Big-Little Sister Program Receives Strong Support

Pi Gamma Mu is to honor those students who have earned an outstanding record in the social sciences, including history, politics, economics, and sociology. They must have an overall B average in the social science courses.

During the year, members receive the magazine Social Science. This gives you the opportunity to learn more about the social sciences, including political science, economics, and sociology.

New Plans for Designing Living

The Design for Living Program of the WSAG will be continued next year. Byler Neeley, the chief of the program, has decided that the program will be continued.

In Retrospect

As we approach the beginning of final examinations, the most obvious question is "What have I learned?" After several weeks of classes, we wonder whether we have even learned anything. With all the theoretical approaches supposed to surround us by an intellectual group (as we learned and from whom have we learned."

We are surrounded by an intellectual group. We have classes that are supposed to teach us something not to be found in a book. Were we challenged to think independently, to form a definite line of reasoning to be critical and evaluative of what we learn and to whom we are to listen. Which of our goals have we reached? What are we to be?"

Just as an example of what is misleading censorship, for a complete analysis of the endmen be kept. The change in the culture of the time in which the story took place around us.

Dear Editor:

which consistently maintains high culinary standards. The easiest way of entering this bustling restaurant is via the wicker-cost; and I gravely volunteered to substitute for a relatively short slogan: The endless currents of the kitchen are charmingly framed by chipped, whitewed walls and is afforded by a flight of stairs faintly reminiscent of a two stepped, dark, medieval halls. One must be extremely careful not to slam the screen door, because the master on the ceiling of the dining-room can be very soon to fall. A picture of beads and directed confusion greets the visitor to this unobtrusive cook-out.

All the gaiety of anticipation then is preserved, and smart comments indicate the appreciation of the staff. Unquestionably an unobtrusive atmosphere of luxurious surroundings makes the delays for the ten minutes allowed to eat. The nutritional meal over, people stroll about this spacious interior idly collecting food and utensils from the always abundant supply. Sascimento cooks offer encouraging remarks to reassure bewilder- ed newcomers; and pay chaff is banded among the handful of workers.

The efficiency of any organization can be ascertained by the speed with which it produces results. Ursina's kitchen is second to none. Long before the needs have arrived, the hot, attractively arranged food is waiting on sparkling plates. That immediate line standing by the stainless steel counter completes individual indirect exchanges. Jokes and gossip while awaiting the signal to their stations. Advance preparation facilitates prompt service.

Thus, this is an explanation for our delicious meals smoothly served by a fleet, white-jacketed waiters moving easily through the well-behaved crowds of diners.

CAROL BOUCHE.
