6-4-1962

The Ursinus Weekly, June 4, 1962

John B. Piston
Ursinus College

Cynthia Morris
Ursinus College

Robin L. Stevenson
Ursinus College

Carol Taney
Ursinus College

Craig Garner
Ursinus College

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly

Part of the Cultural History Commons, Higher Education Commons, Liberal Studies Commons, Social History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Click here to let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation

https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly/321

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Newspapers at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. It has been accepted for inclusion in Ursinus Weekly Newspaper by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. For more information, please contact aprock@ursinus.edu.
191 Seniors Receive Degrees in Graduation Exercises Today

Retired Admiral Ben Moreell, former president and chairman of the board of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Corp., today morning told the commencement audience that "the crucial conflict of our day is between self-discipline and the self-indulgent individualism of the so-called 'free' society, and that we must formulate a program of unselfish service done in Montclair, New Jersey, for the past nine years. During the last five years, she shared her husband's responsibilities as chairman of the entire affair is available at this moment, which promises a large response to the message of April 14.

In the course of two months through France, Belgium, and the Low Countries, the group visited, among other places, Amsterdam, Brussels, the Hague, and Delft. The Protestant University at Leiden, the site of the history department, was re-opened in 1770 during the so-called "American Revolution." The college, which was founded in 1632 as part of the Dutch Reformed Church in Holland, was temporarily closed during the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars. It was not until 1814 that the college was reopened.

In the fall of 1817, the college reopened and began operating as a private institution with the financial support of the Dutch government. The college was granted the right to confer degrees in 1818, and it began offering courses in law, medicine, and theology. In 1825, the college established a law school, which became the first law school in the United States.

In 1830, the college began offering courses in engineering and began to receive federal funds for its cooperatives. By the end of the 19th century, Ursinus College had become a leading institution for the training of engineers and scientists.

In conclusion, Ursinus College has a rich history dating back to the 17th century, and it has played a significant role in the development of higher education in the United States. The college continues to excel in the areas of science and engineering, and it is proud of its heritage as a Quaker institution.

The Ursinus Weekly

Volume LXXI

Monday, June 4, 1942

Admissions Office Releases New Fall Student Information

Seven open scholarships winners highlight the incoming freshman class due on campus next September. Approximately 45% women to men, the total of 200-graduate students will be the largest in recent years, last year's class being comprised of 35% of the applicants. The college's scholarship program offers financial aid, amounting to $10,800, to these students.

This does not include the financial aid which the college offers to its own students.

The college awards 75% of its financial aid to students who are members of the Second Annual College Scholarship Plan, and the remaining 25% to students who are not members of the plan.

The college's financial aid program is designed to assist students who are unable to pay for their education.

The Honors in College

The university's European Travel Seminar, which was held in the summer of 1942, included students from more than 100 countries, including some of the world's most prestigious universities.

The seminar was directed by Dr. J. Ronald Stock, professor of history at Ursinus College. The seminar's primary purpose was to provide students with an opportunity to learn about the European culture and history through firsthand experience.

In the course of two months through France, Belgium, and the Low Countries, the group visited, among other places, Amsterdam, Brussels, the Hague, and Delft. The Protestant University at Leiden, the site of the history department, was re-opened in 1770 during the so-called "American Revolution." The college, which was founded in 1632 as part of the Dutch Reformed Church in Holland, was temporarily closed during the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars. It was not until 1814 that the college was reopened.

In the fall of 1817, the college reopened and began operating as a private institution with the financial support of the Dutch government. The college was granted the right to confer degrees in 1818, and it began offering courses in law, medicine, and theology. In 1825, the college established a law school, which became the first law school in the United States.

In 1830, the college began offering courses in engineering and began to receive federal funds for its cooperatives. By the end of the 19th century, Ursinus College had become a leading institution for the training of engineers and scientists.

In conclusion, Ursinus College has a rich history dating back to the 17th century, and it has played a significant role in the development of higher education in the United States. The college continues to excel in the areas of science and engineering, and it is proud of its heritage as a Quaker institution.

The Ursinus Weekly

Volume LXXI

Monday, June 4, 1942

Admissions Office Releases New Fall Student Information

Seven open scholarships winners highlight the incoming freshman class due on campus next September. Approximately 45% women to men, the total of 200-graduate students will be the largest in recent years, last year's class being comprised of 35% of the applicants. The college's scholarship program offers financial aid, amounting to $10,800, to these students.

This does not include the financial aid which the college offers to its own students.

The college awards 75% of its financial aid to students who are members of the Second Annual College Scholarship Plan, and the remaining 25% to students who are not members of the plan.

The college's financial aid program is designed to assist students who are unable to pay for their education.

The Honors in College

The university's European Travel Seminar, which was held in the summer of 1942, included students from more than 100 countries, including some of the world's most prestigious universities.

The seminar was directed by Dr. J. Ronald Stock, professor of history at Ursinus College. The seminar's primary purpose was to provide students with an opportunity to learn about the European culture and history through firsthand experience.

In the course of two months through France, Belgium, and the Low Countries, the group visited, among other places, Amsterdam, Brussels, the Hague, and Delft. The Protestant University at Leiden, the site of the history department, was re-opened in 1770 during the so-called "American Revolution." The college, which was founded in 1632 as part of the Dutch Reformed Church in Holland, was temporarily closed during the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars. It was not until 1814 that the college was reopened.

In the fall of 1817, the college reopened and began operating as a private institution with the financial support of the Dutch government. The college was granted the right to confer degrees in 1818, and it began offering courses in law, medicine, and theology. In 1825, the college established a law school, which became the first law school in the United States.

In 1830, the college began offering courses in engineering and began to receive federal funds for its cooperatives. By the end of the 19th century, Ursinus College had become a leading institution for the training of engineers and scientists.

In conclusion, Ursinus College has a rich history dating back to the 17th century, and it has played a significant role in the development of higher education in the United States. The college continues to excel in the areas of science and engineering, and it is proud of its heritage as a Quaker institution.

The Ursinus Weekly

Volume LXXI

Monday, June 4, 1942

Admissions Office Releases New Fall Student Information

Seven open scholarships winners highlight the incoming freshman class due on campus next September. Approximately 45% women to men, the total of 200-graduate students will be the largest in recent years, last year's class being comprised of 35% of the applicants. The college's scholarship program offers financial aid, amounting to $10,800, to these students.

This does not include the financial aid which the college offers to its own students.

The college awards 75% of its financial aid to students who are members of the Second Annual College Scholarship Plan, and the remaining 25% to students who are not members of the plan.

The college's financial aid program is designed to assist students who are unable to pay for their education.

The Honors in College

The university's European Travel Seminar, which was held in the summer of 1942, included students from more than 100 countries, including some of the world's most prestigious universities.

The seminar was directed by Dr. J. Ronald Stock, professor of history at Ursinus College. The seminar's primary purpose was to provide students with an opportunity to learn about the European culture and history through firsthand experience.

In the course of two months through France, Belgium, and the Low Countries, the group visited, among other places, Amsterdam, Brussels, the Hague, and Delft. The Protestant University at Leiden, the site of the history department, was re-opened in 1770 during the so-called "American Revolution." The college, which was founded in 1632 as part of the Dutch Reformed Church in Holland, was temporarily closed during the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars. It was not until 1814 that the college was reopened.

In the fall of 1817, the college reopening and began operating as a private institution with the financial support of the Dutch government. The college was granted the right to confer degrees in 1818, and it began offering courses in law, medicine, and theology. In 1825, the college established a law school, which became the first law school in the United States.

In 1830, the college began offering courses in engineering and began to receive federal funds for its cooperatives. By the end of the 19th century, Ursinus College had become a leading institution for the training of engineers and scientists.

In conclusion, Ursinus College has a rich history dating back to the 17th century, and it has played a significant role in the development of higher education in the United States. The college continues to excel in the areas of science and engineering, and it is proud of its heritage as a Quaker institution.
EDITORIAL

After Four Years

Despite the moaning and complaining which seem so integral a part of student morale on this campus, most alumnus know that the senior class has prepared them quite well for life. The give and take which plays a key role in human relationships has been quietly decreased over the four years, with the qualities of tolerance, fairness and organization.

Yes, there are some good points to this College. Close relationships with good friends have been lost, and the macabre which makes the best of us occasionally shuffle into the dining halls, the snork looks of a disapproving preceptress. But I must agree that UC turns out a well-rounded (though perhaps under-socialized) individual who is cognizant of the fact that life is a mixture of good and bad, happiness and disappointment. The result just as realistically toward their achievement.

The WEEKLY, in behalf of the student body, wishes to commend the best of everything. How does an oild cliche go... "You will be gone, but not forgotten." Or something like that.

Elections

He did say that Chi Alphas will co-conspirators in obtaining several speakers.

Ray Leonard and Emerita Bottcher will be the new president and secretary-treasurer respectively.

Chi Alpha is open to those students interested in furthering the ministry to those who wish to give to the field of sociology or psychology, and to those who are interested in these other phases of Christian endeavor. Chi Alpha has dropped a considerable amount, but they possess its desire to include in its membership a wide variety of interests.

ENGLISH CLUB

At a meeting of the English Club, held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Paul H. Reaume, the social and life of the French author, Alphonse Daudet, was discussed.

At this meeting Bill Zimmer was also elected a member for the new term, replacing Ben Shemke, who attends meetings monthly and is open to all students who are interested in discussions of literature and writers.

PI GAMMA MU

Pi Gamma Mu, the National Honor Society of Social Science, held its annual banquet meeting in the downstairs of the Old Main. The banquet was attended by the president Leonard, and the officers for members for the next year. Robert Hultel, vice-president, was in attendance. The meeting was proceeded by Joanna Schwartz.

The officer of the society are: Judith Armstrong; David Bean; Michael Bernard; Sharon Cunnell; Mary LeClerc; Prudence J. Finkle; Barbara Rupp; James B. Smith; and Sue Steinke.

The name of the society is derived from the Latin: "Pi Gamma Mu" which means "The Sorority of the Golden Ideals of his College Days are Gone. Ahead is the golden ideals of his Freshman Days." Approving preceptress ...

Whoever인터, with a concentration to those whose work will emphasize. The society meets monthly and is open to all students interested in the social sciences.

The new members of the society are: Sally Wolfsberg, Barbara H. Lee, Patricia Vogel, German, and Charles Epifanio.

Employed Seniors White Plans

The Placement Office released its list of names of the 106 seniors who have accepted employment or are considering the options for after graduation.

The list includes 106 seniors who have accepted employment or are considering the options for after graduation. The list is available at the Placement Office.

F.P.I.C.

An amazing feature of Long Beach's Beautiful view of London was the fact that the sensibility of being in a cold and undernourished underside of the city's populous. The buildings were under the World's Fair. The World's Fair was located on the site of the old, now abandoned, city's main thoroughfare.

Among the most famous architectural farms on the campus were those that housed the city's most prominent buildings. The buildings were under the World's Fair. The World's Fair was located on the site of the old, now abandoned, city's main thoroughfare.

A short walk away from Westminster Hall, the Parliament Building, is the Tower of London. The Tower of London is a deep rich blue and red, with the red doors in front of the chain. The Tower of London is the home of the Tower of London. The Tower of London is built in a body and real that they can be mistaken for those of the Administration's middle managers.

Scott's Wax Works

One of London's most amusing and ideal trips is to Scott's Wax Works. It is a must for those who wish to see famous wax figures complete with their famous prophecies. They are so life-like and real that they can be taken for genuine human beings. They are so life-like and real that they can be taken for genuine human beings. The Chamber of Mummies was opened to the public. It is a deep rich blue and red, with the red doors in front of the chain. The Tower of London is an ideal trip.

Almost anybody that has been to London has been to the Tower of London. It is a deep rich blue and red, with the red doors in front of the chain. The Tower of London is an ideal trip.

If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration. If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.

If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.

The Administration chose to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.

If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration. If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.

If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.

If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration. If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.

If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration. If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.

If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration. If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.

If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration. If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.

If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration. If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.

If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration. If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.

If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration. If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.

If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration. If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.

If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration. If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.

If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration. If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.

If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration. If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.

If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration. If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.

If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration. If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.

If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration. If the Administration chooses to interpret some of these figures, the public might find that the unhealthy and unhealthy are not in the best interests of the Administration.
Scheidell Vacates Wrestling Position

Everett M. Bulley, Director of Athletics at Ursinus College, released the names of Miss Patricia M. Wighton, Barrie Williamson, and Bill Schellhase, Jack Travis and Pete Duggan, as wrestling辩证的.
\[ \text{See text below for full content.} \]