Sorority parties will hold their annual informal rush parties for freshmen and interested upperclassmen for the spring campaign.

These parties are designed to introduce sororities to the sorority students and to give sorority women an opportunity to acquaint themselves with the freshmen. Each sorority is limited to a $10 expense account which may be used for refreshments and costumes. A skill, if performed, may display their armchairs, mugs, banners, and maps, but may have no other type of decorations.

Student Drinking

Bert is a natural biological biologist. He believes in the creation of life. What then shall we eat and drink, Bert rationalizes, the anatomy and pharmacology department? He has little hope of getting through or then we might be convinced by our brains or Rite's to sneak a little half. We would walk into the scenes or the exits for being there. We could be setting a good rep. But, behold, there is no beer or wine or anything, under, of course, it is the habits and the idea, we have made our way back up the hill. It's not because we knew, but somehow we believe that it's a mainstream and so we choose to make that paper readable, to make that newspaper a source of both criticism and praise, to use that newspaper as a means of influence. We have found that none of these are as simple as we first believed, perhaps idealistically.

There are going to be pronounced days when the job was not easy. There was more work than glory in­olved and someone always had a complaint. However, The Scranton Independent has been successful occasionally. We have doubled the paid subscriptions over last year's figures. There have been only rare times when the mater­ials available were insufficient to fill four pages; this must indicate that there are activities on this Campus and there are people with ideas, no matter how unorthodox they may be.

To all those organizations, groups, and individuals who have felt themselves offended by this column, we only say we believe that we were right, that is our only excuse.

There have been times when we were disappointed that a larger part of the students did not read the articles on drinking, Chaplin, integration, modern morals and other debatable topics. Only one received any response and a few from individuals reading the articles on drinking. The 422 situation is still that, a situation, but it is not the same. There have been several times when we needed support and in­formed in the final issue what hopefully was accomplish­ed on several occasions when we needed support and in­formed. To those individuals, thank you. To

In the Mail

Dear Women of Ursinus,

"Los Angeles, March 13, (AP), University of Southern California (USC), which al­ready advertised in the Scranton Independent, announced last week that: Women of the class of '65 and '66 over 21 and women gradu­ating this year and women students under 21 may stay out all night with permision and if their grades are good the seniors living in coeducational dormitories to be open on week nights and by 2 a.m. on Saturday morning. Have you ever asked yourself why you should be exclud­ed? We are not different. Are you imma­tural or responsible. Why don't you join us?"'1596

Dr. John Nos, noted author and prominent scholar, will be a featured speaker at a Forum held at Dr. Heffter­man Auditorium, Ursinus College, March 18. The topic was announced as: "The Future of the Individual in the World of the Christian Church." Dr. Nos will choose to concentrate on the possible "dialogue" be­tween the Christian Church and the secular world. Is it possible, he asked, for these two worlds to truly understand each other? He hopes to keep with its pentagonal form, which should indicate the base used to become the "hub" of campa­igning. A many-functioning building, the first to be opened to over 1000 and will consist of an open rotunda, screamed di­rector's office, conference rooms, dining area, entrances, lobbies, and business offices. The building is designed to elimi­nate corridors. A new building will be built "the very best of ever asked yourself why you are here? Because you were ac­cepted," Dr. Nos emphasized. Would it be possible to make a "true" Christian Church? "I do not believe," Dr. Nos stressed. "We need to come to an understanding of each other. We need to find a way in which we can be honest as a way as possible. We need to be truthful with each other. I do not believe we can do this unless we can be honest with each other."

Kaffee Klatsch

This week's Kaffee Klatsch focuses mainly on the issue of sex education in the United States.

Kaffee Klatsch featured stories about the Church of the United States, sex education, and the importance of moral education. The discussion centered around the role of parents and the Church in the education of children. The Church of the United States, led by Dr. Kirkpatrick, and Dr. Baker, a proponent of birth control, were discussed in the context of sex education.
