swimming team lost Lynn Miernicki to a leg injury aggravated while she was putting out her best. Terry Claffey, a diver with little swimming experience, has been turning in a credible job in the JV swimming meets. Several girls have been swimming in three events, the maximum allowed in any one meet.

We should all take our hats off to the girls who put everything into the efforts they turn in for Ursinus. But where are the girls who have the ability to compete and don't? These women have all kinds of excuses. However, the fact remains—they have the ability but don't use it. Team support doesn't mean contributing just your skills; it means giving your talents, whatever they are, to support your team.
