10-29-1962

The Ursinus Weekly, October 29, 1962

John B. Piston
Ursinus College

Sharon E. Robbins
Ursinus College

Sharon Rothenberger
Ursinus College

Sally Campbell
Ursinus College

Barbara Gettys
Ursinus College

See next page for additional authors

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly

Part of the Cultural History Commons, Higher Education Commons, Liberal Studies Commons, Social History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Recommended Citation
Piston, John B.; Robbins, Sharon E.; Rothenberger, Sharon; Campbell, Sally; Gettys, Barbara; Carpenter, Linda; Leister, Ed; and Garner, Craig, "The Ursinus Weekly, October 29, 1962" (1962). Ursinus Weekly Newspaper. 279.
https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly/279

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Newspapers at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. It has been accepted for inclusion in Ursinus Weekly Newspaper by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. For more information, please contact aprock@ursinus.edu.
Authors
John B. Piston, Sharon E. Robbins, Sharon Rothenberger, Sally Campbell, Barbara Gettys, Linda Carpenter, Ed Leister, and Craig Garner

This book is available at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly/279
The Inquiring Reporter

Lence Cuban situation
Draws Prof's Comments

by The Weekly News Staff

“I don’t think the Russians will go to war over Cuba,” states DR. MAURICE ARMSTRONG, head of the political science department, “but if there is a good possibility of American intervention in Cuba itself because it is unlikely that Castro will destroy his missiles.”

“If Castro doesn’t take action in Cuba and the threat is still pointed at the United States, the president will have the final say,” he adds.

Dr. Armstrong feels that “the American public should be kept up to date in the United States on the possibility of the war raging in one of those missile bases.” In response to a charge by the U.S. Dr. Armstrong said that “he was right in not telling the American people on the benefits of his knowledge.”

UC Represented

At WAC Program

Dr. Allen L. Riehe, Mrs. Bice, Mr. Garcia, Steven Blickman, David Ohlms, and Hans Peter Plischka attended a program for Philadelphia area foreign students sponsored by the World Affairs Council of the University of Pennsylvania. It was held Friday evening.

The Ursinus representatives were able to meet and converse with students and host families from diverse places as Norma, Germany, France, Japan, Sweden, Spain, Denmark.

A Starting Point

The program was an attempt to familiarize the guest students with the area so that they would know more about the route by which they could go into Philadelphia and various events made available to them. The students expressed their appreciation to their guests and their advisors respectively for their home addresses and suggestions on how the guests could do their best to avoid the mistakes done the last time.

In conclusion, he stated that any use of force in Cuba might end the Cold War by the 1962 day which was a year ago.

Dr. G. Sieber of the Peace Corps is a student who feels confident that there will be no more conflict in the current Cuban situation. He said that Dr. Kennedy’s action however did come later than the ideal. Dr. Powers, a former professor of the Peace Corps also possibly accomplished at this time. The young people from the States being another round of the students of the American people, as the students from the White received by the White House also had been a success. The action also pleases Dr. Powers. The U.S. receiver by the White House has been a success and this student is expected to fulfill his promise in the future.

Chamberlin Will Speak
Next Week in Y Program

Mr. Chamberlin, an associate professor of English, Theological Seminary, will be the guest speaker in an upcoming program at the University of Pennsylvania’s Division of Foreign Affairs. He will speak next Tuesday evening, November 10, at 8:30 p.m.

LATE NEWS

Today’s lunch bunch men ac­quired a good breakfast through fraternities to climax the day.

Alpha Phi Kappa: John Renner, John Romer, John Reynolds, Tom Severson.

Sigma Xi: David Pace, Bill Salvatore, Joe Severson, Steve Busch, Dick Goehring, Tom Logan, John Renner, John Romer, Tom Severson.

Pi Kappa: Tom Logan, John Renner, John Romer, Jim Ryan, Tom Severson.

Pi Nu: Welcomes new members.

The Rev. James I. McCord, who will speak at Sunday’s Noon Service, is the chaplain-elect at Princeton Theological Seminary in New Jersey. He is the son of Martin Luther and June McCord.

Cur and Key Men Meet at Millers

On Monday evening, October 26, the men of the Cur and Key fraternity met at Millers Tavern. Members present were: Charles Harnsler, Murray Fiedler, John Platon, Jeff Brown, Steve Wurser, and Jim Ryan. A motion to add a new member of the alumnus (active as members in Cur and Key) was passed.

Mr. Fiedler, in his address, said that the college handbook describes Key (established in 1938 as the group of students with the most national unity and belief in the American way of life) as a combination of several Masonic, some religious, and some educational organizations. A maximum of six members was set to form a degree in the Masonic. A meeting was held in the spring semester of their junior year for the membership qualifications (as postgraduate and the final four years of their college degree was not exceeded), and the final four years of their college degree was not exceeded.

Mr. Fiedler made a point of the participation in extra-curricular activities, with the belief that having a large group of satisfied scholars in Key is a very important part of a college education.

NOTICE TO FREESMEN

Dean Pettit has announced that the Free Day, traditionally the last day of the Founders’ Day celebration, will be held this year on November 6. The party will be held following the Student Concert Series in the auditorium.

The party will be open to all students and faculty members.

Dr. Chamberlin will speak on the topic of “Religion as a Social Force” in the Collegeville-Trappe Elementary School on Saturday evening, November 6, at 8:30 p.m.

The program, considered to be an informal conference, included an informal conference and was expected to last an hour or more.

The program’s topics included an informal conference of the student concerts, and the participants. The “Ends of the Matter” was the title of the program.

Dr. Chamberlin is a graduate of Theological Seminary in New York City and is a retired professor of the University of Pennsylvania’s Division of Foreign Affairs. He has been a professor at the University of Pennsylvania’s Division of Foreign Affairs since Columbia University in 1955. He is the author of several books including “Parent and Student,” “The American Christian,” and “The Constitution of the United States.”

Dr. Chamberlin is a graduate of Theological Seminary in New York City and is a retired professor of the University of Pennsylvania’s Division of Foreign Affairs. He has been a professor at the University of Pennsylvania’s Division of Foreign Affairs since Columbia University in 1955. He is the author of several books including “Parent and Student,” “The American Christian,” and “The Constitution of the United States.”

The program is scheduled to begin at 8:00 p.m. with a welcome by the faculty and students present. The program will be followed by a reception and a social hour.

Chamberlin will speak on the topic of “Religion as a Social Force” in the Collegeville-Trappe Elementary School on Saturday evening, November 6, at 8:30 p.m.

The program, considered to be an informal conference, included an informal conference of the student concerts, and the participants. The “Ends of the Matter” was the title of the program.

Dr. Chamberlin is a graduate of Theological Seminary in New York City and is a retired professor of the University of Pennsylvania’s Division of Foreign Affairs. He has been a professor at the University of Pennsylvania’s Division of Foreign Affairs since Columbia University in 1955. He is the author of several books including “Parent and Student,” “The American Christian,” and “The Constitution of the United States.”

Dr. Chamberlin is a graduate of Theological Seminary in New York City and is a retired professor of the University of Pennsylvania’s Division of Foreign Affairs. He has been a professor at the University of Pennsylvania’s Division of Foreign Affairs since Columbia University in 1955. He is the author of several books including “Parent and Student,” “The American Christian,” and “The Constitution of the United States.”

Dr. Chamberlin is a graduate of Theological Seminary in New York City and is a retired professor of the University of Pennsylvania’s Division of Foreign Affairs. He has been a professor at the University of Pennsylvania’s Division of Foreign Affairs since Columbia University in 1955. He is the author of several books including “Parent and Student,” “The American Christian,” and “The Constitution of the United States.”

Dr. Chamberlin is a graduate of Theological Seminary in New York City and is a retired professor of the University of Pennsylvania’s Division of Foreign Affairs. He has been a professor at the University of Pennsylvania’s Division of Foreign Affairs since Columbia University in 1955. He is the author of several books including “Parent and Student,” “The American Christian,” and “The Constitution of the United States.”

Dr. Chamberlin is a graduate of Theological Seminary in New York City and is a retired professor of the University of Pennsylvania’s Division of Foreign Affairs. He has been a professor at the University of Pennsylvania’s Division of Foreign Affairs since Columbia University in 1955. He is the author of several books including “Parent and Student,” “The American Christian,” and “The Constitution of the United States.”
An Alarming Issue

One of the most important issues discussed at the recent 50th annual Schoolmen's Week Conference held at the University of Pennsylvania was the fact that a large proportion of the students with high potential do not live up to their promise in high school and college. Possibly the Education Department here at Ursinus would not have faulted the lieutenants with this charge, if they did not know how to bring out the best in young people. But shouldn't the responsibility be mutually borne by both the students and the faculty members? An editorial in the Philadelphia Inquirer points out that "it represents a failure ... on the part of the students and the faculty." This one issue presents a failure on the part of our education system.

Of the high school students in the top third of their class, only 35 percent are in college, and of those who do, 60 percent don't finish. The national drop-out rate from college is close to 50 percent (it is worth noting the drop-out rate at Ursinus is much lower--2.0 percent for the last five years).

Leonard M. Miller, Jr., of the U.S. Office of Education says the problem squarely in the lap of parents: "What is to be done?" Students teachers note: "The schoolroom should go determined to exhaust every conceivable means to improve their moral and physical condition." (Continued on page 4)

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

There is a time in every man's education when he arrives at the conviction that envy is ignorance; that模仿 is suicide; and that he must take himself for better for worse as his portion... Ralph Waldo Emerson

Why are the Men Angry?

Campus Post Office Sets New Hours by Carl Peck

The campus post office is open the following hours: Monday thru Thursday 8:30 a.m. - 9:30 p.m. Friday ... 2:30 - 8:30 a.m. - 9:00 p.m. Saturday

Why? Here are the answers given to that question by the Mr. Friedenborg and Dean Whalley. People have been receiving these new hours through the mail but, small of some of the money has been stolen from the mail room. According to Mr. Friedenborg, there have been two complaints of stolen money, and the post office has received seven complaints of stolen money since last spring, all the complaints being received from students having mail delivered through the campus post office.

Conclusion of Dr. Miller's Talk

On India in Recent Forum Program by Sharon Rothenberger

Turning to the economic situation of India, Dr. Miller emphasized the fact that the people living Nehru, the leader, and fondly call him by an Indian name meaning "Uncle." Nehru has the ability to speak the truth, and it appears that the answer he receives.

In response, Nehru is attempting to build a bridge between the upper and lower classes. He is trying to create an economic development which can be followed. The first step is to force the people to provide economic development, and secondly, the people cooperate through a democratically governed plan.

Did You Know That...

by Fred Kaucom

Last year's "Miss Pennsylvania" is Ursinus student Lynn Malek. She will be attending the Ursinus School and will graduate in June.

Dr. Alfred Cramer, Ursinus' Chaplin, besides having written several books on the subject of Godliness, he has written a book which appeared in the March, 1961, issue of the Journal of Women and Religion. The title is "You and I: A Study of Personal Poetry.

Clare Hall, a women's dormitory located on Main Street, was donated to the College by Clissai H. Cramer. The Inn was dedicated in honor of her parents.

College Vice-President James E. Johnson wrote an article on Ursinus and the "Great Gatsby," the book that was written by F. Scott Fitzgerald, and three photographs, one of which features Dr. Paul Wagner, Dean and President of the College, and an image of the college's administrators published with 1963 yearbook, in 1961.

The official name of Smith Hall, a dormitory for men located on Main Street, is Smollett Hall.

The Urusinus Weekly

Published a minimum of twenty-two times each academic year by the students of Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa.

THE URUSINUS WEEKLY

No More Ale, But Relic Hunters

by Sally Campbell

During the summer months great news have taken place at Ursinus College. The men in off-campus dorms last year could tell you in florid terms about the much needed changes made recently.

Coord Continues Social Work To Reform School Of Reform

by Barbara Getty

Each shot has its "runners" who negotiate all problems and difficulties with the runners and other teachers. Since meetings between runners take place only in the darkness of the Saturday movies where also weapons and other stolen articles are bargained for.

The "Whackers" rank next under the shots and will do a lot of fighting for the shot. Thus, when a new boy comes into a cottage, he under­goes a kind of terrifying test in which he must fight both of the twenty-five boys in his cottage in order to give himself and gain some measure of status. These fights only take place in the showers and often boys will fight to get a place to wear to shower or main. If a boy is able to hold his ground, he can gradually more himself, but not right well or not right. In the end the entire thing is made indescribably miserable and hazardous by the other boys.

Mutual Trust

As an example, a boy says he had a number of shots in a regular way and country. He was in view of an attempt to gain in­dependence about the big boys in the neighborhood, help with problems in the dormitory, and work himself through the dormitory. However, he was found out and given the chance to be a part of the dormitory. The other boys had a certain number of days to make the dormitory and the dormitory decided in an interview was to build a re­lationship, so the boys were to bring him to a point where he could be help of problems and problems and detrimental atti­tudes and the dormitory. The dormitory was very polite and courteous but was very impossible because the ma­jority of boys were withdrawn, alienated and completely unac­ceptable. We have an attempt to gain independence about the big boys in the neighborhood, help with problems in the dormitory, and work himself through the dormitory. However, he was found out and given the chance to be a part of the dormitory. The other boys had a certain number of days to make the dormitory and the dormitory decided in an interview was to build a re­lationship, so the boys were to bring him to a point where he could be help of problems and problems and detrimental atti­tudes and the dormitory. The dormitory was very polite and courteous but was very impossible because the ma­jority of boys were withdrawn, alienated and completely unac­ceptable. We have an attempt to gain independence about the big boys in the neighborhood, help with problems in the dormitory, and work himself through the dormitory. However, he was found out and given the chance to be a part of the dormitory. The other boys had a certain number of days to make the dormitory and the dormitory decided in an interview was to build a re­lationship, so the boys were to bring him to a point where he could be help of problems and problems and detrimental atti­tudes and the dormitory. The dormitory was very polite and courteous but was very impossible because the ma­jority of boys were withdrawn, alienated and completely unac­ceptable. We have an attempt to gain independence about the big boys in the neighborhood, help with problems in the dormitory, and work himself through the dormitory. However, he was found out and given the chance to be a part of the dormitory. The other boys had a certain number of days to make the dormitory and the dormitory decided in an interview was to build a re­lationship, so the boys were to bring him to a point where he could be help of problems and problems and detrimental atti­tudes and the dormitory. The dormitory was very polite and courteous but was very impossible because the ma­jority of boys were withdrawn, alienated and completely unac­ceptable. We have an attempt to gain independence about the big boys in the neighborhood, help with problems in the dormitory, and work himself through the dormitory. However, he was found out and given the chance to be a part of the dormitory. The other boys had a certain number of days to make the dormitory and the dormitory decided in an interview was to build a re­lationship, so the boys were to bring him to a point where he could be help of problems and problems and detrimental atti­tudes and the dormitory. The dormitory was very polite and courteous but was very impossible because the ma­jority of boys were withdrawn, alienated and completely unac­ceptable. We have an attempt to gain independence about the big boys in the neighborhood, help with problems in the dormitory, and work himself through the dormitory. However, he was found out and given the chance to be a part of the dormitory. The other boys had a certain number of days to make the dormitory and the dormitory decided in an interview was to build a re­lationship, so the boys were to bring him to a point where he could be help of problems and problems and detrimental atti­tudes and the dormitory. The dormitory was very polite and courteous but was very impossible because the ma­jority of boys were withdrawn, alienated and completely unac­ceptable. We have an attempt to gain independence about the big boys in the neighborhood, help with problems in the dormitory, and work himself through the dormitory. However, he was found out and given the chance to be a part of the dormitory. The other boys had a certain number of days to make the dormitory and the dormitory decided in an interview was to build a re­lationship, so the boys were to bring him to a point where he could be help of problems and problems and detrimental atti­tudes and the dormitory. The dormitory was very polite and courteous but was very impossible because the ma­jority of boys were withdrawn, alienated and completely unac­t
The Bear's attack was again stalled by St. Joseph's on Saturday. The Bears went down to defeat, 3-0. The Ursinus defense held up well in the first half against the continual attack of the Hawks, but then yielded three second-half goals to absorb their second defeat of the season.

Ursinus' defense themselves with weak midfield play and an unconvincing attack due to injuries to starters Carl Berling, Charlie Shull, and George Bruckin did well to hold off the onslaught of the Hawk's three goals. Before Saturday night's scorecard had six goals each game.

The Bears lost 3-0, but Ursinus' top player of the day was Herb."
The Inkeepers, pictured above in an informal rehearsal on Monday evening, at the annual Friday night last Saturday evening in the auditorium of the Collegeville-Trappe High School, left to right, are Jude Kissely, Don Martin, Bette Kline, and John Swiss.

India

(Continued from page 1) still in private hands. For example, the late Sir Dorabji Tata, a Calcutta businessman, was one of the main shareholders of Tata Steel, which is now known as Tata Steel. The company was founded by Jamshedji Tata in 1901.

The Big Problem

No one seems to have解决ed this problem, though making definite improvements, has it been. In the employment, Mr. Miller stated that unemployment is expected to be still higher at the conclusion of the year.

The political advancement which has taken place in India is mainly due to the efforts of the Indian National Congress. Congress has been particularly successful in the last decade. Congress was formed in 1885 to fight for Indian independence, and has been a major political force in India ever since.

Corruption

The main problem in the party, in India is the corruption. The party has been accused of taking bribes, and this has driven away potential workers. The party has also been accused of favoring certain individuals over others.

Catering

The catering industry in India is very strong, with many restaurants and hotels. The industry is expected to grow in the coming years due to increasing tourism. The catering industry is also a major contributor to the country's economy.