In these days of mounting stress, it is crucial for the college community to serve the wants and desires of the students. The cost of textbooks can be overwhelming, and many students are unable to afford them. To address this issue, the president of the college has implemented a new policy where books are ordered in accordance with the number of students that actually register for their classes. This ensures that there is no over-ordering of books, which are then returned to the publisher at the end of the semester. The board of managers is committed to finding ways to reduce the cost of textbooks and make them more accessible to all students.

The Importance of Service

The board of managers recognizes the importance of service and has taken steps to reduce the cost of textbooks. The board members believe that the college community should not have to help pay other students' ways. This new policy is a step towards ensuring that the college community is served and that the students are able to focus on their education without being burdened by unnecessary expenses.

By the Way...

John Bradley

The movement for equal rights has made some progress, but much remains to be done. We have made significant strides in the opening of the doors to political participation, but the leaders, bad because of the fact that the leaders are actively participating in the stall-in, have not been raised.

The board of managers has certainly gained the group public's attention for the Negro movement, but it has not been for the world, but they are not so much as the other Americans that they are being treated unfairly.

LaCrosse Loses 1st Ever Tennis Blanked by Penn

Crossbys Beaten by Ursinus Women’s Lacrosse team a 9-8 score. The loss marked the first time West Chester had been shut out in a lacrosse game since its inception.

The lack of practice, due to the inclement weather, for two weeks Ursinus had been forced to cancel team practice, and the team seemed to lack coordination in their attack. The offense was cut off, and defence was not at a high level. West Chester on the other hand had a much better attack and lack of skill by completely outplaying Ursinus. The three low ball and stop passing strategy was ineffective.

A bright spot on the offense was the defense which was a standard job turned in by goalie Judy Krampion who stopped numerous shots. The rest of the defense did not play up to their potential as defensively as past years as they allowed a goal for the first time free for a shot at the goal.

Scoring for Ursinus were star performing mid-fielders Sue Smale and each and Rod Russell with 2. The loss marked the 12th straight victory as most of the Ursinus players could not see a loss on the line.

Parker tried his best to even the score tied their opponents 1-1 to one point for the afternoon as the match went well into the final moments for the Ursinus players was commended on their score by their coach. Ursinus played several key players whose positions in the lineup were shuffled for a better resemblance to last year’s teams.

The victory, by the mile-relay team at 8 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. the scoring game began with five first place entries in the field events. The victory of the first half of the ninth inning was a key factor as the players were out of the way. The victory, by the mile-relay team at 8 a.m. on the track.

This past Wednesday the undefeated Bears’ team jumped to Swarthmore for their fourth game in three days of the season. Ursinus Netwomb Drop Opener 54

After two cancellations the Ursinus Women’s Team finally played its first match against Swarthmore College last Friday afternoon. Two weeks of rain being the only problem the Swarthmore Garnets just did not have the courage to come out.

Captain Ginny Gross ‘Gross’ ‘Serves First Prize for Penn’ to Ginny Gross, whose consistently well placed returns usually put the Swarthmore in the lead, Miller 6-4.

The Ursinus girls team of team of Ursinians and Jane Byrne looked at one time they were going to win with a good comeback in the second game. They came back, but lost 7-2, 5-7. Jan Kantin and Linda Stewert were also at the winning double match 6-2.

The strong games that have been possible have been won by Jan Kantin and Linda Stewert. The girls have to practice together more often. The girls were unable to take advantage of their left-handed opponent whose strong returns drove them to the backcourt more and more.

The JV team likewise lost 6-0 to Penn. The three single players Gal Rothman, Mary Talley and Jean Robinson all played optimizations for the left-handed players. Pai Lorr and Carolee Krik went to three sets but were finally defeated 6-4, 6-2. Carolee Clough and Kathy Dolman lost a good match to Ursinus.

This coming week we expect Ursinus to have a good week. Tuesday’s match is a big tie. Ursinus is a big week.

Snipers Niche

One outstanding characteristic of Ursinus Varsity sports seems to be a considerable lack of depth. A constant complaint of Ursinus Varsity sports is that there is a great void of things to do in the afternoons when they have free time, and an idea that has been discussed by the management of Ursinus is that Americans are not as physically fit as they should be. It would appear that the Ursinus College student body could profit by adopting the type of activities that they see on the administration’s crusade for physical fitness by organizing and competing in the intercollegiate program.

A program of this kind could be beneficial. It would aid some students in finding out whether or not they might be varsity material, and it would give the coaches a chance to find out about undisciplined talent. If there existed an activity society slightly more competitive and helpful to the student than going out and getting "bombed." It might even make the Ursinus students aware of athletics and might start some of the students on their campus who could certainly use their support.

There is at this time only really one person responsible for the entire intramural program and he has been handling all the intramurals as well as keep his own studies up and compete in varsity sports which all takes time. If students from each dorm and fraternity could get together and help in this organization, a larger intramural program could become a possibility. For such a program to take place it will require the initiative of some of the students plus the support of their friends.

ATTENTION

This Saturday Ursinus' MAC Champion Bears will try to continue their winning ways against the tough PMC Cats on Wednesday and Dickinson and Johns Hopkins on Saturday in two home contests.

 Choir Returns from New York

The Meistersingers completed their tour four months ago, on a fine Sunday afternoon in early March. The tour was sponsored by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and held at the University of New Mexico, New Mexico State University, and the University of Wyoming.

Dr. Robert S. Howard, president of the College of Biological Sciences, has returned from a National Science Foundation grant study of intertidal insects. This special field of study was conducted from April 15 to August 14, as 45 students bid farewell to Collegeville to visit Kenya.

Supplies and Demand

The student body at Collegeville has been very busy with the demands of the academic year. The college has been working hard to provide the necessary supplies for the students, including textbooks, lab supplies, and other materials. The college's staff has been working long hours to ensure that all students have the resources they need to succeed.

Supply and Demand (Continued from page 1)

them. How much space would two or three of those revolving stands take up? They could fit neatly into amble space beside the juke box.

Another instance of service denied to the students is when a fraternity wanted to order sweat shirts and sent their order away. The sweat shirt company, wishing to avoid the trouble, ordered and asked that it be sent through the campus. When the manager was approved, he revealed that it would involve much 'red tape' for him to sign the order form which included the party having to clear the matter with the President of the College. Even if the party did succeed in obtaining permission, he stated there would be a substantial mark up and that this usual mark up on clothing was high. Presidential permission and a "substantial mark up" just to sign an order form.

There are other petty complaints too numerous to mention. The WEEKLY only hopes that the Supply Store, in its obvious efforts to be efficient, does not lose sight of its basic purpose—that of service to the college community.
