Philadelphia Rabbi Participates in Religious Emphasis Week

Charities Chosen For Campus Chest

Rabbi Arnold G. Kaiman Invited by Y to Lecture; Represents Jewish Chataqua Society Education Group

Rabbi Arnold G. Kaiman, assistant at Congregation Keshefar Israel in Philadelphia, will represent the Jewish Chataqua Society Education Group at the 12th Annual Spring Festival of Israel held this week.

The theme of the festival is "Religious Emphasis Week," and the purpose of creating better understanding between Judaism and other religions through education. As part of his representation of the society and in conjunction with the religious emphasis theme, "Between the Lines," Kaiman will deliver a series of lectures and will participate in a panel discussion tomorrow and Wednesday.

Two Chapel Talks

In chapel tomorrow morning, Rabbi Kaiman will speak on the topic, "Wake Up and Live." Tomorrow afternoon, from 3:00 to 5:00, he will be the guest at an informal hour with "The Meaning of History" as its theme. At an assembly at 3:30 p.m., the rabbi will speak on "Bible," while "Between the Lines" is the theme of a panel discussion on the topic, "The Meaning of History."

A Phi Kappa Beta

Rabbi Kaiman graduated from Magon College at the University of Cincinnati and is an Associate of Arts at Yeshiva University. He is also a member of the Jewish Student Brotherhood, a frater of which he was president in 1957 at the Hebrew Union College.

Before coming to Philadelphia he was active in student work at the Hebrew Union College and was a member of the College of Jewish Studies.

Clinic Day 'Unqualified Success'

Clinic Day, conducted Saturday at the Philadelphia Children's Hospital for the Blind, was a great success. The girls from the Philadelphia Children's Hospital led by the quote Varsity Club president and their mascot, "Cheryl Slagel," attended.

URSINUS in the PAST

by R.L. Stevenson

The marital eligibility of college students was a concern to college administrators. The Pennsylvania State College had compiled statistics showing that a large number of students were married or engaged, and it was wondered whether or not a college education was consistent with a married or engaged life. The findings showed that a significant number of freshmen were married or engaged, and that this practice did not prejudice matriculation. In fact, it was found that in other states, the statistics showed that college students who were married or engaged later, but more wisely, and that the collegiate status of these students among college women is of present respect.

"Frederick's at the University of Pennsylvania during the spring semester at the University." Many were surprised to find that a college student could ask the "question" for a rule existed among women in the first year to restrict the number of scholarships that would be awarded to women. The belief was that scholarship would be materially reduced by the addition of female students present.

Grappers Pound PMC, 32-0; Dean, Powers Still Unbeaten

The Ursinus grapplers captured their fifth consecutive triumph in dealer fashion over Penn Military College, 32-0. The Bears equalled a school record when they completed the season undefeated. The Bears' wrestling teams possessed only two shut outs in the entire history of the sport at Ursinus. PMC was too undermanned even to give Ursinus a battle, and eventually succumbed in rather umorous fashion.

Dean Fights Again

Dick downtown for the second time, Dean (83 pounder), had a relatively easy time in his bout against Phil Buscar, a 171 pound dual-ender. Dean actually outscored his opponent throughout the match, and defeated him by a 33-0 decision over PMC's Ralph Mecum.

Hens Pluck Bear Fur

Ursinus College fell to its third straight defeat last night when the highly favored Bob Richards Brackin (235) was defeated by West Chester's Steve Dehenhardt (170) by decisioning PMC 's Kirk Duble (170) by a 15 point decision, 38-25. Ursinus grapplers are looking forward to the final heavyweight match this Saturday in which Roger Morris will meet PMC 's Steve Dehenhardt who defeated former Ursinus grappler Bob Richards Brackin.

Dragons Dominate

Playing their last weekend of the season, the Dragons employed a winning combination of strong offensive play, teamwork and defense.

For Two Victories

The Hens were victorious in both their matches last weekend, defeating Drexel by a 15 point decision, 38-25. Ursinus grapplers are looking forward to the final heavyweight match this Saturday in which Roger Morris will meet PMC 's Steve Dehenhardt who defeated former Ursinus grappler Bob Richards Brackin.

The society makes many interesting observations as it is a part of the society that is interested in the fish that is caught in the question period.

Education in Russia, he said, "is a very serious problem because of the need for the teachers to be in their homes, a comparatively small percentage of the population."

The Russian men have a real education problem because of the need to be able to do many jobs that are left behind in our country. The result of the (war) manufacturing, a manufacturing man, the one hand one or one quarter percent slow, and the Wholesale in the slow speed, is difficult, and if the order, to request to do and exchange in production methods must be supplied to the Russian.

Literally, this very Red Schmid according to the Communist party, "if we are not so good, the capitalist in the line of up the same the same will be the loss of the United States."

Are Russians Happy? Mr. Schmid was surprised to be told that he was not "so bad," but rather, they were used to listen to the criticism of the flow of the United States and their own way.

A member of the audience asked Mr. Schmid if the Russians are "happier people?"

"My definition of freedom every year," Mr. Schmid commented. "If you are not free, you may think you are more satisfied than ever before, and whether you have the time to listen and to do and the freedom that you have with weekly, and necessity for Moscow."
